PREMIER BORDEN GIVES HIS VIEWS ON CONSERVING WATER

Canada's First Citizen and Governor Sulzer Speak at Capital of New York State

Albany, Feb. 25.—Governor Sulzer and Premier Borden, of Canada, gave voice to their views on conservation and reciprocity at the annual banquet of the University Club here.

"The people to our north," said Governor Sulzer, "are true friends of the people of the United States. They look to us for sisterly sympathy, for the reciprocal exchange of products, and their resources and their products are greater and richer than those of the countries far away across the Pacific and Atlantic Ocean.

"We want their products and they want our products, and all the restrictions to prevent a fairer and freer exchange of goods, wares and merchandise should, in so far as possible, be eliminated."

Premier Borden said: "Each country possesses vast natural resources, which on our side of the boundary, at least, are hardly understood or estimated to-day. It shall be the duty of the nation to conserve these for the benefit of the whole people, not for the present alone, but for the future as well.

Waterway Held Important.

"One great national resource is shared by the people of both nations—the waterway, which extends from the mouth of the St. Lawrence to the head of the Great Lakes, perhaps the most wonderful national highway in the world. Its use for all the purposes of navigation, commerce and intercourse is assured to the people of both countries.

"For other purposes as well, notably for the vast power which may be developed by its proper usage, it is the heritage of both countries. Let it be preserved and developed for the people.

"Perhaps no more instructive lesson has ever been given to the world than the four thousand miles of undefended boundary line from the Atlantic to the Pacific, which bears silent but eloquent testimony to the mutual confidence and respect of the two nations.

Have a Common Interest.

"The two countries have a common interest in this development and conserving these natural resources for the common advantage of the people of both countries. I have no doubt that the Governments concerned will work together for the most cordial and friendly spirit for this most worthy and desirable purpose."

WANTS COMMISSION TO PROBE INTO HIGH COST OF LIVING

Dr. James McQueen of North Wentworth will Call the Legislature's Attention to Matter

Toronto, Feb. 25.—Dr. James McQueen, of North Wentworth, member of the Opposition, will introduce into the Legislature a resolution calling upon the Government to appoint a commission to look into the causes of the high cost of living.

The resolution will ask "that in view of the rapid and unprecedented increase during recent years in the cost of living and the difficulty which many citizens of this Province consequently experience in providing themselves and their families with the necessaries of life, it is the duty of the Government to appoint a thoroughly competent commission to investigate the causes of such increase in the cost and report to this House whether any, and if so, what measures can be taken by the Government towards remedying and improving existing conditions in this regard.

It is the poorer class, states Dr. McQueen, who are most feeling the pressure of the high cost of living, and already the middle classes are beginning to feel the pinch.

The doctor also takes a fling at combines by declaring that it is the existence at the present time of such combines as the Stamped Ware Association which is keeping up the prices of many articles of daily consumption. He thinks that at the same time the Government Commission might very well employ some of their time in determining whether or not, and how many, combines are preying upon the public.

The system of conducting cold storage business the doctor blames for the continued high price of eggs and meats, and he believes it should be brought under some regulation.

T.R. & A. A. Won Out

Special to The Times.

Toronto, Feb. 25.—Last night the Arena at Toronto was crowded to the doors and hundreds turned away, when the T.R. and A. went up against St. Miques for the senior championship of the O.H.A. During the first half Dissette of St. Miques was hurt so badly that six stitches had to be put in his wound. The game was stopped whilst a doctor attended to Dissette.

At half time the score stood 5—1 in favor of the T.R. and A.A., when the last bell rang the score stood T.R. and A.A. 7, St. Miques 2.

FELIX DIAZ NEXT PRES.?

Either He or Fransisco de la Barra Likely to Be Chosen

Mexico City, via Galveston, Feb. 25.—The next President of Mexico is likely to be either General Felix Diaz or Foreign Minister Francisco De La Barra, with the chance favoring the nephew of Porfirio Diaz, as the Mexican people now appear to see their only salvation in a military ruler. This is the consensus of opinion to-day among natives and foreigners in closest touch with the new Government and the voice of the populace.

Emilio Vasquez Gomez, who is reported to be trying to win the support of General Orozco for the presidency, is not considered seriously. His main claim to recognition now is the ingratitude of Madero, and he is not regarded as having a chance.

Meanwhile the work of pacification is being conducted by the temporary Government with all possible despatch and firmness. The governors of all but the States of Campeche, Yucatan and Tabasco have been won over, according to official statements from the palace to-day.

Fear This Madero.

The greatest menace considered by President Huerta and his Cabinet is the activity of Emilio Madero, who is reported to have organized 2,000 Maderistas and declared that he will fight to the death before surrendering to the new regime. A Federal force has been detailed to attack this aggressive member of the Madero family.

Huerta supporters say that the only way to prevent American intervention and its accompanying horrors lies in a strong support of the military dictatorship. That the Government now plans to "temper justice with more mercy" than heretofore was indicated by the preparations to-day for introduction into Congress of a Government measure pardoning all political revolutionary prisoners.

Our Public Buildings

The talk about changes in the buildings of Custom House and Post Office is nearly all invention. The Custom House will be extended to the rear. The Post Office may ultimately be enlarged by the raising of the addition to correspond with the rest of the building for the further accommodation of government offices.

GOLF COMMITTEES APPOINTED TO SPANK THE SUFFRAGETTES

Gradually the British Public Commences to Take the Law Into Its Own Hands in Treatment of the Militants

London, Feb. 25.—Public indignation is steadily rising against the suffragettes and against the Home Secretary for his feeble way of dealing with the outbreak. Mrs. Pankhurst's arrest is treated as a polite comedy, while Miss Lenton's release, on grounds of ill-health four days after her committal on the Kew arson charge, is described by the Daily Chronicle as "making criminal law a farce."

Meanwhile, the general public is beginning to take the law into its own hands. A girl, who without warning, kicked her masculine neighbor in a street car on the shins because she was a suffragette, was promptly seized by the other passengers and thrown out of the car. John Burns last night had every suffrage interrupter immediately and forcibly ejected from his Battersea meeting, and declared:—"I'm going to do my best to break down this tyranny of organized blackguardism."

He added that women were by such actions, giving reasons why the vote should be taken away from them in municipal elections.

Golf committees have quietly intimated that any woman caught destroying greens will not be handed over to the police, but summarily spanked.

Despite the anger of railway men over the Midland Railway dismissing guard Richardson because he refused to overload his train, a general strike is now anticipated. The attitude of the railway company over the matter is generally condemned by all sides.

LADY SCOTT HAS BEEN TOLD OF DEATH OF HER HUSBAND

According to a Wireless Message Received From Her by Her Brother, Edward Bruce, in Birmingham

Birmingham, Feb. 25.—Lady Scott widow of Capt. Robert F. Scott, the dead Antarctic explorer, has heard the news of her husband's death and is herself in good health, according to wireless dispatch received by her brother, Edward Bruce.

The wireless was sent from the South Pacific, where Lady Scott is on her way to Christchurch, N.Z. She started from England in January to welcome her husband on his return and was five days on the Pacific from San Francisco, when word came that the explorer and his companions were dead.

COUNTY WILL NOT PAY THAT $3000?

Last night a Times representative had the pleasure of meeting ex-Warden Cobin, of Galway, who, with several other County Councillors, was in the city. In reply to a question put by The Times man, Mr. Cobin replied: "Well, we are here to consider the Buckhorn Bridge matter and other county bridges. You can make up your mind, however, that the county will never pay that $3,000 asked by the Government."

MORE DYNAMITE PLOTS.

Suffragette Says It Doesn't Take Much Money to Buy Gunpowder.

London, Feb. 25.—More dynamiting like the explosion that wrecked the Lloyd George house was threatened this afternoon by General Mrs. Drummond, who addressed the crowd in the London pavilion, after Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, militant leader had been arrested for instigating the outrage at Walton Heath.

Mrs. Drummond was soliciting funds.

"It doesn't take much money to buy gunpowder," she said. "The only safe thing to do is to come into our camp. Outside you are in great peril."

THE WEATHER.

To-day—Increasing westerly winds, followed by snow.

IRON WORKER KILLED.

Young Norwegian Became Dizzy on First Day.

Port Colborne, Ont., Feb. 25.—Hans Peterson, a Norwegian, twenty years, working for the Toronto Structural Steel Co. at the Canada Cement Company's plant here, fell a distance of 60 feet yesterday afternoon and died from his injuries. It was young Peterson's first day at work, and he became dizzy, and lost his balance.

Was He Poisoned

Toronto, Feb. 25.—Much interest is being taken particularly by the members of the Orange Order, over the sudden illness of Rev. H. A. Fish, Supreme Grand Chaplain of the Orange Grand Lodge, who it is believed was poisoned while delivering addresses in Western Ontario. While on his way to the depot he became violently ill on the train, suffering intense pain at the stomach. At Oil Springs Mr. Fish had a severe fit of vomiting, and was in such a condition that it was thought best to rush him to Petrolea in a Michigan Central baggage car and special engine. There a physician administered morphine and at Englehart Hospital the patient was under very close attention for 24 hours. The doctor said he had been poisoned. An investigation is being made.

THE TRENT CANAL

Second Letter, in Which it is Shewn that the Waterway May Be of Little or No Use Until Very Costly Improvements are Made—Impossible for a Tow of Barges to Make Some of the Channels

A few days ago the first installment of a series of letters dealing with the Trent Canal appeared in The Times and created considerable comment locally as well as throughout the Canal district and in Ottawa. The writer's sole object is to let the public know the real condition of the waterway, so that steps may be taken to have the balance of the work completed in a way that will make the Canal of the greatest benefit when finished. According to our correspondent, it would be next to impossible for a tug with one or two barges in tow to pass through the section already finished. So that it would appear that, at the present rate, when the waterway is "completed" it will have to be recast and "completed" over again. We are of opinion that the Minister of Railways should cause an investigation to be made of the work already finished, as well as the portion under way — not by an official of his own department — but by an independent engineer, who has had experience in canal building, as well as in operating. We believe what our correspondent says is true, and if this opinion also prevails in the mind of the Minister, he would be justified in appointing a commission to make a thorough investigation. The Times has no desire to create difficulties, or place obstructions in the way that will retard the completion of this great national project, but on the principle that the surgeon must often cut deep if he is to remove diseased parts, so likewise must a public newspaper, in the exercise of what it conceives to be its duty, cut into the quick when necessary, no matter how painful, when dealing with matters of this kind. Of what use will the Canal be if it is not navigable by the only kind of traffic that can do business economically on it.

LETTER II.

(From The Times' Special Commissioner.)

"Continuing our trip and passing on down the river, we come to the next lock and dam, above Campbellford, which are also finished. The Seymour Power Company have a fine Power House here, and are sending the current to the mines in the North and to Sterling and many other places in the district. This lock and dam are about a mile and a half above the town of Campbellford.

AT CAMPBELLFORD.

"At Campbellford they have torn down the old dam across the river near the centre of the town, and the different manufacturers are being supplied with power from the Seymour Power Company by a special agreement which the Government made for them. A long concrete wall runs from the site of the old dam down to the new dam on the East side, and will prevent the water from flooding the lower part of the town. The dam is situated just below the Grand Trunk Railway bridge and is about half completed. The Canal now strikes across the land on the West side of the river, and enters the river again just below the paper mill. There are two locks here, one adjoining the other, and I was told there was a drop of fifty feet. The Seymour Power Company are also going to build a large Power House here where they will have a head of nearly 50 ft. Owing to a whole day's rain I did not go over the works between the paper mill at Campbellford and Percy boom, which is a distance of about four miles. I was informed, however, that there were three locks and dams between these two points, and that they are of similar construction to the other works, and that they are well advanced and should be completed next year.

"From Bradley Bay to Glen Ross is a beautiful stretch of river navigation for a distance of about 12 miles, where very little work of any kind is required except some dredging at one or two points.

A COSTLY MISTAKE AT GLEN ROSS.

"At Glen Ross there is a fine lock and dam which are all completed. I was told by an old resident who appeared to know all about everything that has happened around this place for the last fifty years, that the dam was no sooner completed than they found when the spring freshet came that they had not made enough sluices to carry the water away, and that the high water went right over the top of the platform. Then they had to start and blow out with dynamite the south half of the dam so as to make more room for the water to get away. This is something like the mistake that has been made in the new Buckhorn dam, where it appears that they have not left enough openings to carry away the water fast enough, so it floods all the farmers' lands, for which they are asking the Government to pay damages. The farmers here were going to do the same thing if the Government had not increased the the openings. Many think that more openings are required yet to prevent the water in spring from flooding the land. I was told also that the swing bridge, which was only built a couple of years ago has either to be widened or replaced by a wider structure.

"The Canal then passes down the river for about five miles, where, I was told, there is a lot of dredging to be done in order to make a number of submarine channels. The dredging of these channels is to be done next year.

FRANKFORD.

"We now come to Frankford. Just at the North end of the village there is a dam which is completed, and a canal about half a mile long leads to the Lock No. 6. This piece of canal is not completed, but a large steam shovel is working there, and I understand it will be completed next summer. There is a large paper mill at this end of the dam which uses straw to make the paper. Lock No. 6 is completed. The Canal again enters the river for about a mile, when we come to No. 5 lock and dam, which are both completed. The Seymour Power Company, or, as they call it about here, the Sidney Power Company are building another one of their fine Power Houses. They expect to supply power from this station in about six weeks, I was told. They have their power line all erected. The next dam and lock, No. 4, is about a mile further down the river. They are working at both dam and lock and expect to have both completed in about a month. There are only very short pieces of canal at each of the last two locks."

GLEN MILLER.

"About half a mile further down stream we come to the next lock, (No. 3) and dam, which are both completed. There is quite a length of canal to this lock on the East side of the river and it carries into the water of the Canal around the dam of the Glen Miller Paper Mills Co'y, so as not to interfere with the latter dam.

NUGENT'S SARSAPARILLA—PRICE FOR large bottle, 100 full doses, 35c. and well worth it, too. It's better to take no medicine at all than to depend upon cheap concoctions that are compounded to sell at low price and a big profit just because there is a large demand for certain remedies at certain seasons of the year. There are so-called Sarsaparillas offered to us to sell to our customers at 75c a bottle that would bring us a larger profit than Nugent's Sarsaparilla sold at 35c. Nugent's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, arouses the torpid liver, drives out all impurities, cleanses and tones up the system, and helps Nature throw off the dullness that comes from indoor life of winter. It arouses energy, brightens the eye, clears the brain, gives lightness to the movements. EDITORIAL NOTES

The Globe says there are "very few crooks in Parliament." Doubtless the few who are there, however, are grateful to our contemporary for not mentioning any names.

The Review prints an item to the effect that a kiss should last five minutes. The editor of this g.f.j. has not had much experience but to our mind that would be more like a clutch than a kiss.

A news item says that cold storage eggs are selling in Chicago for 12 cents a dozen, which suggests that the people of that city now have a splendid opportunity to compel some of the alleged farce comedies to cancel their dates.

The suggestion has been made by a local contemporary that Peterborough be made a spotless town. This will assuredly fail unless the Council passes a by-law prohibiting its members and employees from chewing tobacco.

Dr. W. E. Geil, who in 1908, journeyed from end to end of the Chinese wall, says that with its extension its total length is really 2,550 miles and that originally forty thousand stone towers guarded it.

The Mexicans are a treacherous lot. President Madero was arrested by a trusted general of his army, after that gentleman had hesitated for several days as to which side he would support; and Madero's brother was arrested by another general, a personal friend of his own, with whom he was dining at the time.

STRIKES DURING 1912.

The loss in working days from strikes in 1912, according to the Department of Labour's record, was only half the similar loss in 1911, though amounting to over one million days. This covers the whole of the Dominion. There was a larger number of strikes, but the great majority were short and involved a small number of men. Altogether 40,500 employees went out on strike in 1912. The Industrial Disputes Investigation Act applies only to disputes in industries involving public utilities, and practically all the above mentioned disturbances were outside its jurisdiction. Altogether about nineteen threatened strikes were referred under the Act in 1912, settlements being effected in all but three cases.

THE CHURCH MENACED

Rev Dr. Symonds, the vicar of Christ Church Cathedral, Montreal, is threatened with expulsion from the Church of England because he has so demeaned himself as to preach from a Presbyterian pulpit. There must be none of this consorting with base covenanting dissenters and naturally the faithful are aroused in defence of the apostolic succession, says the News. High churchmen are pressing the charge which is to be investigated by the bishop of the diocese and other diocesan dignitaries. Even in church circles a man is some times given a fight for his life or rather as in this case for his "living." So Dr. Symonds will have a trial.

The thumbscrew and the rack will not be required in the extraction of a confession, for the criminal already admits his guilt, and only awaits sentence at the hands of the Inquisition. This is a case in which there is no room for maudlin mercy. A grave abuse must be put down at its very inception.

Otherwise some unruly Montreal rector will be found associating with Baptists or even—which Heaven forfend—with Methodists. There might conceivably follow demoralization similar to that which has occurred in Toronto where Archdeacon Cody, Canon Plumptre and other leading Anglicans are advocating the admission of vulgar "non-conforming" clergy to Anglican pulpits and of all Protestants to the Anglican communion.

This grave scandal must be checked at the outset. The demarcation between the denominations must be maintained at all hazards. We must adhere to the great essentials even if the lesser work of the church—the care of the poor, the comforting of the sorrowful and the rescue of the sinful—has in the meantime to be left in abeyance.

BACKACHE A WARNING ALL SHOULD HEED

It is One of the First Signs of Kidney Troubles, If Neglected, Serious Diseases Follow.

No one can be well and healthy unless the kidneys work properly and keep the blood pure. When they become clogged up and inactive, nature has a way of warning you.

Backache is one of the first symptoms. You may also be troubled with disagreeable, annoying bladder disorders; have attacks of lumbago or rheumatism; become nervous, tired, and feel all worn-out; puffy swellings show under the eyes or in the feet and ankles; and many other symptoms are noticed. If they are neglected, dropsy, diabetes, or Bright's disease, which so often prove fatal, may result.

It is not only dangerous, but needless for you to suffer and endure the tortures of these troubles, for the new discovery, Croxone, quickly and surely ends all such misery.

There is no more effective remedy known for the prompt cure of all such troubles than this new, scientific preparation, because it removes the cause. It soaks right into the kidneys, through the walls and linings; cleans out the clogged up pores; neutralizes and dissolves the poisonous uric acid and waste matter that lodge in the joints and muscles and cause those terrible rheumatic pains, and makes the kidneys filter and sift the poison out of the blood and drive it from the system.

You will find Croxone different from all other remedies. There is nothing else on earth like it. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results.

You can secure an original package of Croxone at trifling cost from any first-class drug store. All druggists are authorized to personally return the purchase price if Croxone should fail in a single case. Three doses a day for a few days is often all that is ever needed to cure the worst headache, relieve rheumatic pains, or overcome urinary disorders.

THE TRENT VALLEY CANAL

"The Glen Miller Paper Company is building a fine new dam to replace the old wooden structure that leaked very badly. The Ambursen Hydraulic Construction Company is building this dam for the paper company.

ANOTHER COSTLY MISTAKE.

"I was told at this place that there was a mistake of two or three feet made by the Canal Engineers in their levels at the dam next below here, and it was going to take about a thousand horse power away from the paper company, and that the Company had entered an action against the Government for damages. I was also told that last winter the paper company was also shut down for weeks on account of the anchor ice not being handled right by the Government at No. 2 dam, and holding back the water on their wheels.

"The next lock and dam (No. 2) are about a mile and a half down, and these are both completed. The Sidney Power Company have also a fine power house here which has been in operation for about a year. It supplies power to Belleville and many other places to the East. Few people have any idea of the vast amount of power that is being generated by the Electric Company at the dams along the Canal.

"The last lock and dam on the Canal are about a mile below lock No. 2, and are both completed. The Grand Trunk Railway passes over the Canal on a high level bridge, just below the lock. The Seymour Power Company are to build another power plant at this dam. After passing through this lock we are at the level of Lake Ontario. There is a Canal about a third of a mile long from the entrance to the river.

A REGRETTABLE BLUNDER.

"As I spent quite a number of my younger days in Trenton I am quite familiar with the surroundings about there. I remember well where the English Government did quite a bit of work, when they commenced to build the Canal about seventy-five years ago, and which could easily be seen before the present work was done. The Engineers of the English Government choose wisely the natural and well protected entrance on the West side of the island which would have formed a great protection from the swift current of the river on the East side of the island. I was much surprised to find that the present engineers had changed the entrance to the Canal from the West side to the East side of the island. I don't know what the engineering reason was for changing the location of the entrance of the Canal, but one thing I do know is that it has made a very difficult entrance where Nature made a very easy one. I was told by one of my old friends who has always taken a great interest in the Canal that the engineers now see their mistake, and they are going to make a new contract for either a solid earth embankment or build a concrete pier from the entrance to the Canal to a point below the foot of the island, a distance of about fifteen hundred feet, in order to protect the boats from the current of the rapids in the river. In case they decide to make the earth embankment, they will have to borrow the material for it, as I understand the dredging is finished and the material from it was taken out into the Bay, so the necessary material required for this embankment will have to be got elsewhere. Whether the embankment or the concrete pier is made, either will be a very expensive addition to the cost of the Canal. It is most desirable to have a fine entrance to the Canal at its lower outlet, and I can't understand, when there was such a natural and suitable location for the main entrance of the Canal from Lake Ontario, with the long island as a protection from the current of the river, that they should have changed the suitable location of this entrance, as originally chosen by the English engineers, to such an unsuitable and costly one. One thing is certain, that few boats will be able to get up to the entrance of the Canal for a great part of the season, unless an embankment or pier is put in to protect them from the current at this point; besides the current in the rapids will soon carry enough material from the bottom of the river above to fill up the channel which has been dredged out in the river.

AT TRENTON.

"From the entrance to the Canal to the Bay of Quinte is about a mile distant. Here the river is about six hundred feet wide and a beautiful stretch of navigation right in the town of Trenton. The Canadian Pacific Railway is to cross the river by a high level bridge and the Canadian Northern now crosses by a swing bridge. In looking at the fine natural harbor that is formed by the wide river and the Bay of Quinte one can be certain that no mistake was made in choosing Trenton as the outlet instead of Port Hope, where boats would have to pass out into the open lake. Trenton, with its lake navigation and with its three railroads and the entrance to the Canal and almost unlimited water power just at its door is now beginning to feel the importance of its position. I was informed that it is almost impossible to buy a foot of property except at many times its value.

"If you want to see a strange looking old bridge, you should go to Trenton. It is a wooden bridge about six hundred feet long, and all covered in—both sides and roof. I was told it was built over sixty years ago.

"If anyone wants a beautiful trip, they ought to take a trip over the route of this Canal. I am sure few people have any idea of the great power development that is taking place at several places along the route, principally by the Seymour Power Company, who deserve credit for their enterprise.

"I have been as brief as possible, noting only the rate of progress of the works and as they appeared to me, but my article is much longer than I thought it would be. I have committed going into many details which might have proved interesting, but as you wanted only the important facts connected with the Canal, I have only mentioned these.

"A little later the sections between Rice Lake to Lake Simcoe will be taken up and dealt with, in which I will endeavour to show the true condition of the water stretches, which should make interesting reading.

EELS AS FOOD

The Scottish refusal to regard eels as food may possibly have a further explanation than instinctive repugnance to the snake-like appearance of the fish. Dean Ramsay, speaking of the horror of swine formerly genera in Scotland, recalls hearing an old Scottish geneltman gravely ask, "Were not swine forbidden under the law and cursed under the Gospel?" Now, one finds many Scots at any rate who refuse to touch shellfish of any kind, a crabs or lobsters, as well as eels. Al this looks very like obedience to th prohibition in Leviticus of "all tha have not fins and scales in the s and in the rivers." For the eel's scales are not apparent and its fins inconspicuous.

EXPLANATION FROM THE STREET RAILWAY COMPANY

Dear Sir,—We notice a letter in your issue of Saturday by a "C.G.E. North Ender," discussing the street railway service from a point of view which is evidently biased by his own particular requirements. North Ender's verdict "that the service is "rotten" is severe, but as yet we are not wholly discouraged in the hope that at the moment he is merely indulging in every Britisher's unquestioned right to find fault to the limit.

Accurate and intelligent criticism is very welcome, and in our case the remedy will at all times be provided gladly if it is commercially practicable, and if other parts of our service are not thereby imposed on to such an extent as to neutralize the proposed improvement. If such should be the case we are prepared to at least discuss the situation, point out the alternative difficulties to our critic and trust to his good sense to argue for us.

In this instance North Ender brings up several points:

1. No car from Auburn at 6.30 on Friday morning.
2. Hexagon wheels.
3. Noon car from C.G.E. stops to pick up other passengers.
4. Schedule time gets C.G.E. employes back to work unnecessarily early.
5. Cars run to suit motormen and conductors instead of passengers.

We beg to discuss the above as follows:

1. A peculiar accident, and the resulting combination of circumstances, as the cars were leaving the barn on Friday morning, caused this omission. It has occurred only once in the last year and a half, but we admit that is once too often and sincerely regret the inconveniences to our patrons.

2. If North Ender will observe closely he will find that the wheels are quite round. The bumping which he doubtless has in mind, is caused by uneven rail joints. During the winter, a track laid in an open road (as against pavement) is heaved by frost. The ends of the rails are held solidly by the frozen ground thus causing a shock to the car every rail length. This very largely disappears with the frost and the joint becomes more flexible, although the pounding they receive in the winter permanently injures the ends of the rails. We are doubly anxious to minimize the nuisance if possible, as it is not only annoying to passengers but very hard on the rolling stock. When George and Charlotte streets are paved, we hope to give a demonstration of more perfect track construction.

3. North Ender is mistaken in stating that the C. G. E. car which goes up George street at noon is a special, it is a regular car, but instead of turning at Charlotte and George, it proceeds. This is for the convenience of C. G. E. employes and at the hardship of any passengers which may desire to go to Byersville or Browntown at that time. Being the regular car it is compelled to stop for passengers wishing to board it at the proper points, and we think that North Ender would have a much stronger kick were he one of these passengers and the car ran past him. It is true some of the stopping points are half way along certain blocks, but hereafter we will have all intermediate stops on George street cut out by the car, which will save a few minutes.

4. Two cars leave the C. G. E. gate going north at noon, the regular for Auburn and an extra for Jackson Park. The schedule of the former is:—

C. G. E., 12.06.
George and Charlotte, 12.11.
Argyle Street, 12.20.

In the past we have had complaints from the C.G.E., (one or two from Mr. Patterson himself) in regard to the cars leaving the gate too soon, as a result the above is found to be the earliest moment at which a start can be made.

On a single track system such as interlocking, in other words, the time table of the whole system would have to be altered in order to get the C.G.E. car past the corner of George and Charlotte before 12.11, and as matter of fact it cannot get there much before that time anyway. The time table now in use has been in force for years and seems to be the most suitable taking everything into consideration, so that it would seem rather one-sided to change it for the sake of one car on one run. North Ender complains of not getting home until 12.20. If he lives at about Argyle street he is there on schedule and we think has done well, as street car traffic goes, in that he has come over two miles from his work in fourteen minutes and has passed through the centre of the city where delays are always the most numerous.

As regards the return trip, if he takes the regular car leaving Auburn at 12.30, he is due to arrive at the C.G.E. gate at 12.49 or six minutes too soon. This is undoubtedly wasteful, but here again the general schedule interferes, for if an extra were provided to leave Auburn within six minutes after the regular car it could not possibly get a clear track through.

Yours truly,
The Peterborough R. R. Co.,
W. H. MUNRO,
Manager.

TO KEEP THE FACE FRESH, CLEAR, YOUTHFUL

(National Hygienic Review)

More important than the cosmetic care of the complexion is its physical care. To keep the face clean, fresh, youthful, there's nothing better than common mercolized wax. It absorbs the soiled or faded worn-out skin particles. Using cosmetics simply adds unwholesomeness to the complexion. Test's the difference. By all means, acquire the mercolized wax habit. It's so easy to get an ounce of the wax at the druggist's, apply at night like cold cream and wash it off next morning. There's no detention indoors, the old skin coming off so gradually no one suspects you're using anything. When in a week or two the alluringly youthful, roselike, underskin is fully in view—well, you won't want, or need, a made-up complexion after that.

For obstinate wrinkles, a face bath made by dissolving an ounce of saxolite in a half pint witch hazel surpasses massage cream for results.

"CASCARETS" RELIEVE SICK, SOUR STOMACH

Get a 10-cent box now.

That awful sourness, belching of acid and foul gases; that pain in the pit of the stomach, the heartburn, nervousness, nausea, bloating after eating, dizziness and sick headache, means a disordered stomach, which cannot be regulated until you remove the cause. It isn't your stomach's fault. Your stomach is as good as any.

Try Cascarets; they immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested and fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry off the constipated waste matter and poison from the bowels. A Cascaret tonight will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet, liver and bowels regular for months. Don't forget the children—their little insides need a good, gentle cleansing, too.

DOES NOT WANT TITLE

Sir John Beverly Robinson A Modest Baronet

RESIDES IN NEW YORK

Prefers to Be Called "Mister" or Plain "Robinson" to "Sir"—Engaged in Paving Stone Business in the American Metropolis.

New York, Feb. 25.—The World says:

There's a modest little middle-aged gentleman in a modest little old-fashioned office in a rather obscure building at No. 16 Exchange place, who has something that many a millionaire in this city would give over at least one or two of his millions for.

An invention?

No.

A secret of perpetual youth? A cure for baldness? A remedy for dyspepsia or gout?

No. Simply a perfectly good, properly old and eminently desirous title.

Sir John Beverley Robinson, Baronet.

He thinks so little of his rank that he doesn't bother about the title. Instead of lording it in England or Canada—which he might—he engages in the paving stone business right here in New York, and instead of inhabiting some ancient and gloomy castle, he lives in a comfortable modern cottage in the none-too-fashionable suburb of Edgewater, N. J.

Doesn't Want Title.

Instead of styling himself Sir John he insists upon being plain "Mister." And to those in the paving stone line who know him he is even plain "Robinson" or "Beverley."

"Mister" Robinson's rank, which he has succeeded in keeping very much to the background for a long time, came to light the other day, when he arrived from England on the Minnehaha, returning from a short visit.

The British booking office, learning exactly who he was on the other side plastered his name on the passenger list in big black type as "Sir J. Beverley Robinson, Bart.," and the ship-news reporters who met the vessel immediately began to ask him about the suffragettes, the old age pension system and other things Britannic.

Just "Mister," He Says

For answer he gave them a long and hearty laugh.

"Why, I've lived in New York City since before most of you youngsters were born," he said. "And I don't want to be 'Sir John,' but plain 'Robinson.' Come down to my office in Exchange place some day and pay me a visit."

A World reporter accepted the invitation and dropped in next afternoon. The baronet, who was conducting some correspondence, after the English fashion, in long hand, at once dropped business and became a host.

"I wish you'd forget about this affair of the title," he laughed. "I almost forget it myself at times. Of course, I'm a British subject, and I am proud of my ancestry and all that. But a title doesn't amount to anything here. A man in America is what he makes himself—and anywhere else in the world, for that matter.

Thirty Years in Gotham.

"I've been here for more than thirty years, and I suppose I will spend the rest of my life right about New York. And I can get along very comfortably just as 'Beverley.' Please don't write anything about me."

It took a lot of pressing to get the baronet to tell about his family—the records of which are duly spread forth over a full page of that "Who's Who of British nobility; 'Burke's Peerage, Baronetage and Knightage."

The Family Tree.

His earliest American ancestor was Christopher Robinson, who was sent here in the middle of the seventeenth century as the first Colonial Secretary of Virginia, and married Catherine Beverley.

His son, Christopher II., was an officer of the Queen's Rangers during the Revolution, and after the defeat of the British forces was given a grant of land in the Canadian wilds, which has since become Toronto.

The third in the line was the first to hold the title. This was the first John Beverley Robinson, father of the present baronet. He was a barrister and Attorney-General of Upper Canada. He was created a baronet in 1854 and died in 1863.

His eldest son, James Lukin Robinson, succeeded to the title. He likewise was a barrister. Upon his death, in August, 1894, the baronetage passed to a cousin, Sir Frederick Arnold Robinson, who died in Toronto in 1901.

Concealed the Baronetcy.

Thereupon the rank fell upon the present Sir John, who is the fourth baronet. In 1901 he had been in New York about two score years, and was, in all outward appearances, a thorough-going American. He simply accepted the baronetage because there wasn't anything else he could do, and made no fuss about it. As a matter of fact, he didn't even let news of it get into the papers.

There is another John Beverley Robinson, his son, who is eighteen years old and going to college, and he will be the fifth baronet, but his father says, he won't make any fuss over the title, either.

The Robinsons have never gone in for society, outside of that of a small circle of friends and fellow church members in the little Jersey town.

Proud of His Wares.

"I'd really much rather talk about paving blocks," said Sir John, as he displayed a sample of the material he deals in. "This is a block made of blast furnace slag in the north of England."

It is shapelier and more durable than granite, he says, and has been used to pave several avenues in Washington. Sir John has made a bid for several large contracts to pave streets in Manila for the Government.

Despite his long residence here, he has kept closely in touch with affairs in England through his many visits, and when there, of course, is hailed by his title and receives the precedence due to his rank.

But so modest has he been about being a baronet while on this side of the water that scarcely any of his business friends and only a few of the residents of Edgewater ever heard of Sir John Beverley Robinson.

Suicided in Delirium.

Thorndale, Ont., Feb. 24.—During a fit of delirium brought on by typhoid contracted while attending a patient in Michigan, Miss Carrie McMurray of Missouri township, took a dose of carbolic acid on Friday and died almost instantly.

WIDE POWERS TO BE GIVEN

Far-Reaching Legislation Covering Public Utilities

Toronto, Feb. 24.—Another step towards municipal public ownership in the province, it is expected, will be taken by legislation in the House, it being generally understood that the Government is considering the appointment of a public utilities commissions for municipal services.

Although nothing explicit beyond a remark of Hon. W. J. Hanna in the House last week is known concerning the nature of the bill, the general purpose is to have one commission to administer municipal gas, waterworks, lighting and heating services. This commission would have power over all these utilities except where a municipality has a Hydro-Electric Commission contract. Here a separate commission may handle this as well as other electrical services. The act would not be compulsory on municipalities and in every case except that of the Hydro-Electric the council might act directly.

Elected by Ratepayers.

It is proposed that the commissions will be elected by the ratepayers, with service for one or two years alternately, so that a certain number of the members will be eligible for re-election each year.

The Conmee clauses of the municipal act are repealed by this measure and it will be open to municipal corporations to enter into competition with existing companies without first offering to buy them out. If the municipality does not offer to purchase the company and an arbitration is held the company must pay the costs if it does not accept the award. This reconstruction constitutes a long step toward municipal ownership. Formerly a municipality was compelled to issue notice when about to compete with a private corporation and arbitration always followed. Now direct procedure is authorized.

Railway Board's Power.

The Ontario Railway and Municipal Board will probably be nominated in the act to arbitrate between municipal commissions and corporations where conduits are laid in the streets within a distance of six feet apart. The Hydro-Electric Power Commission has authority to decide such questions where they arise with respect to electrical services, and the Railway Board will exercise a similar function in regard to other matters.

The Great Phosphate and Mica Mines of

The Progressive Mining Company Ltd.

Non-Personal Liabilities

Capitalized at $500,000. Divided into 500,000 shares of $1 each.
400,000 shares in the Treasury

HEAD OFFICE . . . OTTAWA, ONT.

These Mines will be in operation by April next.

The Company possess 607 acres of Phosphate, Mica, Gold and Asbestos Lands, all free of encumbrances.

POSSIBLE PRODUCTION AND PROFITS

The Company has already orders for over 50,000 tons of Phosphate, on which it expects to realize a profit of $5.00 net per ton, or $250,000, which will be equal to 50 p.c. on the capitalization.

Supposing the Company would only realize one-half of its estimated profits, it still would have to its credit 25 p.c., without taking into this estimate the profits from its Mica Mine, which very likely will be as much again. The output of this Mica Mine is almost all sold in advance to large English firms.

THIS PHOSPHATE AND MICA MINES

are paying enterprises right from the start of its operation, and are located in the Province of Quebec, near Ottawa, and only a mile from railway station.

THE PLANT, MACHINERIES

required for the exploitation are inexpensive, the operation expenses, such as labor, provisions, supplies, transportation, etc., are all much cheaper than in Porcupine and Cobalt mining districts.

The Shareholders participate in the profits of all the Companies' mines.

If you wish to make your money work

HERE IS YOUR CHANCE.

There are few such opportunities offered where the Public can acquire shares at promoters' prices in a paying mining enterprise right from the start like this one.

A limited number of shares are now offered.

AT 15 CENTS EACH

This price may be increased at any time without notice.

Next April, when the Company's mines will be in operation and shipping, these Shares will not then sell at 15 cents, or 25 cents, but very likely at 50 cents, if not more.

You have a chance you never had before of doubling and tripling your investment by next Spring, as the Company will be shipping as soon as navigation opens.

It should be remembered that this is not a Cobalt or Porcupine over-capitalized mining scheme, where Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars must be expended before getting one cent back.

PHOSPHATE AND MICA ARE MINERALS.

Are used all over the world, in various industries, and Canada is one of the principal producers; the market is established. The output of Phosphate and Mica is generally sold in advance, so that the shareholders run very little risk, but have an exceptional opportunity of doubling and tripling the money invested.

PROSPECTUS SENT FREE ON DEMAND.

Application may be made by letter, by sending 50 p.c. of the amount subscribed. The balance will be payable after the allotment of shares.

Lindsay Pest House Robbed

Lindsay Warder: It is reported that the buildings used for quarantine purposes at the sand pits, north of the town, have been entered by thieves and despoiled of a portion of their contents. China, glassware, cutlery, and such articles as were in use, have been taken away. Several cords of wood also disappeared. The vandals effected an entrance by drawing the staples to which a padlock was attached. The crime was committed probably several weeks ago, but the information was only received on Saturday last. It is understood that high carnival has been held in those buildings at different times, and parties have made merry in those dangerous abodes, which have been the reception of morbid microbes.

A Regrettable Blunder.

In our issue of yesterday a regrettable mistake occurred by which it was said that a former Peterborough lady, Mrs. Eugene Watrous, now holding a high social position at Oklahoma, had passed away. It appears that in writing this article, our reporter had in mind the death of a former Peterborough lady, whose demise was chronicled in the same issue, and got the two articles mixed. We exceedingly regret the annoyance which publication of this error has caused friends of Mrs. Watrous, residing in the city. Whilst expressing our sorrow for this blunder, we are pleased to state that the lady in question is in the best of health.

BANK CHEQUES HERE AND ABROAD

In Europe the Banker is Relieved of Responsibility in the Matter Cashing Them

The bank cheque, as known to the modern world, had its origin among the London goldsmiths, who received money for safe keeping and permitted its transfer by means of written orders. But it wasn't until the middle of the nineteenth century that the use of cheques became general.

Their use in Europe is constantly increasing, but its extension has been hampered by certain conditions. One of these that in Europe a bank paying a cheque is not responsible for identification of the holder. When cheques came into general use in England they were almost invariably made payable to bearer. When drawers began to make them payable to order, the bankers got a section into the Stamp Act of 1853 which specifically relieved them from re liability for wrongful payment, except as regards the signature of the drawer.

From the standpoint of the banker this system has much advantage over the Canadian system, since it relieves him of responsibility. It results in giving to cheques, however, so great a degree of negotiability that, when lost or stolen, they have practically the character of currency, and can be cashed without difficulty by the finder.

There is strong opposition among the European banks to adopting our system of requiring the personal identification of each holder of a cheque presenting it for payment. But a solution of this difficulty was found at an early date in England, by the adoption of what is called the crossed cheque. This means that two parallel lines about three-eights of an inch apart are drawn across the face of a cheque, to indicate that it differs from the ordinary cheque. The original purpose of this so-called crossing was to permit the insertion between the lines of the name of a bank. When such a crossing appeared, it meant that the cheque was payable only by deposit in a bank account. In other words, only a man who had an account could collect such a cheque; and he could only have it put to his credit and not paid in cash directly.

So well established has the system become in England that where the transverse lines appear with only the words "and company" between them, it is taken to mean that the cheque may come through any bank to the institution on which it is drawn; but that it can not be paid by any bank in currency to the holder, except at his own risk. Where the name of the institution through which the neque is to be paid is inserted in the crossing, it is called "specially crossed" where no name is inserted it is deemed as "generally crossed." The result of this system is that a crossed cheque in the hands of a dishonest holder cannot be collected without great difficulty. A dishonest holder might conceivably forge an endorsement to himself, but if he deposited it in his account he could readily be traced as the forger; and few forgers can afford to maintain bank accounts in their own names for the purpose of executing forgeries.

FOR NINETY YEARS

Registrarship at Barrie in the Lount Family That Long

Samuel Lount, Registrar of Deeds for Simcoe County, who died recently, came from a family that figured largely in the history of that part of Ontario since the year 1811, when the late Gabriel Lount, grandfather of the deceased, settled just south of Holland Landing. Samuel Lount, the eldest son and uncle of the late Mr Lount did not become a regular land surveyor like his father and younger brother, George, but was an expert woodsman, ranger and explorer of the great northern forests, and as such, assisted his brother with the surveys of much of the southern portion of the County of Simcoe. In the course of time the elder Samuel Lount became one of the best known men of the country, ultimately, in 1834, being elected one of the members of the Upper Canada Legislature for Simcoe County. The part he bore in the rebellion of '37 and his subsequent execution is familiar to all readers of the history of that period. George Lount, father of the dead Registrar, was born in 1799, and he qualified as a land surveyor. When Simcoe County was erected into a separate district in 1826 George Lount became its first registrar. He was the first postmaster at Holland Landing and conducted a general trading store. In 1864 he removed to Barrie, which had been made the county town, and held the position of Registrar of Deeds until the year 1873, a period of almost half a century, when he resigned, and was immediately succeeded by his son, Mr. Samuel Lount. Thus it will be seen that the position has been held by the Lount family (father and son) for upwards of 90 years.

TRACES OF EARLY MAN

Two Races Inhabited North America Before the Indian Arrives

As a result of thirty years of exploration in the Delaware Valley, searching for evidences of the early man in North America, Ernest Volk, a field archaeologist announces some remarkably interesting finds. He succeeded in tracing three distinct habitations of man in Delaware Valley the Indian on the surface of black soil; a specimen of prehistoric man termed by the explorer an "argillite man," as he used argillite in the manufacture of his implements, and finally a still older race, the so-called "glacial" or "gravel men," who lived before the days when the yellow loam formed the surface soil. "The traces of man in the gravel, far below the above two named stations of occupation," says the archaeologist, "were found in the shape of artificially fractured stone, chiefly of argillite and quarts. The bones of Arctic animals, such as the musk ox, and of elk, probably species now extinct, were also found. Most of the specimens mentioned, which prove the three periods of occupation in the Delaware Valley, are on exhibition in the American Museum of Natural History."

WALKED 5,000 MILES

Through Africa From Capetown to Cairo on Foot

Amid thronging dangers a historic walk of 5,000 miles across Africa was accomplished by Emil Lund, a Rhodesian settler, thirty-six years of age.

Lund walked from Cape Town to Cairo, not in fulfilment of a wager, or without money, or to test a system of diet or training, but simply from love of adventure. He has been a soldier and scout since he was seventeen.

"My wish," he said, in telling the story of his great walk, "was simply to be the first man to accomplish the feat. I am proudest of having walked across the Nubian Desert. That was the hardest tramp of all."

Until he left Elisabethville, in the Belgian Congo, he had a comparatively easy time, for he could obtain supplies, good food, and good water, but beyond that point he had a very trying time. He had no porters, carrying all his own baggage which weighed about 70 pounds.

During most of the time Mr. Lund was obliged to be a vegetarian, but he always ate meat when he could get it.

"Sometimes," he said, "I shot a buck; but I could only eat the liver, which I broiled in the ashes of my fire. Having no salt, I cannot say that I enjoyed my food. In passing through the great forests I camped on the ground, lighting a large fire to keep off the wild animals. I had to be very careful to keep this going throughout the night.

"At early dawn I renewed my march, tramping continuously till about eleven o'clock. After that I used to hunt round, collect wood, and cook my one daily meal. Then I slept till sundown.

"Lions and other carnivora do not usually attack in the heat of the day. They are asleep, and it is only when night falls that they set out in search of prey."

He met with a good many lions, but was never attacked by one. The idea that water will protect one from lions is, he says, erroneous, for lions are excellent swimmers.

In the Katanga district he was bitten by a black snake, and would probably have died, but he reached a native kraal, and was treated by a woman, who applied a decoction of herbs to the wound, and cured him.

One of the worst troubles with which Mr. Lund had to contend was the venomous flies and insects which swarm in tropical Africa.

He was bitten near the eye by a certain kind of malignant tick, and for a time was nearly blind.

In the course of his walk he fell in with the Baluba and Valessi cannibals. When they have a cannibal feast the victim is usually a man accused of some crime. In such a case the man is offered a draught of a poisonous decoction.

If he takes a long drink the poison is inoperative, producing merely nausea. But if, from timidity or guilt, he drinks but a small portion, the effect is almost immediately fatal. Women are excluded from these feasts.

Reaching Khartoum after crossing the Nubian Desert, Mr. Lund went into the hospital to patch himself up for the last stage of his journey which he completed without further mishap.

SETTING THE TABLE ON AN OCEAN LINER

Four Millions Expended in a Single Year on North German Lloyd Vessel

The many cafes aboard modern liner have the atmosphere of the boulevards. The old, long, baronial board, presided over by the captain, to which passengers were summoned by bell or trumpet, has given way to separate tables at which one is free to dine, lunch, or sup alone, at any hour, in any seat, at any one of a hundred small tables seating two, or to join a party at a table seating seven, all surrounded by decorations that rival those of the best restaurants ashore. And as in any first-class hotel, the guest is not restricted to a table d'hote menu, and can order from an epicure's bill of fare—but on shipboard all meals are included in the price of the passage. Cafes for those who do not smoke, a new convenience, have the air of such places as Vienna. These are distinct from the open air verandah cafes with their teakwood tables.

Instead of the salt meats of 20 years ago, both cabin and steerage passengers have fresh meat daily. Twenty-eight thousand pounds of meat and 15,000 liters of beer were consumed by the passengers of a single North German Lloyd liner on one recent voyage, while on the same ship the cost of setting the tables for a single year was $1,000,000.

Ah, it is the expense, then, that deters you? This talk of de luxe accommodation sounds expensive? But you do not need to take these expensive cabins unless you are willing to and can pay for them. All of the other comforts, conveniences, and luxuries are as free to the poorest traveler as to the richest, and not the least interesting fact about ocean travel is that its cost is constantly growing less.

The voyage to England now costs on the best ships about half the rate charged by the Britannia, the first mail steamer to cross the ocean, 70 years ago. One can go first class for three cents a mile; second class for half that, and third class—with better accommodation than the best in the Britannia's day—for about 80 cents a hundred miles, and these rates include meals. Compare them with the standard railroad passenger costs and meals in the dining cars or station eating-houses extra.

WOMAN'S SIX HUSBANDS

Mother and Stepmother of Forty-nine Children, Grandmother of 270

There is a Boer widow residing at Pretoria whose matrimonial record will want a deal of beating. She is Mrs. Theila M. de Beer, and is now seventy-eight.

At the age of eighteen she married Petrus Jacobus Lubbe, who died leaving her with one child.

Ten months later she took another husband, a widower with three children. A year and five months afterwards he died, leaving her with four children.

Within five months she married for the third time, another widower, this time with seven children. With him she lived for eleven years, and had seven children, when he also died.

After five years' widowhood she married for the fourth time, on this occasion a widower with eight children. With him she had four children, and after eleven years he, too, died.

Five years later she married a man named Hendrik Klopper. Another eleven years elapsed, and then her fifth husband died, leaving her with ten children.

In two years' time she contracted another marriage with a widower, who brought five children to swell the family. Another eleven years passed, and he, too, went the way of his five predecessors, his death occuring only recently.

Mrs. de Beer is now the mother and stepmother of forty-nine children and the grandmother of 270.

WAR ON POTATO CANKER

Efforts to Save Canadian Tubers From European Disease

The Canadian potato will be saved from the danger of canker, threatening from Europe, if the Department of Agriculture can save it. Potato canker is declared by departmenal experts to be the most dreaded enemy of the potato, being practically ineradicable. It stays in the soil for years. It is a fungus growth, and is very prevalent in Continental Europe and in England, where it has wrought havoc with the tuber crops.

The disease was discovered in Canada in an imported shipment of European potatoes, and the consignment was destroyed. Since then the regulations have been amended, and circulars will be issued broadcast over the Dominion warning potato planters against the use of seed potatoes from Europe. In buying their seed potatoes they are required to obtain a certificate that the potatoes are not diseased and have not been imported from Europe. The new regulations will be rigidly enforced.

Ninety Minutes of Matrimony

Evidence was given at Edinburgh in an action for divorce by Jessie Dun[can], [wife] of Dundee against Joseph Cecil Schanas, a bicycle salesman, [for]merly resident of Owen Sound, Canada. The complainant said she was married at Dundee in March 1908. It was arranged before the marriage that the respondent was to go to Ontario immediately after the marriage to take a situation, and that he should send for her as soon as he was able. They were married at ten o'clock in the morning, and at half past eleven Cruicksbanks left for Glasgow en route to Canada. For two months he wrote to her in affectionate terms, but after that he stopped writing. His present address was not known. The decree was granted on the ground of desertion.

MAY CARRY SMALLPOX GERMS

Bankers In Handling Bills Exposed to Great Danger

Mr. John Knight, editor of the Canadian Bankers' Magazine, has the following editorial on filthy lucre: "The reappearance of smallpox in Montreal, although not alarming, reminds one of the risk to which bank tellers are peculiarly exposed in the daily handling of paper money. Vaccination and scrupulous attention to cleanliness are the surest means of avoiding this loathsome scourge. Let those who deride the practice of periodical vaccination reflect upon the strides made both in the practice and study of medicine during the present century. Seven years ago, an American doctor in referring to the achievements of his profession in battling with disease, made this striking reference to the results following the introduction of vaccination. He said that a citizen of our times could be carried backwards and dropped down in the streets of London of a century ago, nothing that he could see would so greatly surprise him as the large number of faces marked with smallpox. There were then over five thousand deaths from that dreaded disease to each million people."

GOLD ALONG NEW LINE

Following a survey of the area along the T. & N. O. Railway trial line between Gowganda and Porcupine, the party of engineers submitted its report to the Ontario government. That the country is entirely unsuited to agricultural purposes, but may prove to be another Porcupine, may be inferred by the information given by the engineers.

The report says that the area is underlain by the oldest rocks, and small quartz veins occur in Kewatin schists in many parts. Veins of considerable size were struck, and gold was found in some of these. Their development was scarcely sufficient to determine whether gold was in paying quantities. "These rocks are receiving much attention on account of the Porcupine discoveries, and will probably repay careful prospecting," said the report. "The iron formation can scarcely be considered of economic importance."

Peterborough Beats Orillia.

The Peterborough curlers have defeated the Orillia curlers for the Neill-Sheppard Cup. The locals won by 19 shots. Although the Peterborough rinks were 2 shots behind at Orillia, they take possession of the cup by a majority of 17 shots.

Oddfellows' Field Night.

Peterborough Lodge of Oddfellows will hold a field night to-morrow, when members of the lodge at Pontypool will be present. On Monday March 17th, Peterborough Lodge with the full degree team will go to Lindsay for degree work.

Meeting of Presbyterian W.H.M.S.

The annual meeting of the Peterborough Presbyterian Women's Home Missionary Society, will be held on Tuesday, March 11th, in St. Paul's church. Rev. Dr. Johnson, of the American Presbyterian church, at Montreal, will give an address at the evening session.

First Time in Twenty Years.

Yesterday Mr. Fred Walker, with Messrs. E. F. Mason & Co., heard from a first cousin, from Hot Springs Arizona, whom he has not seen for over 20 years. His cousin's name is Miss Cade, who was raised near Bowmanville. The lady in question is companion to a rich lady, who travels in her private car to the far West.

O'Hara on Suspended Sentence.

Harry O'Hara, guilty of stealing money from the St. Alphonsus Lyceum and also of taking two pairs of skates, was given suspended sentence, but will be required to make restitution of the stolen money and to report weekly to Police Chief Thompson for six months. O'Hara's father was not present in the court although previously requested to.

Rev. Mr. Biddiford Called.

Egerton street Baptist congregation, London, has extended an invitation to Rev. W. C. Biddiford, of the Park street Baptist church, to accept the pastorate of that church. Mr. Biddiford has been pastor here for the past five years and is highly esteemed. His departure from Peterborough would be a distinct loss to the city.

Picture Man Before the Cadi.

Mr. Clayton, proprietor of the Red Mill, a local moving picture house, will be on the carpet this morning at the police court. The charge is allowing the passage ways of his theatre to be obstructed. Without any connection with this particular case, there has been in the past too great a disregard for human life in this respect in Peterborough.

Jailed After Having Stroke.

Geo. Wilson, an English immigrant yesterday walked into Port Hope police court and said he wanted to die. He was without gloves and his hands badly frozen. He explained that he had been painting for a Port Hope man, but having sustained a stroke some months ago, and unable to work. Having no friends or money, he was given a favorable reply to his request for three months in jail.

Local Bartender is Fined.

Cyril Sullivan, a bartender at the Grand Hotel, yesterday in the police court, pleaded guilty to selling liquor to a minor. In imposing the fine of $10 and costs, or $12.50 in all, the Magistrate stated that he was sorry to see such a young man not earning his living at something better than bartending. He gave Sullivan the smallest fine possible, because of the fact that the young man had never been in court before.

Local Teacher Gets Windfall.

Mr. John F. Harvey, of this city, will receive approximately $777 from a distribution of funds left by Mr. W. B. Harvey, high school teacher, who died on January 1st. The late Mr. Harvey left an estate worth some $3,433, of which his widow, residing at 124 Deleware avenue, Toronto, receives $1,166 and his daughter, Kathleen a similar amount. Mr. J. F. Harvey is on the teaching staff at the Collegiate Institute.

Transfer of National License.

At the next meeting of the local license commissioners, an application made by D. B. Denison, of the National Hotel, will be considered for transfer of the license to Mr. J. H. Whitehead, of Toronto. It is understood that if the license is transferred the hotel will be conducted by a company. It is further rumored that Mr. Denison is negotiating for the purchase of a retail liquor business.

Local Tax Rate Soaring.

Owing to increasedh demands by the Board of Education, the tax rate in Peterborough will be raised from last year's rate of 22 mills, a high-water mark in the city, to at least 23 mills for the current year. It seems likely that the raise will jump to 24 mills. The Board of Works have not as yet submitted their estimates. It is altogether probable that the fire department appropriation will be raised. This will keep the Finance Committee guessing.

More Local Factory Buildings.

Mr. Leitch, constructing engineer of the DeLaval Dairy Supply Co., who was in the city yesterday, is authority for statin- that plans had been prepared for the erection of two new buildings in addition to the present structure. Work will commence in the spring and will be undertaken by the J. W. Ferguson Construction Company, of Patterson, New Jersey. The two new buildings will comprise a warehouse, 200x112 and a building for manufacturing purposes of a similar size.

Lady Curlers Busy.

The following games were played at the curling rink yesterday morning. Mrs. Travers' rink tied with Mrs. Goodwill's, necessitating an extra end, when Mrs. Goodwill won by one shot. The rinks were:

Mrs. R. Neill	Miss Cameron
Mrs. A. Hall	Miss Morrow
Mrs. Hill	Mrs. Eastwood
Mrs. Matthews—9	Miss Davidson—19
Mrs. Hewson	Miss Gladman
Miss Cavanah	Miss Deone
Mrs. Sanderson	Mrs. Grant
Mrs. Travers—12	Mrs. Goodwill—13

A Genuine Buffalo Coat.

Mr. John Archer, a prosperous farmer of the 4th Line of Smith, was in the city yesterday. Whilst this gentleman is often here, one circumstance in connection with his present visit was the fact that he wore a unique fur overcoat. Now that the Buffalo which used to roam the Western prairies in countless millions, are extinct, as far as commercial purposes are concerned, it may be worth noting that Mr. Archer wears an overcoat of genuine buffalo skin, purchased many years ago, but still in as perfect a state of preservation as when bought. This coat, from its genuine buffalo fur, would probably bring a big price in the big cities of the United States. The fur is impervious to wet or cold.

LITTLE LOCAL LINES

Mr. John Elliott has been appointed caretaker of the Port Hope Post-Office, vice James Curtis, deceased.

Mr. Geo. Ross, of 33 Denison avenue, had the misfortune to have his arm broken while at work in the Quaker Oats.

On Monday night two bus loads from Knox church drove out to Springville, where an enjoyable evening was spent.

The price of coal has dropped in Belleville. About the only drop we see here is in the quantity in our bins.

Bridget Sheehan, of Belleville, ran foul of the Toronto police for thefts, in the Queen City police court, explained that somebody had hoodoed her by "bad prayers." She was let return to the Bay City.

Peterborough may be off the main line of the G. T. R. Still this city does not have to accommodate tramps in her police station like Belleville, which harbored 14 hobos the night before last.

Mr. Finch Miller, local immigration agent says that there have been comparatively few immigrants arriving here during the past month. It is probable though that there will soon be a large influx.

All the Roman Catholic Bishops of Ontario, including His Lordship Bishop Fallon of London, will be present at High Mass, in memory of the late Bishop O'Connor, in St. Peter's Cathedral to-morrow morning.

At a meeting of the Retail Grocers held in the Y.M.C.A. with Mr. N. C. Cameron present, the question of an open market was discussed. The members of the Association intend to bring this matter before the city council.

THE SUFFRAGETTE QUESTION

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I would respectfully recommend that, before Canada pays over that contribution of $35,000,000 to the Imperial Navy, that the British Admiralty put up bonds of insurance against attacks by the Suffragettes. When they blow up the house of their friend in Parliament, Lloyd-George, although the house was not Lloyd-George's, why won't they drop a few cans of nitro into the coal or magazines of Canada's battleships? These half-crazed fanatics, who are working against the possibility of attaining their own desire, might think blowing up of Canada's navy nucleus would gain their cause, sympathy in the Dominion.

Sawers occupied the chair, and, in a few well chosen words introduced the speaker of the evening and explained her mission. There was a large representation of the members of the various Women's Auxiliaries of the Anglican Church, in Peterborough present. Mrs. Plumptre, who is a pleasant and fluent speaker, spoke on the amalgamation of the local church auxiliaries and on general missionary work.

A MINING INVESTMENT

Millions in Store for Purchasers of Idaho-Bride Mining Co. A Genuine Bonanza.

The attention of our readers is called to the big advertisement contained in this issue of Idaho-Bride shares. To-day, the greatest fortunes made by shrewd-headed investors come from using the psychological moment for investing in mining shares. With the Idaho-Bride Mill, adapted to handling their ores, and rich ore to a depth af 2000 feet below the surface, there would seem to be a golden opportunity for those getting in on the ground floor on that stock. For terms and particulars, address E. D. Payne, 227 Temple Court Building, Denver, Col.

29 Orphans Rescued in Fire.

Berlin, Feb. 24.—Twenty-nine orphans were rescued from the Berlin and Waterloo Exchange, where fire did several thousand dollars' damage to the building at an early hour Saturday morning. The fire, which was caused by defective wiring, originated in the basement laundry.

MAPES-JOHNSTON MINING CO., LTD.

Incorporated under Ontario Companies Act.

The Elk Lake fire didn't damage Mapes-Johnston camp—camp is seven miles from Elk Lake, but the opening of the ELK LAKE Branch of the Timiskaming and Northern Ontario Railroad gives the Mapes-Johnston Mining Company's property an outlet for shipping ore heretofore lacking.

The Mapes-Johnston has two shafts in good ore—No. 1—90 feet deep, with native silver showing in a big eight-inch vein all the way down the shaft—vein big and strong at bottom of shaft—a true fissure vein.

Once more Mr. J. H. Burnham, M.P., has demonstrated that he keeps a constant interest in and eye open for the city's advantage. He has secured an appropriation for a pavilion at the Government wharf at George street. The building will be erected in two parts, one a waiting room fitted with lavatories, etc., and the other room will be for storage purposes.

Is Your Back Full of Aches all Day Long?

That Stab-like Pain in the Back is Sure Indication of Kidney Trouble.

Mrs. Anna Rodrigeuz writes as follows from her home in Valencia:—"For a long time I suffered with failing strength and nagging headaches. My condition grew steadily worse, my limbs became bloated and shaky, I was sallow and thin, felt rheumatic pains, dizziness and chills. I unfortunately didn't suspect my kidneys and was nearly dead when I discovered the true cause of my sufferings. I read so much about the wonderful health and strength that comes to all who use Dr. Hamilton's Pills that I felt sure they would help me. Such blessings of health and comfort I got from Dr. Hamilton's Pills I can't describe. They speedily put me right, and their steady use keeps me active, energetic, strong and happy. I strongly urge others to regulate and tone their system with Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut."

No greater medicine exists than Dr. Hamilton's Pills for the cure of indigestion, constipation, flatulence, liver, bladder and kidney trouble. Refuse substitutes. 25c. per box or five boxes for $1.00, at all druggists and storekeepers, or postpaid by the Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Ont.

To Help the Blind.

The Times was yesterday in receipt of a letter from Mr. Arthur Gate, Sec.-Treas., of the Dominion Tactile Press, Toronto, in regard to sending free, good literature to the blind. It the estimate of 7 to every 1000 of the population of Canada being blind, there are some 5000 blind people in the Dominion. Our readers can help any blind persons they know of, by supplying names of the latter to Mr. Gate, 275 Delaware Ave., Toronto.

Pope Anxious About Mexico.

Rome, Feb. 24.—Pope Pius X. learned only this morning of the murder of Francisco I. Madero and Jose Pino Suarez. His Holiness expressed concern in regard to the unruly state of Mexico.

HAD BAD SORE FOUR YEARS

ZAM-BUK HAS HEALED IT!

Mrs. Wilson, 110 Wickson Ave., Toronto, says: "About four years ago a sore spot appeared on the right side of my face. This spot increased in size until it became about half an inch in diameter and very painful. I went to a doctor, but the ointment he gave me did not have any good effect. The sore continued to discharge freely, and was most painful. I had it cauterised, tried poultices and all kinds of salves, but it was no good, and I continued to suffer from it for four years!

"A sample of Zam-Buk was one day given to me, and I used it. Although the quantity was so small, it seemed to do me some good, so I purchased a further supply.

"Each box did me more and more good, and, to my delight, before I had been using Zam-Buk three weeks, I saw that it was going to heal the sore. In less than a month it was healed!

"I know a lady in the east of the city, whose husband suffered for years with an open sore on his leg. On my recommendation, Zam-Buk was tried in that case. The other day, when I saw her, she told me that it had healed the sore completely.

"My daughter, who lives in Lethbridge, Alta., has also used Zam-Buk with the same satisfactory result. I think it is, beyond all doubt, the finest healing balm known."

Such is the opinion of all persons who have really tried Zam-Buk. It is a sure cure for eczema, piles, abscesses, ulcers, scalp sores, ringworm, cuts, burns, scalds, bruises, and all skin injuries and diseases. 50c. box, all druggists and stores, or post free from Zam-Buk Co., Toronto, for price. In case of skin disease use also Zam-Buk Soap, 25c. tablet.

Charley Grapewin at the Grand.

Last night the Grand Opera House was fairly well filled by an audience that for two hours and a half convulsed with laughter over the sparkling new comedy entitled "Between Showers." Charley Grapewin, who played the leading part is well entitled to his name of the finniest man on the stage to-day. Mike Donlin, the noted ball player, takes a prominent part in the cast. Anna Chance, the dainty commedienne, has histronic ability of high class, and was given a warm welcome last night.

Chairman Dr. Morrison Will Attend.

We are in receipt of a letter from Mr. J. O. McCarthy, president of the Provincial Association for the care of the Feeble Minded, Toronto. The Association have passed resolutions urging the Provincial Government to (a) amend the Marriage Act of Ontario, so as to prevent the marriage of feeble minded persons, and (b) to establish, with the co-operation of the municipalities training schools or farm colonies for the cistodial care of such afflicted persons. To-day a deputation will meet at the Parliament Buildings, Toronto (main entrance hall) at 11 a.m. It is expected that Dr. Morrison, chairman of the local Board of Education, will attend.

ORANGEMEN'S MEETING

Large Gathering at the Orange Hall at Nassau Last Night.

An open meeting of the members of L.O.L. No. 457 took place last night in the Orange Hall at Nassau. There was a good turn-out and a very interesting evening was spent.

Bro. J. Duff, Grand Organizer, delivered a stirring and patriotic address, which was interesting and instructive. Other speakers also delivered short addresses. The chair was occupied by Bro. Frank Lockington, Worthy Master, who introduced the speakers in a few well chosen words.

Suffragettes Howled Down.

London, Feb. 24.—Mrs. Pankhurst and other militant speakers were howled down by the audience at a Suffragette meeting at Thornton Heath last night. The police were compelled to intervene to protect the women from violence. They cleared the hall.

POST-MASTER GENERAL MAY RESIGN THAT PORTFOLIO?

Ottawa Despatch, Seemingly Authoritative, Claims Hon. P. E. Blondin Will Succeed Him

Montreal, Feb. 26.—Advices received from an authoritative source from Ottawa state that the Hon. L. P. Pelletier, Postmaster General, is about to resign and will be succeeded by Hon. P. E. Blondin, Deputy Speaker of the House of Commons. The proposed successor to Mr. Blondin, is Dr. Paquet, M.P., for L'Islet. The reason given for the resignation of Mr. Pelletier is the continued antagonism with which he is met by the Quebec members. It is thought that the County of St. Maurice would be in favor of a contribution to the navy on the Borden plan and there Mr. Blondin will seek re-election and test the feeling of the Province of Quebec, regarding the navy. In 1908 Mr. Blondin was elected as a staunch Nationalist and in 1911 he opposed the Laurier navy. Hon. L. P. Pelletier would keep his seat in the House for a while after which he would be appointed to the bench.

LISTENED TO HIS OWN HEART RECORD FAINT DYING BEATS

Philadelphia, Feb. 27.—With a stethescope applied to his ears, Karl W. Schneyder, a manufacturer of surgical instruments, yesterday listened to his heart record its dying beats after he had pierced that organ with a steel lance. Near the body, which was discovered in the rear of his store, the police found a piece of paper on which was written the figures "1, 2, 3," and ending with "26." Deputy Coroner McKeever believes this is the record of the pulsations Schneyder had strength to record before his death. He was 48 years old and had been in poor health.

QUEBEC MARRIAGE CASES TO BE BROUGHT UP AGAIN

Montreal, Feb. 27.—That the Hebert and Tremblay cases, involving the alleged right of the Quebec courts to give civil effect to decisions of the Roman Catholic Church dissolving marriages, which had not been performed it was claimed in its law, will come up before the Privy Council in the near future, was the announcement made last night by George V. Cousins, one of the lawyers who acted for the defendants in opposing annulments in these two suits.

The principal point in the Hebert case was whether courts could uphold the ecclesiastical annulment of the marriage before a Protestant minister of two Catholics. Judge Laurendeau held that the wedding could be voided and Judge Charbonneau decided the other way. An appeal against the latter Judge's right to hear the case is pending.

In the Tremblay issue two people were married and afterwards found out that they were fourth cousins, the church authorities annuling the marriage and the courts endorsing the dissolution.

TWO HUNDRED DIE IN ILL-TIMED BURST

Whole Spanish Families Slain When Dynamite Went Off too Soon.

Gijon, Spain, Feb. 27.—Upwards of 200 people, were killed or wounded by the ill-timed explosion of a charge of 7,000 pounds of black powder, which had been laid yesterday by the engineers in charge of the new harbor work with the object of raising an enormous block of rock.

An immense concourse of townspeople had gathered to witness the demolition of the hill separating Gijon from the coaling harbor of Musel, a mile and a half distant. The object of the operation was to cut a roadway and thus avoid the present long detour.

When the fuse was lighted and the explosion occurred instead of the rock being blasted hundreds of tons of clay and small stones were hurled like artillery projectiles among the assembled spectators. Whole families were mowed down as well as many of the engineers and municipal officials. Twenty-four bodies have been recovered but it is considered certain that the total fatalities will far exceed this number.

MIRACULOUS ESCAPE FROM PROBABLE FIRE

Miraculous Escape From Fire.

A few days ago a near serious accident occurred in a local hardware store. It seems that a clerk spilt a small can of ready-made paint on the floor. To absorb the mixture, he strewed sawdust on the mess. When the store was opened next day it was found that the firm had escaped a bad conflagration in a miraculous manner. The paint and sawdust had during the night caught fire from spontaneous combustion, and the incipient had turned itself out. In the meantime the floor was burned through but the flames had died away.

DIVINE HEALER ON TRIAL.

Calgary, Alta. Feb. 27.—Alfred Henry Irvine is on trial here to-day before the Supreme Court charged with manslaughter.

Irvine and his wife were members of the Apostolic Faith, one of whose principal tenets is a blind belief in divine healing. The little son of the family died, and Mrs. Irvine starved herself to death by fasting in the hope she could bring the baby to life. The body of the baby was kept in the house six weeks when the mother died, and Irvine was arrested.

AUSTRALIA, NEW ZEALAND AND CANADA SHOULD AGREE

Commonwealth Authorities Meet at Vancouver---Issue Statement From London on Question

London, Feb. 27.—Commonwealth authorities in London issued yesterday morning the text of an important statement made recently by Senator Pearce, the Australian Minister for Defence, on the question of the Imperial naval defence.

Mr. Pearce explains that the Australian Government attaches no importance to being represented on the Imperial Defence Committee, because it is of a purely advisory character.

So far as they in Australia were concerned, questions were those of policy rather than of administration. He then refers to the decisions arrived at at the last Imperial Conference, when Canada and Australia adopted a fleet unit scheme, and says the Australian agreement is the only one that has been carried out.

Where Admiralty Comes In.

Therefore it becomes necessary for Canada and New Zealand either to carry out the schemes adopted by the 1909 Conference or to propose some others to take their places. He could not say whether there was any truth in the reports that the Admiralty authorities had been parties to the suppression of the Canadian naval scheme and the substitution of contributed "Dreadnoughts" and an annual subsidy on the New Zealand plan in preference to the creation of separate colonial naval units. "We have not been given any hint either by the British Government or the Admiralty that they have changed their minds in regard to the wisdom of the agreement with Australia. That agreement, I may say, originated with the Admiralty. The scheme for a fleet unit did not originate with the Australian representatives at the Conference."

What It Means.

The importance of this statement is found in the fact that it would seem to refute the allegation that both the Canadian and Australian Governments of four years ago preferred to build and maintain their own navies rather than contribute in ships or subsidies to the Imperial navy, and that the Admiralty had to accept such naval assistance as Canada and Australia were willing to offer.

EUROPE HAS NO SYMPATHY WITH THE TERRIBLE TURKS

Mission of the Ambassador to London Failed---Wanted to Hold Adrianople, Can Propose Anew

Constantinople, Feb. 27. The mission to London of Ibrahim Hakki Pasha on behalf the Ottoman Government has failed. His object was to persuade the European powers to support the claim of Turkey to the retention of Adrianople. He was, however, unable to prevail upon the ambassadors of the powers to accept the Porte's reply to the European note as a basis for fresh negotiations for peace, and contrary to rumors which have been current all over Europe, he had no authority to go beyond the proposals contained in Turkey's response.

The ambassadors replied verbally to Ibrahim Hakki Pasha in the sense indicated, but left the door open for fresh proposals from Turkey, as they did not insist on the compliance of the Porte with the terms of the original note presented at Constantinople by the representatives of the powers. Although members of the Turkish Cabinet are in favor of peace, the war element shows no tendency to weaken its attitude.

Military operations are still confined to skirmishes at various points along the front, and fighting on a grand scale is improbable for the present, owing to the inclemency of the weather.

Some More Outrages.

Belfast, Feb. 27.—Suffragettes today cut the wires of more than a dozen telephone stations. The raid was made on a protest against the trial of Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst in England

THE WEATHER.

To-day—North-east winds; colder by night.

DUCHESS TO GERMANY.

Duke to Stay at Clarence House While in London.

London, Feb. 27.—The Duke of Connaught will stay at Clarence House, which for long has been his London residence, when he arrives directly after Easter. When he returns to Canada a few weeks later, the Duchess probably will go to Germany or Sweden for a few months.

The Highest Court

Parliament is the highest court in the land; but the highest court in the land is powerless to make one little man answer a question when he is determined not to. However, if an ordinary court has the right to punish a witness for contempt, as shown in his refusal to answer pertinent questions, parliament ought surely to possess that right and to exercise it. Parliament has a right to know to whom R. C. Miller paid $40,000 in order to get a government contract for his company, and the man should be kept in custody until the session ends or until he gives the information demanded.

ORILLIA WINS

Special to The Times.

Orillia, Feb. 27.—The rink at Orillia last night was crowded to the doors. A line two blocks long were eagerly waiting rush seats. The ice was in splendid condition. When the Oshawa team came on the ice they were loudly applauded and the local fans went wild when the locals appeared.

The score at half time stood 5—0 in favor of Orillia.

The game was a semi-final in the junior O.H.A. series. Oshawa tallied the first goal. When the good-night tinkler rang out, the score stood 11 to 8 in favor of Orillia.

BYE-ELECTION MARCH 19

Writ Issued for South Lanark Contest—Doubt About Conservative Candidate.

Nominations March 12; election March 19; Returning Officer, Mr. W. J. Pink. The Ontario Government yesterday issued the writ for the election in the South Lanark bye-election to fill the vacancy caused by the death of Col. the Hon. A. J. Matheson, Provincial Treasurer. The Conservatives on Friday nominated J. C. Ebbs, Reeve of Drummond, and ex-Warden of Lanark County, but yesterday it developed that Capt. F. W. Hall, Perth, had received one more vote. An arrangement is expected to be arrived at to-day.

ASK WIFE DESERTION BE MADE AN OFFENSE

Ottawa, Feb. 25.—The Minister of Justice was waited upon by a delegation this morning asking amendments to the criminal code respecting wife desertion. They asked that men who deserted their wives in the Old Country should be liable to d?portation. Judge Doherty intimated that as this dealt with immigration it was within the scope of the Interior Department.

The delegation asked further that desertion by itself should constitute a crime At present it is necessary to show that the desertion endangers life or health. Judge Doherty thought this was a reasonable amendment and suggested that the present law be let as a more serious offence and the amendment added as well. To a request that magistrates making convictions should put the prisoner under bonds to support the wife and should hold sentence and bonds over the man to enforce it. Judge Doherty questioned whether the criminal code was intended for enforcing obligations as well as punishing.

MRS. PANKHURST WILL DIE FOR THE SUFFRAGETTE CAUSE

Says She Will Begin Hunger Strike and May Not Live to Be Tried---Is Committed To-day

Epsom, Feb. 27.—Mrs. Pankhurst, militant suffragette leader, when she was committed for trial by the magistrate, informed him that she would forthwith begin a "hunger strike." She added:—

"If I am still alive when the Assizes commence, it will be a dying woman who will be tried."

Mrs. Pankhurst was committed for trial by the police magistrate here to-day on the charge of inciting persons to commit malicious damage to property.

Crowded by Militants.

The court house was ablaze with suffragette colors, and almost every seat was occupied by militant suffragists when the magistrate took his seat to resume the hearing adjourned from yesterday.

Achibald H. Bodkin, counsel for the Treasury Department, appeared to prosecute. He demanded the committal of Mrs. Pankhurst for trial at the County Assizes, saying that she was a self-confessed accessory to the explosion, which virtually destroyed Chancellor of the Exchequer Lloyd George's country house, which he declared "a more abominable and cruel outrage probably had never been conceived."

Read From Her Speeches.

Mr. Bodkin then read copious extracts from Mrs. Pankhurst's speeches, delivered at public meetings on January 27, January 30, February 3, and February 19, as evidence that she had been seditiously plotting and conspiring to commit outrages on property and persons "with the avowed object of overawing the public and rendering the lives of prominent men intolerable and thereby coercing the Government."

Among the extracts were one in which Mrs. Pankhurst called for the names and addresses "of those who were prepared to take part in a gallant onslaught with me." Another said "short of taking lives, we are warranted in using all the methods employed in times of war." A third said the militant suffragettes intended "to carry on the fight with increasing effective methods until the vote was granted to women."

FRIEDMANN DECLARES HIS CURE IS FOR WHOLE WORLD

New York, Feb. 26. The revolving storm-doors of the Waldorf-Astoria, always rather busy as storm-doors go, turned on more tuberculosis sufferers in a few hours to-day than possibly ever went into and out of the famous entry in all of its existence. The big hotel was the mecca of white plague victims, because it housed a blonde young German, Dr. Freidrich Franz Friedmann, the Berlin scientist, who came here and brought with him what he asserts is a cure for tuberculosis in every form and stage except the unmistakably hopeless cases.

"My culture is not a cure for death," the young doctor explained in his best English.

Refused Offer of a Million.

The fame of the Berlin scientist grew amazingly overnight, when it became known that he refused Fanker Finlay's offer of $1,000,000 for proof that his cure is genuine.

Lung sufferers proverbially are the most optimistic and hopeful of all the sick people of the earth. So the white-plaguers to-day made their pilgrimages to the Waldorf-Astoria to consult the specialist from abroad but they were doomed to initial disappointment. Dr. Friedmann declined to consult patients or make any tests until to-morrow, when he expects to make his arrangements with the United States Government.

The Government was the first to welcome Dr. Friedmann to America. The first man off the revenue cutter that went down the bay to meet the liner was Dr. Milton H. Foster, of the United States Public Health and Marine Hospital Service. He was the personal representative of the Surgeon-General. He at once asked Dr. Friedmann if he would submit his cure to the Government for a test, and the German unhesitatingly accepted the proposition.

Details of the experiment were left to a conference that Dr. Friedmann will hold to-morrow morning at the Waldorf with a laboratory man of the Marine Hospital Service.

EUROPEAN SITUATION IS NOW REASSURING

Austrian Premier Says the Tension Will Relax in Near Future.

Vienna, Austria, Feb. 25.—A reassuring statement on the European situation was made yesterday by the Austrian Premier, Count Karl Stuergkh, to a deputation of members of the Austrian Parliament. He said:

"There is good ground for the hope that at no distant date a general relaxation of the present political tension will set in."

This is taken here as a confirmation of the announcement that Russia has agreed to the Austrian contention that Scutari must remain part of Albania.

It is anticipated that orders will be given shortly for the disbandment of large bodies of Austro-Hungarian reservists now in Galicia near the Russian frontier.

NUGENT'S SARSAPARILLA—PRICE FOR large bottle, 100 full doses, 35c. and well worth it, too. It's better to take no medicine at all than to depend upon cheap concoctions that are compounded to sell at low price and a big profit just because there is a large demand for certain remedies at certain seasons of the year. There are so-called Sarsaparillas offered to us to sell to our customers at 75c a bottle that would bring us a larger profit than Nugent's Sarsaparilla sold at 35c. Nugent's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, arouses the torpid liver, drives out all impurities, cleanses and tones up the system, and helps Nature throw off the dullness that comes from indoor life of winter. It arouses energy, brightens the eye, clears the brain, gives lightness to the movements. Nugent's Sarsaparilla is not the only thing you will find in this drug store, we make a specialty of Nugent's Remedies. Nugent Drug Co., 386 George St., directly opposite Cressman's store.

BULGARIA'S KING

Although a somewhat strong-minded ambitious despot, King Ferdinand of Bulgaria is a man of simple tastes, and nothing delights him more than to leave Sofia and state troubles behind him and go to his beautiful summer palace at Varna, on the Black Sea, and indulge in his zoological and botanical studies. He is an accomplished naturalist, and spends much time classifying insects and plants. He catalogued nearly all the flora and fauna of Bulgaria and in Sofia established a zoological garden at his own expense.

The manner in which King Ferdinand came to the throne is one of the romance of modern history. He was merely a half-pay lieutenant in the Hussars in the Austrian service when, in 1887, the Bulgarian National Assembly elected him to succeed Prince Alexander of Battenberg, who had abdicated.

Many were the plots put forward to assassinate King Ferdinand when he succeeded Prince Alexander to the throne, but they all failed, although the assassins killed Stambouloff, who was to Bulgaria what Bismarck was to Germany. Ultimately the manner in which King Ferdinand developed the country for his subjects' good, set up a proper educational system, a network of railways, and plenty of good roads and canals, encouraged agriculture and town building, and raised the army to the highest pitch of perfection, won the admiration and loyalty of all his subjects.

Soil Fertilising in Denmark

According to a Consular report, the annual imports of artificial fertilisers to Denmark amounted to 300,000,000 pounds, with an estimated value of $3,700,000. The Danish Government makes about 1,500 experiments every year in different localities with fertilisers, thus teaching the farmers the scientific treatment of their land.

At the International Flower Show in London Canada and Australia were awarded blue ribbons in the form of large gold medals for the best collection of fruit.

The King expressed great satisfaction at the admirable arrangements of the exhibits.

EDITORIAL NOTES

"Truth may be stranger than fiction, but the latter commands a higher price in the magazine field

It would appear as though our friend Mr. Stratton, has so long been accustomed to being close to the big drum in the Liberal band wagon that he cannot refrain from running alongside looking for a seat.

Alberta is paying more than $2,000 every day for interest on its debt. When the Liberals took hold of it Alberta had no debt. The Liberal press waxes funny about this daily interest charge, but it is not a joke to the farmer or the business man of this province

Lillian Russell is going to lecture on how to live to be a hundred years old, says a news item. She would do well, however, to leave that subject to Sarah Bernhardt, and lecture on, "The number of husbands I have met and known." That would be a human interest story.

The press of Montreal makes a great to do because D. E. Armstrong of Royal Victoria Hospital, held a live man's heart in his hand during an operation. Pshaw! We know of more than one girl in Peterborough who holds a man's heart in her hands all the time and they are not arm strong either.

The Supreme Court of the United States has disposed of the question, "When is an egg no longer an egg, but a chicken embryo?" by declaring that it had no specific jurisdiction in the case of eggs. In view of the fact that the court will soon be asked to decide, "What is beer?" we will repeat for the information of the august tribunal what we said several months ago—that beer is a beverage which was invented by the Germans, to the intense disgust of the Irish who consume large quantities of it

MORE WORK, LESS TALK

Notwithstanding the emphatic denial of the Premier, there are still some talk of an increase of the sessional indemnity of the Dominion members. It is pointed out that in the United States the members of Congress get $7500 a year and that as the sessions are scarcely shorter at Ottawa than at Washington the emolument here of $2500 is inadequate. Without entering into a comparison of the work done by the representative bodies of the two countries it may be said that there is no need whatever of so much time being wasted in the House of Commons. We have too much talk and not enough toil. There is nothing either edifying or instructive in long-drawn-out debates in which the speeches outside of those of a few favorites are hurled at empty benches. Parliament should be made to despatch its business in three months instead of six, and $2500 is a pretty fair indemnity, all things considered.

Major Currie, M.P., for N. Simcoe, proposes that the House shall hold longer daily sitting, assembling at 2 p.m. But this remedy does not strike at the root of the difficulty. The sittings are plenty long enough now and it is not wise to lengthen them. Members will feel more fit for their duties if they sit only a reasonable time each day. Beyond that limit, the body lags and public business loses interest.

The two things needed at Ottawa are: first, abolition of Hansard and second, application of the closure. Hansard is shamfully abused by the tendency of the average member to talk to his constituents through its pages. The desire is to show them that he is attending to his duties and this he thinks can best be accomplsih ed through the journals of the House and the abuse of the franking privilege. As to the closure, it may seem at first blush to be an infringement on free speech. But nearly all the deliberative assemblies the world over have adopted it in some form or other, and under proper restrictions it works well. Talking against time is too frequently resorted to in Parliament for party purposes, but even apart from this practice, there is no advantage in the interminable threshing of public questions. We are living in a practical and utilitarian age, and this considerattion demands that the country's business must be transacted in a businesslike way.

GOOD NATURED AGAIN

Good Humor Returns with Change to Proper Food.

"For many years I was a constant sufferer from indigestion and nervousness, amounting almost to prostration," writes a Montana man.

"My blood was impoverished, the vision was blurred and weak, with moving spots before my eyes. This was a steady daily condition. I grew ill-tempered, and eventually got so nervous I could not keep my books posted, nor handle accounts satisfactorily. I can't describe my sufferings.

"Nothing I ate agreed with me, till one day I happened to notice Grape-Nuts in a grocery store, and bought a package out of curiosity to know what it was.

"I liked the food from the very first, eating it with cream, and now I buy it by the case and use it daily. I soon found that Grape-Nuts food was supplying brain and nerve force as nothing in the drug line ever had done or could do.

"It wasn't long before I was restored to health, comfort and happiness.

"Through the use of Grape-Nuts food my digestion has been restored, my nerves are steady once more, my eye-sight is good again, my mental faculties are clear and acute, and I have become so good-natured that my friends are truly astonished at the change. I feel younger and better than I have for 20 years. No amount of money would induce me to surrender what I have gained through the use of Grape-Nuts food." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich. "There's a reason." Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true, and full of human interest.

IF MEALS HIT BACK AND STOMACH SOURS

"Pape's Diapepsin" ends Indigestion, Gas, Dyspepsia and Stomach Misery in five minutes.

If what you just ate is souring on your stomach or lies like a lump of lead, refusing to digest, or you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food, or have a feeling of dizziness, heartburn, nausea, had taste in mouth and stomach headache, you can get blessed relief in five minutes.

Ask your pharmacist to show you the formula, plainly printed on these fifty-cent cases of Pape's Diapepsin, then you will understand why dyspepsia troubles of all kinds must go, and why they relieve sour, out-of-order stomachs or indigestion in five minutes. "Pape's Diapepsin" is harmless; tastes like candy, though each dose will digest and prepare for assimilation into the blood all the food you eat; besides, it makes you go to the table with a healthy appetite; but, what will please you most, is that you will feel that your stomach and intestines are clean and fresh, and you will not need to resort to laxatives or liver pills for biliousness or constipation.

This city will have many "Pape's Diapepsin" cranks, as some people will call them, but you will be enthusiastic about this splendid stomach preparation, too, if you ever take it for indigestion, gases, heartburn, sourness, dyspepsia, or any stomach misery.

Get some now, this minute, and rid yourself of stomach trouble and indigestion in five minutes.

Rampant Patriotism.

This is a true story of a conversation, overheard on George street Saturday. The "dramatis personae" were two civic employes, working on the city's work. One was of Irish descent and the other a recently imported Londoner. The conversation ran thusly. The Englishman lon: "Hi si, 'ave you hever been in Henglandi?" "No," replied the man from Tipperary, "I came straight from Belfast to Montreal." Then said the Londoner. "You're not worth a damn!"

A HAPPY, LAUGHING CHILD IN A FEW HOURS

Your child isn't naturally cross, irritable and peevish, Mother! Examine the tongue; if coated, it means the little ones' stomach is disordered, liver inactive and its thirty feet of bowels clogged with foul, decaying waste.

Every mother realizes after giving delicious "Syrup of Figs" that this is the ideal laxative and physic for children. Nothing else regulates the little one's tender stomach, liver and bowels so effectively, besides they dearly love its delightful fig taste.

For constipated bowels, sluggish liver, biliousness, or sour, disordered stomach, feverishness, diarrhoea, sore throat, bad breath or to break a cold, give one-half to a teaspoonful of "Syrup of Figs," and in a few hours all the clogged up waste, sour bile, undigested food and constipated matter will gently move on and out of the system without griping or nausea, and you will surely have a well, happy and smiling child again shortly.

With Syrup of Figs you are not drugging your children, being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics it cannot be harmful.

Full directions for children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the package.

Ask your druggist for the full "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna," prepared by the California Fig Syrup Co. This is the delicious tasting, genuine old reliable. Refuse anything else offered.

PROBLEM FOR THE PEOPLE

Toronto City Rapidly Filling With Foreigners

A VERY GREAT INFLUX

Figures Show That There Are Approximately 50,000 Foreigners Residing in the City—Problem for Sociologists.

Toronto, Feb. 27.

OR some time Toronto has been rapidly filling up with foreigners, and the question is now being seriously considered are the other large Canadian cities to follow suit? This question is now pressing in upon the social and moral reform workers of Toronto, and it is felt that some definite policy must be laid down ere long. It is anticipated that the near future, two or three years, will give the large Canadian cities such a great influx of foreigners that it will be then almost beyond the grasp of social workers.

It is generally felt among the social workers of the city that legislation should be enacted with regard to the whole question, including the entry of foreigners and the regulation of their lives, education and the question of the limited franchise.

To-day they are allowed to enter Canada, reside in Toronto three years, speak no English, and yet are granted naturalization papers, and at any election vote, whether the vote is cast for a member of Council, Legislature, Dominion Government, or upon a moral issue.

Great Influx.

It is estimated that the influx of foreigners at the present time, and has been during the past year, is over one thousand per day. This rate, it is anticipated, will be increased during the year 1913.

Toronto is becoming foreign. To-day there are approximately fifty thousand foreigners in Toronto. A large percentage of them are unable to speak the English language. This large number is made up of over twenty nationalities. The Russian Jews head the list with twenty-five and thirty thousand people in Toronto. There are over five thousand Italians, over a thousand Chinamen and hundreds of Macedonians, Bulgarians and Greeks.

A peculiar feature of the situation in Toronto's foreign question is that perhaps the Chinamen are the most anxious to learn the English language, and adopt Canadian ways. In nearly almost all of the classes in the city for the education of foreigners in the English language Chinamen are to be found. They study hard and pick up the language fairly easy, it is said.

In Toronto the foreign element is approximately 12 per cent. of the entire population. In Montreal the foreign population is about 14 per cent., while in Fort William the percentage is almost twenty-five.

Rev. E. B. Moore, Methodist chaplain at Halifax port, in writing to the Secretary of the Methodist Men's Association of Ontario, states that although last week was a dull one on one day twenty-seven foreigners were refused entrance into the Dominion, being branded as undesirables.

Dizzy Headaches Cured in One Night

If Troubled With Head-Fullness, Ringing Noises, Specks Before the Eyes, the Stomach is at Fault.

Quick Relief and Certain Cure Came From Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

"I had terrible pains in my head. My appetite faded away, and when I did eat anything it disagreed and made me very sick for hours after each meal. The pains in my stomach and the dizzy headaches I had to endure almost set one wild. Sometimes attacks came on so severely that I had to go to bed. I would feel so worn, depressed and utterly miserable that for hours I wouldn't speak to my family. My system was poisoned with wastes and nothing helped me till I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills. Without this grand system-cleaning remedy I would still be sick, but each day brought me better health and spirits. I was cured and made strong, ruddy, and healthy, and will always use and recommend Dr. Hamilton's Pills."

ORILLIA MAKES MONEY GRANT.

Council Votes $1,500 Towards Champlain Memorial.

Orillia, Feb. 27.—At a special meeting last evening, the Orillia Town Council voted a $1,500 grant towards the proposed Champlain Memorial and tercentenary celebration to be held in the summer of 1915, at Orillia. A strong deputation goes to Ottawa this weeks to ask for a Federal grant for the same purpose.

PHOSPHATE AND MICA

From demands lately received from Europe by various phosphate and mica mining companies for future delivery indicate that this mining industry, especially phosphate, is surviving. We understand large orders for phosphate have been received by a newly organized mining company, who intend to start operation on a large scale next April, in fact, said company, which is the first one to operate a phosphate mine in Canada since the great phosphate mining period of 25 years ago, has more demands on hand now, then it will be able to supply for the present year.

Phosphate mining was a great and paying industry 25 years ago in Canada, and much money was made, but the subsequent discoveries of large deposits in Virginia and Tennessee, the price gradually sunk to a level of $5.00 a ton, which price the Canadian Phosphate mine could not compete, and they closed down and remained closed until to-day.

However, the Virginia and Tenessee mines who have been in operation since 25 years are at such depth as to increase the cost of mining and as the demands for phosphate as the price also has increased from $5.00 to $12.00. At this price there is a sufficiently good margin to make it a very good paying proposition.

The Demand for Mica.

The Mica market in Europe and United States is in a healthy position and the demands are very considerable.

Canada is one of the larger producers of mica in the world, and the quality is much superior to the Indian mica.

The great draw back of the Canadian export trade has been that there was too many small mines in operation which were not regularly or systematically operated.

As the mica varied in colors and softness, this product as a rule has been bought up by agents and mined together, with the result that the qualities and colors were not uniform and the importer in the United States and Europe were more or less dissatisfied, beside the irregularities of sizes, bad packing etc., all tended to depreciate the Canadian mica. However, it is with satisfaction that we see a Company organized. The Progressive Mining Company Limited, who will systematize the mica trade and create a healthy market.

There is a great future before this company who will also operate a phosphate mine and we are very much pleased to report that it will start its operation early next April, so as to be able to ship when navigation opens.

The company's mines are located in the Province of Quebec, not far from Ottawa.

VARICOSE VEINS CURED

NO NAMES USED WITHOUT WRITTEN CONSENT.

Confined to His Home for Weeks.

"Heavy work, severe straining and evil habits in youth brought on Varicose Veins. When I worked hard the aching would become severe and I was often laid up for a week at a time. My family physician told me an operation was my only hope—but I dreaded it. I tried several specialists, but soon found out all they wanted was my money. I commenced to look upon all doctors as little better than rogues. One day my boss asked me why I was off work so much and I told him my condition. He advised me to consult DRS. Kennedy & Kennedy, as he had taken treatment from them himself and knew they were square and skillful. I wrote them and got THE NEW METHOD TREATMENT. My progress was somewhat slow and during the first month's treatment I was somewhat discouraged. However, I continued treatment for three months longer and was rewarded with a complete cure. I could only earn $12 a week in a machine shop before treatment, now I am earning $21 and never loose a day. I wish all sufferers knew of your valuable treatment.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution, and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

The Great Phosphate and Mica Mines of
The Progressive Mining Company Ltd.

Non-Personal Liabilities

Capitalized at $500,000. Divided into 500,000 shares of $1 each.
400,000 shares in the Treasury

HEAD OFFICE . . . OTTAWA, ONT.

These Mines will be in operation by April next.

The Company possess 607 acres of Phosphate, Mica, Gold and Asbestos Lands, all free of encumbrances.

POSSIBLE PRODUCTION AND PROFITS

The Company has already orders for over 50,000 tons of Phosphate, on which it expects to realize a profit of $5.00 net per ton, or $250,000, which will be equal to 50 p.c. on the capitalization.

Supposing the Company would only realize one-half of its estimated profits, it still would have to its credit 25 p.c., without taking into this estimate the profits from its Mica Mine, which very likely will be as much again. The output of this Mica Mine is almost all sold in advance to large English firms.

THIS PHOSPHATE AND MICA MINES

are paying enterprises right from the start of its operation, and are located in the Province of Quebec, near Ottawa, and only a mile from railway station.

THE PLANT, MACHINERIES

required for the exploitation are inexpensive, the operation expenses, such as labor, provisions, supplies, transportation, etc., are all much cheaper than in Porcupine and Cobalt mining districts.

The Shareholders participate in the profits of all the Companies' mines.

If you wish to make your money work

HERE IS YOUR CHANCE.

There are few such opportunities offered where the Public can acquire shares at promoters' prices in a paying mining enterprise right from the start like this one.

A limited number of shares are now offered.

AT 15 CENTS EACH

This price may be increased at any time without notice.

Next April, when the Company's mines will be in operation and shipping, these Shares will not then sell at 15 cents, or 25 cents, but very likely at 50 cents, if not more.

You have a chance you never had before of doubling and tripling your investment by next Spring, as the Company will be shipping as soon as navigation opens.

It should be remembered that this is not a Cobalt or Porcupine over-capitalized mining scheme, where Hundreds of Thousands of Dollars must be expended before getting one cent back.

PHOSPHATE AND MICA ARE MINERALS.

Are used all over the world, in various industries, and Canada is one of the principal producers; the market is established. The output of Phosphate and Mica is generally sold in advance, so that the shareholders run very little risk, but have an exceptional opportunity of doubling and tripling the money invested.

PROSPECTUS SENT FREE ON DEMAND.

Application may be made by letter, by sending 50 p.c. of the amount subscribed. The balance will be payable after the allotment of shares.

PHONES FOR DEAF MUTES

Light Takes The Place of Sound in This New Device For Dumb

How can a deaf mute use a telephone? This question had long puzzled William C. Shaw, a deaf mute, who works in the experimental laboratory of the General Electric Company at Lynn, Mass., and he set himself to the task of solving it. The result is a practical apparatus by means of which deaf mutes can converse with each other or with normal persons at any distance.

Mr. Shaw has exhibited his deaf mute telephone at several technical schools, but it has been received with most enthusiasm at schools for those afflicted as he is.

Instead of sound, light has to be used as the means of communication so "telephone" is scarcely the correct word to apply to this invention. It consists of three essential parts—the sender, the indicator and the receiver, with the electric wires that connect them. The sender is a typewriter. The indicator stands on the table in front of the sender. It consists of a frame about six inches square, in which are mounted thirty-six two-candle power electric lamps, each marked with a letter or figure.

The receiver is a large reproduction of the indicator, being about three feet square and having upon it 36 eight candle-power electric lamps, marked with letters and numbers to correspond with those of the indicator.

Th pressing of a key on the typewriter closes an electric circuit which lights on the indicator and on the receiver the lamps bearing the letter of that key. The receiver may be situated in another house. Beside it is a call lamp.

Now, suppose two persons, A and B, desire to talk over the phone. A on his keyboard in his house presses the call button on his typewriter keyboard. This causes the call light in B's house to glow and attracts B's attention. B replies that he is there by pressing the call button on his typewriter and lighting the call lamp in A's house. Then A sends his message, ticking it out upon his typewriter just as he would if writing a letter. The touching of each letter by key is followed instantly by the lighting of the corresponding lettered lamp on B's receiver.

The lamps remain lighted only while the key is pressed down; they go out the instant it is released.

It takes a little practice to follow a message that is sent quickly, but after a short time a man can receive as rapidly as one can operate the keys. Of course the apparatus works both ways sending and receiving being done in either direction.

In its present form this deaf mute telephone requires a wire for each of the thirty-six keys, but as there are cables containing that number of insulated wires this is no great obstacle.

Mr. Shaw was born in 1865, and became deaf and dumb as a result of spinal meningitis at the age of five. He has been married twice, and has by his first wife a boy of twelve who hears and talks perfectly. His second wife is also a deaf mute. His father, a sea captain, took him all over the world in a vain effort to have him cured. He is on old friend of Dr. Alexander Graham Bell, the inventor of the telephone.

Golf Balls for Fireworks

A fire broke out at midnight in the Kilmacolm, Scotland, Golf Club House. A crowd of spectators gathered to view the spectacle, which was rendered more brilliant by the incessant explosion of rubber core balls, which rose into the air in globes of flame of a variety of colors.

SHAM BURIAL ON INDIAN RESERVE

Disappointed Squaw Made a Pitiful Effort to Hide Disappointment

A tragedy of disappointed motherhood was revealed at the Fairfield Indian Reserve, in Manitoba, following an investigation by the Indian Department into a supposed case of foul play.

The department was notified that Mrs. Gilbert Cook, a squaw of the reservation, had given birth to a child in the doctor's absence at Orane Lake; that in his absence also the child had been buried, and the Indian woman and her husband informed the doctor on his return that the infant had been born dead, and had been buried immediately after death. The chief of the tribe demanded that the body be exhumed, and when the grave was opened in it was found only a pitiful dummy of a child, a body made of moose liver, bound round with bandages, a head of tea lead, on which was a baby's bonnet, while for lower limbs there were the legs of a partridge. The attorney-general's department of Manitoba was asked to investigate and find what had been done with the real child. Then there came to light the story that there was no real baby and the mock burial was a sorry subterfuge to hide the shame of disappointed motherhood.

The squaw had told the reserve that a little heir was expected at the Cook household. But the stork stayed away, and shame sat so heavily on the heart of the Indian woman and her husband that the subterfuge was planned.

A cat twenty-seven years old and one twenty-four at Banbury, Oxfordshire, one of twenty-three near Aberystwyth, and one of twenty-one at Bradford, are reported as long-lived cats. The cat which lived to twenty-three near Aberstwyth went on three legs for the greater part of its life through losing a foot in a trap.

Nature's Barometers

There are two kinds of clouds—wind clouds and rain clouds, the former in summer being as black as night. Clouds banked together in the west mean coming rain. The walls of houses are usually damp before rain. Cows and sheep instinctively lie down when it is going to rain, in order to keep a dry spot for themselves. Swallows are good weather prophets. If, when flying low, they suddenly congregate and fly very high, it is a sure sign of a coming storm. When geese clamor and peacocks scream, rain is pretty sure to be near. Flowers are highly sensitive to rain. The pimpernel has been called the "poor man's weather glass," its prophecies being so true:

"Closed is the pink-eyed pimpernel.
'Twill surely rain; I see, with sorrow,
Our jaunt must be put off till to-morrow."

The crocus forecasts rain by shutting up its leaves in a most determined way; so also do the dandelion, wood-sorrel, and anemone. The heads of wild oats curl up in dry weather, and contract in damp. Fir-cones are good weather indicators, closing for wet weather and open for fine. They retain this power even after they are gathered, so long as they have any seeds in them to protect. In villages round the coast seaweed is the homely weather-glass, becoming moist and clammy when rain is near. They have a curious method of forecasting the weather in some parts of Germany and Switzerland. A small green frog is kept in a bottle half full of water, with a flight of wooden steps leading down from the top of the bottle into the water. If the frog stays down below they say the weather will be fine, but if it comes up and sits down on the steps it will be dull, and rain and cold may be expected.

LOST A KING'S FAVOR

Story of Opera Singer's Eclipse Recalled by Her Lonely Death

The death at Munich of Fraulein Josephine Schefsky, once a great singer, revealed the secret of her downfall. For over thirty years this tragic story of a woman's ruse that failed was never whispered but with her death it came to light.

In 1879 Fraulein Schefsky was the principal singer at the Munich Opera House, then the centre of musical Europe. King Louis II. of Bavaria the great patron of great artistes, showered presents upon her and all the world came to hear her sing. She construed the King's attentions as being tantamount to a declaration of love, and she came to the conclusion that the only thing needed was a suitable opportunity at which to secure an open avowal of the royal passion.

She cast her mind about and decided that nothing would so appeal to the romantic nature of King Louis as a dramatic rescue from drowning the King himself being a noted swimmer.

Fraulein Schefsky therefore arranged that one morning when the King was taking his walk by the palace lake she should throw herself in and shout for help. An attendant was to be sufficiently near in case anything went wrong, but it seemed most certain that the King would plunge into the rescue of the beautiful singer.

Fraulein Schefsky carried out her program to the letter. Half-submerged, she shrieked for help. King Louis saw through the ruse in a second. He saw there was no danger of her drowning and observed the attendant, whose curiosity had overcome his discretion. Turning to his secretary the King said:

"What a pity such an artist cannot put a play on better than that!"

He ordered the professional "rescuer" to do the work he was paid for. Then he sent his equerry to tell the diva that never again should she sing at the Munich Opera House.

Her career was ruined and she was driven into retirement and poverty

HOLY LAND BACKWARD UNDER TURKISH RULE

A British newspaper writer once wished to get some postcards of Jerusalem, and applied to the "post officii." "Please give me ten postcards," he asked.

The Turkish official looked for a moment in surprise, and then replied: "But, honored sir, why should you carry on your correspondence with cards? You can write at greater length in a letter; and, besides, every one can read what you say on a postcard."

"I have very little to say, and they suit me better. Kindly give me ten."

"But, dear, worthy sir, you are not of those poor people who have to use postcards; rather write a fine long letter."

As the correspondent still insisted on having them, the post official murmured, "Honored sir, I would willingly give you them, but I cannot."

"But why cannot you sell postcards?"

"Because I have none. I have had none since the week before last. If you really must have some, you will be obliged to go to Joppa for them."

This being a journey of some seventy miles, the visitor naturally had no wish to go and fetch them.

On another occasion, the same visitor, being in Damascus, went to the post-office to ask for his letters and the postmaster remonstrated: "But, respected sir, you got some letters only last week, and now you are already asking for more!"

REGISTRATION CARD TO PREVENT LOAFING

With the object of preventing or at least checking the spread of idleness and loafing a plan has been suggested by Rev. Father Minehan of Toronto, to have a registration system. Father Minehan's plan would require every man over eighteen years of age to have a card similar to the card of identification nearly always issued by accident insurance companies to those they insure, setting forth the holder's name, address, employment, and the place where he works.

This, Father Minehan thinks, would prevent loafing, and with that obviate a large proportion of crime, as the bulk of it is committed by loafers, who "do nothing but hang around and sponge on other people." If this plan were carried out, a policeman finding a man loafing in a park could demand to see his card of registration, and if the man could not produce it he would be liable to arrest as a vagrant. If he claimed to come from some other place, he would be required to show what his business was here.

"This method prevails, I believe," said Father Minehan, "in some European countries."

Fashions in Dogs

So carefully does the woman of fashion select the dog which is to occupy a seat in her motor or afternoon appearance on other occasions that he has become almost a dress accessory, like her handbag or parasol, and as such he is subject to favor or disfavor, according to fashion's dictates.

At the thirty-sixth annual beach show of the Westminster Kennel Club recently held in the New Grand Central Palace in New York, dogs from every Province in Canada and many famous English dogs were shown with the American ones. In reading the entries one notices a distinct falling off in some breeds that have been popular for years. Bulldogs and Bull terriers are less in evidence, while the great St. Bernard is restored to favor. The Wiredale terrier is prominent and many society women exhibited. West Highland terriers, Pomeranians continue in high popularity.

The ultra fashionable, who speedily echo the dernier cri of Paris, are going quite wild over toy dogs of every sort. Toy spaniels and drugs were shown at the New York show, also Maltese terriers, toy black and tan and graceful Italian greyhounds.

CARDINAL AND BETTORS

Irish Prelate Proposes Stern Measures Against Gambling

Intense resentment amongst Irish Catholics was roused by Cardinal Logue's declaration in a sermon preached in St. Patrick's Cathedral, Armagh, that he was seriously thinking of employing the severest penalty of the Roman Catholic Church—excommunication—to cope with the growing evil of betting.

The Cardinal characterized gambling a worse evil than drunkenness because it was more difficult to eradicate and led to fraud, dishonesty, and drunkenness. Its hold was, he stated, most firmly fixed on the working class, who were least able to bear it. And, worst of all, the younger generation was being imbued with the spirit of betting and gambling by the bad example of their elders. His Eminence added that gamblers could never be trusted by their employers, and speaking for himself, he would instantly dismiss any servant upon discovering he was betting on horses.

The majority of Cardinal Logue's co-religionists recognize that the evil is a desperate one, but they feel that the proposed remedy is far worse than the disease.

FROM CELL TO ALTAR

Italian Convict Gets His Liberty And a Bride in One Happy Day

About eight years ago a young Italian, Michael Pizzulli by name, belonging to a well-to-do family at Ginosa, near Taranto, fell madly in love with Maria Montrone, a little girl only ten years of age, and unable to obtain her there and then in marriage, Pizzulli abducted the child, for which offence he was condemned to 16 years' incarceration. Prosecution for offence of this nature in Italy is reserved to private action, but through revenge and an old enmity between the families concerned, the girl's parents persistently turned a deaf ear to Pizzulli's abiding desire to wed Maria, and had not her own constant attachment for her imprisoned lover at length softened the hearts of her kinsfolk and acquaintances, Pizzulli would have had to remain in prison till October, 1926.

Recently, however, convict No. 1383 was taken in prison garb to an improvised chapel, where he found Maria, now 18 years old. Amidst a scene of intense emotion the marriage contract was signed and sealed in the presence of a large gathering of relatives on either side, all of whom seemed glad to forget old scores. In accordance with a provision of the Italian penal code, the convict bridegroom, having repaired his fault with the full consent of the offended families, was straightway provided for civilian dress, escorted to the prison gates, and set at liberty, his old warden congratulating him on the way, and cheering his departure.

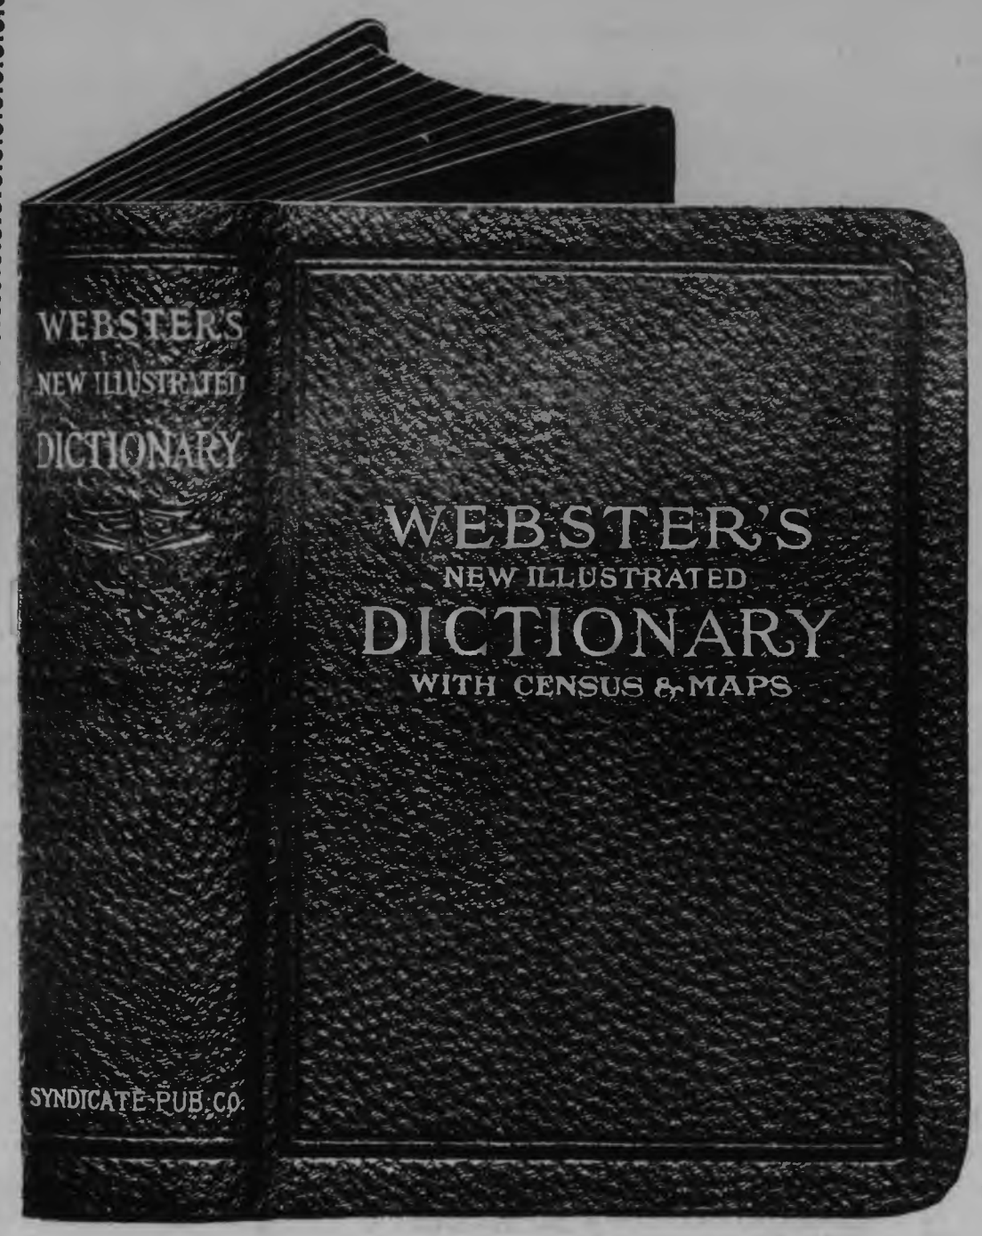
DEMOCRACY IN QUEBEC



A Proposal to Abolish Government Houses Was Voted Down

The Opposition in Quebec endeavored to have the official residence of the Lieutenant-Governor abolished but were voted down. The amendment proposed by Mr. Bernard Shefford, was to the effect that the House requests the Government to adopt the necessary measures for the abolition of Spencerwood as the residence of the Lieutenant-Govern - of the province, so as to utilize the property for humanitarian or educational purposes and to give to the Lieutenant-Governor a fixed salary, permitting hi to lodge where he liked, so as to make the post of Lieutenant-Governor more conformable to democratic ideas, and thus save considerable expenses to the province. Mr. Cousineau, speaking to the amendment, said that while he had respect for the person of the Lieutenant-Governor, he was of the opinion that Quebec should spend much [illegible] dence of the [illegible] of the province. Ontario, he affirmed, spent but $5,000, while [illegible] about $35,000.

Wants to Fight a Lion

"I want to fight a lion or a tiger unarmed, single-handed. Without any arms whatever. No big game hunter in the world can give an expert opinion about it, because he cannot possibly have the slightest idea of my style of fighting. I want no money for my feat, only the film with the reproduction of the encounter. The film shall remain the property of the man who finds the money if I cannot defeat my opponent, but I have not the slightest doubt about my complete success in the end."

This is part of a letter which reached a Paris newspaper from a correspondent who sent his name and address, and sought financial backing for his scheme. In a second letter the man said if he did not meet with the assistance he looked for he would fight a bull in an arena in Spain, Mexico or South Aemrica.

RUNAWAY SCHOOL BOYS

Two industrial schoolboys belonging to Dundee ran away from school, and broke into a public-house in North Highstreet, Fisherrow, where they stole a quantity of bread and cheese, cigarettes, and a gill bottle of whiskey, the contents of which they did not drink. The lads next proceeded to a clothier's shop in High street, Musselburgh, and attempted to break into it, but were disturbed. Later they walked along the railway line to Edinburgh. In the evening, unobserved, they slipped into an hotel in Princess street, and passed the night on a sofa, stealing out undetected next morning.

SHAKO REPLACES HELMET

Radical Change Proposed In Headdress for Britain's Regulars

It is understood that a final decision has been arrived at by the War Office on the subject of the head-dress of the British Army. The present pattern of Infantry helmet will be abolished, and in its place the historic shako will be revived. The question of this change has been under discussion by the Army Council and the Dress Committee for about two years and the final recommendation was wholly in favor of the shako. The pattern of the new head-dress will be a compromise between a new shap and the shako as now worn by the Highland Light Infantry and the Scottish Rifles. It is understood that it will be lower in the crown, rather after the French model, and, still following that pattern, it will be lighter than the shako hitherto associated with British forces. It is intended to issue two thousand shakos for trial, and the troops to receive them for this purpose may be the 13th Infantry Brigade in Ireland, commanded by Brigadier-General T. Capper.

The following statement shows, according to religious professions, the inhabitants of Ulster at the last census:

CASTLE FOR PRINCE

Future King May Have Home In His Own Principality

There is a likelihood that the Prince of Wales will have a home of his own in his own principality. The recent death of the Dowager Lady Penrhyn makes it possible to put through the scheme which has been on foot for some time to purchase Penrhyn Castle for him. The castle stands on an eminence, two miles from the Town of Bangor, in North Wales. It is a very imposing affair, with a high Norman tower and turrets. Its interior is notable for its fine old furniture, sculptured chimney pieces, oak carving and paneling. There is also a bedstead constructed entirely of slate, which is exquisitely tooled and finished. It took fourteen years to build the castle and it cost $2,500,000.

DIED IN DAKOTA.

The many friends of Mr. George Munro, formerly of Peterborough, will be sorry to learn of the death of his wife, which took place at their home in Grand Forks, North Dakota. The meagre information received by the Times is that the deceased lady contracted pneumonia from which she died. She leaves a family of four young children to mourn her demise. Mr. Munro was a former employe of the Examiner office, but went into the jewelry business in Grand Forks, and has been very successful. He is a son of the late Mr. George Munro, and a brother of Mrs. John Carlisle, East City. The Times extends its sympathy.

COUNCIL DECIDES TO CUT OFF ONE HOTEL LICENSE.

Either the Burleigh Falls Hotel or the one at Mount Julia Must Suffer—Grist of News From Apsley.

As will be seen by referring to the proceedings of the Council of Burleigh and Anstruther, a resolution has been passed to reduce the number of liquor licenses in that municipality. There are two licensed hotels in Burleigh and none in Anstruther. One of the two mentioned is the well known Burleigh Falls Hotel, and the other is at Mount Julian. It is said that some complaints have been received by the Commissioners in regard to one of these hotels, and this particular house will very likely be cut off. The work of the Council simply consists in passing the by-law. It is then up to the License Commissioners for East Peterborough, Messrs. Joshua Smithson, Otonabee; John Rose, Warsaw and Walter Wyld, of Keene, to decide where the axe shall fall.

MAPES-JOHNSTON MINING CO., LTD.

Incorporated under Ontario Companies Act.

The Elk Lake fire didn't damage Mapes-Johnston camp—camp is seven miles from Elk Lake, but the opening of the ELK LAKE Branch of the Timiskaming and Northern Ontario Railroad gives the Mapes-Johnston Mining Company's property an outlet for shipping ore heretofore lacking.

The Mapes-Johnston has two shafts in good ore—No. 1—90 feet deep, with native silver showing in a big eight-inch vein all the way down the shaft—vein big and strong at bottom of shaft—a true fissure vein.

PUBLIC OPINION.

The Times does not hold itself responsible for the opinions of its correspondents.

THE CHARITY BOARD.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I see by your paper of yesterday that the press representatives are debarred from meetings of the Charity Board. Surely, Mr. Editor, there must be something radically wrong in such procedure. The members of this Board, whilst true philanthropists in giving up their time the less spending the city's money. Are the members afraid that such items as cake, etc., which might be included in orders for charity, would not seem to come strictly under the requirements of the deserving poor? Or are the members afraid that the reporters would print the names of those to whom charity is given? As a constant reader of the local papers, I cannot think that any Peterborough reporter would make such an abuse of his presence at the meetings of the Board.

CONCERNING SMITH FARMERS

Sir,—Don't you think it would be advisable for the city aldermen to devote less time to the Isolation Hosters and take up something more important to the citizens of Peterborough? Last week you published an article about a retired Smith farmer making an assault on a child. There is another case where a man was out in the cold lying in wait with a neckyoke to lambaste another Smith farmer, who gave up his farm to enjoy the pleasures of city life, for insulting his woman. The party interested was made wise, and kept to his house until the matter was settled. In doing so he acted wisely, for a neckyoke in the hands of an enraged man is a dangerous weapon, and he might now be an inmate of the Nicholls or St. Joseph's Hospital. That I would suggest is that the City Council take an evening off and pass a by-law to compel all residents, or who in the future become residents of the city, to give substantial bonds for good behaviour.

UNCLE SAM TO BUY CURE, TREAT ALL CONSUMPTIVES

If Friedman Discovery Proves Efficacious Every Tuberculosis Patient in United States Will Have It

Washington, Feb. 27.—Uncle Sam to buy Government control and administration of the Friedmann tuberculosis treatment, if the culture proves successful in the cure of the white plague, was advocated to-day by Senator Gore of Oklahoma.

"If its value is established the treatment should be placed by the Government at the disposal of every sufferer.

The Public Health and Marine Hospital Service, in its hygienic laboratory here, will probably make tests of the culture. Monkeys, guinea pigs, rats and other animals are employed in tests.

It was assumed here that the Friedmann culture would first be tested on some hf these animals and if it proves successful, probably human white plague victims at some of the Government hospitals will be treated.

New York, Feb. 27.—By order of Surgeon General Blue, Dr. Milton H. Froster, of the United States Public Health and Marine Hospital Service, with a laboratory select, had an appointment with Friedmann for a conference to-day, when final details were to be arranged for a Government test.

The pilgrimage of tuberculosis patients got no further than the outer portals of the hotel to-day, because hotel attaches were posted as sentinels to tell applicants the scientist would not treat patients until he had fitted up his quarters.

MANITOBA SCHOOL QUESTION IS AGAIN AS BAD AS EVER

Manitoba Catholics in Position of Twenty Years Ago, Says Archbishop—Keep up Two Schools

Montreal, Feb. 27.—Bishop Langevin, who returned to Winnipeg last night, declared emphatically that the Manitoba Separate school situation was as bad as ever. "Considering the facts as they are," said the Archbishop, "our school situation is exactly as it was 22 years ago.

"The amendments wrought to the law by the Legislature had no practical effect whatever. The Winnipeg School Commission had done nothing yet to help the minority. In centres where Catholics are in number, and can elect their own school trustees, we do our best to obtain a certain relief.

"In mixed districts, as Winnipeg, Brandon, and Le Pas, Catholics are obliged to maintain independent schools at their expense, after paying taxes for schools where they cannot possibly send their children."

CLEVER WORK BY DETECTIVE NEWALL

About two months ago, a saxafrom the band hall. The matter was reported to Chief Thompson, who detailed Detective Newhall to investigate. The instrument was finally located in Toronto, in the possession of a man, named Reginald Childs, who was promptly arrested. This morning Detective Newhall will go to Toronto and bring him to Peterborough.

Robert Mansford, who is at present working at the Red Mill, was also arrested, charged with the theft of the instrument. He will appear at the police court this morning.

The saxphone has been returned to the band. Chief Thompson and Detective Newhall deserve credit for their work in connection with the matter.

WINDSOR TO PROBE CHARGES RE POLICE

Windsor, Ont., Feb. 27.—Five Windsor policemen will be brought on the carpet and three prominent business men summoned as witnesses at a meeting of the Police Commissioners to be held behind closed doors at a date not yet fixed by the Commission This was decided on at a secret session of the Police Commission held after the special public hearing last night, which was held in a hall packed by interested citizens.

Rev. F. W. Hollinrake, the Methodist preacher who started the inquiry by a sermon on gambling, appealed to his audience at the police sitting last night to back him up. He read a statement in which one of his informents declared that an officer had acted as a spotter for a gambling house, and from his revenue was able to support his family during the winter. While employed by this gambling house, at different times he served Windsor policemen with liquor said the statement. A hotelkeeper told a Windsor business man, one of the pastor's informants, that it cost him as high as $1.50 to supply the policemen with liquor each day. After Mr. Hollinrake read his statement and made his address, the commission decided to hold the aftersession in secret.

GANGSTERS ROB IN DAYLIGHT

Three Hold Up Cigar Store on Busy New York Avenue.

New York, Feb. 28.—Half a dozen detectives attached to the West Forty-seventh street police station started out to-day on the trail of three gangsters, who are wanted on the charge of holding-up August Jacobson, clerk in a cigar store at 664 Eighth avenue, near Forty-second street, at 8.15 o'clock in the morning, and making off with about $300 in cash. Jacobson was found on the floor of the store with his hands and legs bound tightly with wire.

At 8.10 o'clock, while Jacobson was standing behind a small counter in the rear of the store, three men entered. One of them shoved a revolver into Jacobson's face and another one of the men ran around the counter and dragged him to the room in back of the store. While one of the men cleaned out the cash register and attacked the strong box in the safe with a chisel, the other who had a coil of picture wire, firmly bound Jacobson's hands and feet. Jacobson was released by a passerby whose attention he called by tapping on the window.

Mexican Revolt Fading.

Mexico City, Feb. 28.—Venustiano Carranza, revolting governor of Coahuila, to-day expressed his willingness to recognize the Diaz-Huerta Government, according to a report at the National Palace, and if this be true, the rebellion in the north may be considered practically broken.

THE WEATHER.

To-day—Northerly winds and colder.

ENGLISH SUFFRAGETTES MAY BE SENT TO PRISON FOR LIFE

Public Prosecution Says This Penalty May Be Imposed on Incendiarists in Great Britain

London, Feb. 27.—"Militant suffragists connected with the setting on fire of buildings in public parks are liable to penal servitude for life." This was the announcement made today by Travers Humphries, the public prosecutor, in asking the magistrate at the Kew Police Court to commit for trial Lillian Lenten and Joyce Locke, who were arrested on February 20th for setting fire to the refreshment pavilion in the Kew Botanical Gardens.

At the hearing to-day only Joyce Locke appeared, Lillian Lenten having been released owing to ill-health after carrying out a hunger strike.

The magistrate immediately issued a warrant for her re-arrest.

Joyce Locke, who also started a hunger strike while detained, was forcibly fed. She pleaded to-day that she was not fit to conduct her defence, but the case was proceeded with and she was committed for trial at the Assizes.

Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst refused all food to-day in Holloway Prison, where her militant daughter, Miss Sylvia Pankhurst, also was a prisoner on a hunger strike. Mrs. Pankhurst, held for trial at the May Assizes in Guildford, on charges growing out of the dynamiting of the Lloyd-George house, refused to touch the first meal in jail, and declared she would go hungry uotil her trial.

PLUMBING INSPECTOR WAS BROUGHT ON THE CARPET

Last night the Property Committee met in the city building with Ald. Geo. Duncan in the chair.

Plumbing Inspector Thompson was asked whether he put the smoke test on plumbing on local buildings. The Inspector explained that the smoke test was not satisfactory and not often used by him. He said this test was out of date and practically inefficient. When water comes from a closet, the flow of water overcomes the smoke. He thought the water test the best.

The Chairman said he had been told by plumbers that the smoke test is the best.

Mr. Thompson maintained that the plumbers only test half their jobs. He did not test the plumbing in the new DeLaval factory. He had no chance to do so. It takes four men to man an efficient smoke test. He made no test at the DeLaval factory. He examined personally, all the joints and found them all right.

To Ald. Green, he had made a thorough water test of the pipes. The joints, he guaranteed, on the ground are all right. In the winter time there is no chance to make a perfect examination.

In reply to the Chairman, Mr. Thompson said the smoke test could be used at any time of year. He thought the DeLaval job was a good one.

In reply to the Chairman, who asked, "Is it true that you don't go to a job unless you have a rig sent for you?" Mr. Thompson said he had street car tickets and went to every job.

Ald. Green then gave a heart talk to the plumbing inspector. The worthy Ald. said he would like to see the smoke test made.

Ald. Green thought the by-law was all right. He thought the by-law as law should be supported.

Ald. Langford thought that the ordinary man did not understand the by-law.

A certificate, in duplicate, for the owner and the individual plumber, must hereafter be supplied by the Inspector, this on motion of Ald. Langford, seconded by Ald. Green.

The smoke test will, hereafter, according to the by-law, shall be enforced, and the plumber shall pay for express charges for taking the apparatus to the scene and returned.

The matter of Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons' signs on the island was discussed. It was explained that Mr. J. J. Turner Jr. was ill.

Mr. Green thought Mr. Turner should be given another chance. Mr. Turner should have been present and as Mr. Turner seems to have some trouble on at the Opera House, he would advocate an extension of time. The matter was left open until Saturday night at 7 o'clock. The City Clerk was instructed to notify Mr Turner in accordance.

The matter of the incinerator was held over.

OFFICIAL INCOMPETENCE RUINED THE FARMERS' BANK

No Improper Influence Used on Treasurey Board to Secure Certificate, Says Sir Wm. Meredith

Toronto, Feb. 27.—Outstanding features of the report of Sir William Meredith on the affairs of the defunct Farmers' Bank are:

No improper influence was used to induce the Treasury Board at Ottawa to issue a certificate.

The Treasury Board was, however, guilty of a serious error of judgement in not conducting an inquiry following warnings given by Sir Edmund Osler and David Henderson, M.P.

Hon. W. S. Fielding, former Fihance Minister, should not have accepted the unsupported word of W. R. Travers as to the regularity of the subscriptions for stock.

Of the $250,000 raised by Travers, $100,000 was borrowed on shareholders' notes as collateral, while Travers said he had been paid in cash. This procedure was absolutely unjustifiable.

The intent of the provisional directors was evidently to sell the charter to Travers.

The failure of the bank was due to gross mismanagement by officials.

Peter Ryan did not receive a cheque for $3,000 as alleged by Travers.

No agreement whatever existed between Travers and the World whereby the Ontario Government was to be influenced to make a deposit with the bank.

ANCHOR ICE CAUSES HAVOC AT W. W. DAM

Yesterday morning two sleigh loads of men, some thirty in all drove out to the waterworks dam, near the former John Carnegie homestead. A Times representative, learning of this ranout to ascertain what the trouble was. On arrival he conversed with Mr. Kennedy, of Montreal, an expert on such construction, who has been here for some days. The first man our representative met, on arriving at the dam, was a diver, clad in all a diver's paraphrenalia sans the helmet. In reply to a question put by the scribe, the diver said the water down there is certainly colder than H — (possibly he meant Honduras or Hayti).

Mr. Kennedy, answering our scribe, said, the trouble was with the C.G.E. part of the waterworks dam. He said that the racks or iron strainers placed to prevent obstacles entering the wheels, had become plugged with acres of anchor ice.

Right here it might be explained that anchor ice results from submarine freezing of water at the bottom of a stream, in the eddies formed by rocks or other obstructions in the stream. This, from time to time, rises and passes along the current like an irresistable avalanche of sleet.

This anchor ice had become jammed for hundreds of yards against the racks or iron strainers of the power house. This pressure, as ascertained by the diver, resulted in the racks being broken away at the bottom of the river. A direct result was the burning out yesterday morning of an "excitor" at the power house, owned by the C.G.E. Co., and consequently loss of power for this leading local factory for about a week. Teams of horses and gangs of men were busy yesterday, at the dam, hauling the iron racks and stop logs away. Our readers, however, can be assured that there is no fear of a water famine as the big waterworks wheels were grinding away yesterday as per usual.

Our Serial Story

In a few days The Times will begin the publication of a new serial story, entitled, "The Sable Lora," by Horace Hazeltine. This journal has been fortunate in securing this most excellent story which is one of the most interesting, thrilling and instructive. The story will be continued from day to day until it is completed.

TURKEY IS NOW WILLING TO CEDE ADRIANOPLE CITY

Sofia, Bulgaria, Feb. 27.—Turkey has once more signified her readiness to negotiate for peace with Bulgarig this time on the basis of including the session of Adrianople.

The Turkish Government has solicited the good offices of Russia and the Russian Gopernment last evening transmitted to the Bulgarian Government a message it had received from Michel Degiers, the Russian Ambassador at Constantinople, containing the Turkish proposals for fresh negotiations.

The Bulgarian Council of Ministers met to-day to discuss the subject

SOLD RUSSIAN FORTRESS PLANS TO JAPANESE ARMY

Three Russian Staff Officers Were to Receive Seventy Millions of Dollars

Paris, Feb. 27.—An amazing story is related in a Geneva despatch to The Excelsior which has to do with the Russian Baron Ygor Tilinsky, now at Zurich.

The Baron declares that he holds a claim on the Japanese Government for $70,000,000. According to him three Russian staff officers of revolutionary tendencies, sold the plans of the Pacific fortresses, including Port Arthur, to the Japanese Government at the outbreak of the Japanese-Russian war. For political reasons they desired the defeat of Russia.

They received in payment three cheques amounting to a little more than $13,000,000, each, payable at Tokio, on March 22, 1915.

WERE TO STAY ON JAP PAY.

The officers further contracted to remain in the service of Japan until the cheques were paid.

Baron Tilinsky and a partner named Schwetki went to Zurich in 1912 and endeavored to raise money on the cheques through a local financier.

Negotiations were opened with banks in London, Amsterdam and Dresden, but they refused to make any advances without seeing the original contract.

In the meantime, according to the story, the Japanese embassy learned of the affair and reported it to Tokio The consul at Zurich was instructed to investigate. The Russian Government also took up the matter and sent the Russian military attache at Berne to Zurich to make inquiries.

PAY FOR CAVALRY HORSES.

Government Will Be Asked to Raise It 50 Cents a Day.

Ottawa, Feb. 27.—The Canadian Cavalry Association yesterday elected Lieut-Col. James Walker, of Calgary, president for 1913. The other officers will be: Honorary president, Hon. Sam Hughes; honorary vice-president, Lieut.-Col. C. M. Nelles, Inspector of Cavalry; secretary, Major J. R. Munro, of Ottawa; treasurer, Lieut.-Col. Courtney, Ottawa.

The Government will be asked to raise the rate of pay for horses in camp from $1 to $1.50 per day, and shoe the horses free.

FRANCE IS ARMING

Asks $100,000,000 for Increase for Army and War Material.

Paris, Feb. 27.—The French Parliament is asked to appropriate immediately $100,000,000 for the renewal and increase of armaments and war materials. This request is made by the Ministers of War and Finance in a memorandum attached to the Government army bill.

The two statesmen declare that recent wars have shown convincingly that a nation's means of defence should be kept abreast of the progress of science and military art, any inferiority in this respect, they say, would be most difficult to remedy during a war.

It is estimated that France will require in all $127,000,000 for these objects, but authority is now asked to spend only $100,000,000 of this amount spread over five years.

MRS. PANKHURST ON RAIL.

Overrules Magistrate Who Refuses to Let Her Out on Bail.

London, Feb. 27.—Mrs. Pankhurst's "hunger strike" will be of even shorter duration than imprisoned suffragettes hitherto have been accustomed to. The Home-Office to-day overruled the Epsom magistrate, and the suffragette leader is to be released from Holloway Jail on bail to-night

THREW BOMB INTO LOFT.

Where 25 Girl Strike-Breakers Slept But Fuse Went Out.

New York, Feb. 27.—A second attempt to injure strike-breakers employed by manufacturers resisting the garment workers' strike was early to-day, when an infernal machine with spluttering fuse attached was hurled through a window into a loft building, where 25 girl strike-breakers were sleeping. Fortunately the fuse went out and the bomb did not go off.

AIRSHIP RUMORS PLAGUE PEOPLE OF MERRIE ENGLAND

John Bull Waxes Nervous Every Time He Sees a Bright Star in the Heavens

London, Feb. 27.—England is enjoying another crop of mysterious airship rumors. There come from different parts of the country—Portsmouth, Hull, Liverpool and other places stories of airships sailing overhead at night time. Hundreds of spectators declare they have clearly seen the airship lights in the sky. Others say that they heard the humming of machinery and dimly saw an airship itself.

It is generally thought that the supposed airship is nothing but an unusually brilliant star. The German Government has however considered it necessary to deny that any German airships have visited England. They declare that no military or naval airship has ever made such a journey. Germany would have nothing to gain by such adventures, which would only provoke an anti-German agitation. This denial is accepted by all responsible parties.

Lt.-Gen. Sir Baden-Powell indulges this morning in a description of a possible attack on London by 20 German airships travelling fifty miles an hour, carrying two tons of explosives each and dropping them on London and Portsmouth while we stood helplessly below.

Will Apply Here

The attention of The Times has been called to the remarks of a well known Bishop of the Anglican Church, who condemns the present style of intonation by some of the clergy of that denomination. The good bishop said: "Many a time that denomination. The good bishop said: "Many a time one comes across a clergyman who spoke very nicely outside the church, but directly he got on his legs or on his knees in Church he lost his natural voice and spoke in this miserable Church voice." We believe this will apply to more than one Anglican clergyman not a hundred miles from Peterborough.

LATE BISHOP O'CONNOR HONORED AT ST. PETERS

Yesterday the usual impressive ceremonies of the Roman Catholic ritual were observed, with due solemnity, and before crowded congregations at the several events, when the "Months Mind" mass was solemnized at several services in St. Peter's Cathedral. An inspiring sermon was delivered by the Right Reverend Bishop Fallon, of London, Ont. Other prelates who were present were the Most Reverend Archbishop McNeill, of Toronto; Most Reverend Archbishop Spratt of Kingston; Right Reverend Bishop Scollard of North Bay; and Right Reverend Bishop Macdonnel, of Alexandria, Ont. The celebrant of the mass was the Most Reverend Archbishop McNeill, assistant priest, Venerable Archdeacon Casey, administrator of the Diocese; Deacon of the Mass, Reverend Father Joseph O'Sullivan; Sub-Deacon, Reverend Father John O'Brien; Master of Ceremonies, Reverend Father O'Brien, D.D.

A large number of priests from different parts of the diocese were present and assisted in the service.

CENTRAL RAILWAY IS A DEAD ISSUE

The Central Railway, a blue print of which, showing its proposed route through part of this county, has been on view in The Times window for some days, has been killed in Committee at Ottawa. They money paid for the charter has been ordered returned to the promoters. It would seem that the proposed road, from Montreal to Midland, was a scheme, using a former charter, to grab 1,300,000 acres of land in the Ottawa Valley. This will be a great disappointment to residents in the northern part of Peterborough and adjoining counties. Enthusiastic meetings have been held, in advocacy of the road, at Fenelon Falls and other points along its proposed route.

RULE BRITANNIA.

NEW $50,000 DAM TO BE BUILT AT NASSAU

A telegram was received yesterday by The Times from Ottawa conveying the pleasing information that the substantial sum of $50,000 had been placed in the estimate for a new dam at Nassau. This will be good news to the power users, to the steamboat men and to the general public. The old dam has been in bad shape for many years, and was a continual source of trouble and expense. From the head of this dam the water supply for the canal between Nassau and the Little Lake is available. By its construction all leakage will be eliminated, so that the water in which is known as the lift lock "reach," will be ample for navigation.

Mr. Burnham and Mr. Sexsmith are to be congratulated on securing this splendid grant, which will be of incalculable benefit to the city and to the Canal.

NUGENT'S SARSAPARILLA—PRICE FOR large bottle, 100 full doses, 39c. and well worth it, too. It's better to take no medicine at all than to depend upon cheap concoctions that are compounded to sell at low price and a big profit just because there is a large demand for certain remedies at certain seasons of the year. There are so-called Sarsaparillas offered to us to sell to our customers at 75c a bottle that would bring us a larger profit than Nugent's Sarsaparilla sold at 35c. Nugent's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, arouses the torpid liver, drives out all impurities, cleanses and tones up the system, and helps Nature throw off the dullness that comes from indoor life of winter. It arouses energy, brightens the eye, clears the brain, gives lightness to the movements. Nugent's Sarsaparilla is not the only thing you will find in this drug store. We make a specialty of Nugent's Remedies. Nugent Drug Co., 386 George St., directly opposite Crossman's store.

Twenty-five Dollars Does It

This Helps You Buy a Beautiful High, Dry, Level Lot in the Fast Selling Subdivision

RUSKIN PLACE

Right in the Heart of Ottawa's Manufacturing Area — At the Junction, Ottawa South

It is selling rapidly to good people of the class who will build homes and improve the property. There are a number of fine houses in course of erection, and many others to follow immediately. The lots are grassy lots without rock. They are level and easy to build upon, and there is abundance of clear, cold, pure water. The view takes in the whole City of Ottawa. Streets are 66 feet wide, and are being well laid out with trees and boulevards, and fine gravelled sidewalks just like every Metropolitan City.

Early connection with the City by no less than three electric railways is expected. The Morrisburg and Ottawa Railway have decided to start building on May 1st, 1913. The C. N. Railway have announced their early start upon their gas electric service, which will run right through RUSKIN PLACE. The Kingston and Rideau Lakes Electric Railway have surveyed right through the property and expect to commence work in the near immediate future.

When any one of these lines commence operations look out for an immense increase in price of RUSKIN PLACE Lots.

Great Eagle Five Feet Long

A huge eagle has taken up his quarters on the heights of Dalguise Rocks, Scotland.

Telescopic observations show the bird from head to tail to be between four and five feet long. When he is in flight panic exists amongst the birds and flocks and the crofters hurry their children indoors.

Man Who Worked Two Days a Week

At Alloa, Scotland, John Gilchrist, a laborer, pleaded guilty to failing to provide his four children with sufficient food and clothing. He only worked about two days per week, earning enough to keep himself in drink, while his wife had to wash barrels in a brewery to support the children. He was sent to jail for thirty days and must work when liberated.

The Wearing of the Kilt

At a meeting held in Edinburgh steps were taken for the formation in Edinburgh of a branch of the Kilt Society, a body for the encouragement and the perpetuation of the use of Highland dress. Speakers, in support of the proposal, said there was evidence of a widespread movement in the direction of making the Scottish costume more generally popular.

Starved His Beagles

Frederick Henderson, Master of the Berwick Foot Beagles, was fined $125 with the alternative of three months' imprisonment, at Berwick, for starving nine beagles.

An inspector found two dead and the skin of another which had apparently been devoured by six others who were in the last stages of emaciation, showing that the dogs had not been fed for weeks.

Bank Clerk's Downfall

Henry Ribton, a clerk in the Bank of Ireland branch, Sligo, pleaded guilty at the Connaught Assizes to the forgery of three promissory notes and was sentenced to twelve months' imprisonment. His lawyer said prisoner was well connected, and his relatives intended sending him to Canada to retrieve his fortunes. His downfall was due to betting. In passing sentence his lordship said the bank had lost over $3,000 through the prisoner, and all that money had been pocketed by the betting fraternity.

EDITORIAL NOTES

If we may believe the news from Sofia, large numbers of Turks are qualifying for the Marathon race this year.

Porfirio Diaz is a very old man; but it would not be surprising to learn any day that he had "come back" in both senses of that expression.

Some people have the idea that perfectly imparted man is those members of the Ontario Legislature who, it is said, drink booze all night and vote for temperance all day.

Ex-Sultan Abdul Hamid has a very poor opinion of western women, and if a plebiscite were taken it would doubtless be made plain that western women have even a poorer opinion of Abdul Hamid than he has of them.

The Mayor of the Indian village of Caughnawaga is on the carpet for exceeding his authority by kissing the women of the municipality, and ancient custom has been pleaded in extenuation.

The consigning of a parliamentary witness to jail for refusal to answer sounds peculiar at first, but as a matter of fact parliament is a court, and refusal to answer its questions is contempt of court, for which witnesses may be consigned to jail any minute.

In discussing the conviction of the members of the Cash-Register trust, the New York World says: — The Cash-Register combination, trust and monopoly, has been one of the most daring of our industrial and commercial lawbreakers. It has slugged competitors. It has blackhanded its customers. It has maintained a terrorism protected by patents and tariffs. It has bribed, fought, tricked and destroyed its way to absolute supremacy in the business. At the same time it has kept up a snivelling pretense to philanthropy in its attitude toward the underpaid labor."

HOW MUCH SLEEP DO WE NEED?

President-elect Wilson of the United States says that nine hours sleep is necessary for him to maintain his body and brain at the highest efficiency. Thomas Edison, the inventor, says that more than four or five hours' sleep is positively injurious to anybody. Which of the two is right?

Most of us have been taught that eight hours sleep is essential of good health and we try to steal that much time from business to allow nature to work her wonders during the hours of repose. The headaches we suffer from after sitting up the greater part of one or two nights with no more than four hours' sleep indicate that the greater part of the race prefers and thrives better on Wilson's sleep diet than on Edison's.

If Edison had not been so busy from his youthful days in benefitting himself and mankind by his inventions he probably would have worried along with about the amount of sleep most of us get. If Dr. Wilson had no more serious problems confronting him than most of us have, he would doubtless find seven or eight hours sleep enough for his purpose. Unless a man is his own master and has work upon which he can devote his attentions at will, he is a misfit in this world. Get up an hour earlier and go to your accustomed place ofbusiness and see how little you can accomplish. This fact is that the world has practically adopted the eight hour period of sleep and nothing on earth will ever change the general opinion. The two adverse opinions are creating a lot of discussion in the magazines, and some "freaks" will be found who will aver with the conviction that one the other is right. People in general will take their eight hours sleep and they do not wear a look of sad resignation if they do not get it.

TURKEY AND PEACE

An impenetrable veil of censorship is drawn over the military operations on the peninsula of Gallipoli and around the city of Adrianople. Neither the Balkan league nor the Turkish government has a word to say. The situation cannot properly be called a conspiracy of silence, since each of them acts independently, yet it amounts to just the same thing, as both withhold information and keep newspaper correspondents twenty miles away from the scenes of action. From the main tenance of this policy of muzzle-and-gag there may be made one reasonable deduction—that no great victory has been gained on either side. Important and sanguinary engagements there may have been, but no really decisive battle; for if this had taken place the victors would have published it to the world as showing that the campaign was coming to an end in their favor. The allies are doubtless attacking at a number of points, but Adrianople has not yet been reduced to bombardment, the Tchataldja line has not been pierced either at Derkos or farther south, and the advance on Gallipoli has not surmounted the forts at Bulair.

Assuming that the dogged defence of the Turks is unbroken, what are they going to gain by it? Peace is brought no nearer. Turkey might be justified in continuing the struggle if she had any hope of being able to assume the offensive and turn the tideof war that has almost swept her out of Europe; but her strength is shattered, her army is demoralized, her resources are nearly exhausted, and altogether her position is hopeless. What, then, is her government doing for peace? It is merely waiting, Micawber-like, for something to turn up. This is virtually aadmitted by Hakki Pasha, who has been sent to London on a mission of the ambassadors of the powers. He says: "We have every confidence in the ability of the ambassadors to discover some formula on which we can conclude peace." Discover it? Why, it was discovered and made known more than five weeks ago. The formula on which peace could be concluded was clearly to the Turkish government, and its terms were,—surrender Adrianople to Bulgaria, and leave the disposition of the Aegean islands to the powers. That stands as the irreducible minimum. Peace cannot be made for less. Nothing will turn up to diminish it, but by every day of trifling and delay the war indemnity will be increased.

Old Folks' Coughs Permanently Cured

The Public Is Loud in Its Praise of the Modern Direct Breathing Cure.

Elderly people take cold easily. Unlike young folks, they recover slowly, if ever. That is why so many people past middle life die of pneumonia. Even though pneumonia does not develop and kill, coughs certainly weaken all elderly people.

Cough Syrups seldom do much good because they upset digestion. Any druggist or doctor knows that a much more effective treatments is "CATARRHOZONE," which heals and soothes the irritated surfaces of the throat.

In using Catarrhozone you do not take medicine into the stomach—you simply breathe into the throat, nose and lungs rich piney balsamic vapor, so full of healing power that colds, catarrh and bronchitis disappear almost instantly.

"At sixty-eight years of age I can testify that I am never troubled with coughs or colds," writes J. E. Pilgrim, of Kingston. "They used to be the bain of my life, and that was before I used Catarrhozone, which was recommended to me by C. L. Prouse, druggist. To use Catarrhozone is just like being in an immense pine woods. The balsamic vapor of Catarrhozone is like a tonic, it is so stimulating to the breathing organs, so soothing to sore spots, so full of power to drive out colds and congestion. I will always use and recommend Catarrhozone as a preventive and cure for coughs, colds, bronchitis, throat irritation and catarrh.

(Signed) "J. E. PILGRIM."

A Catarrhozone Inhaler in your pocket or purse enables you to stop a cold with the first sneeze. Large size costs $1.00 and suprlies treatment for two months; small size, 50c.; trial size, 25c.; all storekeepers and druggists, or The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

DAUGHTER OF EARL ROBERTS WEDDED

Ascot, Eng., Feb. 27.—A notable military wedding occurred yesterday afternoon when Lady Edwina Roberts younger daughter of England's most famous living soldier, Field Marshal Earl Roberts, was married to Major Henry F. Lewin, of the Royal Artillery. Generals and other high officers thronged All Saints Church and younger officers and private soldiers turned out in hundreds to cheer their idol "Bobs."

The bride, who is 37 years old, is co-heiress to her father's title. Her elder sister who is 43 years old, is unmarried, and Mrs. Lewin's heir, therefore will be heir to the earldom When in 1901 Queen Victoria elevated the famous little warrior to the rank of earl, she bore in mind the fact that his only son, Lieut. Hon. Frederick Roberts, died on the battlefield at Colenso, after winning the coveted Victoria Cross by his gallant attempt to save the guns in that disastrous engagement. She accordingly inserted special provisions in the patent so that the title should go to his daughters, the elder Lady Aileen and her male heirs first, and to Lady Edwina and her male heirs next.

Major Lewin who is 41, has seen a great deal of fighting and now commands the 142nd battery of Royal Field Artillery.

The wedding presents included remembrances from King George and Queen Mary, the Duke and Duchess of Connaught, and many other royal personages of England and the continent.

BEGIN TO HUNT FOR SLAYER.

Hamilton Has Another Murder Mystery—No Results.

Hamilton, Feb. 27.—Following the verdict returned by the coroner's jury last night, that Leo Perry's death was the result of a blow struck by an unknown man, Chief Smith detailed detectives to-day to try and run up the victim's assailant At an early hour this afternoon the hunt was unsuccessful. Chief Smith expressed the opinion that some of the witnesses at last night's inquest could have named the man, but refused to do so. If an arrest is made the chief says the charge will be manslaughter. Perry owned considerable property here. His aged mother is heart-broken over her son's tragic death.

LAURIER PAID $60,000 TOO MUCH

Dredging Scandal Comes Down to Facts and Figures.

Ottawa, Feb. 27.—A statement to show that the late Government paid $59,766 more than it should have paid for dredging done by the Canadian Dredging Company at Tiffin Harbor between 1907 and the present, was presented to the Public Accounts Committee by J. H. Armstrong, engineer of the Harbor Work Department, yesterday. Mr. Armstrong's statement, based on the report of measurements by scow by inspectors on the work, showed the amounts dredged at Tiffin Harbor to have been 219,000 cubic feet of solid material and 854,591 cubic feet of other material, a total of 1,073,591 feet. It is explained that in the case of rock the amount by scow measurement after excavation is 80 per cent. greater than the actual material in place and that in the case of other material the expansion factor was 33 per cent.

APSLEY

COUNCIL DECIDES TO CUT OFF ONE HOTEL LICENSE

Either the Burleigh Falls Hotel or the One at Mount Julia Must Suffer—Grist of News From Apsley.

No report of the meetings at the "Hall of Wisdom" has been published for some weeks, the reason being that some of your readers, the older ones, thought them too frivilous for the g.f.j., hence in respect to them they were discontinued. However, Apsley is here yet, though, like Mexico, it is always in a state of revolution. Even the clergy are having a controversy as to which is the right road, and it wages pretty hot sometimes. The pastor of one of the churches has a busy time. Not only is he the spiritual advisers of his flock, but is caretaker of the church, builds fires, rings the bell, attends to lamps, etc., and that after travelling from 18 to 24 miles each Sunday holding two services on these trips, and then fires up for evening service in Apsley.

Mr. John Thompson, of the P.L. Co., passed through Apsley on his way to the camps last week. He was accompanied by Mr. A. Sevenson, Crown Timber agent. Prospects for getting out the winter cut of logs are brighter now than when Mr. was up last. Good hard frost and just enough snow has made excellent roads. The camps are landing from 3,000 to 4,000 logs per day, and another two weeks of this weather will no doubt see the finish.

Mr. Alex. Trotter, of New Ontario, has been visiting friends in Chandos, and intends taking back a car load of cows.

F. A. Cory, representing Frothingham and Workman, hardware, Montreal, was in the village, last week, and secured a good order from Si. This will be Fred's last trip, as he intends going into the hardware business in Belleville.

We regret to hear thatMr. Andrew Buchanan, of Chandos, is still confined to the house. Dr. Anderson, of Coe Hill, is attending him.

Miss Downing is also ill with a severe attack of la grippe. Her many friends hope for a speedy recovery.

The prospect of a railroad being built through this country has got people guessing where they can buy timber lots, and the township clerk has had several letters lately asking for information about land. Burleigh and Anstruther may take a boom before long.

Mr. James Downing commenced operations at his steam saw mill on Monday, 24th.

The municipal council of Burleigh and Anstruther held a special meeting in town hall, Apsley, Saturday, 22nd, to arrange about sending a deputation to Toronto, to interview the Hon, the Minister of Public Works, to try and secure a larger grant than usual to improve the Burleigh road. All the members present; Reeve Tucker in the chair. A motion was passed that the Council as a body should go. Coun. Mathews said it was impossible for him to be away from home that week, but hoped they would secure a liberal grant.

The municipality owns a first-class stone crusher and engine, and it should be kept in operation longer in the season than it has been for the past few years.

Some other business was transacted, when Rev. Mr. Prosser presented a by-law to reduce the number of licenses in the municipality.

The by-law received its several readings, was passed, signed and sealed. The Commissioners will now decide which one shall be cut off.

ELEVEN SMALLPOX CASES.

Two More Patients In the Swiss Cottage Hospital.

Toronto, Feb. 27.—Two more small pox patients were received into the Swiss Cottage Hospital last night, from the same house on Florence street from whence a man was removed on February 15th. One was a boy of five years old, and the other an 18-year-old youth. Four persons are still quarantined in the house.

Neither of the new patients had been vaccinated before the 15th. There are now 11 cases in the hospital, all doing well according to the Health Department.

PILOTS MUST SPEAK FRENCH.

And Suggestion Is Made That Better Men Could Be Got by Abolishing This Rule.

Quebec, Feb. 27.—Mr. M. C. Isaac, representing the Dominion Steel and Coal Company, spoke in favor of a change in the system of piloting in the St. Lawrence River before the Piloe Commission this morning.

His company paid $55,000 to pilots of Quebec and Montreal last year, and he was satisfied with the service he got. He thought, however, it would be better to have pilots under the direct control of the Government.

He thought that if pilots were not obliged to speak French a good many more good subjects would study to get into the profession.

WASTE IN CANADA

Black Coal And Escaping Natural Gas Instances of Absolute Loss of Money

The waste of soil in Canada through unscientific farming has been tremendous. The waste of timber through careless forestry represents millions of dollars. The waste of fishery resources for lack of regulation threatens to deplete Canadian fisheries altogether. The Commission of Conservation has arrayed itself against these various forms of waste, and is doing great work.

Th latest of the Commission's annual reports notes at least two forms of waste of which the public knows little. One of these is the loss of slack coal. From ten to thirty-five per cent. of the output of coal in Saskatchewan, Alberta, British Columbia mining centres is "slack," which cannot be profitably marketed because of high freight rates. Some of it is dumped in the sea; the rest it burned. Utilization of these wasted calories must be achieved if the coal supply is to be conserved as it should be.

Another form of waste concerns natural gas wells, which are left unplugged when they are abandoned, and thus help to drain all other wells in their district. In Ontario there is a statute forbidding this loss, but in the West it is permitted to go unchecked. At Pelican Portage, Alberta, there is a gas well which has been burning for thirteen years, its product having been going to waste all that time.

A CITY WITH A PAST

Salonica Once a Kingdom and Scene of Labors of Apostle Paul

Salonica is one of the oldest cities in Europe, and bears the scars of a hundred wars in its ancient ruins and relics. It was built on the shores of the Aegean Sea near the site of the still more ancient Greek City of Therma, which derived its name from the neighboring hot springs. The founder of Salonica was Cassander and it was named after his wife Thessalonica, the sister of Alexander the Great, in 315 B.C. The city rapidly became important both from a commercial and from a military point of view. There the Apostle Paul founded a flourishing Christian colony, to which the two epistles to the Thessalonians were written.

For two thousand years Salonica appears to have been more receptive of new ideas than most other cities, and becoming part of the Turkish Empire it enjoyed more freedom than any other Turkish city. It was in Salonica that the movement of the New Turks was cradled, if indeed it was not born there. It was in Paris that the first congress of the elements that were destined to overthrow Abdul Hamid was held, but some years before this Salonica had given birth to a "committee of liberty" that merged with the larger body.

Insurrection was no new thing for the citizens of Salonica, for in the fourth century it is recorded that 7,000 of them found guilty of rebellion were massacred by the Emperor Theodosius. In the seventh century the Macedonians sought to capture the city, but they found that the citizens of Salonica were stubborn fighting men and though the invaders were assisted by an earthquake, which threw the defenders into disorder, the attacks were repulsed with heavy loss.

More successful was the invasion of Stephen of Bulgaria, who forced Salonica to grant him many valuable trade concessions and other rights a couple of hundred years later. It is interesting to note that under this treaty, made a thousands years ago, Bulgaria still claims control of the city. There were several subsequent conquests, notably that of the Sicilian Normans in 1185. Later on the conqueror of Constantinople, Baldwin, conferred the city upon the Marquis of Montserrat, and in the transfer it is called a kingdom. The Marquis did not remain long in enjoyment of his toy crown, for shortly afterwards Theodore of Epirus acquired possession. Thereafter the title was bandied about among several royal houses, and gradually became extinct when the Turk became master of Macedonia.

To-day Salonica retains memorials of its former greateness in the form of some famous old buildings, nor is it without present-day importance since it has a population of 130,000. It is the terminus of four railroads, and has a commerce of $12,000,000 a year.

KING GEORGE'S KEYS

King George is not bothered with that bugbear of most men, a pocket bunch of keys. The only key which his Majesty carries about is one which opens the private writing desk in the library of each of the Royal residences, the several desks being all fitted with an identical lock. The key in question is quite a tiny one, and is attached to the end of the King's watch-chain, and worn in the waistcoat pocket.

His Majesty's private keys are kept in the writing desk in the King's own room wherever he may be staying. There are only eight in the bunch.

One locks or unlocks the bureau in the writing-room at Buckingham Palace, containing a number of the late King Edward's private papers; another gives access to a safe in which are kept books and documents relating to the most important private affairs of the Royal family; whilst a third opens the fire-proof case containing the King's unique collection of postage stamps, the finest in the world.

No one ever handles these keys except his Majesty himself or his trusty private secretaries, Lord Knollys and Lord Stamfordham.

MYSTERY SOLVED BY CRIMINAL'S HAT

Case of "The Hooded Man" Paralleled by Others on Record at Scotland Yard

A brown hat upon the sweatband of which was stamped the word "Kelvington" and some figures, was one of the clues which led to the conviction of John Williams, a young sculptor for the murder of Inspector Wells at Eastbourne, England. Williams who will go down in criminal history as "the hooded man," because the police in the early stages of the investigation covered his head with a silk muffler to prevent photographs being taken, admitted that he had lived a burglar's life, but stoutly denied connection with the murder of Inspector Wells. The hat left behind when the murder was committed is not the only one that has brought the vengeance of the law upon its owner.

In the Black Museum at Scotland Yard is a black felt wideawake hat which brought its owner to the gallows for the murder of a policeman named Cole.

This case was almost an exact parallel of the Eastbourne tragedy. Police Constable Cole, on the night of December 1, 1882, while on duty in Ashwin Street, Dalston, saw a man named Orrock in the act of clambering over the low wall in front of a chapel that faced the street.

He demanded the man to give an account of himself, and endeavored to arrest him. In the struggle which followed the prowler drew a revolver and shot the policeman dead.

One of the clues the murderer left behind him when he fled was the black wideawake hat. When Orrock was captured it proved to be one of the strongest clues against him, for it fitted him perfectly.

The first railway carriage murderer, Franz Muller, was captured by means of the hat left behind. Muller robbed and murdered a bank cashier named Briggs, afterwards throwing his victim on the line close to Victoria Park, where he was found.

Underneath one of the seats of the carriage in which the murder was committed was found a soft felt hat. This hat did not fit the victim's head, and it was the only one found. It was pretty certain that it was the murderer's, but the question arose "What became of Brigg's hat?"

It was discovered that the hat found in the carriage had been bought at a hatter's in Marylebone. Within a short time a cabman came forward, identified the hat, and swore he had bought it for a man named Muller.

Muller was arrested on landing at New York, whither he had fled in a sailing vessel. At the time of his capture he was actually wearing Mr. Briggs' hat, cut down and slightly altered.

Being hatless got a man named Toussaint fifteen years' penal servitude. He was seen one morning in 1886 to be running down the York Road, near King's Cross. Now, a man running in London is nothing out of the way but a refined-featured, well dressed man running with no hat on is somewhat unusual.

A constable stopped him and insisted upon taking him back whence he came. A short way back the shrieks of a woman led the policeman to the office of a dealer in diamonds. The dealer had been stunned by a blow and $10,000 worth of jewels stolen. The criminal, Toussaint, hearing a step on the stairs, had fled. But he forgot his hat, and this very fact secured him a well-deserved punishment.

Detective Inspector Littlechild was called in to investigate a burglary. The only clue was a hat. The detective examined this hat very carefully, and discovered two tiny black hairs on the inside lining.

Another thing which he noticed, and which struck him as peculiar about this valuable clue, was the odor of rose-scented pomade which pervaded the hat.

There was one burglar of his acquaintance, who had a weakness for scents. His hair was as black as jet, and always plastered down with rose pomade. The sweetly perfumed head and hat got their owner seven years.

"Hats," said Inspector Williamson, at one time Chief of Scotland Yard, "are so easy to lose. Criminals seem to forget that. If they did not, and only knew how handy a hat is in the hands of a dectective officer, they might think it worth while to tie their hats on with ropes."

Servia's Royal Family

Before his accession to the Servian throne, King Peter lived in exile in Paris, in a flat for which he paid the very modest rent of $150 per annum. He was in those days a great athlete and boxer. King Peter has three children, two sons and one daughter. The elder son, Prince George, known as "the Madcap Prince," whose escapades and amours have been the talk of Europe, was relieved of the right of succession to the throne in 1909. The younger son, Prince Alexander, now is heir apparent. Princess Helena, the daughter, married a Russian prince a year or so ago.

INSIDE HISTORY OF BUNKER HILL GUN

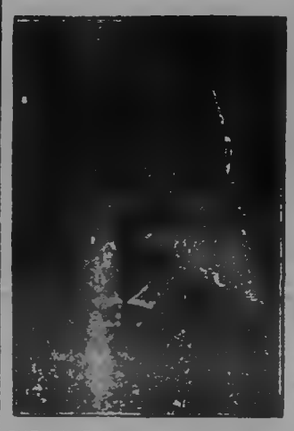
It Was Taken to Quebec by Major Tapp Whose Grandfather Got It From British Government

Col. J. L. Herbert Neilson, president of the Quebec Literary and Historical Society, tells the story of the Bunker Hill gun at Quebec citadel as follows:

"The real story of this piece of cannon appears to be unknown. I am of the few remaining who do know its history, and therefore feel justified in making the following statement concerning it:

"On the 4th of November, 1871, Capt. C. E. Montizambert, Quebec Garrison Artillery, and I were commissioned to recruit B Battery C.A. (the first of the permanent corps) and at the same time to take charge of all the military buildings and stores, transferred to the militia department when the last of the Imperial garrison sailed from Quebec on 8th of November. Among a multitude of obsolete materials we noted this strange bronze gun in the sheds in rear of the present R.C.R. quarters on Louis street. A few days later Major W. H. Tapp, a retired British officer, whom we both knew, came to us, claiming that this bronze gun was his personal property, that it had been an heirloom in his family for about a century; that being determined to fix himself permanently in Quebec he had caused the gun to be brought from his home in England, and that pending the creation of a new home here he had requested one of the military storekeepers to house it where we found it. He asked us to take charge of it until such time as he would claim it. He further volunteered the statement that the gun had formed part of the armament of an American sloop of war or privateer captured off the harbor of Boston in the early days of the Revolutionary war by his grandfather, then an officer in the Royal navy. This officer had either received the gun as a reward or kept it as legitimate loot.

"During the summer of 1872 our new commandant, Lt.-Col. T. B. Strange, R.A., caused the gun to be mounted on an improvised carriage in the centre of the Citadel square, in the exact position it now occupies.



"In May, 1875, being on leave of absence, I visited the United States and among other cities Boston, and among its sights, the Bunker Hill monument. At the summit of this monument, reached by a long flight of stairs, is a quadrangular chamber. To my surprise I found affixed to the walls two bronze guns of the exact size and appearance of our Citadel gun. A third but similar gun was in several fragments also affixed to the walls. On one of these was an inscription to the effect that: In the year 1722 four bronze guns were cast by order of the commonwealth of Massachusetts, that all were used during the war of Independence. Two of these were intact at the close of the war—the third exploded, thence the fragments—and that the fourth had completely disappeared.

"There could be no doubt that Major Tapp's gun was the fourth gun referred to in this inscription. It exactly corresponds to its fellows in size and above all by the embossed oval escutcheon with the arms of Massachusetts, an Indian holding a bow above a lone star.

"I mentioned these facts to my brother officers after my return and I think gave the information to at least one of the Quebec papers of that year, 1875. Up to 1877 there was no inscription whatever on the gun itself. That year and the year following I was on service in England. After my return I noticed for the first time that the inscription, which still exists, had been deeply cut into the metal of the gun. I observed to Colonel Strange that there was no proof that this gun had ever been used and captured at the battle of Bunker's Hill, in fact the inscription was at variance with Major Tapp's first statement to Montizambert and I. He replied laughing, 'What does it matter? No one will be the wiser, but it will tickle the fancy of our American visitors.'

"Whether Major Tapp gave his consent to this inscription I never heard. In 1880—when B Battery C.A., was transferred to Kingston, we left the custody of the gun to the incoming garrison.

"Major William Hotaro Tapp never created for himself a home in Quebec, he resided with a private family at Mount Pleasant. Probably for that reason he never claimed the gun."

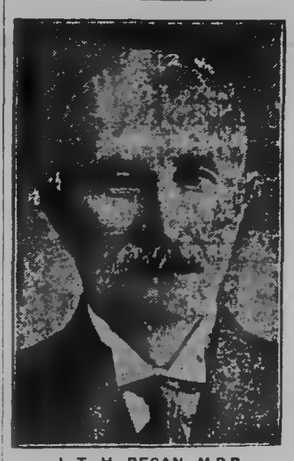
THE USEFUL WINDMILL



History of the Machine Goes Back For Centuries—New Ideas Evolved

The farm windmill, used in the widest sense, means a machine by which the energy of the wind is applied to useful purposes. Windmills were certainly in use as early as the twelfth century, but their exact origin is lost in the oblivion of the past. Their introduction into Europe is generally ascribed to the Saracens, through the Crusaders. Flashing their crimson-crossed banners homeward, through Europe, the knights of Richard Cœur de Lion brought many strange customs and innovations with them. The earliest written record of windmills in England, dated the twelfth century, deals with certain disputes in reference to tithes connected with "windmills." Since those far-away times windmills have been in constant use in Europe, America and other continents. But modern science has provided us with more efficient and reliable means of grinding corn or driving engines than the somewhat intermittent power of the wind.

In Holland they are still largely employed. No picture of the quaint Dutch country—whether actual or imaginary—would be complete without its windmill. The sturdy mills with their revolving vanes, form as great a part of Dutch character as the golden pins and dainty lace caps of the women, the baggy trousers and wooden clogs of the men. Windmills are somewhat extensively used in this country for pumping and driving agricultural machinery, it has been discovered that windmoved machines were useful where fuel is scarce and labor can proceed leisurely. A windmill is never a powerful or efficient motor, and its work is variable. But in favorable positions a windmill will run, on an average, eight hours out of 24.

Since crusading days there have been many radical changes in the make and shape of windmills. The oldest type was called the post mill, the whole structure being carried on a post. In order to bring the sails facing the wind the structure was turned on its base by a long lever. The post mill was succeeded by the tower, smock or frock mill, in which the mill proper was a stationary tower, the sails bein gattached to a revolving cap, rotating on the top of the tower. In all old types of mill the twin shaft carried four or six arms or whips, on which long, rectangular sails were stretched, a rectangular leading sail being sometimes added. Later the sails were made of sail cloth spread on a wooden framework, and at times boards were utilized. The modern windmills are gigantic, carrying 18 or more sails, fixed round a large disc. They consist of narrow boards or slats, arranged radially, each board moving with the wind's impetus. Nowadays these windmills are fitted with automatic feathering and steering machinery, and are largely used for pumping water.

It is interesting to consider that at the beginning of the nineteenth century the whole of England's grinding, sawing, stamping and the draining of the eastern counties was performed by wind power. At the beginning of the twentieth century science has rendered the windmill a veritable thing of the past. As far as such work is concerned, they stand idle, the revolution of their giant sails no longer a thing of use and necessity.

A HUSKY CENTENARIAN

Irishman Living at Uxbridge Shod a Horse on 103rd Birthday

To be 103 years old and be able to say that he never had a headache or a toothache is something that falls to the lot of few men, but Michael O'Neil, of Uxbridge, Ontario, can claim that unique distinction.

And what is more, he has now a photograph in his possession showing him in the act of shoeing a horse on his 103rd birthday.

At a gathering in his honor, many other "young fellows," most of them between 70 and 90, were present to sing the praises of the venerable Irishman. One of them, a lad of 70, remembered as a boy, going to Michael O'Neil's blacksmith shop to get a horse shod.

Also, when the shop burned down, how it was quickly replaced with a stone building, which has stood, like Michael O'Neil himself, sturdy and strong against the blasts of time ever since.

The ancient blacksmith's mental powers are quite on a par with his bodily vigor.

WHAT TOADS ARE WORTH

They Are The Greatest of all Exterminators of Insects

Science offers a new solution for the bug problem. It is to employ in its professional capacity, so to speak, the toad—the ordinary hoptoad of the field and garden—as an insect destroyer.

In this business the humble toad is unequalled by any other living animal. He is the greatest bug exterminator in the world. It is entirely practicable to utilize his services on an extensive scale, employing him systematically as an ally to keep in check the insects which levy an annual tax of more than $8,000,000 upon our agricultural resources.

There is no reason why the farmers of the country should not hatch and rear their own supply of toads for local service. With a pond or even a small pool insured against drying up during late Spring, the creatures will breed of their own accord in any desired numbers up to the limit of the food supply available in the shape of insects. But one thing absolutely essential is that they shall be protected against their natural nemies, and by no means the least destructive of their enemies are small boys, who through mere thoughtlessness kill toads whenever they get a chance.

It is estimated that an average toad is worth to the farmer $5 a year for the cutworms alone which it destroys. But this is only one item. The amount a toad will eat is astonishing. A large specimen has been known to devour a hundred rose beetles at a single meal. One toad needed seventy-seven myriapode—the household centipede—to satisfy his appetite, another fifty-five army worms and yet another sixty-five gypsy moth caterpillars. Still another toad was seen to eat thirty-five large, full grown celery worms in three hours, while another accepted eighty-six flies fed to him in less than ten minutes.

It is a common thing when the occupants of an ants' nest are swarming and the insects are emerging in large numbers to see an enterprising toad sit at the entrance of the burrow and snap up every ant that comes out. The slaughter he accomplishes under such circumstances is frightful. But of course most ants are not recognized as insects injurious to man; and the toad unquestionably destroys some species which are beneficial to the farmer. Upon the whole he is immensely useful, devouring countless numbers of the very worst bug foes of the crops.

PLANTS OF ONTARIO

Valuable Collection Presented to Toronto University

A valuable collection of Ontario plants has been presented to the Department of Botany of the University of Toronto by Principal William Scott of the Normal School. There are about 5,000 sheets in all, thoroughly representative of the flora of certain parts of the Province, particularly of the east and central south. This collection embodies the work of many years, done by Principal Scott during the recreation hours of his busy life. As Principal Scott is known to be a careful collector and a discriminating botanist, this latest contribution adds much to the working store of Ontario plants in the herbarium of the University.

WHY GEMS SHINE IN DARK

What we call darkness is really the absence of all light, and in such a condition neither precious stones nor anything else will shine. But should there be even a little light, then anything that has a polished surface, such as a diamond, reflects that light from it, giving rise to the appearance of shining, and so one might be able to notice a stone of this kind in a very dim light, which we might be inclined to call darkness. But there must be a little light, or we could not get the reflection.

TO SAVE WEAR IN LAUNDERING

Buttons have such a bad habit of disappearing on each visit to the wash tub! The use of one size and style of button prevents an assorted row, but unfortunately, is just as great a temptation to the wringer to remove a sample of one's dress. This difficulty may be solved by sewing the button to a narrow tape, and making two sets of button holes. As each article returns from the wash, its own row of buttons is slipped into the left hand row of buttonholes, and there is no darning nor sewing on of buttons. The buttons do not become dull and chipped as when washed each week.

The use of the finer designs of embroidery is preferable to lace, which tears so easily.

HONORED CAPTAIN COOK

Welland School Children Pay Unique Tribute to Memory of Explorer

The scholars of Welland Public School subscribed towards the purchase of a Canadian ensign, which was sent to the scholars of the public school at Marton, Yorkshire, England, known to history as the birthplace of Captain James Cook, the famous navigator and discoverer.

Last year the school children of Sydney, New South Wales, sent to Marton School a handsome ensign of the Australian commonwealth in honor of the great seaman whose discoveries and voyages in the Pacific did so much to extend and maintain the world-encircling British Empire.

The letter accompanying the flag, signed by the Welland Public School children, says:—"The Canadian flag is presented to Marton School by the pupils of the public school, Welland, Ontario, Canada, as a token of their interest in the birthplace of Captain James Cook, the famous navigator. It is also a tribute to the memory of Captain Cook, who, as an officer in the naval expedition accompanying General Wolfe played a distinguished part in winning Canada for Britain. The flag is also one of the symbols of the Empire whose world-wide extent is in so large a measure due to the skill, enterprise and discoveries of the great sailor."

Marton School is provided with two flagstaffs, and when the Canadian and Australian ensigns are hoisted they will be tangible evidence of the reality of Empire and of the honor due to the great seaman who gave his life as an Empire-builder.

ESKIMO NEW WOMAN

The Reindeer Queen of Alaska a Capitalist and Philanthropist

When a woman in an enlightened country makes her way to a front rank in the industrial world the fact soon becomes known and people are eager to learn something of the conditions that brought it about and of the character of the one who accomplished it. That a woman with a brown skin should also successfully compete with the men of her race is less generally understood. Out of the 260 Eskimos who own reindeer in Alaska two are women. One of these—Mary Arisarnook Andrewuk—has received the title of "Reindeer Queen of Alaska."

"Queen Mary" owns a herd of 1,303 deer, which she manages with judgment and intelligence. According to the usual contract made with the Government, she is required to train three apprentices and to give each the customary number of reindeer. She has done better than this. She has trained and rewarded eight or ten apprentices. She long since discarded the igloo, or native hut, half-underground, in which she was born, and is now comfortably housed near Nome in a cabin of logs. She speaks seven or eight Indian languages, and this has enabled her to be of considerable service as an interpreter.

"Queen Mary" has brought up a number of helpless children, and, having none of her own, has not only cared for them physically, but has also given them a place in her heart. Surely, according to her light, "she hath done her part."

When Wm. Beasley, a young Hamiltonian working on the steamer Geronia was presented with a watch guard by Mrs. E. Blakley of Picton, Ont. for saving her little daughter Doris from drowning, it came out that Beasley had on other occasons rescued fourteen persons from drowning and this was the first time that he was ever in any way rewarded for the saving of lives.

A TREE OF MIGNONETTE

A plant of the fragrant mignonette may be preserved from year to year, and it takes on the proportions of a little tree.

Take a good healthy plant that has grown from seeds sown in the month of April, keep it in a flower pot, and whenever it attempts to show a blossom, nip it off remorselessly.

At the end of September, or the beginning of October, cut off all the bottom shoots to make it look like a tree, move it into a larger pot, and put it in the greenhouse. Water it regularly and keep it moderately warm.

Treat it in this same way the following year, cutting off all the lower shoots and blossoms, and you will have a mignonette tree that will last and bloom for years.

THE SHRUNKEN DOLLAR

Statistics gathered from all the world point with more or less certainty to the conclusion that although in the last fifteen years the rise in the cost of living abroad has been about 13 per cent., or a little more, the rise on this continent has been about 40 per cent. Reduced to plain figures this means that, while the European citizen's dollar has shrunk to about 93 cents, our dollar, measured by purchasing power of necessities, has dwindled [illegible] cents during this period.

THE REPORT ON IMMIGRATION

Outline of the Recommendation of the Government's Commissioner—Co-operation Essential

The report on immigration by Mr. Arthur Hawkes, who was appointed a Special Commissioner by the Hon. Robt. Rogers, Minister of the Interior, to propose measures of co-operation between the Dominion and Provincial Governments contains a scheme of reorganization of the Immigration Department involving the establishment of a Central Board at Ottawa, the erection of distinct provincial immigration services and an enlargement of the Department's propaganda in Britain.

"Immigration to Canada, says the report, " is the crucial economic factor in the progress of the Dominion. Every financial responsibility that has been assumed for the development of Canada, whether in pledging public credit for railways, or for civic expansion, or for industrial enterprises, has been assumed in expectation of a greater increase of population than the natural increase. With capital pouring in, chiefly from Britain it is easy to confuse the prosperity that arises from expenditure which represents an obligation to pay interest, with the permanent prosperity that comes from increase of production from Canadian soil, mines, forests and waters.

"Continuous immigration to keep pace with, and get ahead of continuous inflow of capital is, therefore a fundamental constructive necessity of government.

"The function of the Dominion is to demonstrate that the interests of the provinces are not anagonistic but complementary. A scheme is required by which the provinces will uphold the major responsibility where the provincial interest is primary, and the Dominion will carry the major responsibility where the credit and effect of Canada as a whole are the paramount concern. It is necessary to find some way of combining these two main responsibilities under one general administration

Four Conclusions

"From a discussion of the basic conditions that affect Canadian immigration, four conclusions clearly emerge:

1. That immigration must be secured and directed for the immediate production of commodities from Canadian natural resources, as distinct from, and more necessary than, its employment for the expenditure of capital brought in from outside.

2. That plans for placing and employing new population in each province should be made and primarily carried out on provincial bases, in sympathetic conjunction with the Dominion; without regard to the likelihood of political accidents.

3. That the Dominion should readapt its machinery for obtaining immigrants with a view to securing the utmost degree of permanence in the stream of immigration and the most equal distribution of it, in accordance with the requirements of each province.

4. That it is imperative in view of changed conditions in Canada and Britain, and in order to take the greatest possible advantage of the pro-Canadian sentiment prevailing in the United Kingdom, to give the most expert attention to the conditions which underlie, and ultimately govern emigration from the United Kingdom.

Settlement Organization

"Inquiry into and comparison of views of Ministers and public-spirited citizens in all the provinces leads to the proposal that in each province there should be an immigration and land settlement organization whose executive head shall be the constant medium of co-operation with the dominion. Such an organization would be responsible for the following operations:

"a. Collecting data intended to attract settlement.

"b. Enlisting the systematic help of public-spirited bodies such as Boards of Trade and Imperial Home Reunion Associations in the placing of people in their own localities.

"c. Working out plans for the settlement of special localities with the aid of capital secured at low rates of interest primarily on the public credit.

"d. Receiving and distributing immigration of all kinds.

"e. Promoting semi-public agencies for the special service of new and sparsely peopled districts.

Dominion and Immigration Board

"The end to be reached is, fundamentally, as important as that of the Railway Commission; and may well be reached through a Board constituted with as much care as the Railway Commission is, answerable to Parliament through the Minister, with wide responsibility thoroughly defined.

"The Board would consist of a Chairman, who would be the chief executive officer; the Superintendent of Immigration, the Commissioner of Immigration in charge of the West, a nominee of the Minister of Finance, and a representative of each province, agreeable to the Provincial Government, who would be the principal local executive officer in the province, but paid by the Dominion.

"The Minister of the Interior would be the President of the Board, and would preside at such meetings as he found it convenient to attend. The Board would decide the general rules of policy, subject to confirmation by the Minister or Order-in-Council, and its participation in each provincial work would be delegated to a Committee, consisting of the Chairman, the Superintendent of Immigration, and the provincial member; which would act with such provincial body as might be constituted. Each province would make its own local machinery, constructed on a general plan for all the provinces, for handling land settlement, the distribution of labor and other matters with reports through a Minister to the Governor in Council, as well as to the Dominion Board."

MODERN MIRACLE OF SAINT'S BLOOD

Periodic Liquefaction at Naples' Shrine Described by an Eye-witness

An eye-witness of the famous liquefaction of the blood of St. Januarius in the Cathedral at Naples relates just what he observed at an occurrence of the so-called miracle.

The liquefaction occurs twice a year. The first commences on the first Saturday evening in May in the Church of Santa Chiara, after which the blood is conveyed with solemn procession through the streets of Naples to the cathedral, where the miracle is generally repeated during the seven following days. The second commences in the cathedral on September 19, the feast of St. Januarius, and generally continues again during the octave.

"I say generally," writes the correspondent, "because some days it does not change at all, which is regarded as an evil omen. The records show that the time required to wait for the miracle varies from two minutes all the way to eight hours.

"Scientists have also recorded the temperature on a vast number of these occasions and have demonstrated beyond a doubt that the liquefaction takes place not in keeping with the greater or lesser amount of surrounding heat, but entirely independent of and often contrary to the corresponding variations.

"The blood is most carefully preserved in a glass bottle, globular in shape, and holding about a wineglass and a half. I have seen this bottle brimful of the blood and at other times only about half full. For this is one of the most remarkable features of the miracle, that the blood not only changes from the solid to the liquid state of itself, but also that before the eyes of the spectators it changes its color, its volume and even its mass.

"Repeated weighings have shown conclusively that the weight varies considerably before and after, so that really it is not so much the same liquid changing its color, state of density and volume as it is a veritable decrease and increase of the blood taking place. And this with the blood hermetically sealed, in fact, for more than a century the seal has never been broken.

"So tightly corked and enclosed in the second surrounding hoop-shaped reliquary is the blood vial that it would be impossible for human hands to remove the stopper without breaking the two outer plates of glass. When not actually before the gaze of the multitudes this doubly sealed relic is kept in a strong metal safe built firmly in the wall behind the superb main altar. In this same safe is contained the life size silver bust of St. Januarius with the skull of the martyr within. Its heavy silver doors are locked with four great keys, two of which are in the custody of the Archbishop of Naples and two in that of the Mayor of the city.

"Having arrived at the main altar the clergy say a few prayers and then retire with lighted candles to the depository, where the different representatives are in waiting with their respective keys to unlock the great silver doors. First the martyr's skull in the silver bust is carried to the front of the altar; immediately after this the blood is brought forth by the aged canon. At this moment the sanctuary gates are thrown open and as the people press on and fill every inch of space I take my stand with other fortunate ones on the very step of the altar. Now as the blood is held up before the people I gaze closely at it, for now it is only about one foot distant from my eyes.

"It occupies about half the globular bottle and when turned upside down remains perfectly fixed. The blood shows no more sign of being liquid than so much cold, hard, dark red sealing wax.

"From now on till the liquefaction this solid blood is held up in full view of the 2,000 spectators. No one touches the relic except the aged prelate who holds it and from time to time turns it upside down to observe the first signs of the prodigy As the time goes one the people become more anxious, the prayers are redoubled. At the first notice of the liquefaction a hush falls upon the throng, the bystanders press more closely and strain their eyes to see the transformation The fortunate ones, like myself, at close range can plainly see the color of the blood growing more lively, the inclination of its surface changing when the phial is ever so slightly tilted, and in a few seconds the complete liquefaction takes place.

"At this juncture, when there is no longer the least doubt about the verification of the miracle, one of the assisting ministers waves a white handkerchief to the choir loft, a thrill of joy is felt through the congregation, countenances change their expressions of anxiety into that of satisfaction and heartfelt sighs of "Deo gratias," are heard on all sides.

Dear Spoonful of Poteen

For having on his premises a spoonful of "poteen" in a gallon jar, Mr. C. Walsh, Rossavel, Ireland, who was stated to have been fined twice previously, was fined $500, with a recommendation that the penalty be reduced to $240.

A KING'S GOLD WATCH

Time-Piece Still Treasured Which Murat Gave to Russian Soldier

In an obituary of a Colonel Tchernozouboff in a Russian provincial paper an extraordinary story is retailed in which is bound up a romatic episode.

Among the colonel's effects was a gold watch, on the case of which was the inscription: "Eléonore à Joachim. Ne m'oublie pas!"

Upon this "Do-not-forget-me" watch hung a tale of the great war. In 1812 the colonel was a simple Cossack, in a regiment engaged in harrying the French retreat; while Murat was King of Naples, and in command of the French cavalry. It was on the eve of Borodino; and Murat, galloping ahead of his squadron, was cut off and surrounded. It looked as though he was doomed.

The range was short and the Cossacks were about to fire, when Tchernozouboff intervened. "Present arms!" he cried chivalrously. "Hurrah for the King of the Brave!" Murat had time to put spurs to his horse, and ride away.

As the King rode off he took out his gold watch, gave it as a souvenir to the Cossack who had saved him, Platoff, the Hetman of the Cossacks, admiring Tchernozouboff's chivalry, gave him his commission, and made him his aide-de-camp.

The watch was thereafter treasured as an heirloom in the Tchernozouboff family, though they received an offer of no less than 20,000 roubles for it.

OLD PERUVIAN MINE

Source of Incas' Precious Stones Found by Greek Tavern-keeper

According to C. R. Kebler, a noted mining engineer, who has made a survey of the Andean gold belt throughout Peru, the principal source of the wealth of precious stones of the Incas may have been revealed near the little Town of Acomayo, in Southern Peru.

A Greek tavernkeeper named Kalafatovich has discovered an emerald mine which bears evidence of having been worked by the ancient Peruvians about one mile from Lake Pomachanches, and near the river forming the outlet for this lake. Samples of the stones sent to Lima show them to be of the finest quality.

The tavernkeeper discovered the first emerald while watching his Indian workmen digging in the old excavation for material for lime. In three oblong pockets were found many stones, one of which weighed nearly 800 carats in its rough state.

Kalafatovich had given an option to a London syndicate, but the Government has asserted its right to take over the mine by paying an equitable price to the discoverer, and to work the mine itself or lease it to private individuals.

Kebler says the discovery of the emerald deposit is one of the most important ever made in the world.

Guardians and Insurance Act

"It is the opinion of many persons," said the chairman of Carrick-on-Suir, Ireland, Board of Guardians, "that the average man in the street knows as much about the application and administration of the Insurance Act as a good many of the highly-paid inspectors and organisers the Commissioners were sending around." The discussion arose on a statement made by the clerk that one of the insurance inspectors visited the house and threatened to prosecute the guardians if they would not take immediate steps to insure the carpentar employed [illegible] house

THE SCOTT ACT

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I saw in your paper of a few days ago that the temperance people are considering a vote on the Scott Act in this city and county. As a consistent advocate of temperance and as one who worked and voted for local option, will you allow me to express an opinion on that subject. Whilst personally I was sorry that local option failed to carry here, I have a small spark of British fair-play in my make-up. Without any sympathy for the liquor traffic, I do not think it justice, now that local option has been defeated, to attempt to spring the Dominion Temperance Act on those who spent their money to retain the license system here for a period of three years. Those of us who are old enough, and lived here under the Scott Act will remember what a flagrant farce it was. If I remember rightly, not a hundred votes in the whole country were palled for its retention when it was repealed. Far better to have a rigidly enforced license law than to bring the fair name of Temperance into ridicule by introducing a law that is impossible of enforcement.

Fairplay.

McFADDEN'S FLATS AT THE GRAND

DEVELOPMENTS

The Mapes-Johnston has two shafts in good ore—No. 1—90 feet deep, with native silver showing in a big eight-inch vein all the way down the shaft—vein big and strong at bottom of shaft—a true fissure vein.

Mrs. Darke Gets Judgment.

Toronto Globe: "Darke vs. Canadian General Electric Company. G. H. Watson, K.C., for defendants, D. O'Connell, Peterborough, for plaintiff. An appeal by defendant from the judgment of a Divisional Court of March 8, 1912. An action by Catharine Darke for $10,000 for the death of her husband, Hugh Darke, while in the employment of the defendant company, caused, it is alleged, by one of defendant's employes starting the engine, thus causing the belt upon which deceased was working to revolve rapidly, whereby he was whirled rapidly around a pulley and crushed to death. At the trial the jury awarded plaintiff $1800 damages but the judge, on motion for non-suit or judgment dismissing the action, dismissed the action without costs. The Divisional Court reversed that judgment and awarded plaintiff $1800 damages and costs. Judgment Appeal dismissed with costs.

LIVED FOR SOME TIME AFTER CUT IN TWO

Ran Over by a Railway Car on the Esplanade—Died in Hospital.

Toronto, Feb. 26.—Vitro Costanze, an Italian about 50 years of age, was literally cut to pieces by a yard engine at the foot of Church street, at 11 o'clock to-day.

Costanze is a well known figure around the tracks at that point, because his labor of filling a small push cart with dropped coal and various bits of wood is made easy by the nearness of the coal sheds.

He was bending over the tracks on the furthest switch north, when a yard engine pushed one car, backed on to the switch at a good rate of speed and Costanze was practically cut in half.

Ontario and Universities.

London, Ont., Feb. 27.—The Associated Boards of Trade of Ontario opened in annual convention here today. President Reason in his address, spoke especially of the bonussing evil, asking that this method of competing for industries be stopped. He advocated the institution of more universities. He believed Northern Ontario would need one in a few years.

On a Visit to Cuba.

The Times is in receipt of a letter from Mr. W. H. Croft, of this city, who is on a visit to Cuba. Mr. Croft is having an ideal holiday, and speaks in glowing terms of Havana the capital of the island. The system of waterworks, Mr. Croft says, cost $14,000,000 and is the pride of the city. The roads in Cuba are also very fine and are well built, not only in the city but in the country districts. Thetemperature is 80 above, which compares to our July weather. Mr. Croft will return in about two weeks.

Reception at Mrs. Eastwood's.

Local Man at Bad Fire.

Mr. Geo. Perks, an old Peterborough boy, who arrived in the city yesterday from Cochrane, in conversation with The Times noted that he was present when a hotel at that town in New Ontario had a fire a few days ago. According to Mr. Perk's story, a vacant building which had been stored with baled hay had been set on fire. A house next door caught fire. In the top storey of the adjoining building were several girls. At 3 a.m., these girls attired only in their ch—m—s, ran out to the 20 below zero weather. The girls were taken care of by the neighbors. The fire brigade was called in but the pipes were frozen and a bucket brigade extinguished the fire.

PEDDLER IS REMANDED.

Claimed He Sold Goods Under a License Issued to His Employer. McFadden's Flats at the Grand.

At yesterday's police court, J. E. Cope was charged with peddling without a license, and pleaded not guilty. A local cop saw Cope going from house to house, carrying bed covers and blankets, and inquired of him if he had a license to peddle. Cope replied that his employer, Wm. Ketcheson, of 88 Douro street, had the license. Ketcheson is the local agent for the Metropolitan Manufacturing Company, Limited. It came out that the license produced in court was issued at the city clerk's office to the Metropolitan Manufacturing Company, Limited, with a memorandum on it, that it was for Mr. Metcheson. His worship held that the license should be made out in Mr. Ketcheson's name. As the defence had technical grounds to rely on the case was enlarged till Monday next.

MAN KNOWN HERE HAS GOT HIS DIVORCE

A telegram received by The Times yesterday, noted that Inspector John C. Richards, of the North West Mounted Police, of Wood Mountain, Sask., who has many friends here, as well as relatives in the city and who has a married sister living in Port Hope, has been granted an absolute divorce, by the Senate, from his wife, Elizabeth Dunn. The news of the divorce was published exclusively in the Times some weeks ago. Inspector Richards who left for home a few days ago, has been a guest at the Oriental for some months, and, during his stay in the city made many warm friends here. He was represented by Messrs. Chrysler, Bethune and Larmonth, of Ottawa.

THE SCOTT ACT

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I saw in your paper of a few days ago that the temperance people are considering a vote on the Scott Act in this city and county. As a consistent advocate of temperance and as one who worked and voted for local option, will you allow me to express an opinion on that subject. Whilst personally I was sorry that local option failed to carry here, I have a small spark of British fairplay in my make-up. Without any sympathy for the liquor traffic, I do not think it justice, now that local option has been defeated, to attempt to spring the Dominion Temperance Act on those who spent their money to retain the license system here for a period of three years. Those of us who are old enough, and lived here under the Scott Act will remember what a flagrant farce it was. If I remember rightly, not a hundred votes in the whole country were palled for its retention when it was repealed. Far better to have a rigidly enforced license law than to bring the fair name of Temperance into ridicule by introducing a law that is impossible of enforcement.

Fairplay.

McFADDEN'S FLATS AT THE GRAND

Last night a good-sized audience gathered in the Grand Opera House to see "McFadden's Flats." As denoted by the title, the play was a rollicking comedy replete with funny situations and marked with sparkling dialogue. The play was well staged, with good scenic accessories and put on by a well assorted cast of comedians.

Mrs. Darke Gets Judgment.

Toronto Globe: "Darke vs. Canadian General Electric Company. G. H. Watson, K.C., for defendants, D. O'Connell, Peterborough, for plaintiff. An appeal by defendant from the judgment of a Divisional Court of March 8, 1912. An action by Catharine Darke for $10,000 for the death of her husband, Hugh Darke, while in the employment of the defendant company, caused, it is alleged, by one of defendant's employes starting the engine, thus causing the belt upon which deceased was working to revolve rapidly, whereby he was whirled rapidly around a pulley and crushed to death. At the trial the jury awarded plaintiff $1800 damages but the judge, on motion for non-suit or judgment dismissing the action, dismissed the action without costs. The Divisional Court reversed that judgment and awarded plaintiff $1800 damages and costs. Judgment: Appeal dismissed with costs.

LIVED FOR SOME TIME AFTER CUT IN TWO

Run Over by a Railway Car on the Esplanade—Died in Hospital.

Toronto, Feb. 26.—Vitro Costanze, an Italian about 50 years of age, was literally cut to pieces by a yard engine at the foot of Church street, at 11 o'clock to-day.

Costanze is a well known figure around the tracks at that point, because his labor of filling a small push cart with dropped coal and various bits of wood is made easy by the nearness of the coal sheds.

He was bending over the tracks on the furthest switch north, when a yard engine pushed one car, backed on to the switch at a good rate of speed and Costanze was practically cut in half.

Ontario and Universities.

London, Ont., Feb. 27.—The Associated Boards of Trade of Ontario opened in annual convention here today. President Reason in his address, spoke especially of the bonusing evil, asking that this method of competing for industries be stopped. He advocated the institution of more universities. He believed Northern Ontario would need one in a few years.

VOL. XL. NO. 51. PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, SATURDAY, MARCH 1, 1913. PRICE, TWO CENTS

FORTY LOSE THEIR LIVES IN AN OMAHA HOTEL FIRE

List of Dead Cannot be Secured, But Heavy Casualties are Feared—Four Bodies Found

Omaha, Neb., Mar. 1.—Loss of life estimated all the way from twenty to seventy-fide, resulted from a fire which destroyed the Dewey Hotel, second-class hostelry, occupying a three-storey building yesterday.

The fact that the hotel register was destroyed will make it difficult to obtain a list of the dead; and while the managers state that about fifty were registered, others who were about the hotel declared that many of the guests were not registered and the total number was more nearly one hundred.

Of these not more than 25 are known to have escaped.

Forty Carried Into Ruins.

That the basement, into which the burning interior fell within half an hour after the fire started, contains at least forty bodies, is the belief of Fire Chief Salter. There was no way in which to reach them for hours after the building collapsed. Only four bodies were recovered before the flames drove the firemen from the building.

When the firemen reached the hotel they saw a number of persons at the windows in the two upper storeys. Before ladders could be raised, however, the roof began to cave in, and no one was rescued by the ladder men.

Charles Cumming a bartender, jumped from a third storey window and met instant death. He struck head first on the sidewalk.

Explosion Awakens Clerk.

Jesse D. Nold, night clerk, opened the door of his office on the second floor when he heard an explosion. He was driven back by smoke and flames. He attempted to arouse a few guests on that floor, but soon had to seek the street to save his own life.

ARMAGEDDON WAR OF NATIONS OR MASSES AGAINST CLASSES

Great Britain May Cry "Disarm!" But Growing Madness of Socialism May be Real Menace to World's Peace

London, Mar. 1.—Armageddon has latterly come to be a much-used word. It has been adopted by the British army and navy, by the press and public and, indeed more or less wherever the English language predominates, as signifying the final fight to be fought before peace prevails in the world. It seems to be thought that this time is approaching. It is certain that there must be a final fight, but it is likely that Britain will lead the forces contending for the principle of peace? Is it, indeed, likely that the Armageddon of Holy Writ will witness a tribal war, that the participants will divide on strictly national lines? Let us look at the probabilities as they seem to be presented in the world to-day.

Britain May Cry "Disarm!"

Some say that the time seems to be approaching, when Britain, in angry impatience at the wicked waste, involved in the up-keep of vast armaments, will be compelled to face the armed world with the mandate, "Disarm!" This because she will consider it the lesser of two evils. Conditions will become intolerable and we will, if necessary, be prepared to put an end to them with the sword; and so we shall wage Armageddon, the last fight. If such a mandate is ever sent forth by Britain, doubtless she will prevail, for her statesmen would not sound the war trumpet aggressively until the country was prepared and the result assured so far as is humanly possible.

Democracy May Control.

This is not an improbable outcome. It fills the Anglo-Saxon's soul with angry scorn and self-contempt to find himself compelled to join in this game of armed peace which, to his mind, is sinful and silly. But perhaps other nations will attack Britain, instead of awaiting her good time to enforce this mandate. Be it as it will, it is held that Armageddon will see the last great fight, and thereafter the armies of the world will disband and all men will devote themselves to the ways of peace. But something different may happen. The world is growing democratic. Civilized nations cannot nowadays be led into war to further the plans of a King, or a court favorite, or a statesman. The cause must be national and approved by the people, who are not ready to draw the sword, unless they are persuaded of the necessity of big armaments in time of peace.

ORILLIA WINS

Special to The Times.

Oshawa, Mar. 1.—Last night the rink at Oshawa was crowded, when the junior fixture between the hockey club and that of Orillia was run off. Gren Caldwell refereed. The winner last night will play Woodstock at Stratford, on Tuesday next in the first of home-and-home games, in the finals.

At half time the score stood 3–2 in favor of Oshawa. Chafe scoring the first three goals for them.

When the final bell rang, the score stood 7—4 in favor of Orillia. Gillen scored five goals for Orillia and was a star throughout the game.

RED MILL OWNER IS FINED $50.00

At yesterday's police court, Mr. Clayton, of the Red Mill theatre, was charged with obstructing the lobby of his place of business, contrary to law.

Chief Thompson gave first evidence. Constable Brown said on the 21st inst., he, with P. C. Reid, went to the Red Mill moving picture house. The outside approach was packed with people. The people were waiting to get in. They, the officers, had considerable trouble to gain entrance. They both got in. There were about a dozen in the south aisle, inside the theatre. They were waiting to get seats. When the accused came to the top of the aisle, he told the people to stand back. He tried to get the people to go outside to the lobby. This could not be done, as as many were standing there already. The seats were then all filled up. The aisles were clear.

The magistrate remarked that these picture houses are too small, and yet (significantly) they are too large. He thought there had been a breach of the law.

Mr. Gordon, for the defense explained the conditions existing at the Red Mill. He explained that the lobbies of the big Toronto theatres are always crowded.

The magistrate said there is a heavy fine for such cases.

The Chief explained that he was liable to a fine of $50 if he did not enforce the law.

Mr. Clayton was fined $50 and costs, with 10 days in which to pay it.

Leonard McLean pleaded guilty to having been drunk. The Chief explained that McLean "blows in from Cavan about once a month." He was fined $2. Philip Taylor was charged as a vag. The Chief explained that Taylor hangs round the hotels and railway stations, playing a concertina. He has a wife and four children, and spends all his money in drink. He was remanded for a week.

Robert John Maddiford was charged with stealing a saxaphone, the property of the city. Maddiford is a drummer at the Red Mill. The Crown was not ready to go on with the case. Mr. Gordon asked for bail. Bail was placed at $400 in two sureties of $200 each. The case will come up at 10 o'clock this morning.

ENGLAND SEEKS CONTROL OF AERIAL NAVIGATION

Public Opinion so Aroused Premier Asquith is Busy on Plans---Found Air Fleet to Carry Weapons

London, Mar. 1. The German Admiralty authorize the statement that no German airship has been over England. No one of the four possible vessels has been near enough for even a casual visit. Manchester authorities find the lights reported there were carried by toy balloons, probably sent up by someone wishing to exploit the jumpiness of his fellow citizens. Nevertheless, public oplnion is so aroused by German plans to secure the mastery of th air that Premier Asquith is known to be giving serious personal consideration of Graham White's scheme to found a mercantile air fleet, on the same basis as the Cunard line in the name of the Government, with subsidies for carrying mails as well as weapons.

Corps of Trained Airmen.

The war scheme proposes the creation of a coros of airmen, as properly trained as in the mercantile marine; also airship stations in every large city and round the coast.

Germany will possess fourteen airships before the middle of 1914. The success of the late Zeppelin the last three or four months has encouraged the Government to order more, both for the army and navy. They will maintain a speed of fifty miles an hour in a calm, and twenty-five miles an hour against a thirty-mile-an-hour wind. Fuel is carried for a 35-hour journey.

Quick-Firers; Wireless.

All are fitted with quick-firing guns and powerful wireless.

One suggestion before the German Government as an answer to the Canadian order of dreadnaughts, is in a fleet of 100 airships, but the Zeppelin works at Friederichsafen can at present build only eight ships yearly.

The British Government proposes to take over the Parseval and Shuttleianz patents, under which six vessels are already built in addition to four existing Zeppelins.

England only owns three.

THERE WILL BE NO LET UP IN THE BIG NAVAL DEBATE

Two Conservative Members Absent, Brought Majority to Thirty-two---Naval Bill up To-day

Ottawa, Mar. 1.—There will be no let-up in the naval debate.

When the House adjourned at two o'clock yesterday morning Sir Wilfrid Laurier asked, "What business will be taken up at the next sitting?"

"This Bill," was the brief reply of Premier Borden.

The House will now go into Committee and the Liberals will soon have to show their hand. To-day's discussion will probably reveal whether the Liberals intend to obstruct with a view to force an election or whether they will let the bill pass after a reasonable debate.

The militant section are still talking of fight to the last and quote the words of Sir Wilfrid Laurier last night to mean this. The Quebec Liberals would like to see a fight, but the Ontario and Western Liberals are more or less apathetic.

Both Well Satisfied.

Both sides express themselves well satisfied with the vote of last night. The Conservatives are delighted over the bill having run the gauntlet of another stage, and the Liberals are pleased that the Government majority dropped from 32 on the vote on the resolution stage to 30 last night. However, there is nothing significant in this. Two Conservatives are absent who were unable to gets pairs, J. J. Carrick, member for Port Arthur, left this week for Europe and could not get a pair; and Mr. A. E. Fripp, member for Ottawa, was in Atlantic City, and no pair could be secured.

After the late session of yesterday the embers are too tired to-day to be in a vert belligerent mood and it is not expected that they will log horns to-day. The real fight on the committee stage will not come until next week. Premier Borden in his closing remarks last night made it very clear that the Government intended to force through the bill. There was no intention of trying to cut short debate or discussion, however.

Mr. Borden emphatically stated if the situation did not arise they would be prepared to meet it firmly and adequately.

LOOKS LIKE EARLY ACTION RE DOWNIE STREET CREEK

The City Board of Works met last night with Chairman Ald. Butler presiding. There were also present Mayor W. H. Bradburn, Aldermen Anderson, Gordon, McIntyre and Johnston.

In regard to the Downie street creek problem, it was decided that if arrangements can be made with Mr. Blodgett to relieve the city of any responsibility for possible damages, the creek be diverted through Blodgett's property through a concrete and covered channel 6 feet wide and 6 feet deep, according to his proposition. Failing this, the course of the creek to be diverted and deepened and widened to assure relief from flooding, advantage taken of the Drainage Act, to expropriate Blodgett's property to permit of the drain running through it; and the property benefitted by such improvement to be assessed therefor, the debt spreading over a term of 20 years.

Mr. Blodgett will be given opportunity for modifying his proposition as above outlined. Should he refuse to do so the city solicitor will be asked to institute proceedings under the Municipal Drainage Act.

The city solicitor will be asked to take the necessary proceedings to recover from David Conroy the amount due the city under his contract for sewerage and drainage work in South City. The amount owing the city in this connection by Mr. Conroy is estimated at in the neighborhood of $5,255.69.

J. J. Turner & Sons' suggestion that signs designating the city's speed limits for automobiles was not acted upon.

The Peterborough Light & Power Company's request for permission to remove five old poles on Roger street and replace them with nine new ones to enlarge their service was held over.

The Bell Telephone Co's request for permission to erect new poles was also laid over.

The township of Smith asked that a cheque be forwarded for the city's proportion of the work done on Smith-Peterborough boundary roads during 1912. The board contends that no arrangements had been made on this line for 1912; it was understood that a division of the cost of maintenance for these boundary roads had been agreed upon to start with 1913. Subsequent discussion revealed the fact that Smith Township had done work on the roads in 1912 while the city had done nothing whatever on the boundary roads; hence, Smith township argues that the city should pay its share of the work done by the township.

On motion of Aldermen Johnston and Anderson, the Chairman, Mayor and street commissioner were instructed to confer with Mr. Garbutt and report.

The Wm. Hamilton Co. applied for permission to extend their siding across Rubidge street, a length of 20 or 30 feet. This was left over till Monday night to give members of the board opportunity to get conversant with the situation.

The Chairman of Board of Works and Chairman Fire, Water and Light Committees were asked to confer on adjustment of contrary accounts between the fire department and the Board of Works. The street commissioner claims that the charge made by the Fire, Water and Light Committee for keep of Board of Works' team is disproportionate to the cost of feeding the fire hall's horses per head. Also that incidental expenses accrue to the Board of Works by reason of their team being in use by the fire department when needed by the former department. Then there has been work done by the Board of Works for the fire department, not paid for, whereas the Board of Works is charged for old fire hose at 50c a foot.

Teamster Matchett's salary was increased to $520 a year dating from January 1st.

THE WEATHER.

To-day—Moderate westerly winds, fine and moderately cold.

BLAME IS LAID ON PRIESTS FOR THE MEXICO REVOLT

Missionary Says They Are Opposed to Education of Peons, Most are Illiterate

New York, Mar. 1.—The Post says: According to a man in this city who holds a high position in the direction of foreign mission work, in any Mexicans of the higher class are inclined to attribute a considerable share of the responsibility for the revolt against Francisco Madero's rule to the efforts of Catholic priests. While explaining that there is no tendency to blame the Roman Catholic hierarchy as an organization, he asserted that he had been told by intelligent Mexicans—men who deplare their country's fate—that a great many of the priesthood were ignorant men of narrow outlook and poor moral fibre, who are antagonistic to any evolution which might tend to raise the standards of the common people or peons.

"You know," he said, "out of the 15,000,000 people in Mexico, 10,000,000 cannot read or write and half of the remaining 5,000,000, I suppose, might justly be called illiterate. This is a terrible condition of affairs, and in itself is ample explanation of the deplorable sequence of events below the Rio Grande. Can you blame a people to whom all thought of enlightenment has been denied if they relapse upon occasion into a state of barbarity? At least 40 per cent of the Mexican population is pure Indian, and I do not think I err in saying that 30 per cent. have Indian or negro blood mixed with the old Spanish strata."

30 MAJORITY FOR NAVAL BILL BUT DEBATE FAR FROM ENDED

Sir Wilfred Laurier Intimates That He Will Press For a Decision from the Electorate

The Divisions.

Guilbault amendment, calling for a plebiscite:

FOR 11
AGAINST 187

The seven Nationalists were supported by Thompson, Prouix, Turriff and Lapointe, Liberals.

Turriff amendment, calling for redistribution and general election:

FOR 81
AGAINST 117

Col. McLean (Queen's-Sunbury) and Mr. Girard, Independent Liberal (Chicoutimi), supported the Government, and Messrs. Achin, Lamarche, Barrette and Guilbault (Nationalists) sided with Mr. Turriff.

The Borden Naval Bill, second reading:

AGAINST 84

Majority for 30

Messrs. Achin (Labelle), Boulay (Rimouski), Mondou (Yamaska), Lamarche, (Nicolet), Barrette (Berthier), Guilbault (Joliette), and Bellemare (Maskinonge), Nationalists voted against.

Ottawa, Feb. 28.—At two o'clock this morning the Borden Naval Bill was advanced another stage. By a majority of 30 in a House of 198, the measure passed its second reading. It now is turned over to the tender mercies of the committee of the whole house, where each member is allowed to talk not only as long as he is able, but as often as he cares. Obstinacy may develop on the side of the Opposition.

Sir Wilfrid, after explaining the Liberal policy, declared that it was upon this policy his party proposed to challenge for the verdict of the Canadian people. This may be interpreted as a threat of obstruction.

AT 70, WOMAN HELD IN JAIL FOR BEATING UP CHINAMAN

Mrs. John Wilkinson Unable to Obtain Bail Lies in Calgary Lockup While Celestial Recovers From Blow

Calgary, Alta., Mar. 1.—Mrs. John Wilkinson, aged 70, is in jail here, awaiting trial on a charge of striking Jim Lee, a Chinaman, with an iron bar.

They had a dispute over the ownership of chickens, and it is alleged that in a subsequent battle the aged woman struck the Chinaman. A physician finding his skull broken in two places.

Mrs. Wilkinson was unable to obtain bail, and is being held until Lee is able to appear against her. The affair occurred at Bowden, near Red Deer.

ACCUSE ROMAN CATHOLICS OF CLOSING PUBLIC STREET

The Protestant Benevolent Association has written the city council calling attention to the closing of Rubidge street, between Macdonnell and London streets. This street lies between the old Thomas Bradburn homestead and D. W. Dumble property, immediately to the west. The Bradburn property was quite recently purchased by Roman Catholics, and is now, we believe, used as an orphanage. The street allowance in question is about 300 feet long by 66 feet wide.

In 1877, Mr. J. B. McWilliams, who was at that time a member of the town council, succeeded in having this street opened to the public and the fences were accordingly removed. Last fall, it appears, the Roman Catholic institution had them rebuilt, excluding the public from the use of the street. It is even said that an addition, which has recently been added to the orphanage, is part of not wholly on the street.

It is claimed that the street, if sold at the price which adjoining property is held, is worth about $5,000. The people in that section think the council should have the fences removed and the street allowance turned into a park. There are a number of fine shade trees on the portion of the street in question and it would make a charming little public breathing place. The council can hardly afford to ignore the matter.

NE TEMERE PLAYS HAVOC

Member of a Board of Guardians Says Decree Causes More Trouble Than Public Imagine.

London, Feb. 28.—At a meeting of the board of guardians at East Otonehouse yesterday, two urgent cases of relief were dealt with, where trouble had arisen between husband and wife upon religious grounds.

A member of the board said it was apparent that difficulties had arisen through the Papal decree of ne temere which, he declared, was causing more trouble than generally imagined. It played havoc with the household and was made to operate in such a way that home was a hell.

It behooved guardians and everyone concerned with the welfare of the people to say they wouldn't allow this kind of thing to operate wherever they could prevent it.

The decree was worked in a very insidious way, the chairman added, and it behooved all patriotic Englishmen to prevent such a condition of affairs from continuing.

BIG SCRATCH, SMALL PICKINGS

SOWING HIS WILD OATS
REAPING A HARVEST OF SORROW.

How many young men can look back on their early life and regret their misdeeds. "Sowing their wild oats" in various ways. Excesses, violation of nature's laws, "wine, women and song"—all have their victims. You have reformed but what about the seed you have sown—what about the harvest? Don't trust to luck. If you are at present within the clutches of any secret habit which is sapping your life by degrees; if you are suffering from the results of past indiscretions; if your blood has been tainted from any private disease and you dare not marry; if you are married and live in dread of symptoms breaking out and exposing your past; if you are suffering as the result of a misspent life—DRS. K. & K. ARE YOUR REFUGE. Lay your case before them confidentially and they will tell you honestly if you are curable.

There are so called Sarsaparillas offered to us to sell to our customers at 75c a bottle that would bring us a larger profit than Nugent's Sarsaparilla sold at 35c. Nugent's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, arouses the torpid liver, drives out all impurities, cleanses and tones up the system, and helps Nature throw off the dullness that comes from indoor life of winter. It arouses energy, brightens the eye, clears the brain, gives lightness to the movements. Nugent's Sarsaparilla is not the only thing you will find in this drug store. We make a specialty of Nugent's Remedies. Nugent Drug Co., 386 George St., directly opposite Cressman's store.

RUSKIN PLACE

Right in the Heart of Ottawa's Manufacturing Area — At the Junction, Ottawa South

OWING to the fact that so many new industries are locating around Ruskin Place, an interesting calculation has been made of what an industry employing 1,000 hands means to a community. $90,000 would be spent in housing accommodation.

The population would increase by 5,000. The assessment would be augmented by $600,000. Salaries would amount to $559,800. The construction of buildings of all kinds would be $2,000,000. The annual expenditures for foodstuffs would be $63,000 for meat, $96,000 for potatoes, $5,000 for sugar, $18,250 for milk, $65,700 for butter, $27,600 for eggs. All told the farmers of the district would gain $221,600. The amount spent for clothing would be $167,750. The expenses for taxes added to the cost of building construction will amount to $2,428,350.

The fine new $10,000 plant of the Bishoprick Wallboard Co., is now built at Ruskin Place. A second industry to employ 300 hands at its inception has already purchased the required land while a third guaranteeing to employ 1,000 hands is now negotiating for enough land to commence operations.

JUST THINK of the number of stores to be built there.

JUST THINK of the number of carpenters, bricklayers, stonemasons and other tradesmen altogether seperate from the number of employees in the different factories that will be needed to build homes for those who work there.

JUST THINK of the thousand and one different jobs of any and every kind that will spring up at Ruskin Place during the next few years and buy your homesite now so as to be one of the main few who got in on the ground floor.

RUSKIN PLACE offers one of the finest and best opportunities for speculation ever presented to the residents of Peterborough.

Lots at Ruskin Place are Now Selling at

$275, $300, and $375. 1/4 down, Balance 3, 6, 9 and 12 months

WOMEN IN FACTORIES

How Their Employment in Lancashire Affects the Birth Rate

Dr. Hugh R. Jones, an eminent English physician who investigated in the factory districts of Lancashire the influence that the industrial employment of married women has upon the birth rate and the sex ratio at birth. Some elaborate tables of statistics which on analysing he sums up as follows:

1. That the employment of married women in industrial occupations tends to diminish the birth rate.
2. That such employment tends to the birth of a large proportion of girl infants.
3. That low birth rates tend to the birth of a larger proportion of girl infants.
4. That the rate of infantile mortality is higher as the proportion of employed married women rises.

New Bust of King Edward

Dogs in Church

William Bradley, a grocer, was at Londonderry fined $6.60 and sent to gaol for a month for disorderly conduct. During service at the Catholic Church Bradley strode in society with two dogs. A policeman, who took the defendant out of the church, said that he threatened him with a poker.

Irish Language Not Known

A laughable situation arose at a meeting of the Dublin County Council on Mr. Richardson, V.S., Inspector under the Diseases of Animals Act, forwarding a letter written to him in Irish, which, he stated, he could not read. Mr. P. J. O'Neill, the chairman said it was evident it came from some ardent Gaelic Leaguer. Not even the signature nor the originating point could be deciphered.

"A Progressive Peterborough."

EDITORIAL NOTES

We can readily accept as true General Huerta's statement that "Mexico is a rich country," for recent events show that there is no land in it so poor that you can't raise a revolt.

The Globe favors the enactment of legislation that will prevent "the running of automobiles under the influence of liquor." This does not go far enough. Something should be done to make the cars swear off entirely.

We sympathize with our local contemporary in its efforts to prove its statements regarding a new post office take. It blames the "man from Ottawa," whoever that may be, who, it alleges, came to Peterborough to purchase anew postoffice site. Name, please!

"General" Rosalie Jones, while on the march to Washington with her suffragettes, was handed a proposal of marriage by a one-legged veteran of the civil war. It is a safe bet that many of the fair sex who want to be married, but haven't been asked yet, will hurry to enlist under the banner of "General" Jones.

In Buffalo, not many days ago, Justice Marcus gave a very interesting decision. A man had bought furniture, valued at $185, upon the instalment plan, and had paid $99.75 upon it. He defaulted in his payments and the merchant seized the furniture. The man then sued for the money he had paid, $99.75, and the justice decided that it must all be refunded, which will strike most people as a good deal more like justice than the plan by which the merchant would recover his furniture and retain all that had been paid for and retain all that had been paid on it. The latter action looks amazingly like robbery.

SIR WILFRID DEGENERATING

There was a time not many years ago when the Liberals and many Conservatives were very proud of Sir Wilfrid Laurier. His consistent courtesy his charming manners and his undoubted personality won him many friends and led many to think he was a statesman of great gifts and powers. His tremendous blunders, however, in introducing the reciprocity pact with the United States and his utter defeat and rejection by the Canadian people, caused many of his own friends to change their minds in regard to his qualities as a statesman.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier's latest escapade in pressing his amendment to Mr. Borden's Naval contribution will not add to his fame. The amendment looks more like a mere move for party advantage than an honest and sincere desire to contribute to the Empire's well being. Sir Wilfrid had sixteen long years in power during which at any time he might have moved and carried what he now moves as an amendment. One may now well doubt his sincerity and his loyalty to British Institutions. In fighting Mr. Borden's resolution Sir Wilfrid is again out of touch with his own people.

DR. FRIEDMANN'S REMEDY

Dr. Friedmann, the German physician who asserts that he can cure tuberculosis, deals with the subject in the strictly professional way. He says he has no secret; he is not keeping back anything from the knowledge of the world. It is more in the manipulation of a well known bacilli than in anything else that the success consists with which he has met in his practice.

Among the testimonies in support of Dr. Friedmann's claims, is the report of a conspicuous attorney in Pittsburgh who was sent over to Berlin by one of the Pittsburgh newspapers, to test the value of the Friedmann remedy. The attorney had tuberculosis fastened upon him and the leading practitioners agreed that his was a pronounced case, one of the unquestionable kinds that unless something unknown could be done would cost him his life within no distant period of time.

In a recent issue of the newspaper a letter from the lawyer is published in which he says that from the very beginning he improved very rapidly under the treatment and he felt that he was on the highway to recovery. His color, circulation, appetite, strength, weight, and so on, were reported and all tend to confirm his hopeful report.

There is at least a very cordial welcome for Dr. Friedmann and the hope that he has found the remedy for the most terrible of all human diseases and the one that is beyond all others fatal to those whom it attacks.

EAT CABBAGE, FISH, SAUSAGE, NEW BREAD

No Indigestion, Gas, Sourness or Upset Stomach if you'll take "Pape's Diapepsin"—Try This!

Do some foods you eat hit back—taste good, but work badly; ferment into stubborn lumps and cause a sick, sour, gassy stomach? Now, Mr. or Mrs. Syspeptic, jot this down: Pape's Diapepsin digests everything, leaving nothing to sour and upset you. There never was anything so safely quick, so certainly effective. No difference how badly your stomach is disordered you will get happy relief in five minutes, but what pleases you most is that it strengthens and regulates your stomach so you can eat your favorite foods without fear.

Most remedies give you relief sometimes—they are slow, but not sure. "Pape's Diapepsin" is quick, positive and puts your stomach in a healthy condition so the misery won't come back.

You feel different as soon as "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach—distress just vanishes—your stomach gets sweet, no gases, no belching, no eructations of undigested food, your head clears and you feel fine. 6

Go now, make the best investment you ever made, by getting a large fifty-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin from any drug store. You realize in five minutes how needless it is to suffer from indigestion, dyspepsia or any stomach disorder.

THE DEVELOPEMENT OF GOOD POULTRY

As a means of furthering the policy of developing the poultry interests of the Dominion in which the Live Stock Branch of the Department of Agriculture is actively engaged, the Live Stock Commissioner is anxious to secure the name and and address of each breeder of poultry in Canada who is systematically endeavoring to improve the quality of his stock, particularly from the standpoint of increased egg and meat production.

The information is desired in order that the Live Stock Branch may be brought more closely in touch with progressive poultrymen throughout the Dominion and with those whose names might be eligible for inclusion in a Dominion Poultry Directory.

As a means of securing this information, in part at least, all those who are interested are requested to write the Live Stock Commissioner, Ottawa, indicating:—

(a) The breed, variety and strain or family of poultry they are breeding.

(b) The extent to which selection for increased egg and meat production is being practiced.

(c) A brief but specific statement of what has been accomplished.

(d) Whether or not they are actively engaged in trap-nesting at the present time. If not, what means are being used to select the most desirable individuals for the breeding pens.

Letters giving the above information should be addressed to the Live Stock Commissioner, Ottawa. Such communications do not require postage.

VILLA IS IN ARMS AGAINST HUERTA

Former Bandit Converted by Madero Eager to Avenge Leader's Death.

El Paso, Texas, Feb. 28.—Francisco Villa, whom the late President Madero converted from banditry, then made him a general of insurrectos, is reported to have taken the field in Sonora, seeking vengeance for the death of his former chief. He disappeared yesterday from El Paso, where he has been sojourning since his escape from the penitentiary at Mexico City.

Villa has a strong following which is expected to join him in the western border State.

The Mexican Central Railway remains out of commission below Chihuahua City, due to the activity of mutineers and troops. Minor uprisings are reported at various points to the south.

WILL CURE TUBERCOLOSIS

German Heralded as Discoverer of Tubercolosis Cure Talks Freely

New York, Feb. 26.—Dr. Frederick Friedmann, the young German physician who arrived here yesterday, heralded as the discoverer of a cure for tuberculosis, will begin the treatment of patients as soon as he has secured quarters which can be fitted up as a laboratory. This he announced to-day. Among the first to be treated, it is thought, will be Ray Paris, son-in-law of a millionaire New York banker, at whose invitation, Dr. Friedmann came to this country.

"What I wish to do," said the doctor, "is to treat fifty or more children with tubercular knees, for which cases my treatments are more quickly apparent than when applied to other forms of the disease. The results can be observed even by the layman.

Administers Treatment Himself.

"The method I prefer is to have patients brought to me in order that I can make a personal examination and administer the treatment myself. Where this is not possible I would be glad to have the patient's physician work under me and see me treat a number of typical cases. I hope to be able to instruct in this way a number of prominent physicians from various parts of the country, who will then be able to act as centres for the further distribution of knowledge of the bacilli."

Dr. Friedman has not announced whether he will visit any other cities although he has received many invitations.

U.S. Government to See Tests.

Washington, Feb. 26.—Surgeon-General Blue, of the Public Health Service, has arranged for tests in the Government's hygienic laboratory here of the Friedmann vaccine for pulmonary tuberculosis, which was delivered yesterday to Dr. Milton H. Foster, of the service, in New York, by Dr. Friedmann, when he landed from Germany.

Surgeon-General Blue said to-day that when the vaccine was received in Washington it would first be subjected to rigid laboratory tests and to tests upon animals and culture media. If these are satisfactory the vaccine will be sent to the public health service sanitorium at Fort Stanton, New Mexico, for actual tests upon sufferers from pulmonary tuberculosis.

THAW WON'T ANSWER, CAN'T BE PUNISHED

Refuses to Testify If He is Regarded As Insane—Is Acting on Advice.

Fishkill-on-Hudson, N.Y., Feb. 27.—Harry K. Thaw, slayer of Stanford White, refused late yesterday afternoon to testify before Gov. Sulzer's committee of inquiry which is investigating an alleged conspiracy to obtain Thaw's release from the Matteawan State Asylum for the criminal insane. Thaw declared that the only conditions under which he would answer questions were that he be allowed to testify without pretence of "insanity." He said he had taken this position "on advice," but refused to say who had advised him.

Confessing that it was powerless to punish Thaw for "contumacious conduct" in view of the fact that the witness was already incarcerated, the committee decided to adjourn the hearing.

Headache Over the Eyes? Look For Nasal Catarrh

Catarrh Never Stops in One Place—It Spreads Rapidly—Often Ruins Health Completely.

In this changeable climate it is the little colds that drift into Catarrh. Unless the inflammation is checked it passes rapidly from the throat or nose to the bronchial tubes and then to the lungs. You can't make new lungs any more than you can make new fingers or toes, but you can cure Catarrh.

The surest cure consists of breathing in the healing balsamic essences of CATARRHOZONE, which is simply a medicated vapor so full of rich curative properties that every trace of Catarrh vanishes before it.

"The soothing piney vapor of Catarrhozone is the most powerful medicine I ever used," writes Mrs. Edmond J. Christine, of Saskatoon. "Every breath drawn through the Inhaler sends a grateful feeling through the air passages of the nose and throat. Catarrhozone cured me of frightful headaches over the eyes, relieved me of a stuffy feeling in the nose, and an irritable hacking cough that had been the bane of my life for a year. My general health is greatly improved, my appetite and digestion are considerably better than before. Catarrhozone has been the means of giving me such health as I always desired, but never possessed."

Even though catarrh has a firm hold on you, and affects your throat, nose or ears, you can thoroughly cure it with Catarrhozone. Large size, guaranteed, costs $1.00; smaller size 50c.; sample size 25c. All storekeepers and druggists, or The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

FINE HOODED SEAL

Eight-foot Specimen of the "Bladder Nose" Variety at University

A fine specimen of the hooded seal, or "bladder-nose," as it is called by the sealers, has just been placed on exhibition in the Biological Museum at Toronto University. It is a large specimen, about eight feet in length. There was no room for it in the ordinary cases, and it could not be exhibited until a special case had been constructed for its reception. The male has a peculiar bag of skin on its muzzle, which it has the power of inflating when excited. The present specimen shows this bag fully blown out, and certainly the name of "bladder-nose" very appropriately describes its curious appearance.

Fishermen Find Balloon

While two salmon fishermen were proceeding to look at their nets at Landalfoot, they observed a balloon about 6 feet in circumference floating in the sea a short distance from the shore. It was found that the balloon belonged to the Meteorological Office, London, and, acting on instructions, the fishermen despatched it to that office.

Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution, and assisting nature in doing its work. HON. J. R. STRATTON

NEW MARINE INSTRUMENT

Valuable Invention of Officer on Canadian Boat to Measure Distances

Chief Officer Edwin Landy, of the C.P.R. liner Montcalm is the inventor of an instrument which seems destined to become as indispensable and as valuable in the marine world as the range finders which are used in the army.

This invention known as the "Distabeam," makes possible the calculating to within the one hundredth part of a mile of any stationary object being passed by a ship.

If, for instance, the steamer with a "Distabeam" on board wishes to find the distance away of a lighthouse signal station, or other building, the angle made by the intersection of an imaginary line drawn from the ship to the object to be distanced and the ship's line of travel, enables the desired result to be obtained with mathematical accuracy.

In order to demonstrate his invention while his vessel was in Montreal harbor, Mr. Landy took a line first on the Ile Ronde lighthouse and later on the spire of Longueuil Church. Measurements on an official chart of the channel after the tests disclosed the fact hat the "Distabeam" had got the distance to within a few yards.

PREMIUM ON BABIES

Australia Will Give a Bonus to Each New Arrival in Family

The Australian Federal Labor Government has made it part of its legislative program to pass a law making a grant of $25 as maternity allowance on the registration of every birth. The scheme has been received with enthusiasm by the working classes throughout the Commonwealth, and it is believed that the measure will become a law, although the Liberals will support it only as it shall pertain to needy cases.

A member of the Opposition is said to be drafting a bill which shall place a tax upon childless families, so that the public funds shall not be drawn on in payment for the maternity grant.

Both these projects of law have been introduced in France, but without a sufficient backing to promulgate them.

TOBACCO FOR MANITOU

Indians of Manitoba Still Make Peace Offering to Great Spirit

That Indians even yet in passing through the narrows of Lake Manitoba throw pieces of tobacco into the waters to propitiate the spirits of the Great Manitou, was the interesting statement made in Winnipeg by J. J. Wilson, who has resided at the Narrows for a number of years. It is only half a mile ocross the lake at that point and as Manitou Island is situated almost exactly in the centre a number of cross currents are formed. These by the superstitious Indians are called Troubled Waters and are caused, they think, by the anger of the Great Manitou, and the tobacco is in the nature of a peace offering.

The name of the province, according to Mr. Wilson, was secured from the Indian name of the lake, Manitoba being a corruption of the Indian word Manitouwaqbah, which stands for the island and (waqbah) narrow waters.

WEAPONS OF MURDER

Peculiar Instruments Chosen by Criminals for Their Deeds of Violence

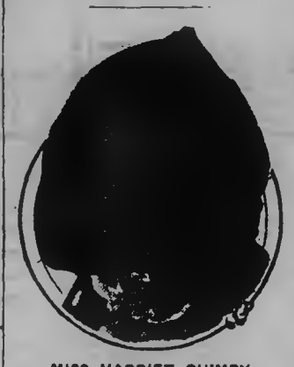
The ordinary Paris apache or hooligan invariably carries a revolver, and most of the murders which have recently horrified Paris have been committed with the ordinary six shooter.

The weapon which the police found upon Prevost, who lay in wait for a bank messenger was a novelty. He and a friend named Coulon planned to kill the messenger in a way which would be least likely to attract public attention.

Coulon carried a bludgeon with which to stun the man. Prevost had a medical syringe charged with that most deadly of all poisons, prussic acid. He confessed that he had meant to squirt this down the victim's throat, which would have resulted in his instant death.

A pistol which renders the person fired at unconscious without seriously injuring him was found upon a hooligan arrested in East London. The cartridges contained a mixture of gunpowder, burned cayenne pepper, and lycopodium, the fumes of which caused the person fired at to lose consciousness.

Very little originality is shown by the assassin. If he does not use a pistol or a bomb he has recourse to an ordinary knife. In almost all political assassinations one of these three has been used.



The only exception was Luccheni, the anarchist who so brutally killed the unforunate Empress of Austria at Geneva. His weapon was a file fixed in a wooden handle and ground to a keen point. This was afterwards destroyed by the Swiss authorities.

The "black-jack," a variation of the old-fashioned sand bag, is a favorite with the New York crook. "Silent talkers" is another name given to these deadly weapons, one blow from which will stun the strongest man.

As diabolical a specimen of murderous ingenuity as ever was discovered by police was found in the possession of a Chinamen, who had been working in a laundry in New Orleans, and who was believed to have intended using it upon his employers.

It was a tiny stiletto with a handle about as thick as a carpenter's pencil, and a blade four inches long of glass pointed as keenly as a needle. A tiny groove had been made around the blade close to the hilt. Suppose it was driven into a man's body it would be certain to break off at the grove and leave three inches of glass deep in his flesh. What is more, the puncture would be so tiny that it would probably close at once, and show no mark, not even a single drop of blood.

A blind elderly woman who was found dead on the kitchen floor of her house in Manchester, Eng., had been stabbed with a corn knife, which was found on the floor beside her. The murderer was never caught. And a surgeon's lancet was the weapon used by the maniac who, the year 1900, stabbed no fewer than eighty people in the streets at Kiel, and before he was at last arrested caused a panic worse than that produced by the infamous Jack the Ripper.

MISS HARRIET QUIMBY

The daring woman aviator who was killed by falling from a tremendous height while making a flight with a male passenger.

A DESTRUCTIVE INSECT

One of the most destructive of African insects is the white ant. This strange little creature, well under an inch in length, erects huge heaps in which to dwell. In some places, particularly in the Congo, these heaps convert an otherwise flat country into a hilly one.

They rise from 20 to 50 feet and more in height. Invariably they are crowned with several bamboo trees, which often attain a height of another 30 to 50 feet. Then the heaps are often covered with beautiful ferns and the choicest of wild tropical flowers.

As to the ants themselves they are most destructive, destroying everything except iron and steel. They go about in vast armies, and in a single night the damage they will do is almost incredible. They will enter huts or tents and attack everything that is not made of iron. Curiously enough, they only destroy that portion of the object that is not exposed to the air. For instance, they eat away the soles of boots, leaving the uppers standing in their place. It is only when you come to pick up the object that you find it has been destroyed.

Spoil Sport from Londer Town

A Hertfordshire pack of beagles was following a hare near Hertford, and the hounds were within fifty yards of their quarry, when a London sportman shot the animal and called gleefully to the followers, "I have shot your hare," as the hunters turned sorrowfully homewards.

Blackbird with Gold Ring

William Best, a farmer living near Ballyconnell, Ireland, shot a blackbird, which had a gold ring on one of its legs. The ring bore some initials which were undecipherable. It is believed that the bird was a pet, and that the ring was placed on its leg for the purpose of indentification.

Peril of Neglected Teeth

Septic pneumonia, caused by abscesses in the sockets of his teeth, was described at a Westminster inquest as the cause of death of Arthur John Cheesman, a butcher. The coroner commented on the danger of neglecting teeth, and said disease of the teeth sockets had been found to account for many hitherto mysterious blood complaints.

Poachers Fire at Magistrate

Mr. John Shiel, justice of the peace, was fired at by poachers, whom he found shooting at Carnlough, on the borders of the counties of Roscommon and Galway, Ireland. Mr. Shiel discovered four men with guns and dogs. He called on them to stop, but they ran off, and he gave chase. Four shots were fired, some of the shot piercing the magistrate's clothes.

Scottish Poets' Corner

At a meeting of the Dunedin Association in the Freemason's Hall, Edinburgh, Sheriff Guy delivered an address on "A Scottish Poets' Corner." He referred to the suggestions made by Mr. William Chambers in his history of St. Giles' that a poets' corner should be set aside in St. Giles' Cathedral similar to that in Westminster Abbey, and advocated that the proposal be carried out.

Lady Chairman for Parish Council

Considerable competition took place at a meeting of the Paisley Parish Council in connection with the appointing of a chairman. No fewer than seven candidates were nominated, and the final vote, which was between Miss Jane Bell and Mr. James Carruth, resulted in the former being returned by fifteen votes to nine.

Widow's 101st Birthday

Stirling possesses a centenarian in Elizabeth Fergusson, a widow, who has celebrated her 101st birthday. She belongs to Linlithgow, but has lived most of her life in Stirling. She had five of a family, three still being alive, the oldest being aged seventy. Mrs. Fergusson has been confined to bed for some years, but is wonderfully alert in her faculties, and takes an interest in all going on around her.

Twelve-Year Old Hero

A twelve-year-old boy named John Loughran, living at Ship Terrace, Dumbarton, Scotland, was presented with a Royal Humane Society's certificate, and a silver watch and cheque for $25 from the Carnegie Hero Fund trustees, in recognition of his bravery in rescuing a father and his four-year-old daughter from drowning in the River Leven. Loughran had been instrumental in saving four lives previously in Belfast and one in Port Glasgow.

Parish Without a Juror

In the parish of Littleton-on-Thames, it was explained to the Feltham magistrates, there is not a single juror. All those living in houses which have the rating qualification are over sixty, and, therefore, exempt, except the rector, who is ineligible.

THE DEATH ORCHID

Explorer's Weird Story of Mysterious Flower of Venezuela

The death orchid of the Venezuelan Indians has been proved to be no mere campfire yarn. Three years ago an orchid hunter, Grayson, set out to find "El Lugar de las Flores Venenosos," that is, "The Place of the Poisonous Flowers," which was said to be located in the dense and pathless wilderness occupying the vast stretches between the head waters of the Orinoco and the Andes.

Two weeks passed without any incident out of the ordinary. But one morning there was a perceptible smell of flowers in the air. When the orchid hunter and his Indians camped that night the jungle smells had been entirely lost in the cloying scent. Many of the band refused to go further.

As Grayson and the others proceeded the rankly sweet and oppressive odor became stronger, attacking the senses like a narcotic. One after another of the remaining Indians collapsed, till only Grayson and the guide were left pushing forward.

The orchid hunter felt as if he were being attacked by the insidious power of opium, but retained enough consciousness to become aware that, gleaming through the trees ahead, he saw flowers of huge size and livid colors, many hued clusters of them hanging in trails. It was the death orchid.

When he recovered his senses he found himself being carried back to camp, where the rest of his porters had remained. Many of the band were severely sick, and many half-witted with the continued effect of the scent.

PTOMAINE POISONING

Boiling Does Not Kill The Deadly Germ in Food

The outbreaks often known as "ptomaine poisoning" are divided by Dr. L. Burger of Berlin into three classes. In the first, minute bacteria resembling the typhus bacillus are the cause of poisoning, and may have infected living cattle, etc., or may have been brought by rats, mice, flies or impure water to meat, fish, bread, cake, vegetables and other food.

Eating the infected food sometimes gives rise to symptons of intestinal catarrh, sometimes to those of typhus or cholera.

The second class of poisoning result from eating decayed meat and other foods, and is quite rare, because warning is usually given by a foul odor. In neither of these classes is the poisonous principles destroyed by boiling.

The third kind of meat poisoning, which has been called "sausage poisoning" in a recent Berlin epidemic, is due to a specific rod-shaped organism, the bacillus botulinus, and may come from infected ham, salt fish, tinned meat, etc.

This bacillus does not grow in living flesh, so only the poison it has developed in dead meat is to be feared. This is very fatal, however, and forty per cent. of the poisonings result in death.

BLUE BLOODED FARMERS

French Nobleman Will Grow Fruit at Forest

Among the vocations open to members of the European peerages farming in Canada is assuming a foremost position. British Peers have entered into farming near Pickering, and now Viscount George De Mauduit, a prominent French nobleman, and son of Count Hugh De Mauduit, director of the staff of the Ministry of the Interior, Paris, has left his native country to take up a fruit farm at Forest, Ont. His intention is to purchase a farm in the vicinity of Forest at $35,000.

The idea of farming was brought before him while he was living in London, England, by the Commissioner of the Ontario Government in the Metropolis.

ANTIQUITY OF HYMNS

While hymns as we know them today are a comparatively recent innovation in church services, they are a very ancient institution, and existed long before the Christian era. Many important collections of hymns date back to about five hundred years before Christ, though, of course, hymns existed long before that period. Among the collections which have come down to us from then are the Sanskrit "Rig-Veda," a Chinese "Book of Odes," the "Buddhist Hymns," the Grecian "Homeric Hymns," and the "Odes of Pindar." "The Latin Hymns," or hymns of the western church, date from the fourth to the twentieth centuries, while the "Lutheran Chorales" date from the sixteenth century. The hymns which play so prominent a part in the services of the modern Protestant churches were not in wide general use until about 1860.

BEER IN CHINA

The attempt of a corporation organized in Hongkong with foreign capital, largely from Honolulu, to establish a brewing business on the South Asiatic coast was unsuccessful. The concern erected a modern brewery on a portion of the mainland opposite HongKong in 1909, but lost money from the beginning and went into voluntary liquidation.

For a time there was some reason to expect the successful introduction of beer among the Chinese of Hongkong. Sales of the company's output increased considerably, and growing popularity gave some practical ground for anticipating a change in Chinese tastes. The fact finally became plain, however, that for the time being the Chinese do not take to beer.

MYSTERY OF BIRD FLIGHT

Tip of the Wing Moves at Same Speed in Every Species

A curious fact concerning birds is that the tip of the wing moves at practically the same speed in every species. This is 650 feet per minute, or nearly 7½ miles per hour. Whether it is the tiny wren, or the huge stork, the rule holds good, and even the bee comes within it.

Thus the bee has a wing only a quarter-inch long, the sparrow's wing is four inches, and the stork's twenty-seven. But the bee's wing beats 11,400 times in a minute, the sparrow's 720, and the stork's only 105 times. If you multiply together the length of the wing and the number of beats you will get almost exactly the same result in the three cases—namely, stork, 2,835; bee, 2,850; sparrow, 2,880.

But a machine made to fly like a bird has to develop far more energy than these figures stand for. A bird's energy in flight is not so great as is supposed. Although such skilful flyers when aloft, many birds cannot rise from level ground.

HEROES IN OVERALLS

The work of the Carnegie hero fund commission since its fund became operative April 15, 1904, is briefly told in these figures:

Total number of awards, 583.

Awarded to wage workers, 406.

Awarded to students and schoolboys, 92.

Awarded to business men, 33.

Awarded to professional men, 25.

Awarded to women and girls, 31.

A large number of the awards made to wage workers is admittedly trace able to the fact that they are engaged in perilous occupations, where the opportunities for the manifestation of the heroic spirit are the most numerous.

Still the figures show that when heroism calls the man with the overalls is prompt to respond.

King Kept Caterpillars

King George made one of the rare revelations of his personality when attending the British Silk Exhibition at London.

He spent a long time in looking at the silkworms crawling about on some willow leaves in a glass case, and then remarked in explanation of his interest:—

"I used to keep caterpillars in a biscuit tin when I was a boy."

A Ghost Story

What looks like a prank is causing some excitement at Abergele, midway between Rhyl and Colwyn Bay, Wales. A "ghost" is reported to have made its appearance in the vicinity of Glan Aber, the residence of Mr. Kneeshaw, a local J. P., and near the eastern entrance to the park that surrounds Gwrych Castle, the Welsh seat of the Earl and Countess of Dundonald. Men on their way to work at Llandulas limeworks report that they were chased by the spectre. One of the men, a laborer named John Rush, was terribly scared by a weird noise that came from a tree stretching above the road.

Full Compensation for Widow

Judge Bryn Roberts, at Swansea, Wales, declined to allow doctors' and nurses' fees out of $1,250 compensation awarded to the widow of a workman. The judge said such an allowance was illegal, and the man could taken to a hospital.

OFFICIAL STANDARDS BUILT IN THE WALL

Official Pound Weight And Yardstick of Great Britain Guarded Like the Crown Jewels

One of the queerest and most important of all the ceremonies that are gone through in England is the unearthing and examining of the contents of an extraordinary box buried in the masonry which forms the public staircase of the House of Commons, and thereby checking the weights and measures used in Great Britain. This ceremony is performed once every twenty years.

To get at the box which is of oak, it is necessary to pull down part of the wall of the staircase. Then, after the casket has been exhumed and its unique contents examined with infinite care by a band of scientists, it is again put back in the cavity of the wall, which then is built up.

The box contains two pieces of metal. One of them is a cube of plantinum measuring only one inch along each side; you would buy another like it for about $200, but this particular cube has a value beyond all other pieces of metal. The way in which it is guarded gives some idea of its worth. To begin with, it is carefully wrapped up in a specially prepared paper uncommonly soft in texture, and is laid in another silver-gilt case. This case goes into yet another made of stout bronze, which fits into a sturdy mahogany box, firmly screwed down, and in addition, sealed in a particular way.

The other thing in the box is a rod of bronze. It is carefully protected too, and is placed on eight rollers in another mahogany case. This case is securely screwed together and carefully sealed. Both these mahogany cases are put in a special casket made of lead, firmly soldered and perfectly air-tight. There is still another covering, however, the leaden casket being fitted into the oaken one already mentioned. This is of specially selected wood, and is sealed in such a way that its contents are kept absolutely intact. It fits exactly into the cavity of the masonry of the stair case.

The two queer pieces of metal which are guarded with such sacredness are the standards of the British weights and measures. They always remain of the same value. The standards which were first used came to grief in 1834, in the fire at the House of Parliament, and it took many men of science many long years to compute and manufacture the existing two pieces of metal. The one inch cube of platinum, though so small, weighs a pound. The bronze rod is thirty eight inches long and has two studs of solid gold to measure off the yard. Two lines cross these gold studs, and at a certain temperature and pressure of the air, the distance between these fine lines is the standard of British measures.

When the ceremony of examining the standards comes off, they are not touched by hands, but are held in special tongs. One of the most delicate balances known is used in weighing the cube. The yard is measured with the utmost exactness, a powerful microscope being used, and other delicate measurements are made including that of the temperature and of the height of the barometer.

USES OF ELECTRICITY

In the Homes and on the Farms of Germany and Switzerland

Rev. W. [illegible] Findlay spoke to the Canadian Household Economic Association about the uses to which he had seen electricity put in Germany, Switzerland and France. The [illegible] of electricity in the household [illegible] kitchen will run coffee grinders, meat choppers and silver knife cleaners and sharpeners, and dish washers, while the dishes are put on shelves and lowered into a box-like arrangement where the water is heated by electricity and agitated by electricity. These latter are chiefly seen in hotels, as they are still quite expensive.

Electric ploughs are adjustable to different depths and will plough twelve acres where formerly only two were done, but they cost a good deal.

In Switzerland the electric oven with its perfectly even heat was brought into use in 1902, and is now used very extensively.

Mr. Findlay drew attention to the fact that Ontario gets all her coal at a profit to outsiders, while a million horse-power that might be used for the same purposes goes to waste in the rivers of North Bay.

AN UNKNOWN KING

In a gloomy niche half way down Westminster Hall there is dimly to be descried a gray stone statute of a king which recently was taken out of the Architectural Museum and placed in its present position. There is a heavy crown on his head over long, flowing hair. The beard is rippled and majestic. In his left hand he holds the orb, but the sceptre hand is gone. The old king broods over the hall of kings.

The experts are puzzled over his history. He stood in Westminster Hall for many centuries side by side with other stone kings and all were tidied away by the Government in 1856. Lately it occurred to Lord Beauchamp to try the effect of bringing them back. Several of the beautiful Gothic windows are blind, forming niches suitable for statues, and all the old forgotten kings may take their places in them.

This first one is a beautiful personage. No one knows what king he is or whether it is merely an ideal figure of majesty, but it is certain that he is the work of some fine fourteenth century craftsman.

The battered king is the grandest statue in the hall. Below him lie in ghostly row the kings done with the petty realism of the modern age, immediately under his blind Majesty's gaze is the broad face, cynically furrowed, of the merry monarch. The unknown king towers over these people like a visitant from ampler times.

EGGS FROM UNCLE SAM

Some Details of the Canadian Trade in Eggs.

Canada imported 2,500,000 dozen eggs from the United States during the fiscal year 1911, when the exportation of eggs from the Republic, notwithstanding high prices, was the largest ever recorded. While current market reports and current discussions of the cost of living indicate unusually high prices in the United States for this article of consumption and commerce the Bureau of Statistics in reporting a larger exportation in this line than ever before. The number of eggs sent to foreign countries in the year ending with December, 1911, was 13,250,000 dozen, valued at $2,175,000, while the highest record of any earlier calendar year was 2,250,000 dozen, valued at $1,750,000, in 1907.

Cuba, Canada, Panama and Mexico are the chief countries to which eggs are exported from the United States. Of the 1,500,00 dozen eggs imported into the United States in the fiscal year 1911 1,250,000 dozen were from England and about a quarter of a million from China and Hong Kong. This item of eggs imported does not include the yolks brought from other countries, of which the quantity imported from Canada amounted to 150,000 pounds and from Germany 76,000 pounds.

WHO WAS "TOMMY ATKINS"

How the Soldiers of Great Britain's Army Came by the Name

Questions are sometimes asked as to the origin of the expression "Tommy" or "Tommy Atkins" as applied to a soldier in generic form. Mr. J. Leslie explains in Notes and Queries that its origin dates from the year 1815, when the "Soldier's Account Book" was called into use by a War Office circular letter of August 31, 1815. Sample forms of the book (for cavalry and infantry) accompanied the circular letter, and in every one of them the name "Thomas Atkins" is used as a specimen name. Atkins evidently could not write, as in the several places where his signature occurs it is given as "Thomas Atkins X his mark." This, Mr. Leslie adds, surely disproves that "Thomas Atkins" was suggested by the Duke of Wellington in 1843 as being the name of an especially brave soldier in his own regiment—the 33rd.

SPLENDID QUEBEC PORT

Bishop of Ungava Enthusiastic About Sept Iles Harbor Open all Year

That with the annexation of Ungava, the Province of Quebec has obtained a splendid winter port which is destined to become one of the most important on the Atlantic coast was the statement made by Mgr. Blanche, Bishop of Ungava, speaking at Que-

Speaking of the port of Sept Iles, Mgr. Blanche said: "There is that seaport open all the year round, and the encouragement to contain the whole British fleet. It is closer to Europe than any other of the Atlantic seaports, and is a splendid refuge, being protected by the mountains from severe storms.

With reference to the industrial development of Labrador, His Lordship declared that this had been advancing in an astonishing manner, considering the difficulty of communication with the interior.

"This development," he said, "has particularly shown itself in the establishment of several large pulp manufacturing mills. "Mr. Menier, who is associated with his brother, is exporting a considerable amount of pulp from the Island of Anticosti, thanks to the modern equipment of his mills. Twelve hundred workmen are employed constantly there. At Clark City, 18 miles from Sept Iles, there is also a mill which gives work to 600 employes.

"But the exploitation of pulp is not the principal resource of the country. The fisheries are also very productive. The salmon fishing on the River Moisie is a case in point. This watercourse alone produces during the season 75,000 pounds of salmon. This fish would give enormous profits to the fishermen if there were rapid trains to deliver them fresh to the markets of New York and Boston. As it is, they barely sell for seven cents a pound."

Mgr. Blanche is a man born to lead. His white hair and bronzed, rugged face, show the individual who has braved great hardships, and is capable of braving them again.

He was once an officer of the Mobiles in the Franco-German War, and bears on the side of his head a scar from a wound received when he was made prisoner. It was not until several years after the war that he entered a religious community, and was shortly after driven from France by the Law of Congregations.

The Man Who Gave All His Money Away

Dr. Daniel Kimball Pearsons, of Chicago, the man who gave nearly $5,000,000 to education, and died practically penniless, was one of the most remarkable philanthropists of the age. His gifts were small in comparison with those of some other millionaires, but they were large in proportion to his means. They were veritably the "widow's mite," inasmuch as he gave all he had. His last days were spent in a sanitarium where he had lived for some years, having divested himself of all his fortune, and receiving $5,000 per annum by one of the colleges which he had benefited. Out of this income Dr. Pearsons was able to save enough to continue his benefactions, and probably gave away more than half of it in the course of a year. A few days before his death he celebrated his 92nd birthday, and to the newspaper men who interviewed him, he declared that he was perfectly happy, and that his only regret was that he hadn't been able to distribute $10,000,000 instead of $5,000,000. Dr. Pearsons' wife died in 1906. He had no children, and his immediate relatives are well-to-do. He felt that he could give away every dollar he owned without doing any wrong to those who had a better claim upon him, and in giving he found a delight that was not surpassed by the satisfaction of those to whom he gave.

TURKISH SOLDIERS WITHOUT FEZES

For the first time, when war broke out between Turkey and the Balkan allies, the Turkish soldier went to war without the fez. Mahmud II., when he changed the uniform of his army, tried to introduce the shako, but the opposition of the soldiers was too strong for him. The fez is a poor covering for men on active service; for even the change of its color to khaki did not get over its feebleness as a protection against sun or bad weather.

Hence the headshawl devised some time ago to be worn twisted around the fez. The Turk's devotion to the fez is clearly explained by Duckett Ferriman: "The prejudice against the hat rests on a religious basis. If the form of prayer is rightly performed the forehead must touch the ground. The brim of a hat or the peak of a cap would prevent this."

What the North Can Grow

Seventy-five acres of Ontario's new experimental farm of the Province at Montieth have been stumped and cleared and it is the intention of the department of agriculture to demonstrate the possibilities of the land of New Ontario on this tract. Already the responsible growers of the province have found that their best seed potatoes and peas can be grown in the north.

GERMANS EATING DOGS

One way to Get Around the High priced Meat Question

Scores of stray dogs were slaughtered at Halle, Germany, and the meat sold to the public in the city market. There was a rush to obtain the canine "steaks" and "chops" as if they were a great delicacy.

The city authorities ordered the butchering of the animals, which had been gathered up for a month. It is planned to combat the meat famine with domestic animals, and the pussies of the city may next go for "Rabbit pie."

Ancient Law Invoked

When two young men appeared in the Toronto police court to answer the charge, laid under the Criminal Code of Queen Elizabeth's reign of failing to support their mother, they agreed to provide four dollars a week between them, and the ancient law had not to be enforced.

GAVE LIFE FOR BIBLE

Archie McKechney, an eight-year-old Brampton boy lost his life through trying to recover an old Bible which had fallen into a creek.

Endeavoring to draw the big book out of the swollen stream by means of a pole, the lad lost his balance and tumbled into the muddy water.

A sixteen-year-old boy, named Walter Alliant, living in London, had a narrow escape from death while descending the Gorner glacier from Zermatt, accompanied by his father. He slipped on the snow, fell 150 feet into a crevasse, and was only rescued after great difficulty. A party of guides carried him to Zermatt, where it was found that his only injuries consisted of cuts on the head.

DO PLAYS TEACH RELIGION

He Attributes People's Ignorance of the Bible to Stamping Out of Simple Plays

Is the Anglican Church for the revival of the miracle play? Father Adderley discusses the question in the parish magazine, just issued. "Modern drama," he says, "owes its origin to the service of the Church," and he pleads for their reunion. He attributes the people's ignorance of the Bible to "the stamping out of these simple plays, which taught people the Catholic faith in the best possible way." While he hopes for a revival of the miracle plays, he confesses that it will be a difficult thing to do.

"They cannot be acted with their old fervor," he says sadly, "except by devout Christian people. The cinematograph might be a great power in these days if we would get Christian actors. Meantime we must wait till a new generation of Church people arise who are not afraid to combine an intelligent use of the drama with religion."

FATIGUE A DISEASE

London Physician Thinks New Energizing Panacea May be Found

That "good old age" is both more prevalent and more enjoyable than it was forty years ago, was the cheerful view expressed by Sir James Goodhart in a speech to the Royal College of Physicians at London.

Sir James, however, confessed that finality in pathology had not yet been reached, and among the tasks which yet confounded them was the discovery of a remedy for fatigue which was nowadays a disease.

What was more common, he asked, than to meet a man or woman who is "so tired, always tired?"

It was clear, he said, that what was required was a fresh stock of some form of energy for charging up the machine. That they were, as yet, unable to supply, he for one was inclined to consider a blessing in disguise. If old age was to be considerably beyond the [illegible]

When Appetite Fails and Digestion is Bad

THERE IS DANGER AHEAD FOR THE MAN WHO NEGLECTS NATURE'S WARNING.

Dyspepsia Tendencies are Serious and Should be Treated Accordingly.

There is a strong moral in the statement of James Sohrum, of Pleasant street, Dartmouth, N.S. Like thousands of people, he was failing in health because his stomach and digestive organs were out of repair. His vitality was slipping away; he was losing ground every day.

"I could not have held on much longer. I was wasting away simply because no remedy I used gave tone and strength to my stomach. The vital forces of my system seemed dead. I was advised to try Dr. Hamilton's Pills. What hidden weakness they searched out I don't know, but in a miraculous way they have made a new man of me. My stomach troubles are cured, rich blood now runs throughmy veins—clear skin and unmistakable evidences of health and vigor I feel every day. Dr. Hamilton's Pills have certainly mastered the secret of curing the sickly unnerved man and I strongly urge everyone in failing or lost health to use this grand remedy."

Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut are purely vegetable, 25c. per box, five for $1.00, all druggists and storekeepers, or postpaid from the Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Ont.

His Honor Judge Edmison, County Magistrate, held court yesterday morning. Sam Steel, of Chandos township was charged with having improper relations with a girl under 14 years of age. More Picayune Policy.

Lakefield seems to suffer with the same picayune policy that characterizes this city. The News says:—What are our City Fathers thinking about? Ten days ago our sidewalks were very dangerous from the condition of the ice. Last Saturday and Sunday the walking was also very bad, and since then the public have to go Indian file, even to the G.T.R. station. Have we no gravel?

Sensational Rumor Contradicted.

A somewhat sensational story was current on the street yesterday, regarding an alleged attempted assault on a girl by two Italians. Hearing the rumor, a Times representative interrogated the police. We find that two Italians met a little girl and offered her money. The whole story amounts to this, that two Italians who had imbibed a little too freely, and in consequent good nature, did offer a child a small sum of money, but with no evil intent.

Presentation to Mr. Kingscote.

On Thursday night, Mr. A. Kingscote, for 22 years a member of St. John's church choir, who is leaving for Toronto, was honoured by the choir by a banquet at Coleman's restaurant. Mr. H. W. Morphet read an address regretting the departure of such an old and valued friend and presented Mr. Kingscote with a beautiful signet ring, to which was added by Mr. Geo. Brown, a chorister of St. John's for 31 years, a fine bound volume of the church hymnal, on behalf of the officials and choristers of St. John's.

A Mistaken Identity.

We have all heard about "doubles" in human beings. Yesterday a gentleman from Lindsay, was in the city, and in conversation with The Times, remarked on a wonderful likeness between Mr. James Bogue, the local contractor, and Hon. Senator McHugh of his town. The Lindsay man said that a few months ago, Mr. Bogue was in Lindsay looking after his contract in connection with the Armouries there. As Mr. Bogue stood at Kent street, a niece of the Senator, meeting the genial Peterborough man, addressed him as "Uncle."

Peterborough Man in Trouble.

Concerning a Peterborough man, Lindsay Post says: "Reid's Pressing Club" on Kent street, has suspended business. Mr. Geo. Foster, armed with the necessary documents, took possession of the establishment of behalf of certain creditors. The late proprietor, Mr. J. E. Marrs, held a chattel mortgage amounting to $50. To-day at noon, Mr. Foster purchased a C.P.R. ticket for Toronto and saw Mr. Reid safely ensconsed one of the coaches. Mr. Foster is now in possession of the establishment. Mr. Reid, it is said, came here from Peterborough.

Buffalos for Bobcaygeon.

Mr. Mossom Boyd, who, it will be remembered, commenced the breeding of half-breed buffalos about twenty years ago, has brought to Bobcaygeon eleven head of half and three-quarter bred buffalo for the purpose of bringing new blood into his own herd. The buffalo were bought from Mr. B. G. Veeder, of New York State, Mr. Boyd taking all his herd, which consists of four bulls, from two to three years oldi and seven cows and heifers, the cows ranging from three to seven years. The herd in the summer will be transferred to the Big Island.

Interesting to Local Women.

It will be of interest to local married women to note that the Ontario Legislature, in amending the Consolidated Municipal Act, has added the following amendment, for consideration, viz.: "Where any real property is owned or occupied by a married woman, both the married woman and her husband shall be entitled to vote thereon if the property is assessed for a sum sufficient, if equally divided between them, to give a qualification to each; but where the property is assessed for a sum insufficient to give a qualification to each, only the wife shall be entitled to vote thereon."

When Doctors Disagree.

When rogues fall out, honest men get their due; but when Lindsay doctors fall out over a diagnosis the result is part of Ross Memorial Hospital being partly placarded and an interesting little law suit for defamation of character. One Lindsay Medico diagnosed the case of a young lady as German measles, and quarantined the lady's house. Another Lindsay physician thought the lady had typhoid, and ordered her to the hospital. When the patient arrived at the hospital, it was found she was suffering with scarlet fever. Hence a part of the hospital was don't speak as they pass by. quarantined. And now the doctors

DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS PROVING THEIR VALUE AS A FAMILY MEDICINE.

Quebec Man Tells How They Helped Him and Cured His Nephew of Kidney Disease.

South Ham, Wolfe Co., Que., Feb. 28.—(Special)—There is fresh proof every day that as a family medicine Dodd's Kidney Pills are growing in favor with the people of Quebec. Just to quote an example, Amable Pinard of this place says, in an interview:

"Dodd's Kidney Pills helped my rheumatism, backache, gravel, and heart disease, from which I suffered for twenty years.

"They have not yet cured me completely, but they did completely cure my nephew, who suffered from kidney disease."

Dodd's Kidney Pills always 'cure kidney disease. They will complete Amable Pinard's care, because all the disease mentioned are the results of kidney disease. They cured the young man's kidney disease quickly, because it was taken in its early stages. Amable Pinard's troubles are of twenty years' standing, and take a longer treatment.

The moral is, that if you cure your kidney disease early with Dodd's Kidney Pills, you will never be troubled with rheumatism, gravel, and other diseases that are caused by sick kidneys failing to do their work.

ALLEGED INSANE MAN DISCHARGED YESTERDAY

Judge Edmison, County Magistrate, held court. James Halliday of the township of Smith was charged by W. L. Lee of the same municipality with being insane.

It seems that Lee and Halliday, some time since purchased a farm in Smith, paying $500 on account each. Of late Lee and his wife seemed to think that Halliday was acting in an erratic manner. In consequence of an information laid, Halliday was arrested about a week ago. At yesterday's court, Doctor Greer and Dr. Morgan gave written statements that after making due examination of the patient, they found no trace of insanity, although Halliday suffered from nervousness.

The magistrate then dismissed the case.

It would seem that Halliday and Lee are great friends, as said by the former yesterday.

"Dead Man" as a Witness

When Sarah Smith was sent to gaol for a month in Belfast, charged with obtaining money by false pretences, she admitted that owing to being in want she went to shops where a man named Farr was known and stated that he was dead and she wantd money to bury him. Farr stated, amid laughter, that he was not a relative of the accused, and was not dead.

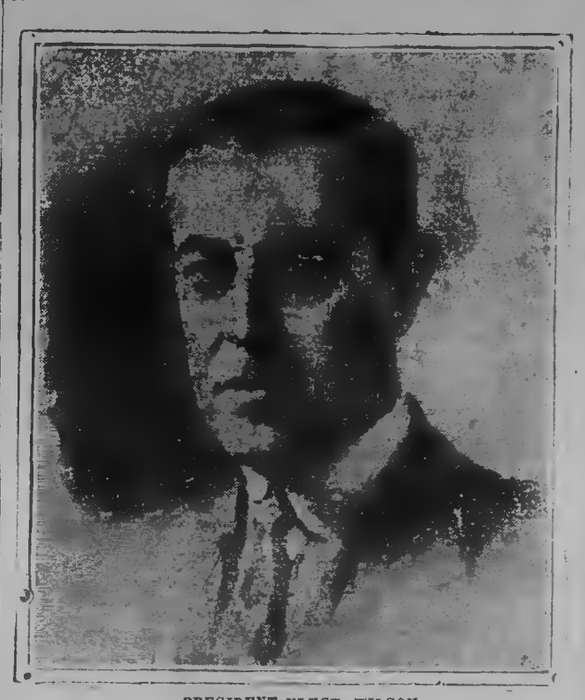
Liberals Attempt to Force An Early General Election

Declaration of Sir Wilfrid Laurier Means That His Party Will Resort Obstruction.

Liberal Private Members Will Not Favor Appeal to The Country.



Mr. Borden Is Prepared to Meet Any Action the Opposition May Be Disposed to Make.

Ottawa, March 2.—The statement in the Toronto press of Wednesday last that we were about to engage in a great political struggle, has been to some extent confirmed by the events of the past two or three days. The speeches of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and of Mr. Borden before the vote on the naval bill both indicated an acute situation.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said he was for a navy but that he was for reference of the question to the people and most of all that he was for Canadian autonomy as against some kind of imperial federation which would include Canada and which would have one navy and which he said the Conservatives were trying to lead the country into. Mr. Borden intimated that if obstruction was to come he'd be prepared to meet it.

The situation, coupled with the vote, which showed the Government majority reduced to 30 (by reason of the difection of some of the French Canadian Nationalists) encouraged the opposition to continue the struggle Friday afternoon by a lingering debate in committee on the naval bill and little or no progress was Made.

But the most significant thing is the declaration in the Liberal newspapers from all over the country that the party will be justified in fighting the bill to a finish and forcing the government, if they can, to go to the country. Just how long the Liberals will keep this up cannot be said but it is apparent that there is determination to make a fight and keep it up. And they kegp hinting that they have scandals to spring.

PRESIDENT ELECT WILSON.
Who will be inaugurated to-morrow.

THE GREAT JOHN WESLEY WAS HONORED YESTERDAY IN STATES

Chicago, March 2.—The appeal made to the Methodist bodies of the United States to stop the church clocks for ten minutes, in honor of the name of John Wesley, was largely observed throughout the country yesterday. The occasion was the anniversary of the death of the founder of Methodism, who passed away in England on March 2, 1791.

Canada made no celebration of this occasion, Rev. Jno. Wesley died on March 2, 1791, so that the date this year does not provide a centenary, but merely an anniversary.

Some years ago Canada joined with other countries in a world-celebration of the founder of Methodism, every pulpit in the Dominion conducting special services of honor.

It was remarked that one reason why any such method as that of retraining the clock hands would be avoided by Canadians was because of it falling upon the Sabbath. The event was referred to yesterday by Rev. Mr. Couch, of the George street Methodist church.

DR. FREIDMANN OPENS OFFICE WILL TREAT POOR AND RICH

Distinguished German Bacteriologist Announces He Will Call in Physicians to Attend Public Clinic---- 5,000 Applications

New York, March 2.—The widespread attention which has been drawn to the tuberculosis serum of Dr. Friedmann, the young German bacteriologist may be brought to a climax next week. The announcement is made to-day that on Monday Dr. Friedmann will open offices near his hotel on Fifth avenue and for two weeks conduct a public clinic, where the poor as well as the rich will be treated the serum to be administered free to those who cannot afford to pay for it.

It is declared that a number of physicians will be invited to attend the clinic, to assist in diagnosing the cases and to watch them afterward and learn Dr. Friedmann's method. He has claimed that within a week the beneficial effects of the serum will be apparent. The doctor says that more than 5,000 applications for treatment have been received.

OTHER MOVING PICTURE HOUSE IS IN TROUBLE

At Saturday's Police Court a charge was brought against the former manager of the Royal Theatre (picture house) for obstructing the lobby, against the law regulating such places. The charge is similar to that in which Mr. Clayton, of the Red Mill, was fined $50 and costs. The case was enlarged until March 6.

THE WEATHER.

To-day—Mostly fair and about the same temperature.

Our Serial Story

In a few days The Times will begin the publication of a new serial story, entitled, "The Sable Lora," by Horace Hazeltine. This journal has been fortunate in securing this most excellent story which is one of the most interesting, thrilling and instructive. The story will be continued from day to day until it is completed.

"SERGEANT-BRUE"

The Pollard Juvenile Opera Company which will shortly visit this city, will present three of the very latest musical comedies to be seen outside of New York. The company will open their engagement with that successful musical comedy, "Wergeant Brue." Its tuneful melodies and catchy music are by this time familiar to all. Seldom has a musical comedy been received with such sustaining favor as this sparkling and vivacious piece. Its success when produced by those talented Juveniles has been secure everywhere after the first performance and the audience that will probably fill the Grand Opera House on Friday and Saturday 7th and 8th March may be assured that this new musical comedy will be reproduced in a manner comparable with that of any first class adult combination. The piece itself is staged with all the magnificent scenery and the new and lavishly gorgeous costumes which have been prepared for the American tour.

CANAL TOLLS BE REVOKED

British Papers Laud President Elect Wilson For His Reported Stand

London, March 2.—The Daily Chronicle in an editorial on President-elect Wilson's expressions concerning the repeal of the Panama Canal Tolls Act, says it looks confidently to an early and happy settlement of the controversy, as a result of Mr. Wilson's declared opinion, which it says cannot fail to affiliate an adjustment of the controversy, whether by arbitration or by the speedier method of Senator Root's amendment to the canal bill.

Daily News Also Pleased.

The Daily News in an editorial, expresses a similar opinion, and adds that the good friends of both countries will welcome the prospect.

The Daily Mail says that Mr. Wilson's pronouncement will gain him the respect of Englishmen. "Nothing could be more satisfactory than that Congress should voluntarily extricate itself from its false position, and show its respect for the principles on which the British and American legal systems are alike founded," it concludes.

Question Sure to Be Settled.

The Daily Telegraph declares that as the Democrats have the strongest motives for avoiding differences of opinion between the executive and the Legislature at the outset of a promising career, there is every reason to hope that even if the simpler plan of repealing the toll exemption clause is not adopted, the Panama question will certainly be submitted to arbitration.

TURKEY HAS ENOUGH

London, March 2.—Turkey has unreservedly placed herself in the hands of the European powers with a request to conclude peace as advantageously as possible for her.

RUSSIA INVADES CHINA

London, March 2. A despatch to The Daily Mail from Pekin says:

Serious anxiety is being caused here at Tokio by reports of Russian military activity in Mongolia. A force of Khalka Mongols, officered by Russians, is marching from Urga to Kalgan. The Mongolian tribes are being rapidly armed with Russian rifles. It is reported that Russians are laying a narrow guage railroad from Verknigisk, eastern Siberia, on the Siberian Railway, to the Mongolian frontier at Kiatka and building a large barracks at Kiatka.

FOUR TIMES AS MUCH AS BORDEN

Ottawa, March 2.—Following the second reading of the Naval Bill No. 21, the House sent into committee where it was stated that the comparative cost per capita to Canada of the Laurier or Canadian navy policy as against the Borden Imperial unit would be not less than twice as much and might be four times as much.

Another Victim to Icy Walks

Mr. John McClelland, the Water-street jeweler, is very poorly owing to two accidents sustained by falls on the treacherous icy pavements of Peterborough. A week ago Mr. McClelland slipped on the ice clad pavement and cut his head open. He, since then, sustained another bad fall and is considerably shaken up. We are pleased to note that he was somewhat better on Saturday.

'OLD DUFFER' IS LAURIER

R. R. Gamey Say Liberal Leader Is Ready to Hand Country Over to United States

St. Catharines, March 2.—The Lincoln County Conservative convention yesterday was the largest in attendance in many years. R. R. Gamey M.L.A., was the chief speaker. He paid occasion to remark that it was beginning to command some world-wide attention, the "old duffer" at its head was ready to hand the country over to the United States.

Resolutions of confidence in the country's naval policy were passed.

TOO LATE.

They Waited for the Emergency.

MILLIONS FOR WAR

Berlin, March 2.—According to the Lokal Anzeiger, the new German military bill involves an expenditure of about $250,000,000, spread over three or four years, and thereafter there will be an annual increase in the army budget of over $50,500,000.

The newspaper says a large part of the present expenditure will be devoted to building forts on the eastern frontier and that $25,000,000 will be used for new barracks.

The Vorwaerts covers its front page this morning with a protest to the German and French socialist parliamentarians against the heavy burdens of taxation proposed in Germany and France for military purposes.

"THE DEVIL'S THIRTEEN"

Is What the Catholic Register Calls Mayor Bradburn and Other Local Citizens.

The Catholic Register this week devotes considerable space to Peterborough people. It is the official organ of Roman hegrarchy in Ontario, and therefore expresses the opinions of the Church. Our contemporary says:

"They always have a "Devil's Thirteen" in Ontario. Those were on the platform at the P. P. A. meeting in Peterboro, when Burnham, Hincks, and Riddiford spoke. Mayor W. H. Bradburn, Joseph Jones, W. G. Mortow, A. F. Calder, Geo. Leader, Geo Foster, Chas. Crowe, James R. Davis, J. G. Graham, J. B. Brown, H. Morgan, B. McGill, W. Brown. Their fame will never fade.

A burglar broke into Parson Hincks' house Sunday night and after looking over his effects declined to bother with them. He was evidently seeking the only original Jesuit's Oath, which Mr. Hincks prizes were CSCFDSC FSCDFSCSC prizes very highly and will not allow anybody but himself to clap eyes on. All other anti-Popery valuables are safely stored in the Sentinel vault or loaned to J. H. Burnham, of Peterboro, for purpose of illumination.

The slander of the Hibernian Oath has been run to earth in Britain as conclusively as those of the Bishops and Jesuits' Oaths here. Mr. Devlin seems to have made the traducers swallow their whole vile charge completely. The Newfoundland plan, too, has helped, and now even the Sentinel is crawling on the Oath business. The bloody one of Orangeism still stands, however, and such vindicators of human liberty as J. H. B., o Peterboro, sleep complacently!

Mr. Gadsby says that Henry VIII once knighted a piece of beef and called it "Sir Lion." As founder of the Reformation, Henry also knighted a piece of land called England and called it Protestant. One job was about as meritorious as the other.

One of Hincks' high jinks at Peterboro is thus reported in the Times: He deplored the attacks of the Register on matters Protestant esdecially on Mr. Robert E. Speer. "I don't know," he said, "if you Protestants in Peterborough have a representative paper. If you have, I ask you to stand by the hero who wields his pen in behalf of free and indiscriminating journalism." Now, this Mr. Robert Speer has just been found guilty of traducing the Pope, a South American Archbishop, and the Catholic Church generally and has had to admit the crime and regret his disclosure of bogus documents. He has donethismuch, and by so much is he superior to Parson Hincks, who traduced the Jesuits, was proved a traducer, and still refused to admit the wrong he did the Catholic body or apologise to them. Now he wants a special organ in Peterboro to defend the Speers and the Hincks. As if the Sentinel were out of function! But such men are beneath contempt.

TAFT LEAVES WASHINGTON WITH A FORTUNE IN PRINCELY GIFTS

Elite of National Capital Await Arrival of Wilsons With Bated Breath, as a President Who Rides a Bicycle And a First Lady of the Land Who Dresses On a Mere $1,000 a Year Do Not Appeal to the Smart Set

Washington, March 2.—Although the Tafts' entertaining and incidental expenses made heavy inroads into the President's $75,000 yearly salary and it may be doubted if his bank account is any more plethoric than when he entered the White House, the family will take with them a small fortune in gifts presented during the past four years.

The value of the silver wedding anniversary remembrance has never been officially given, but it probably exceeds $100,000 and perhaps double that amount. Then there are the numerous gifts from municipalities, organizations and individuals. Finally comes the $25,000 diamond neck lace presented to Mr. Taft, with a $1,500 pearl stick pin for the President. Altogether the sum total represents probably as much as the Taft fortune when they came to Washington.

The $25,000 gift was the spontaneous offering of old friends. It was inspired by Mabel Boardman, whose regret at the passing of the Tafts is poignant. For years she has intimately associated with them, socially and officially in the Red Cross work. Four years ago they were guests at her home pending their removal to the White House.

Others on the committee of presentation were Mrs. Francis G. Newlands, Mrs. Nathaniel Francis, Mrs. Mrs. Henry C. Corbin, Anna Belle Maury, Mrs. Keekman Winthrop, Mrs. A. Garrison McClintock, Mrs. Horace Wescott and Mrs. Frank Ellis. The presentation took place at the White House on Friday, just before dinner and musicale that made the last large affair given by the Tafts memorable.

Washington is on tiptoe with expectancy as to the future policy of the White House. With the President riding a bicycle and Mrs. Wilson and her daughters devoting themselves to painting and sociology, and the mistress of the White House dressed on $1,000 a year, what will be the attitude of society?

Will it reflect toward the Wilsons the coldness with which they are apparently determined to treat it? Until the Roosevelts undertook to demonstrate that the first lady of the land should be recognized as the social leader, the White House has been out of it practically since the time of the Grants, with the exception of Mrs. Cleveland's regime. The work undertaken by Mrs. Roosevelt was carried on by Mrs. Taft, who made the White House the social centre.

Mrs. Wilson will find that she can do as she pleases. If she doesn't like society and doesn't entertain and go about as the Tafts and Roosevelts have done, society will find that it has other amusements and leaders and there will be a marked disposition to let the Wilsons strictly alone.

TORONTO SUFFRAGETTES HAVE FIRST PLACE AT WASHINGTON

Canadian Women Arrive in U. S Capital By Special Car--- Were Given a Good Reception

Special to The Times.

Washington, March 2.—A special car with the Toronto suffragettes arrived here to day and were given a big reception. They were met at the station by a large number of local women. They will represent Canada in the suffragette parade in connection with the inauguration ceremonies of President-elect Wilson, which will take place to-morrow. The car carried a full lengthy silk streamer bearing the words "Canadian Suffrage Association."

Canada in Front.

The Canadian delegation has been honored with a position at the head of the parade with the representatives from Great Britain and they have arranged to make an impressive showing. The contingent will be led by Flora Macdonald Latham, of Washington, a niece of Mrs. Denison, of Toronto, and the little girl will wear a costume literally decorated with Union Jacks.

Dr. Stowe Gullen and Mrs. Denison as special Canadian representatives will have seats on the platform.

TURKS ARE ON THE RUN

Greeks Win Another Decisive Battle, Killing Many

Athens, Greece, March 2.—Heavy losses were inflicted on a Turkish detachment which was routed yesterday by a Greek force near Molista to the north of the fortress of Janina, after a severe battle, according to despatches published here.

The fight is said to have lasted six hours and the Greeks declare that they buried on the field 112 Turks, including eight officers, beside taking 180 prisoners.

The Greek losses are given as "only four wounded," but independent observers here regard the story with some skepticism.

SUCCESSFUL MUSICALE AT THE CONSERVATORY

On Saturday afternoon over 400 art and music lovers of this city, attended the last and most successful of the series of Twilight Musicales, held under the auspices of the Woman's Art Association, in the Conservatory of Music Hall. The affair was charmingly informal, and a brilliant program was presented. Among those taking part in the entertainment, were the Conservatory Orchestra in "Home, Sweet Home," arranged by Parker, as played by different nations; "Largo," by Handel, and "The Shamrock," by Benedict. Miss Killmaster of Toronto, who recently was attached to the Conservatory staff, in sweet mezzo-soprano voice gave "Ave Maria," from Cavalleria Rusticana, and "Lieblings Platchen" by Mendlesshon, with "When the Swallows Homeward Fly," as an encore. Mr Kenneth Shook in good voice rendered the "Island of Dreams;" Mr. William Wilson gave an admirably played violin solo, "Legende" Wieniaski, while Mr Harold Clayton gave one of his inimitable readings, entitled "Sandy McGee."

NUGENT'S SARSAPARILLA—PRICE FOR large bottle, 100 full doses, 35c. and well worth it, too. It's better to take no medicine at all than to depend upon cheap concoctions that are compounded to sell at low price and a big profit just because there is a large demand for certain remedies at certain seasons of the year. There are so-called Sarsaparillas offered to us to sell to our customers at 75c a bottle that would bring us a larger profit than Nugent's Sarsaparilla sold at 35c. Nugent's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, arouses the torpid liver, drives out all impurities, cleanses and tones up the system, and helps Nature throw off the dullness that comes from indoor life of winter. It arouses energy, brightens the eye, clears the brain, gives lightness to the movements. Nugent's Sarsaparilla is not the only thing you will find in this drug store. We make a specialty of Nugent's Remedies. Nugent Drug Co., 386 George St., directly opposite Crossman's store.

RUSKIN PLACE

Right in the Heart of Ottawa's Manufacturing Area

At the Junction, Ottawa South

OWING to the fact that so many new industries are locating around Ruskin Place, an interesting calculation has been made of what an industry employing 1,000 hands means to a community. $90,000 would be spent in housing accommodation. The population would increase by 5,000. The assessment would be augmented by $600,000. Salaries would amount to $559,800. The construction of buildings of all kinds would be $2,000,000. The annual expenditures for foodstuffs would be $63,000 for meat, $96,000 for potatoes, $5,000 for sugar, $18,250 for milk, $65,700 for butter, $27,600 for eggs. All told the farmers of the district would gain $221,600. The amount spent for clothing would be $167,750. The expenses for taxes added to the cost of building construction will amount to $2,428,350.

The fine new $40,000 plant of the Bishoprick Wallboard Co., is now built at Ruskin Place. A second industry to employ 300 hands at its inception has already purchased the required land while a third guaranteeing to employ 1,000 hands is now negotiating for enough land to commence operations.

JUST THINK of the number of stores to be built there.

JUST THINK of the number of carpenters, bricklayers, stonemasons and other tradesmen altogether seperate from the number of employees in the different factories that will be needed to build homes for those who work there.

JUST THINK of the thousand and one different jobs of any and every kind that will spring up at Ruskin Place during the next few years and buy your homesite now so as to be one of the main few who got in on the ground floor.

RUSKIN PLACE offers one of the finest and best opportunities for speculation ever presented to the residents of Peterborough.

Lots at Ruskin Place are Now Selling at

$275, $300, and $375. 1/4 down, Balance 3, 6, 9 and 12 months

THE BULGAR ARMY AND ITS LEADER

Military Genius Long Foreseen Struggle With the Ottoman and Laid His Plans Accordingly

General Savoff of the Balkan army, to whose brilliant generalship was due the crushing defeat of the Turkish forces at the hands of the allied troops of Balkan States, is a product of the Russian school, although he also studied in France and Italy. In the war of 1885 he played a brilliant part, and when the Bulgarian Cabinet resigned in 1903 Savoff was appointed Minister of War. It was then that his genius for organization became apparent, for the modern Bulgarian army, which proved such a splendid fighting machine is he creation of Savoff, and was built up in the past decade.

For some time he combined the office of War Minister and Chief of Staff, but four or five years ago he left the Ministry and went to Paris on a special, secret mission. There he spent several years, and it is supposed that in those years he conferred with military representatives of other powers as to the strategy to be employed in the war with Turkey that was then recognised as inevitable.

Bulgaria has a system of universal military service. Every able-bodied youth in the land is liable for military service, either for two or three years, the longer period being for the mounted troops. After this period he becomes a member of the reserve, and for 16 or 18 years is called upon to put in three weeks' annual training. He then becomes a member of the territorial army, and up to the age of 46 serves a week each year at the manoeuvres. By this system a country whose population is not much more than half that of Canada was able to put an army of 375,000 in the field with 150,000 reservists ready and available to fill up gaps when and where needed.

THE SUFFRAGETTES

We do not think that the militant suffragettes should be treated like ordinary criminals and allowed to starve to death. Rather should they be treated as ordinary lunatics, confined in institutions, and scientifically treated, with the hope that they might get over it some day. Their recent actions clearly prove them mentally deranged and unsafe to be at large. Professing to be the real friends of a good cause, they have done more harm than all its enemies could do it in a century. Surely their insanity is clearly proven?

COUNTRY OR PARTY?

To most thinking men the political situation at Ottawa is the cause of much unpleasant reflection. It makes them wonder whether there is more than one member of the Liberal Party patriotic enough to sink party expediency below the interests of the country, or who is independent enough to rebel against the misuse of Parliamentary procedure for the purpose of blocking legislation and thwarting the people's will, and whether the average member of Parliament realizes that the blocking and delaying of progressive legislation is in reality a form of theft and an abuse of the privileges of their office, and an alienation of the peoples' rights.

At the present moment we have two parties agreed that some form of naval contribution is necessary and desirable, but because they differ on the form which that gift is to take the Liberal Party is resorting to any subterfuge or scheme calculated to delay the passing of the Bill.

Every day devoted by Parliament to this question will cost the country this question will cost the country many thousands of dollars and as further discussion is unnecessary and useless such money will be absolutely wasted. Every further day that Parliament discusses the Naval Bill means the loss of another day for the discussion of other Bills which are not desirable but essential for the country's welfare.

Every day the members of the Liberal party take up in further discussion of the Naval Bill delays the passing of the ten million dollar grant to agriculture, the passing of Good Roads Legislation, of any Bill to create a Tariff Commission, or indeed of any progressive legislation relative to the safe-guarding of the interests and the health and welfare of the community.

The blocking therefore of a bill before Parliament where the Government has an undoubted majority thrown upon the Liberal Party the whole responsibility for the checking of advanced legislature and wasting of public funds It places them in the position of taking from in the position of taking from the Public Treasury an honourarium which is supposedly given to members for their aid in advancing legislation without giving any services therefore and it puts the country to an immense useless expenditure which could be much more wisely spint in a thousand different ways.

Had Stomach Rumblings Distress Before Meals

WAS SELDOM FREE FROM THAT WEARY, DROOPY, HALF DEAD FEELING.

Now Cured, and Gives Good Advice to Others With Dyspeptic Tendencies.

If you have any stomach distress at all you will certainly be interested in the following experience which is told by Mr. Edward Dawkins:

"When I was working around the farm last winter I had an attack of inflammation," writes Mr. E. P. Dawkins, of Port Richmond "I was weak for a long time but well enough to work until spring But something went wrong with my bowels, for I had to use salt or physic all the time. My stomach kept sour and always after eating there was pain and fullness and all the symptoms of intestinal indigestion. Nothing helped me until I used Dr. Hamilton's Pills Instead of hurting, like other pills, they acted very mildly, and seemed to heal the bowels. I did not require large doses to get results with Dr. Hamilton's Pills, and feel so glad that I have found a mild yet certain remedy. To-day I am well no pain, no sour stomach, a good appetite, able to digest anything. This is a whole lot of good for one medicine to do, and I can say Dr. Hamilton's Pills are the best pills, and my letter I am sure, proves it."

Refuse a substitute. Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut, 25c per box or five for $1.00 at all druggists and storekeepers, or post paid from the Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

TRUANT CHILDREN

(Editor Morning Times)

Sir,—I see that a boy of 12 years attending a Toronto school, has been a chronic and persistent truant. As the boy is bright his teachers tried all in their power to persuade the lad to stick to his classes, but in vain. Some months ago Dr. Doherty dental school inspector, hearing about the boy, took a special interest in his case. The doctor found that the lad was suffering great inconvenience from a chronic abscess below one of his teeth. This abscess was treated, and ever since the boy has attended school regularly and is advancing rapidly. Is there not a possible suggestion in this case for the local School Board?

LOSES LITTLE FINGER

A few days ago, as Mr. W. Rudkins of this city, the successful Industrial Commissioner of Lindsay, was coming down from Toronto with Mr. Flavelle, in the parlor car, he sustained an accident whereby the little finger of his left hand was partly cut off. It seems that the conductor let the car door slam as Mr. Rudkins was leaving. The door nipped the finger, cutting it off at the first joint.

WHO WILL MARRY PRINCE OF WALES?

Only a Limited Number of Eligible Princesses From Which a Choice Can be Made

It is the habit of Royalty to mate early, and that is why the match makers are already discussing the matrimonial possibilities for the Prince of Wales. That Edward is the most desirable "catch" in the world, even apart from his heirship to the British throne, is a point that has been brought out in the discussion, but his rank removes him from all calculations respecting ladies not of Royal blood. There have been cases of Royal British princesses being married to other than princes, as, for example, the Marquis of Lorne and the Duke of Fife, but while such matches were extremely popular, it is not likely that the heir to the British throne would be permitted to wed one of his fair countrywomen, since he will be expected to marry for reasons of State rather than for reasons of sentiment. This is not to intimate that Royal marriages are not the result of affection, for very often they are true romances, but the love match is merely incidental, and while it is not likely that a Royal pair would be thrust into a union absolutely hateful to them, neither would they be permitted to let their fancy rove where it pleased from cottage to castle.

The Czar's Daughter

There are two princesses whose names naturally occur as filling all the conditions necessary for a marriage with the heir to the British throne. One is the Grand Duchess Olga of Russia, the eldest daughter of the Czar; the other is the Princess Victoria Louise of Germany, the only daughter of the Kaiser. The Princess Olga is about the same age as the Prince of Wales, and is said to be a very pretty girl, though not such a beauty as her mother. It is thought that a match between this pair would be very gratifying to both the Dowager Empress of Russia and the Queen-Mother Alexandra. From a political point of view it is believed that the match would be approved by the present Government, but opposed by the Unionists, who have no great fancy for further Russian alliances. The King and Queen, too, it is hinted by those who are supposed to know, would not be favorably inclined, though it is not expected that they would actually oppose anything decided on by the Government. It is only natural, however, that in the matter of this sort the wishes of King George and Queen Mary would have especial weight.

The Kaiser's Only Daughter

As regards the German princess, it is said that as she has been brought up with a family of brothers, who are all supposed to be anti-English, the young people would not likely be congenial. Moreover, there are political objections to still further Germanising the British Crown. That such a union would do much to wipe out the existing relations between the two countries, which are far from being as cordial as might be desired, is claimed by those approving this match. It is doubtful, however, if these hopes would be realized by a marriage alone, for it is to be borne in mind that the situation with regard to Germany and Britain has developed with the grandson of Queen Victoria, the nephew of King Edward, and the cousin of King George, on the German throne, and of the Kaiser's deep affection for his grandmother there never has been any question.

A Roumanian Princess

Another charming princess against whom there could be no political objections is the Princess Elizabeth of Roumania. This princess is the daughter of the Crown Prince and Crown Princess of Roumania and granddaughter of the Duke of Edinburgh, who later became Duke of Saxe-Cobourg and Gotha. She has been brought up in English fashion, and her mother, "Carmen Sylva," is undoubtedly one of the most popular of the Royalties that visit England, which is the land of her birth. A union between the Roumanian and the British crowns could hardly be of great advantage from a political point of view, but, on the other hand, it would be free from the objections that might be urged against a match with either the Russian or the German princess. Princess Maud of Fife, the youngest daughter of the Princess Royal, is a lovely girl, and is mentioned among the eligibles, though she is the first cousin to the Prince of Wales.

Must be a Protestant

The British Constitution debars the Prince of Wales from marrying a Roman Catholic, although it does not prevent English princesses from taking Roman Catholic husbands, as was the case with the Princess Ena, who became the Queen of Spain, and abandoned her religion. In the case of the bride of the Prince of Wales it would not be enough for her to change her religion. She must have been born and brought up a Protestant, though it does not matter what Protestant sect or denomination she has been a member of.

RAILWAY ACROSS THE SAHARA

The dormant project of a railway across the Sahara has been actively revived. A French commission charged with the task of ascertaining the most favorable route landed at Algiers, and proceeded to the southern terminus of the present South Oran Railway, Colomb-Bechar, whence a march across the desert was undertaken. The party was led by Capt. Nieger, of the colonial infantry.

The tentative plan for the railway contemplates a line south from Algiers, branching at some point not yet selected; one branch to proceed via Timbuctu to Senegal, the other to Lake Chad.—Scientific American.

Many Reasons Why Liquid Cough Mixtures Can't Cure Bronchitis

But the Healing Fumes of Catarrhozone, Which Are Breathed to the Farther Recesses of the Bronchial Tubes, Bring Quick Relief and Sure Cure.

Every sufferer from coughs, colds, bronchitis and all throat and chest ailments needs a soothing, healing, medicine which goes direct to the breathing organs in the chest and lungs attack the trouble at the source disperses the germs of disease, and cures the ailments thoroughly. And this medicine is "Catarrhozone."

The germ-killing balsamic vapor mixes with the breath, descends through the throat, down the bronchial tubes, and finally reaches the deepest air cells in the lungs. All parts are soothed with rich, pure medicinal essences, whereas with a syrup the affected parts could not be reached, and harm would result through benumbing the stomach with drugs.

"I have been a chronic sufferer from catarrh in the nose and throat for over eight years. I think I have spent four hundred dollars trying to get relief. I have spent but six dollars on Catarrhozone, and have been completely cured, and in fact have been well for some time. Catarrhozone is the only medicine I have been able to find that would not only give temporary relief but will always cure permanently. Yours sincerely. (Signed) WILLIAM RAGAN, Brockville, Ont.

For absolute, permanent cure, use Catarrhozone. Two months' outfit costs $1.00, smaller size 50c, at all storekeepers and druggists, or The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y. and Kingston, Canada.

PREPARING FOR GRAND SUFFRAGE PAGEANT AT THE INAUGURATION OF WOODROW WILSON

COSTUME DESIGNED FOR THE WASHINGTON PARADE — MRS. PATRICIA M. STREET

Mrs. Patricia M. Street, of Sydney, N. S. W., will be a leading figure in the woman suffrage pageant which will be held in Washington on March 3. The color scheme and costuming will be an important factor in this parade.

All the persons participating in the event will be included in the scheme. The first costumes will be in dark purple, which will shade down gradually to a pale blue and then to a dull white.

Mrs. Street emphasized the fact that Mrs. Glennon Smith Tinnin was responsible for the pageant, while Miss Hazel MacKaye would be the sponsor for the tableaux to be performed on the steps of the Treasury Building as the procession passes.

UNGAVA'S RESOURCES

Too Rocky and Cold For Most Cereals But Canadian Barley Can be Grown

To the [illegible] the peninsula [illegible] the territory of Ungava [illegible] northern portion of Quebec by a line drawn from Hopedale Inlet on the coast of Labrador to the mouth of the Eastmaine River in Hudson's Bay with slight deviations to follow the course of the Hamilton River and the Eastmaine River. The area of the district is about 355,000 square miles, and does not include the strip along the Atlantic coast which is under the jurisdiction of Newfoundland.

Ungava is a large rolling plateau, from 1000 to 2000 feet in height, except in the north part, where it becomes somewhat lower. The soil is generally sandy, except in the middle of the peninsula. Where it becomes much better, and is, in fact, possible for agriculture. Beyond the northern timber limits small shrubs and plants grow. Fairly good vegetables and potatoes can be grown along the Eastmaine River and at Hamilton Inlet, and here and there oats and barley can be produced; but the country will never be an agricultural country; it is too cold; the soil is not suited to cereal crops, and there are no areas which could be called prairie land. Rocky, rough country is a fair description of Ungava. The climate is moderately cold even in summer time, the tree land stops short at a line drawn between Richmond Gulf and the Leaf River, which runs into Ungava Bay. White and black spruce, tamaracks and a few birch are to be found. Towards the head of Hamilton inlet there is some good timber suitable for ships' masts. There is valuable timber in the valleys of all the rivers running into Hamilton Inlet. The strips of timber country are confined mainly to the streams in belts of half a mile to a mile on each side. There is some difference of opinion as to the value of the timber, but experienced lumbermen say that if it is only properly preserved it will be very valuable, and that the Hamilton River country will in time be one of the most famous timber districts in Canada. Extensive areas of timber are burnt up [illegible] fishermen and settlers [illegible] fires in the summer to dry [illegible] winter use. These fires extend over large areas and many thousands of miles of valuable forest have been burned in its present condition, Ungava is not a poor man's land, since means of communication are so bad, and the climate is not available for growing the necessities of life with any certainty, at all events on an economical scale.

KING AT BREAKFAST

Interesting Facts About the Morning Meal at Buckingham Palace

Breakfast at Buckingham Palace is now a family meal. In the late reign both King Edward and Queen Alexandra took breakfast in their private apartments, but King George and Queen Mary come downstairs to their morning meal, and are joined by the Princess Mary and the Prince of Wales, and the Princes George and Henry, when the latter are at Buckingham Palace. The other two princes take their breakfast in a room off the Royal school-room.

Breakfast is served usually either in the Bow Room or Chinese Room on the first floor. There are also one or two other rooms where it is occasionally served. Their Majesties signify to the Master of the Household overnight the room in which they desire to breakfast, and the Master communicates the order to the House Steward.

Two sideboards and a round table have to be put into the room chosen by their Majesties, and these are removed at once after breakfast.

Breakfast is served at 9 a.m. The service used is a white porcelain one, with a gold band, and each piece bears a Royal crown and a monogram underneath it. The dishes generally used are part of a very massive silver breakfast service, which was a wedding-present from the Empress of Germany to Queen Mary.

In the centre of the table is placed a massive silver flower-bowl, filled with white and pink flowers.

Porridge made from the finest meal always forms part of the breakfast menu. It is served in silver bowls. Fruit is another feature of the Royal breakfast. Bananas, grapes, melons, hot-house peaches, and apples are among the fruits regularly served. Frequently the King breakfasts off porridge and fruit.

When the breakfast dishes have been placed on the table the servants leave the room, and do not remain in attendance to wait at table, as they do at other meals.

The ladies and gentlemen of the Household who are "in waiting" breakfast together in the Household dining-room. The Household breakfast is served half an hour earlier than the Royal breakfast. This is done so that the secretaries may go through the morning mail whilst the King and Queen are at breakfast, and have the vast volume of correspondence sorted and arranged for their Majesties' inspection and attention directly breakfast is over.

When a foreign monarch is staying at Buckingham Palace, breakfast is, of course, served in the State dining-room, and the meal is then of a much more ceremonious character.

The whole Royal party assemble at 9 a.m. in the Bow Room, and the King with the visiting Sovereign's consort, and the Queen, with the visiting monarch, lead the way to the State dining-room, and are followed by the members of their respective households.

The German Emperor customarily eats a heartier breakfast than any other foreign Royalty, and he is the only European monarch who drinks tea at breakfast.

The King of Spain drinks chocolate and a cup of chocolate and some wheatmeal biscuits form the Spanish monarch's usual morning-meal. The King and Queen of Norway both drink coffee at breakfast, and the King of Norway never eats anything at breakfast but a little fruit. The Tsar's breakfast usually consists of thin, dry toast and thick cream, followed by a small cup of black coffee.

VALUABLE LAND WITHOUT OWNER

That areas of valuable freehold building land in an English agricultural county should be apparently unowned does not appear very probable at first sight, but the fact remains that in one of the most productive areas of Hampshire, and in the heart of a rapidly growing urban district there are now several plots.

Fleet, a small town within a few miles of Aldershot, with a population of 3,500, has greatly developed of late years, and five or six years ago two or three of the principal streets were "made up" by the urban district council under the Private Street Works Act. The cost was apportioned to the frontages, but in a number of instances the owners of vacant plots of land could not be be traced.

The amounts apportioned to them were entered in the council's books, and there they remained ever since, unpaid, and with little likelihood of the owners appearing to make payment. The council therefore erected notice-boards on at least five plots of land in different parts of the town, informing the owners, known or unknown, that unless the sums due are paid the land will be sold. In two or three cases the charge only amounts to about $20 while the land is in some instances worth $5,000.

SERVIA'S CAPITAL

Bright Colors Seen on Every Side But Little Civic Enterprise

An interesting glimpse of Belgrade, the capital of Servia, is given by Lady Jephson, who in the "Evening Standard" wrote that she found the combination of gorge, rock, river and mountain of the Balkans not unlike Scotland. In Servia's chief city Lady Jephson put up at what proved to be a "tenth-rate hotel," where sleep was impossible.

"A wash and breakfast in the courtyard somewhat restored our spirits. The bread and butter and fruit were excellent and the scenes about us novel and amusing. Facing our hotel lay the market place, and under stumpy trees sat the market folk surrounded by their wares. Tomatoes, capers, horse-radish, pumpkins, melons, pears, and apples lay in temping heaps—a pathetic contrast in their freshness and beauty of coloring to the wrinkled old women who sold them!—meat and bread were on wooden stalls, and Servian ladies bargained and bought in captivating costumes of velvet jackets with wide hanging sleeves over muslin chemisettes, and little scarlet cloth caps fastened to the backs of their heads by a braid of hair.

"But not only ladies in Servia dress well; the clothes of peasants are picturesque in the extreme, and women young and old wear beautifully worked aprons of scarlet, yellow, and blue, whilst gay handkerchiefs bind their heads. To look their best—and the Servian is a handsome creature—in cream-colored bloomers and shirts, zouave jackets, leggings, and sandals; whilst the sash knotted at one side gives a finishing touch to what is a charming dress.

"Streets in Belgrade are paved with stones and very ill-kept. The ab normally heavy rains carry all before them, uprooting stones and washing away pavements. Nothing, in fact, can stand against their force. Most of the houses are yellow-washed and severely plain. Shops carry outward and visible signs of their trades on their shutters, rows of hanging boots marking the abode of a shoemaker, and bright colored rugs adorning a carpet seller's shop. Belgrade streets, indeed, present a wealth of color, to be found in few other capital cities. There is, for example, the soft green of the pepper trees, the red, yellow and blue of the peasant, ecclesiastic, and military dress, the cream of the bullocks, the grey and black of herds of goats, and the yellow washed walls on either hand.

"Outside Belgrade lies a glorious avenue of trees, and not far off the King's park and country seat. Servian country is undulating, well wooded, and beautiful—extremely like English scenery in character."

HIS IDEAL WIFE

Japanese Author's Six Conditions Which Bride Had to Fulfil

Mr. Ichiba, a well-known Japanese author, celebrated, under remarkable conditions, his second marriage. His first wife died less than a year ago, and the mourning spouse immediately set about finding another partner.

He commissioned all his friends to keep their eyes open for him, and gave a standing order to the various matrimonial agencies in Tokio to report immediately any likely candidate for the honors of being the second Mrs Ichiba. He laid down six primary conditions which the successful candidate would have to fulfil. They were:—

The lady must have passed through all the various conditions of life and the various phases of society, from A to Z, as only by ripe experience can perfection be attained.

Except the clothes she could stand up in she should have no worldly possessions whatsoever.

She must be severed from her family entirely.

She must contract to keep the kitchen and bathroom absolutely spick and span and ready for instant use.

Her style of hairdressing must be strictly Japanese—no foreign frills, pads or switches to be permitted.

She must stand five feet high and her limbs and body be "of a proper plumpness"—as to face, features, and other points, these were not to matter.

As might be expected, Mr. Ichiba had considerable difficulty in finding his Juliet, and looked over forty-seven candidates before being satisfied with a young lady of twenty-eight. The wedding was private in every sense of the word—only the two contracting parties being present. Over two cups of saké they performed their own ceremony and then announced their marriage to their friends.

"BUY CANADIAN-MADE GOODS"

The above maxim is one that should seriously be considered by each and every Canadian citizen, for it is one of great moment and importance to the condition and welfare any country seeks to attain. The result of purchasing abroad goods and materials which can be supplied at home is strikingly displayed by government statistics, which form sufficient evidence to prove that Canada is not in the position it should command through its trade and commerce. To purchase beyond the country's means will in time cause results of a noticeable character and this is being done at present at a rate, unsatisfactory to Canadian industry. Money expended in this way must cause a reaction sooner or later, and the credit of the country must naturally be impaired as in the case of any individual who spends beyond his means. Expenditure must be concentrated and made in the country in which it is earned, before the effect of original earnings will accumulate. In purchasing goods abroad, Canadian raw material and labor must naturally become less desirable. Attached to such a condition of affairs are unsatisfactory labor conditions, poorer grades of material and other accumulated effects. It is clearly the duty of patriotic citizens of Canada to build up a country where money can be secured at any time it is desired but with expenditures being made outside, no security can be given and conditions must decline.—The Wainwright Star.

SCENES OF UNUSUAL INTEREST IN THE PRESENT FIGHTING IN MEXICO'S CAPITAL

EXCITED CROWDS IN STREETS OF MEXICO CITY

Picture an open square—the centre of the centre of a populous capital, bounded on the north and south sides by massive stone buildings of the heavy Spanish type of architecture surrounding the big arsenal. Put here some two thousand trained soldiers. Provide them with more than half the artillery of Mexico and practically an inexhaustible supply of ammunition.

Put this artillery under the command of an expert who is an inventor of ordnance devices—General Mondragon. For two or three blocks on every side place machine guns, commanding the street crossings. Then in a great circle, of the diameter of a mile, with the arsenal as a centre, place batteries of heavy artillery.

Then start the heavy guns of the Arsenal square and those of the attacking batteries to bombarding with shot and shell. Remember all the time the crowded construction of Spanish cities, with houses jammed against houses.

Force some 5,000 men, waging war, into this district. Get this picture clearly in mind and some idea what has been passing in Mexico City since February 11 may be obtained.

In the above photographs are shown a street scene in the Mexican capital as it looks to-day, the American Embassy, which is in the zone of fire; the U. S. S. Nebraska, which has been ordered to proceed to Mexico, and Henry Lane Wilson, Ambassador to Mexico, who is aiding the Americans there who have been forced to flee from their homes.

TURKISH RULE ALWAYS A CURSE

The provinces which now compose Asiatic Turkey have had a stirring history; but in the main it was a history of prosperity. They were prosperous under Babylonian, Median and Persian rulers. They were prosperous under the Greek, under the Roman, under the Byzantine Empire, under the Arabian caliphs. They were prosperous until the Turk came, and then their prosperity ended.

The Turk is the locust plague of history.

Asiatic Turkey includes one of the richest districts of the world, in Western Asia Minor. Thirty centuries ago the Greeks had made this region a garden. Earlier than that, perhaps, the kings of Troy held sway there. The second greatest library of the ancient world was located in a Greek city on this coast. Half adozen splendid cities arose on the rich plains.

Now only one city of importance is left, and that is maintained by Greeks, whose industry even Turkish tyranny has not quite availed to destroy.

Asiatic Turkey includes Palestine and Phœnicia. It includes the sites of Babylon and Nineveh. It includes Damascus and Bagdad. It embraces regions of considerable mineral wealth and vast provinces of wonderful fertility. But wealth and fertility count for little under the sway of the Turk.

Churchyard Cross Removed

Much indignation was aroused in the Coalisland district of Ireland by the removal from the gate of Clonoe Catholic graveyard of a large iron cross erected there a century ago.

CHEERS IN ALL TONGUES

Bennet Burleigh, the well known war correspondent, says that the Bulgarian cheer sounds very much like an English "hurrah" except that English people usually pronounce it "hurray." The Bulgarian cheer is "Oorrah," with no initial "H" and with an indefinite prolongation of the "ah." The Russian cheer is the same. It is the Slav variety of the Teutonic "Hurrah," used not only by the English but also by the Germans, Swedes, Danes, and others. But its use is wider and more frequent in the Slav than in the Teutonic countries.

In Germany "three cheers for the Kaiser" means not three hurrahs, but three times "Hoch!" (literally "High"). In Russia or Bulgaria "three cheers for the Czar" means three times "Oorrah!" The Servian cheer is different. They usually shout "Zhivio" which is the equivalent to the French "Vive!" the Italian "Viva!" and the Hungarian "Eljen!"

Result of a Spree

At Kilkelly, Ireland, a man named Thomas Cannors was prosecuted for cruelty to a cow and calf. Cannors, who lived by himself, left his house and went to England on a drunken spree, leaving the animals locked in a dwelling-house at home. He did not return for ten days. He stated that in consequence of his mother's death a short time ago he was very much upset. He went to the fair of Ballinhaderreen, where he got drunk. The magistrate took pity on him, advised him to get married, and let him off with a fine of 40 cents.

Ancestor of the Stewart Dynasty

A movement was started by the Edinburgh West Lothian Association, in conjunction with the Stewart Society, for the purpose of raising a national memorial to Walter, Lord High Steward of Scotland, whose wife, the Princess Marjory, daughter of Robert the Bruce, was the mother of the boy who ultimately ascended the Throne of Scotland as Robert II. and first of the Royal House of Stewart. The promoters express the hope that something worthy of the heroic son-in-law of Bruce, and one of Scotland's noblest, yet least remembered heroes be erected.

THE OLDEST MUSEUM

It is Located in Japan and Has Existed Hundreds of Years

Dr. Otto Kummel, head of the East Asiatic department of the Berlin Museum of Ethnology, tells of the oldest museum in the world, in the bulletin of the Societe Franco-Japonaise. This museum may be found in the city of Nara, the former capital of Japan. Since its foundation in 756 it went through all the changes of the Japanese empire without one single addition to its collection. Dr. Otto Kummel is one of the few Europeans who were permitted to visit this museum. It opens its door but once a year, on a day in spring, when a special committee inspects the collection, and a new list is made out. The museum contains about 3,000 articles.

A Vicar's Simple Life

The late Vicar of Little Maplestead, the Rev. J. F. Harwood, who died in his 94th year, was hardly less interesting than the curious old structure of which he was the proud custodian. He lived "the simple life" for nearly 60 years in a thatched cottage, which he rented for $25 a year, upon a stipend of $5.00 a week. And although he had been educated at Eton and Cambridge, and traced his descent from Hereward the Wake, he never complained about "clerical poverty."

A CHELSEA MYSTERY

Aged Recluse Had His House Screened From Prying Eyes

One of the romances and mysteries of London life is recalled by the publication of the will of Dr. John Samuel Phene, the recluse and scholar. Dr. Phene died some months ago at the age of eighty-nine and he left an estate of over $150,000. For many years Dr. Phene lived alone with two housekeepers and four men, the latter coming daily to their work.

Among the numerous properties he owned was the house of mystery at the corner of Upper Cheyne row. Many were the stories about this house which was boarded up so that none should even see into the garden. For years it has been silent and empty, and this gave rise to a story that a love affair that never ripened into matrimony was the cause of the doctor's curious ways. This story, however was probably untrue, as Dr Phene married. His marriage was not a happy one, however, and he lived apart from his wife, who died in Paris in the seventies.

The will contained directions for the writing of an illustrated biography of his life and travels and he made handsome provision for his faithful servants.

PERILOUS BOATING

British Sailor Unsuccessful in Projected Trip to Stockholm

William Westlake, a London seaman, who attempted to sail from Dover, England, to Stockholm in an eighteen foot outrigger boat, had to put in at Dunkirk after being buffeted and nearly swamped by a succession of gales which set in shortly after he started his perilous trip. It was with the utmost difficulty that he prevented his boat from sinking in the heavy seas that were running, being constantly engaged in bailing out water. After many hours of this perilous experience, during which the lonely voyager was at the mercy of the wind and sea and lost all he had in his little craft, he sighted a lightship. He succeeded in getting alongside this vessel, which proved to be the Sandettie lightship, about half way between Dover and Ostend. Under the lee of the lightship Westlake rode out the storm in his small boat, and when the weather moderated he renewed his voyage and reached the little port of Gravelines in a very exhausted condition. After resting there for a day he continued his voyage, but was again compelled to take refuge in Dunkirk, where he learned of the anxiety as to his safety, and abandoned the trip.

FAMOUS STAMP COLLECTIONS

Lord Crawford's Was One of the Most Extensive in the World

Stamp dealers in all parts of the world are discussing the sale to a London dealer of the bulk of Lord Crawford's great collection. What he sold was probably one of the finest collections of foreign stamps in the world, and what he retains includes the finest collection of United States stamps, and a collection of British stamps second to that of King George alone. Before the sale Lord Crawford's collection was the finest that the expenditure of unlimited money and the research of half a lifetime ever accumulated, with the possible exception of the collection of Count Phillipe la Renetiere, said to be worth about $5,000,000. Lord Crawford's collection of United States stamps, however, was unrivaled, and no matter what amount a collector might be willing to spend in the effort, he could not dupilicate the collection because of the peculiar circumstances in which some of the unique specimens were obtained.

BULL-FIGHTER'S ROMANCE

"The Little Bombshell" as a Lady-killer And all Round Sport

The sensation of the day throughout Spain is the news that the most celebrated bull-fighter in the country, known as El Bombita, or "the little bombshell," who received $2,500 for every fight in which he appeared, and now possesses a fortune exceeding $1,000,000, has carried off a beautiful senorita, who has fled with him from Malaga. Bombita does not resemble the old fashioned type of bull-fighter. He speaks French fluently, knows a little English, wears a frock coat, and dresses elegantly, always stays at the leading hotels and frequents the best society, possesses motor-cars and is, generally speaking, more a dandy than a bull-fighter.

The parents of the lady have begun judicial proceedings, and the judge in charge of the case has sent telegrams all over Spain ordering the detention of the bull-fighter and the young lady, but the people in general believe that the romance will end to the sound of wedding bells.

ARE MEN THE WEAKER SEX?

An English college professor expresses the conviction that women are gaining the muscular supremacy over the men. He attributes this to their taking a more active interest in outdoor sports, while the men are becoming indolent in that respect, and prefer being spectators to participants in athletic exercises. With their admitted superiority in all the arts and graces, including fluency of expression, and to add to this physical predominance, there seems to be little left for mere man but to plod unostentatiously along in the ranks of the producers, and continue to pass up his gross earnings to his mental and physical superior every Saturday.

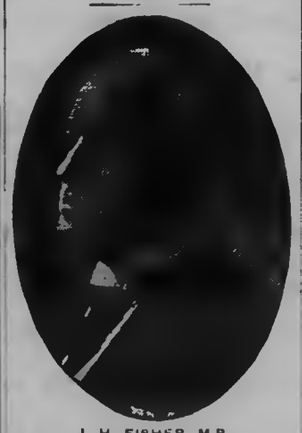
COMMUNAL LIFE IN THE BALKANS

Family Rather Complicated Affair—Many Relatives Under One Roof

In the Balkans the family constitutes an association, a clan, a community known as the zadruga. There the people live to a great age and in the zadrugas are often found great-grandfathers and still more antique relations sharing the same roof with babes and sucklings and the intervening generations.

Family ties are very strong among Slav nations. Parents are treated with the utmost veneration, and a Servian saying is that a man is only half a man till he marries.

The zadruga is the collection under one roof of an entire tribe. In the first place this was no doubt the father in command of his family, but the children have married and settled at home, until perhaps at last the chief may be only a distant relation of some of them. The head of the zadruga is chosen by election. He keeps all the money of the clan, makes all the purchases, and nothing can be done without his consent.



This scheme of life, of course, has its disadvantages, for imagine the army of mothers-in-law, and sisters-in-law, all with very voluble tongues, packed into one building! Needless to say, when the tribe numbers nearly 100 persons the building is of considerable size.

However living is very cheap in the community on account of the co-operation, people are safeguarded against poverty, and nursed in illness by others of their clan. Practically all necessities of life can be produced in a large country zadruga. Linen is woven on hand looms, woolen clothes are manufactured entirely at home, carpets are likewise made; indeed nothing is bought but a few groceries, such as sugar.

In well-to-do families the food is excellent, sucking pigs being a very favorite dish. Chicken is also to be found on most menus, but, strangely enough, the drumstick is the tit-bit.

A housewife in the Balkans is up betimes in the morning, and it is marvelous to think what she can get through during the day. She does the housework, the cooking, makes the clothes, first spinning and weaving them, knits socks and stockings, milks the cows, makes the cheese, does the washing, besides nursing the sick. Some of them even cultivate the land as well.

In spite, or perhaps because, of all this, a woman is of small account. At meal times she lays the table, waits on the men, and does not venture to sit down till later, when she finishes up the scraps. When men visit the house the women kiss their hands. Still more humiliating is the fact that when a boy is born the rejoicings are unbounded, whereas whenever a girl comes into the world the mother weeps. Indeed, in Montenegro until recent times they went so far as to allow a man to divorce his wife unless she bore him sons.

THE BLACK BEAN CLUB

One Member a Year Gets Married and is Given a Free House

A fantastic club was discovered in London by "La Revue." This is the Black Bean Club, limited to forty members, each of whom pays an entrance fee of $50, and a similar amount as annual subscription. They meet only twice a year, and then a bag is passed round containing thirty-nine white beans and one black one. The member who picks the black bean is compelled to get married within the ensuing twelve months, and the remainder solemnly vow to remain single until the next meeting. A house is furnished for the prospective bridegroom out of the funds of the club, which also bears the cost of the wedding festivities and of a three weeks' honeymoon.

MANY PRINCES IN FIELD

Balkan Royal Personages Take More Chances Than Others

The number of princes of Royal blood who took to the field at the outbreak of the Turko-Balkan war constitutes a record in modern history. It is quite in keeping with the mediaevalism which still lingers in the Balkans that this should be the case.

Modern practice is against the presence of kings with their troops in war; too much depends on the chance bullet. In the Russo-Japanese conflict the Russian grand ducal personages engaged took a very minor part in the war.

England gave a prince of the blood to the South African War and a soldier's grave. The Duke of Connaught was in the Egyptian War and the late Duke of Cambridge did doughty deeds at Inkerman. But the tragedy of the prince imperial proved a deterrent to royal adventures of this kind. Governments shun such risks.

ST. PATRICK IS CLAIMED

Anglican in Doctrine, Presbyterian in Position, and Baptist in Practice

Dr. Sullivan delivered a notable sermon on the "Life and Teachings of St. Patrick." Dr. Sullivan argued that he was Anglican in doctrine, Presbyterian in position, and Baptist in practice.

Speaking on the gospel by St. Patrick, the speaker said that in the light of his confessions and his "Armour" there was no sacrifice of the Mass, no confession to priests, no praying to anyone but God and Christ, and no doctrine of purgatory. "I do not blame the Catholics for claiming St. Patrick," said the preacher, "but the Protestants of Ireland have, in my opinion, more right to claim him and honor his memory than have our Roman Catholic friends."

STRUCK BY A FLYING BLADE

Italian Aviator Met Death in an Extraordinary Manner

Signor Jughetti, an Italian Aviator, was killed at Rome by an extraordinary accident. He was dissatisfied with the working of the propellor of his machine, and placed upon the shaft six supposedly steel blades.

Starting the motor at high speed, he stood nearby to watch the effect. One of the blades, which proved to be of cast iron, snapped, and flying through the air, struck Jughetti, killing him instantly.

Having been in use for the last 375 years, Shenfield (Essex) churchyard is nearly full.

Didn't Have Doctor Until Eighty-eight

It was stated at an Islington inquest on Mary Toms that she never needed a doctor for illness until she reached the age of eighty-eight.

HE FELT IT.

"Football!" cried the old gentleman with the rubicund countenance, "is a sin and a disgrace. Football," he continued, thumping the table with his fist, "is an abomination and a blot on civilisation. The very name of football," he shouted, sweeping the flowers vase off the table in his excitement—"the very name of football is enough to make a decent, respectable man get and 'ang hisself out of pure disgust!'

"The gentleman seems to feel rather deeply on the subject," said a commercial traveller, who had been listening to his remarks.

"He do," assented one of the natives. "Has he lost something at a match?" inquired the commercial.

"He 'ave so. 'Ad a relative killed at one," replied the other oracularly.

What relative was it?" asked the querist.

"'Is wife's first 'usband!" was the response.

Fire on Woodbine Avenue.

Yesterday the fire brigade had a run shortly after noon, through the raging blizzard to 226 Woodbine avenue. Here a frame house, owned and occupied by David Evans, was blazing merrily. Owing to the high wind and inflammable nature of the building, the boys in blue had a hard task. However, they succeeded in saving a good portion of the house. There was a loss of between $500 and $600.

A Cold Bath.

Bobcaygeon Independent: Mr. H. F. Strickland and W. G. Pierdon, of Toronto, were in town last Saturday to look into some business in connection with purchase of a building site and walked down on the ice some two or three miles on Sturgeon Lake. Unfortunately they walked into an air hole but Mr. Strickland, being accustomed to icy baths, took it as a matter of course, Mr. Pierdon did not appreciate it so much. They retired to a nearby farm house and dried off in time to return by the next train both none the worse for their pleasant outing.

A Big Bouquet of Drunks

At Saturday's Police Court it was shown that Owen Baker had celebrated too freely at the blacksmith's banquet. P. C. Sills testified to Baker being hopelessly drunk, although Baker said he "could navigate."

James English pleaded guilty to having been drunk.

Sam. Ferguson, when charged with being drunk and disorderly, pleaded "not guilty." John A. McCall saw Ferguson in the latter's home on Friday. Ferguson handed over his money to his niece and said he was going jump the river. He threatened to break in a door. He frightened the inmates of the house. There was an old warrant of commitment against Baker for non-payment of a fine. He was fined $2.00 on the last drunk. Sam Ferguson, whose wife is in the hospital, was fined $2.00, to be paid forwith. Two young men also paid a similar fine.

Tamely Comes March Lion.

"In like a lion, out like a lamb," and vice-versa, runs the old saw, referring to the weather conditions in this month of March. The idea the ancients wished to convey was that if the month opened with a storm the bookies of that day were willing to take chances—and likewise money—that it would have a calm and peaceful ending; contrary, should the first day of the month be suggestive of a premature touch of May, it was dollars to doughnuts that something unpleasant in the meteorological line could be counted on for a wind-up. Opinions on Saturday morning were somewhat divided as to which animal was on top. While some held that the snowfall certainly suggested a "little lamb," others were just as positive that the lion was in possession, even though it was a very "mangy" specimen of the King of Beasts that was roaming at large in our midst. About half an inch of snow fell overnight, and the beautiful continued to descend at intervals throughout the morning.

"CASCARETS" ALWAYS STRAIGHTEN YOU UP

If Costive, Headachy, Bilious, Stomach Sour, Breath Bad — Clean Your Liver and Bowels.

Get a 10-cent box now.

You men and women who can't get feeling right—who have headache, coated tongue, foul taste and foul breath, dizziness, can't sleep, are bilious, nervous and upset, bothered with a sick, gassy, disordered stomach, or have backache and feel worn out.

Are you keeping your bowels clean with Cascarets, or merely forcing a passageway every few days with salts cathartic pills or castor oil?

Cascarets work while you sleep, cleanse the stomach, remove the sour undigested, fermenting food and foul gases; take the excess bile from the liver and carry out of the system all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels.

A Cascaret to-night will straighten you out by morning—a 10-cent box from any drug store will keep your stomach sweet; liver and bowels regular, and head clear for months. Don't forget the children. They love Cascarets because they taste good—never gripe or sicken.

The Property Committee of the City Council met Saturday night to consider the matter of the big advertising sign for a Toronto firm, placed on the island near the C.P.R.

A citizen remarked to The Times on Saturday that young veal was greatly in evidence in Peterborough just now. Perhaps the popularity of chicken pie may help to account for it.

Lindsay Warder contains a long list of "what Lindsay wants and wants badly." The list includes a better lighting system, and a winning hockey and baseball team. Thus do utilities and sports go hand in hand.

MAPES-JOHNSTON MINING CO., LTD.

Incorporated under Ontario Companies Act.

The Elk Lake fire didn't damage Mapes-Johnston camp—camp is seven miles from Elk Lake, but the opening of the ELK LAKE Branch of the Timiskaming and Northern Ontario Railroad gives the Mapes-Johnston Mining Company's property an outlet for shipping ore heretofore lacking.

DEVELOPMENTS

The Mapes-Johnston has two shafts in good ore—No. 1—90 feet deep, with native silver showing in a big eight-inch vein all the way down the shaft—vein big and strong at bottom of shaft—a true fissure vein.

SILVER—9,000 Oz. Ore——2,200 Oz. Ore—SILVER

Real SILVER and SILVER ORE on the Mapes-Johnston—Not on adjacent or adjoining property—BUT ON the MAPES-JOHNSTON. Not 30 or 50 feet to drift to it, but on the surface—in both shafts—in several veins.

Not 62-oz. ore, or 100-oz. ore, but 9000 oz. ore—assayed by real commercial assayers—not assayed with the eye or by interested friends—no guesswork—real assays.

Shaft No. 2 is 75 feet from Shaft No. 1, and 65 feet deep—shaft No. 2 is sunk on junction of two immense veins—5-foot drift at 65-foot level shows over 9000 oz. of silver to the ton in 9-inch pay streak—2200 oz. of silver to ton in wall rock each side of vein.

RICHEST SILVER ORE OF THE NORTH

comes from just such a vein junction as the Mapes-Johnston has where these big values were found.

Small Allotment of Treasury Shares

is offered for Public Subscription at 20 cents per share—par value $1.00 per share.

This is the first public offering, but no better offering at anything like the price could be made. The property was purchased, paid for and developed to present status by Mapes-Johnston Syndicate, and private subscriptions were made at higher price than present offering.

$100 BUYS 500 SHARES—$500 BUYS 2,500 SHARES—OTHER AMOUNTS IN PROPORTION.

MORE TREASURY SHARES—$27,800—AFTER ALMOST 3 1-2 YEARS' WORK

than when property was under option—Before property was paid for—Silver discovered—shafts sunk—20 veins trenched—property patented—9000-oz. Silver ore found and assayed—Mapes-Johnston Treasury had 300,000 shares.

Toronto, February 1st, 1913.

Note.—The MAPES-JOHNSTON property is paid for, patented and title thereto in the name of the Company. The funds for operating and developing up-to-date were furnished by the Mapes-Johnston Syndicate, and only 30,200 Treasury Shares were sold before Preston Limited, secured control of and an option on the balance to be sold. Before offering shares to the public, Preston, Limited, had 58,000 shares donated to the Treasury by Messrs. Mapes & Johnston to carry out the emergency expenses of putting the property on an active operating basis. NOW

RED MILL DRUMMER SENT UP FOR TRIAL

At Saturday's police court, Robert John Maddiford, a drummer at the Red Mill, represented by Mr. Gordon was charged with having stolen a saxaphone, valued at $100, the property of the City.

Mr. W. M. Miller, a member of the 57th Regt. band, plays a saxaphone. He was a member of the band when the saxaphone was stolen, and recognized the instrument produced in court. He gave the number of the machine, 14399. He last used the saxaphone on January 14th. He put it back into a band hall cupboard. He missed it on January 20th. Detective Newhall was sent for.

To Mr. Gordon—There may have been a few keys of the band room.

Detective Newhall said the case was put in his hands on Jan. 20. On Thursday last he arrested Maddiford. He then explained the charge, viz. stealing a saxaphone. Maddiford replied: "I don't know anything about the saxaphone." Whilst bringing the prisoner to the station he warned him not to talk. He asked prisoner if he knew that Reg. Childs had been arrested in Toronto, and the saxaphone found in his house. Prisoner then admitted stealing the saxaphone At the station prisoner also admitted stealing the saxaphone in the presence of Mr. Clayton of the Red Mill and several officers. He said he had taken it on January 19th and taken it to Toronto two weeks later.

Herbert Clayton, of the Red Mill, said he had heard the prisoner say he had stolen the saxaphone.

This ended the prosecution's case. The prisoner was committed for trial.

Reg. Child's was charged with having received the stolen saxaphone.

County Attorney Wood suggested that a remand would be advisable to let the boy's mother arrive. He was remanded until Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

HAVELOCK FIREMAN DIED IN C.N.R. WRECK NEAR TORONTO

Toronto, March 4.—Forging through a blinding snowstorm yesterday morning under full head steam, a Canadian Northern freight train skidded from the rails near Leaside, and the engine tearing free, turned completely around, toppling upon its side on the summit of the embankment, crushing brakeman and fireman to death in horrible fashion. The engineer escaped miraculously.

At the jerk and sudden stop the train crew poured from the standing cars and rushed down to extricate their comrades.

Nothing, however, could be done for the two, Fireman Thoms, of Parry Sound, and leading brakeman, J. Smart, of Mount Albert, their bodies lying hopelessly embedded beneath the cab.

Two Cars Smashed.

The engine tender had brushed by and the next two cars in order piled up, shattering each other, but the main body of the train clung to the tracks. The crew worked frantically but vainly to rescue their comrades, and were forced to rush back on the slippery ice-covered tracks, a mile and three-quarters to the Rosedale station. From thence despatches were hastened to headquarters.

Upon receipt of the message at the C.N.R. headquarters, a wrecking crew was immediately formed and sent to clear the line.

At 9.20 o'clock a call was received at the police station for an ambulance to be sent at once to Rosedale statiol A few minutes later it was changed to Queen street crossing. A third message was to the effect that the ambulance would not be needed, as the injured man had been rushed to Rosedale and the two dead were still under the wreckage.

Efforts were instituted at an early hour following the wreck, to handle the passenger service. By a special arrangement with the Toronto and York Radial Railway all C.N.R. passengers were taken north on Yonge street to Richmond Hill and there transferred to the main line. By this means little delay will be suffered.

Relief Trains to Rescue.

When the message reached the offices, Superintendent A. J. Hill accoutred a wrecking train in short order, and enlisting the services of Dr. J. P. Mitchell, hastened to the scene. The C.P.R. also lent a relief train and both arrived on the scene and prepared to jack up the fallen engine.

The bodies, when recovered, were battered in terrible shape and almost unrecognizable. The relief train returned slowly to the city and the bodies were taken to the morgue. Eastern avenue was reached at 1.05.

Superintendent Hill stated that he considered the accident due to ice-covered rails.

Toronto, March 4.—Last night the big arena was crowded to the doors by a howling, yelling, cheering congregation of fans and nuts, including the bugs, who went to see the famous St. Miques go up against the T. When the final bell rang, the score stood St. Miques 6, T.R. and A. 3. Lawson Whitehead, who acted last week, was referee.

POLICE PREVENT AUDIENCE FROM ATTACKING MRS. PANKHURST

THE SUSPECT. FROM PUNCH.

Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the militant suffragette, who has declared that she was responsible for the dynamite explosion which recently wrecked the home, in Surrey, of Mr. David Lloyd George, Chancellor of the Exchequer, met with a mixed reception at a meeting held in the Chelsea Town Hall, London, under the auspices of the Women's Social and Political Union.

When Mrs. Pankhurst appeared on the platform she was greeted with groans, hisses, yells and cheering, and only a large force of police in the hall prevented the hostile section of the audience from attacking her. When she left the hall Mrs. Pankhurst twitted the authorities for being afraid to take advantage of her assumption of responsibility for blowing up Mr. Lloyd George's house by sending her to jail. She declared that, short of taking human life, the militant suffragettes intended to do everything possible to settle once for all the political status of the women of that country.

CANADIAN CORDAGE CO.

Directors are Not Personally Liable —Interesting Information.

The following appeared in the Legal Department of the Mail and Empire, and will be of interest to many of our readers:

W. K., Meaford.—Qu. The Canadian Cordage Co. of Peterborough, made an assignment in November, 1910. The sworn assets were $367,721; the total liabilities were $764,509. Can the shareholders in the company claim a dividend along with the creditors?

2. Many farmers were induced to take shares in the company, and they will lose everything they put into it if they cannot get a dividend. Can they hold the directors liable for misrepresenting affairs of the company?

Ans.—Shareholders cannot participate in the distribution of the assets of an insolvent company until after all the liabilities have been paid in full. A shareholder has only the right to his share of the "profits" of the company, and his interest as a shareholder is not an interest in the "property" of the company. The assets of the company are its own property, and are not the property of the shareholders. But where a company has been wound up, and the assets are more than sufficient to pay all the liabilities, then the surplus will be distributed among the shareholders in proportion to the shares which they respectively hold in the company. See Hindustan vs. Allison, L.R., 6 C. P., 73; Newman and Co., 1 Chancery, 685. Also Reg. vs. Rand, 9 Q. B., 817.

2. The directors of the company are not personally liable for its losses or debts, nor even for their mismanagement or mistakes, where no fraud or dishonesty can be shown. Wilson vs. Brett, 11 M. and W., 115. If, however, a culpable or wilful default can be proven, the directors are liable to make good to the company any loss attributed thereto. Of course, the directors are liable for illegal transactions. If any person has made a loss through their "misrepresentations," that party may have a right of action against each director making the false statement or misrepresentation.

DUKE OF CONNAUGHT WILL LEAVE CANADA IN OCTOBER

Ottawa, March 4.—Speaking at the Paardesberg dinner at Rideau Hall, Saturday night, the Duke of Connaught indicated that after the expiry of his present term of office as Canada's Governor-General in October of this year, there will be no further extension so far as his present intentions are concerned.

His Royal Highness in addressing the South African Veterans, expressed great regret that this would be the last time he would have the pleasure of the speaking to the Canadian officers who had taken part in the famous battle and in the other battles of the war. By the time the next anniversary arrived his term would have expired in Canada.

No definite date has yet been fixed for the departure of the Duke and Duchess to England, but it is expected that it will be definitely arrived at soon. His Royal Highness will return to complete his term of office.

MR. STRATTON AND THE BANK.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—The Examiner in an article on the report of Sir William Meredith upon the collapse of the Farmers' Bank, says that Mr. Stratton was "lied out of his seat" over the Farmers' Bank. I think myself that the lies Mr. Stratton told concerning his having been discharged by the judges with honorable mention, when, as I showed, he was out on bail, had a good deal to do with the loss of his seat to him. No report by Sir William Meredith or anybody else can alter that fact. Nor is it likely that the electors will ever forget it. Then according to the Toronto Star's report Mr. Warren, the president of the Trust and Guarantee Company, stated under oath before Sir William Meredith, that Mr. Stratton first introduced Travers to him, and that it was after the latter had visited Mr. Stratton over Sunday at Peterborough that the loan was arranged by that company which enabled the organizers to get the fatal certificate for the bank. This is my remembrance of the Star's report and I am quite sure it is correct. In view of these facts what does the Examiner expect, an apology from the electors? Cheek is a well known modern asset, but this quite beats the record.

JAMES NEWHALL LET GO AT POLICE STATION

James Newhall, to take his version does not find that married life is all "bread and cheese and kisses." When he went home, on Saturday, the stove was as cold as a flat iron which her mistress, on a cold night, told a Swedish maid to take to bed with her to keep her warm. In the morning, the mistress asked "how did that flat iron work in your bedy" The Sweed girl replied, "I bane lying on that iron all night and its not warm yet."

To resume, when James found a cold stove and no hot grub awaiting, it is alleged he created a disturbance incidentally swatting his wife. His better half laid an information, but her feet seemed to resemble the Swede's flat iron, and James was let go.

POWER FOR HYDRO-ELECTRIC WILL BE $15.53 PER H. P.

This Will Operate and Take Care of Both Plants, Pay Interest, Allow for Depreciation, and Provide Sinking Fund for Retiring Whole Debt

The City Fathers last night passed the by-laws authorizing signing a contract with the Hydro-Electric Power Commission for the supply of power to the municipality.

The following communication received from the Hydro-Electric Commission gives the charges it is suggested the municipality shall make:

Peterborough, Ont., February 24th, 1913.

MR. S. R. ARMSTRONG,
City Clerk,

Dear Sir,—Referring to our letter of the 13th inst., we gave the suggested rates for use in City of Peterborough as follows

POWER RATES.

Service Charge—
1.00 per h.p. per month on connected load or maximum demand.

Consumption Charge—
1.3c per K.W.H. for the first 50 hours monthly use or load
0.8c per K.W.H. for the next 50 hours monthly use or load., and 0.1c per K.W.H. for all additional consumption.

Monthly bills shall be subject to a prompt payment discount of 20 per cent and to class discounts as given below:

RESIDENCE LIGHTING.

4c per 100 sq. ft. of floor area lighted, and 3c per K.W.H.

COMMERCIAL LIGHTING.

6c per K.W.H. for the first 30 hours' monthly use of installed capacity, and 3c per K.W.H. for all additional.

Monthly bills for lighting service shall be subject to a payment discount of 20 per cent.

The following class discounts apply to the power rate:
Class "A"—24 hour unrestricted power—No discount.
Class "B"—24 hour restricted power—10 per cent discount.
Class "C"—10 hour unrestricted power—10 per cent. discount.
Class "D"—10 hour restricted power—33 1-3 per cent discount.
These various class may be defined after the following manner.

The 24 hour unrestricted user is one who may use his power during 24 hours of the day every day in the year.

The 24 hour restricted user can use his power 24 hours a day every day in the year, except during fall and winter months, when he will be required to shut down during the hours when the day power and lighting loads overlap.

The 10 hour unrestricted power is day power, i.e., 7 a.m. to 6 p.m. every day in the year.

The 10 hour restricted power is day power every day in the year, except during the winter months, when the lighting comes on before six in the evening.

The service charge for residential lighting given as 4c per 100 sq. ft. is charged against the floor area lighted when the portions of the house so lighted are used for living or sleeping purposes. This means, that basement lights, verandah lights, lights in unfinished attics and out-buildings are charged at the meter rate only unless portions of these are used for living or sleeping purposes, in which case the actual area so used is included in the floor area charge.

In measuring the floor area of a house it is customary to take the outside dimensions of the house, and from the area so obtained 10 per cent. is deducted for walls. This area multiplied by number of floors used gives the total area of the house.

The following supposed examples are given as illustrations of the manner in which consumers would be billed for power service, residential lighting or commercial lighting:—

1. Suppose a power user contracting for 40 h.p. has a monthly consumption of 3500 K.W.H., the power being used on a Class "C" contract, his bill would be as follows:

40 H.P. at $1.00 per month	$40.00
50 hours' use of 40 h.p.—40 x .746 x 50 —1492 K.W.H.
1492 K.W.H. at 1.3c per K.W.K.	$19.40
1492 K.W.H. at 0.8c per K.W.H.	11.94
516 K.W.H. at 0.1c per K.W.H.	.52
3500 K.W.H.	$71.86
10 per cent Class Discount	7.19
Gross Bill	$64.67
20 per cent prompt payment discount	12.93
Net bill	$51.74

2. Suppose a house outside dimensions 20 ft. 35 ft., 2 storeys, then the floor area—20 x 35 x 2 —1400 sq. ft.
Less 10 per cent. for walls, etc. 140 sq. ft.
Net area—1260 sq. ft

With a monthly consumption of 25 K.W.H in such a house the monthly bill would appear as follows

1260 sq. ft. at 4c per 100 sq ft.	.50
26 K.W.H. at 3c per K.W.H.	.78
Gross bill	$1.28
Less 20 per cent prompt payment discount	.26
Net bill	$1.02

3. Again, suppose a store with an installed capacity of 1200 watts, and a monthly consumption of 60 K.W.H., the bill would appear as follows:—

30 hours' use of 1200 watts—36 K.W.H.
36 K.W.H. at 6c per K.W.H.	$2.16
24 K.W.H. at 3c per K.W.H.	.72
Gross bill	3.88
Less 20 per cent prompt payment discount	.58
Net bill	$2.30

If there are any points we have not made clear in this matter, we would be pleased to advise you.

The contract is now being re-typed and we will forward it to you in a day or two.

Yours very truly,
HYDRO-ELECTRIC POWER COMMISSION OF ONTARIO.

In simple illustration of how the above works out, a contract signed for 20 h.p., on a 24 hour day service would cost the consumer $15.53 per h.p., but not on a flat rate. That is to say, the consumer pays a service charge on 20 h.p. for getting power into the premises, and then so much per killowatt hour as registered by meter. Should he use less than his load contract for his bill will be correspondingly less. Only his service load for the number of h.p. contracted for is a fixture.

The charges given above are the rates between the consumer. Those rates are estimated to take care of everything—maintenance and operation of both distributing and generating plants, depreciation, 4 per cent interest on investment, sinking fund, and at the end of 30 years, the whole system will be the city's property. The only charge to the consumer at the end of 30 years will be for operation and depreciation. The rates are fixed on an average consumption of 750 or 800 h.p.; and the more power used the less proportionately will be the charges.

Mr. F. F. Yales, one of the Commission's engineers, was present and explained many of the electric technicalities in the by-law and agreement. He also explained that the uncertainty of meters is generally due to bad wiring, which would not be permitted with Hydro-Electric.

As an instance of the cost and scope of lighting with Hydro-Electric Mr. Yates said a man could light three stores with Tungsten lamps, where he could light but one with carbon. Where the average cost of 20 16 c.p. carbon lamps would be $2.00, the cost of burning 20 16 c.p. Tungsten lamps would with Hydro-Electric be 66 2-3 cents. He himself burns 28 lamps in his home, besides using power for a heater and other conveniences, and his bill averages $2.40 a month; this is reduced to $1 a month and sometimes less in the summer.

Ald. G. Walter Green apparently is not yet convinced of the advantage to Peterborough of Hydro-Electric. He is a good business man and likes to be sure of his ground. He candidly offers that the agreement is very one-sided.

PREMIER'S STRATEGIC POWERS TALK OF LOBBIES AT OTTAWA

Liberals Unwittingly Voted for Gift for "Immediately Increasing Effective Naval Forces"---Laurier Easily Trapped

Ottawa, March 4.—This week the House will grind away again at the naval bill in committee. The Liberals may not try to force an election but that they are preparing to obstruct was shown by their attitude on Friday. They talked from three in the afternoon until nearly midnight in an aimless and irrelevant discussion on the harmless clause providing merely that the act be cited as the "Naval Aid Act." These tactics would be met fairly and adequately by the Government which has no intention of permitting the public business of the country to be obstructed or hindered by the clamor of a minority. If these tactics are pursued all night sittings can be counted on and a spectacular fight may be expected.

The strategic and debating qualities exhibited by Premier Borden on Thursday night are still the talk of the Parliamentary lobbies and show more than ever that the leader of the Government is without a peer in the discussion of a big subject.

This debating ability was peculiarly shown on Thursday, when he caught the Liberals napping on the voting of the $35,000,000.

Voted for $35,000,000.

Until Thursday night the Liberals had apparently either overlooked or had forgotten the fact that under Sir Wilfrid Laurier's amendment they had voted for the following paragraph of the naval bill.

"From and out of the consolidated fund of the Dominion of Canada there may be paid and applied a sum not exceeding $35,000,000 for the purpose of immediately increasing the effective naval forces of the Empire."

Mr. Borden cleverly pointed out that notwithstanding the fact that the Opposition had declared such an appropriation was unconstitutional, yet by their deliberate vote in the House of Commons the 13th day of February they had declared that not only was such an appropriation constitutional, but eminently proper.

Somersault Two Hours Later.

As to submitting the question to on four occasions in 1910 Sir Wilfrid the people, Mr. Borden showed that Laurier and his followers deliberately voted against submitting a permanent naval policy to the people. The most crushing reply, however, was made by the Premier, when he proved that during the present session Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his followers on the same day had voted first that there should be an appeal to the people, and two hours afterwards that there should not be an appeal to the people. Sir Wilfrid's amendment called for immediate action during the present session. Thus these two Opposition resolutions, though diametrically opposed, were voted for by the Liberals in the same night.

Altogether Premier Borden's speech takes rank as one of the masterly performances of his career. The divergent positions taken by the Opposition on the naval question were never more clearly shown, and it is a matter for comment that Sir Wilfrid Laurier allowed himself, able tactician as he is, to be easily trapped.

TEST SERUM BEFORE MEDICAL SOCIETY

Dr. Friedmann Must Convince New York County Officials of Efficacy.

New York, March 4.—Instead of opening offices here yesterday as he had planned, Dr. Friedmann, the young German physician, has decided to test his tuberculosis serum before the New York County Medical Society before he attempts any treatment of patients. This course was decided on last night after a conference with officers of the society who informed him that such a step would be necessary if he desired to obtain a license to practice.

NUGENT'S SARSAPARILLA—PRICE FOR large bottle, 100 full doses, 35c. and well worth it, too. It's better to take no medicine at all than to depend upon cheap concoctions that are compounded to sell at low price and a big profit just because there is a large demand for certain remedies at certain seasons of the year. There are so-called Sarsaparillas offered to us to sell to our customers at 75c a bottle that would bring us a larger profit than Nugent's Sarsaparilla sold at 35c. Nugent's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, arouses the torpid liver, drives out all impurities, cleanses and tones up the system, and helps Nature throw off the dullness that comes from indoor life of winter. It arouses energy, brightens the eye, clears the brain, gives lightness to the movements. Nugent's Sarsaparilla is not the only thing you will find in this drug store, we make a specialty of Nugent's Remedies. Nugent Drug Co., 386 George St., directly opposite Cressman's store.

WONDERFUL SURGERY

Organs Transferred From One Animal to Another With Splendid Results

Surgical experiments on dogs and cats conducted during the past six years, of which if they are ever applied to human beings the end cannot be foreseen, were explained at Toronto before a large number of Ontario physicians by Professor Alexis Carell of the Rockefeller Institute of New York.

The successful accomplishment of such operations as the transferring of complete organs from one dog to another dog, from one cat to another cat, and even from a dog to a cat, were described.

Professor Carell told of experiments in suturing veins and arteries in dogs. As a climax to these experiments he had removed a portion of the aorta of a dog and replaced it by a section of jugular vein of another dog. The dog died several years later by being run over by an automobile.

The Professor next told of removing the entire kidneys from a dog, placing them in a jar for fifty-five minutes and then placing them back in the dog. The animal lived for two years afterwards. Following a number of these experiments Professor Carell determined to see if tissue could not be kept in stock in latent life so that it might be ready for such surgical operations. He told of having kept a portion of human tissue taken from a baby which died as soon as it was born. This tissue was kept in a solution in cold-storage for seven weeks, and was then grafted successfully on a human being.

As a climax he told of having taken a carotid artery from a dog, keeping it in cold-storage for twenty-four days and then substituting it for the carotid artery in a cat. The cat lived with the canine artery for three years, and finally died of "acute old age."

New Thames Tunnel

At the opening of the new foot tunnel constructed by the London County Council between North and South Woolwich, Sir W. Whitaker Thompson, under whose direction the tunnel was built, explained that it was necessary mainly because of the inconvenience by fog, which in the winter time frequently brought about the entire stoppage of the free ferry service, thus preventing workingmen and others from crossing the river.

The tunnel, access to which is gained either by stairs or lifts, is 520 yards long, and cost $390,000.

"A Progressive Peterborough."

The season for spring poets will soon be wide open.

It used to be "King George and merry England," and now it's "Lloyd-George and merry hell."

The Turks are now willing to give up Adrianople for the sake of peace. But the allies will very probably now decide to dictate peace on their own terms.

The latest guess as to the Navy Bill now before the Parliament in Ottawa is that it will pass, which reminds us that it does not differ in any degree from the first guess.

The average thief who "lifts" his neighbor's goods is usually sent to jail What will be done with the man who robbed Lindsay's Isolation Hospital, and carried away 183,784 microbes in his clothing?

It is needless to say the Examiner did applaud very loudly over the announcement of the splendid appropriation of $50,000 for a new dam at Nassau, seeing that Mr. Burnham delivered the goods.

Somebody has been asking where the English suffragettes get the money wherewith to carry on their campaigns. May we suggest that they may possibly be subsidized by the Plate Glass Window Trust?

Vincent Astor wants to be reporter by trade. Evidently he would like to enjoy life and at the same time make a fair living. He says he has the hard luck to have an estate to look after and bother him when he might otherwise be a reporter.

Speaking of the Mexican situation, the Hon. Bill Taft says: "I have placed the cards on the table so that President Wilson can play the game if he chooses." It is to be hoped, however that the Hon. Woodrow will scrutinize the layout carefully and satisfy himself that it is not a hand to euchre him.

We note the gallant Minister of Militia has said that a "bowl of soup for troops is worth more than a thousand glasses of wriskey." We do not know how many glasses of Lindsay whiskey could be absorbed by the average man, but surely a man with a copper lined stomach could hardly "lap up" 1000 glasses.

WESTMOUNT'S EXPERIMENT.

The town of Westmount, Que. which is an independent municipality entirely surrounded by Montreal and inhabited mainly by English-speaking people, is about to make a new experiment in the line of civic government. Believing that civic government is business, not politics, says the Montreal Herald, the people of Westmount are going to make practical application to that principle. They are going to regard the government of their town as a matter of business solely, which ought to be managed, not only in a business spirit, but according to business forms. So the Mayor will be the President of the concern, the few aldermen will be the Board of Directors, and the directors will appoint a general manager, who will see to the executive part of the work and be responsible to the directors. The people themselves are to be the shareholders, and will, of course, elect the directors annually.

It will be an interesting experiment, the working of which will be worth watching. We doubt if it will work out satisfactorily.

A civic government differs from a business concern in that the former is by far the more complex. A business concern is usually organized for the purpose of carrying on one sort of business. The general manager must be an expert in that one business; it is not necessary for him to be an expert in any other. Take banking, for instance. The general manager of a bank must be an expert banker; but if he is that, it is not necessary for him to be an expert in anything else, no matter how great and widespread the business of his bank may be. But the problems of civic government require expert knowledge and skill in many departments. If the general manager of a municipality is to be entrusted with all the powers of the general manager of a bank, he ought to be an expert in finance, in engineering in applied electricity, in sanitation—in each of the various branches of civic affairs. In this age of specialization no such civic Admirable Crichton need be looked for. The best that Westmount's general manager can do is to exercise general supervision and trust to the heads of the various departments each of whom is or ought to be an expert in his class of work.

But the exercise of such general supervision is, in a business concern, supposed to be the duty of the board of directors. If the Westmount arrangement is that the general manager is to supervise all the departments and the president and directors are merely to supervise the managing director, we cannot see how the new scheme if any great improvement on the system we have here, in which the directors are supposed to direct directly, not by proxy.

INDIGESTION, GAS OR SICK, SOUR STOMACH

Time it!—"Pape's Diapepsin" makes your upset, bloated stomach feel fine in five minutes.

"Really does" put bad stomachs in order—"really does" overcome indigestion, gas, heartburn, dyspepsia, and sourness in five minutes—that—just that—makes Pape's Diapepsin the largest selling stomach regulator in the world. If what you eat ferments into stubborn lumps, you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food and acid; head is dizzy and aches; breath foul; tongue coated; your insides filled with bile and indigestible waste, remember, the moment "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. It's truly astonishing—almost marvelous, and the joy is its harmlessness.

A large 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin will give you a hundred dollars' worth of satisfaction or your druggist hands you your money back.

It's worth its weight in gold to men and women who can't get their stomachs regulated. It belongs in your home—should always be kept handy in case of a sick, sour, upset stomach during the day or at night. It's the quickest, surest and most harmless stomach doctor in the world.

CAN LAUGH AT LIFE'S MINOR ILLS

SINCE DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS CURED HER KIDNEY DISEASE

New Brunswick Women Tells How She Was Rescued From Ill Health By the Twin Remedies, Dodd's Kidney Pills and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Neguac, Allain P. O., N. B., March 3.—(Special).—Mrs. Joseph G. Savoy a well known resident of this place, whose ill-health has been a matter of much concern to her friends, is telling of the cure she found for all her troubles in Dodd's Kidney Pills, and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

"My health is fine now," Mrs. Savoy says, in an interview. "The pains are gone from my back and side and when I go to bed I can sleep Before I started using Dodd's Kidney Pills and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets I could not eat anything heavy, such as meat, but now I can eat practically what I please with no ill-effects."

Mrs. Savoy was in a general run-down condition and her cure came about by using the natural remedies. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured and invigorated her kidneys, thus purifying her blood and improving the circulation.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets induced proper digestion of her food, thus furnishing the body with the nutrition it required. Women with healthy kidneys and sound digestion can afford to laugh at the minor ills of life.

HYDRO ELECTRIC POWER

The agreement was read, the essential features of which were published recently in these columns.

Ald. Duffus thought the proper course to pursue would be to engage an independent engineer to advise council if there is anything in the contract detrimental to the city's interests.

Ald. Johnston could not see the reason for this. Experience of other municipalities show the vast benefits to be derived from Hydro-Electric. As for himself, he was not an electrician, but felt perfectly safe in the Commission's hands.

Ald. Duffus—"It's because I am not an electrician that I have my doubts"

The Mayor—"Have your doubts about what? The Commission is a Government body; employing qualified engineers who are, with the Commission, working in the people's interests."

Ald. Buller, here contended that the city can make no mistake in signing a contract with the Hydro-Electric Commission, a Government body endorsed all over the country for its splendid work in giving municipalities their own power at greatly reduced rates. He could not understand why Ald. Duffus advised getting the opinion of an independent engineer. "You cannot get better engineers in the country than those employed by the Commission."

Ald. Green—"I think Ald. Duffus correct; and I do think that's one of the most one-sided agreements I ever heard read. The Commission may be all right, but it is not as clear as Ald. Buller tries to make out."

Ald. Buller—"But Ald. Green, we are dealing with ourselves; Hydro-Electric is the people and we are part of Hydro-Electric."

Ald. Johnston—"If Hydro-Electric never accomplished anything else for us, it has forced the Peterborough Light and Power Co. to cut their rates."

The by-law authorizing the signing of a contract with the Hydro-Electric here passed its third reading in the following division:—

YEAS...Ald. Buller, Duncan, Gillespie, Johnston, Anderson, McIntyre and the Mayor.

NAYS—Aldermen Duffus and G. Walter Green.

Moved by Ald. Duncan, seconded by Ald. Buller,—That Scriver, the Garbage Collector of last year, be given $100 in full settlement of all claims. —Carried.

RAILWAY GATES AT HUNTER ST

KNOW WHAT YOUR IDEAL IS

First Step to Real Success, Though Few Seem to Realize Its Importance.

Several years ago when I filled a position which brought me many visitors each day, and many more letters in the same time, I was overburdened with requests for advice from persons who wished "to succeed;" "to accomplish;" "to attain." But, as strange as the statement may seem to you, I can truthfully say that not one per cent.—not one in a hundred of these earnest seekers was able to state exactly what he or she really wanted.

They were dissatisfied and discontented, and felt the vague urge of unrest pushing them forward to further endeavor and attainment—but it stopped right there. Ninety-nine out of every hundred did not know what they wanted. They asked not only for advice regarding the means of accomplishment and attainment, but also for information as to what they should really desire.

"Silly," you exclaim. Not a bit of it. I venture to say to you—yes, you who are now reading these lines, are not much better off regarding clear-cut ideas and ideals. You want, and want and want, of course—but just what do you want? Have you a clearly defined idea, and a clear-cut ideal of the object of your desire? Honor bright now, have you?—William Walter Atkinson, in the Nautilus.

AMONG THE DANES

Live the Simple Life And Take Much Joy in It

Poverty seems to have no terror for the average Dane. The people appear to accept that condition as all in the day's work and confront it with a cheery determination to make the best of it without complaint. The Danish soil is, unlike our own, devoid of coal or minerals; there are therefore practically few manufactories and in consequence much dependence is placed on farming, which may give a livelihood, but not—as we count them—riches. Incomes, even of Ministers of State, are small, and with limited means one can enjoy life thoroughly. The simple life is the one best known and liked; as we all know, simplicity of living in the Royal family of Denmark is proverbial. Life is taken with a joyousness not often seen, and family affection is very great. They are happiest in not being tied to stiff rules, and punctuality is not looked on as important. Mealtime is often a moveable feast, and paying a call at almost any time one can be prepared to find your friends at table. The staple of national food is bread and butter, but both of the best.

Gained in Weight, Digestion Restored, Health Renewed

Here is More Proof of Quick Cure For All Folks That are Weak, Ailing, Nervous.

More Praise for Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

For a period last summer the thought of food excited feelings of nausea," writes Mrs. C. A. Dodge, of Bloomsbury. "The heat had made me listless and the distaste for food reduced me to condition of semi-starvation and brought me to the verge of nervous collapse. Tonics were useless to restore an active desire for food. The doctors told me my liver and kidneys were both at fault, but the medicines they gave me were too severe and reduced my strength so that I had to abandon them. At the suggestion of a friend who had been cured of blood and skin trouble, I began the use of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. The difference I first noticed was, that while they cleansed the system, instead of feeling weaker I felt better after taking them. Indeed their activity was so mild it was easy to forget I had taken them at all; they seemed to go right to the liver, and in a very brief time not only did all source of nausea disappear, but I began to crave food and I digested it reasonably well. Then I began to put on weight until within three months I was brought to a condition of good health. I urge Dr. Hamilton's Pills for all who are in poor health."

Get this best of all medicines today and refuse a substitute for Dr. Hamilton's Pills of Mandrake and Butternut. Sold by all druggists and storekeepers, 25c. per box or five for $1.00. Sent postpaid by The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

MARRIED AND DIDN'T KNOW IT

New Indian Agent Got Into Predicament Through Ignorance of a Native Custom.

On the old Rosebud Indian reservation, in South Dakota, they still laugh over the peculiar predicament into which a new Indian agent once got himself.

The agent, an unqualified "tenderfoot," was inspecting an Indian school. Noticing that as soon as he entered the room every girl present brought her hair forward over her face, he asked the teacher to tell them to throw it back so that he might see their faces. But this they refused to do, until, after much urging, one girl did finally uncover her face.

After school was over, the agent wondered at the strange actions of the girl who had uncovered her face. She followed him to his house, entered after him, and set about getting his dinner. As he spoke no Sioux, and she no English, he could get no explanation from her.

Finally, to his relief, the teacher rode up. Shaking with laughter, he asked the agent how he liked his new wife! Then the latter understood what he had done. In certain tribes of the Sioux Indians all a man needs do in order to get a wife is to induce a girl to uncover her face. The agent had proposed in the usual way—and been accepted.

In vain did the agent plead that he already had a wife in the east; there was only one way to get out of it. It cost him the equivalent of fourteen ponies to persuade the Indian girl's father to take her back again.

CURE BY SNAKE VENUM

Can Epilepsy be Cured by the Bite of a Venomous Snake?

On many occasions it has been noted that epilepsy has been cured fortuitously by the bite of a venomous snake. In France the cure has been known to occur after a bite by a viper, and in America after a rattlesnake's bite. Dr. Self, of Clairith, who has published an account of a case of the latter, states that it occurred with a man aged thirty-five subject to epilepsy for fifteen years, who, after being bitten by the rattlesnake, was fortunate enough to survive, and never had another fit of epilepsy.

Another American physician, Dr. Spangler, of Philadelphia, who for some time had used sterilised and diluted snake venom in the treatment of certain affections of the respiratory passages, was induced by the above fact to try the same means against epilepsy.

The injections are practised in the thick part of the muscles of the forearm alternately on each side. Their frequency should vary not only according to the character of the fit but also according to the duration of the local reactional symptoms.

Dr. Spangler has had occasion to experiment with this mode of treatment in sixty-two cases, of which thirty-six have been kept under observation for a length of time sufficient to allow the results obtained to be considered as permanent. Sometimes before the intervals between fits became longer it is noticed that milder attacks tend to replace the more violent forms.

BORN WITH TEETH

Little French Canadian Stole a March on Mother Nature

Nature has honored an infant son born to the wife of Mr. Albert Bisaillon, a citizen of Montreal, in a remarkable manner. This infant, instead of appearing in this vale of tears with all his teething troubles to worry his early existence, disposed of part of them before arriving, for he was born with two neat, pearly little "toofies."

These teeth are located in the front of the lower portion of his masticatory apparatus.

The proud father has been exhibiting the prodigy to admiring friends ever since the discovery was made and a great future is prophecied for the remarkable child.

Chronic Sufferers Find Relief After Few Doses Are Taken.

If you are bothered with backache—or rheumatism have disagreeable annoying bladder or urinary disorders to contend with—or suffer with any other of the many miseries that come from weak kidneys, here is a guaranteed remedy you can depend upon, no matter what else may have failed to cure you.

It is a positive fact that the new discovery, Croxone, promptly overcomes such diseases. It is the most wonderful remedy ever made for ridding the system of uric acid, removing the cause and curing the troubles.

It soaks right in and cleans out the stopped up kidneys and makes them filter and sift out all the poisonous waste matter from the blood. It neutralizes and dissolves the uric acid that lodges in the joints and muscles, causing rheumatism; soothes and heals the delicate linings of the bladder; and puts the kidneys and urinary organs in a clean strong healthy condition.

More than a few doses of Croxone are seldom required to relieve even the obstinate, long standing cases, while it cures the most severe forms of kidney, bladder trouble and rheumatism in a surprisingly short time.

You will find Croxone entirely different from all other remedies. There is nothing else on earth like it. It is so prepared that it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. An original package costs but a trifle at any first class drug store. All druggists are authorized to personally return the purchase price if Croxone fails to give the desired results the very first time you use it.

"A Progressive Peterborough."

The season for spring poets will soon be wide open.

It used to be "King George and merry England," and now it's "Lloyd-George and merry hell."

The Turks are now willing to give up Adrianople for the sake of peace. But the allies will very probably now decide to dictate peace on their own terms.

The latest guess as to the Navy Bill now before the Parliament in Ottawa is that it will pass, which reminds us that it does not differ in any degree from the first guess.

The average thief who "lifts" his neighbor's goods is usually sent to jail What will be done with the man who robbed Lindsay's Isolation Hospital, and carried away 183,794 microbes in his clothing?

It is needless to say the Examiner did applaud very loudly over the announcement of the splendid appropriation of $50,000 for a new dam at Nassau, seeing that Mr. Burnham delivered the goods.

Somebody has been asking where the English suffragettes get the money wherewith to carry on their campaigns May we suggest that they may possibly be subsidized by the Plate Glass Window Trust?

Vincent Astor wants to be reporter by trade. Evidently he would like to enjoy life and at the same time make a fair living. He says he has the hard luck to have an estate to look after and bother him when he might otherwise be a reporter.

Speaking of the Mexican situation, the Hon. Bill Taft says: "I have played the cards on the table so that President Wilson can play the game if he chooses." It is to be hoped, however that the Hon. Woodrow will scrutinize the layout carefully and satisfy himself that it is not a hand to euchre him.

We note the gallant Minister of Militia has said that a "bowl of soup for troops is worth more than a thousand glasses of wriskey." We do not know how many glasses of Lindsay whiskey could be absorbed by the average man, but surely a man with a copper lined stomach could hardly "lap up" 1000 glasses.

WESTMOUNT'S EXPERIMENT.

The town of Westmount, Que. which is an independent municipality entirely surrounded by Montreal and inhabited mainly by English-speaking people, is about to make a new experiment in the line of civic government. Believing that civic government is business, not politics, says the Montreal Herald, the people of Westmount are going to make practical application to that principle. They are going to regard the government of their town as a matter of business solely, which ought to be managed, not only in a business spirit, but according to business forms. So the Mayor will be the President of the concern, the few aldermen will be the Board of Directors, and the directors will appoint a general manager, who will see to the executive part of the work and be responsible to the directors. The people themselves are to be the shareholders, and will, of course, elect the directors annually.

It will be an interesting experiment, the working of which will be worth watching. We doubt if it will work out satisfactorily.

A civic government differs from a business concern in that the former is by far the more complex. A business concern is usually organized for the purpose of carrying on one sort of business. The general manager must be an expert in that one business; it is not necessary for him to be an expert in any other. Take banking, for instance. The general manager of a bank must be an expert banker; but if he is that, it is not necessary for him to be an expert in anything else, no matter how great and widespread the business of his bank may be. But the problems of civic government require expert knowledge and skill in many departments. If the general manager of a municipality is to be entrusted with all the powers of the general manager of a bank, he ought to be an expert in finance, in engineering in applied electricity, in sanitation—in each of the various branches of civic affairs. In this age of specialization no such civic Admirable Crichton need be looked for. The best that Westmount's general manager can do is to exercise general supervision and trust to the heads of the various departments each of whom is or ought to be an expert in his class of work.

But the exercise of such general supervision is, in a business concern, supposed to be the duty of the board of directors. If the Westmount arrangement is that the general manager is to supervise all the departments and the president and directors are merely to supervise the managing director, we cannot see how the new scheme if any great improvement on the system we have here, in which the directors are supposed to direct directly, not by proxy.

"Really does" put bad stomachs in order—"really does" overcome indigestion, gas, heartburn, dyspepsia, and sourness in five minutes—that—just that—makes Pape's Diapepsin the largest selling stomach regulator in the world. If what you eat ferments into stubborn lumps, you belch gas and eructate sour, undigested food and acid; head is dizzy and aches; breath foul; tongue coated; your insides filled with bile and indigestible waste, remember, the moment "Pape's Diapepsin" comes in contact with the stomach all such distress vanishes. It's truly astonishing—almost marvelous, and the joy is its harmlessness.

A large 50-cent case of Pape's Diapepsin will give you a hundred dollars' worth of satisfaction or your druggist hands you your money back.

It's worth its weight in gold to men and women who can't get their stomachs regulated. It belongs in your home—should always be kept handy in case of a sick, sour, upset stomach during the day or at night. It's the quickest, surest and most harmless stomach doctor in the world.

CAN LAUGH AT LIFE'S MINOR ILLS

SINCE DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS CURED HER KIDNEY DISEASE

New Brunswick Woman Tells How She Was Rescued From Ill Health By the Twin Remedies, Dodd's Kidney Pills and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

Neguac, Allain P. O., N. B., March 3.—(Special).—Mrs. Joseph G. Savoy a well known resident of this place, whose ill-health has been a matter of much concern to her friends, is telling of the cure she found for all her troubles in Dodd's Kidney Pills, and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets.

"My health is fine now," Mrs. Savoy says, in an interview. "The pains are gone from my back and side and when I go to bed I can sleep Before I started using Dodd's Kidney Pills and Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets I could not eat anything heavy, such as meat, but now I can eat practically what I please with no ill-effects."

Mrs. Savoy was in a general run-down condition and her cure came about by using the natural remedies. Dodd's Kidney Pills cured and invigorated her kidneys, thus purifying her blood and improving the circulation.

Dodd's Dyspepsia Tablets indured proper digestion af her food, thus furnishing the body with the nutrition it required. Women with healthy kidneys and sound digestion can afford to laugh at the minor ills of life.

The agreement was read, the essential features of which were published recently in these columns.

Ald. Duffus thought the proper course to pursue would be to engage an independent engineer to advise council if there is anything in the contract detrimental to the city's interests.

Ald. Johnston could not see the reason for this. Experience of other municipalities show the vast benefits to be derived from Hydro-Electric. As for himself, he was not an electrician, but felt perfectly safe in the Commission's hands.

Ald. Duffus—"It's because I am not an electrician that I have my doubts"

The Mayor—"Have your doubts about what? The Commission is a Government body; employing qualified engineers who are, with the Commission, working in the people's interests."

Ald. Buller, here contended that the city can make no mistake in signing a contract with the Hydro-Electric Commission, a Government body endorsed all over the country for its splendid work in giving municipalities their own power at greatly reduced rates. He could not understand why Ald. Duffus advised getting the opinion of an independent engineer. "You cannot get better engineers in the country than those employed by the Commission."

Ald. Green—"I think Ald. Duffus correct; and I do think that's one of the most one-sided agreements I ever heard read. The Commission may be all right, but it is not as clear as Ald. Buller tries to make out."

Ald. Buller—"But Ald. Green, we are dealing with ourselves; Hydro-Electric is the people and we are part of Hydro-Electric."

Ald. Johnston—"If Hydro-Electric never accomplished anything else for us, it has forced the Peterborough Light and Power Co. to cut their rates."

The by-law authorizing the signing of a contract with the Hydro-Electric here passed its third reading in the following division:—

YEAS...Ald. Buller, Duncan, Gillespie, Johnston, Anderson, McIntyre and the Mayor.

NAYS—Aldermen Duffus and G. Walter Green.

Moved by Ald. Duncan, seconded by Ald. Buller,—That Scriver, the Garbage Collector of last year, be given $100 in full settlement of all claims. —Carried.

RAILWAY GATES AT HUNTER ST.

KNOW WHAT YOUR IDEAL IS

First Step to Real Success, Though Few Seem to Realize Its Importance.

Several years ago when I filled a position which brought me many visitors each day, and many more letters in the same time, I was overburdened with requests for advice from persons who wished "to succeed;" "to accomplish;" "to attain." But, as strange as the statement may seem to you, I can truthfully say that not one per cent.—not one in a hundred of these earnest seekers was able to state exactly what he or she really wanted.

They were dissatisfied and discontented, and felt the vague urge of unrest pushing them forward to further endeavor and attainment—but it stopped right there. Ninety-nine out of every hundred did not know what they wanted. They asked not only for advice regarding the means of accomplishment and attainment, but also for information as to what they should really desire.

"Billy," you exclaim. Not a bit of it. I venture to say to you—yes, you who are now reading these lines, are not much better off regarding clear-cut ideas and ideals. You want, and want and want, of course—but just what do you want? Have you a clearly defined idea, and a clear-cut ideal of the object of your desire? Honor bright now, have you?—William Walker Atkinson, in the Nautilus.

AMONG THE DANES

Live the Simple Life And Take Much Joy In It

Poverty seems to have no terror for the average Dane. The people appear to accept that condition as all in the day's work and confront it with a cheery determination to make the best of it without complaint. The Danish soil is, unlike our own, devoid of coal or minerals; there are therefore practically few manufactories and in consequence much dependence is placed on farming, which may give a livelihood, but not—as we count them—riches. Incomes, even of Ministers of State, are small, and with limited means one can enjoy life thoroughly. The simple life is the one best known and liked; as we all know, simplicity of living in the Royal family of Denmark is proverbial. Life is taken with a joyousness not often seen, and family affection is very great. They are happiest in not being tied to stiff rules, and punctuality is not looked on as important. Mealtime is often a moveable feast, and paying a call at almost any time one can be prepared to find your friends at table. The staple of national food is bread and butter, but both of the best.

Gained in Weight, Digestion Restored, Health Renewed

Here is More Proof of Quick Cure For All Folks That are Weak, Ailing, Nervous.

More Praise for Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

For a period last summer the thought of food excited feelings of nausea," writes Mrs. C. A. Dodge, of Bloomsbury. "The heat had made me listless and the distaste for food reduced me to condition of semi-starvation and brought me to the verge of nervous collapse. Tonics were useless to restore an active desire for food. The doctors told me my liver and kidneys were both at fault, but the medicines they gave me were too severe and reduced my strength so that I had to abandon them. At the suggestion of a friend who had been cured of blood and skin trouble, I began the use of Dr. Hamilton's Pills. The difference I first noticed was, that while they cleansed the system, instead of feeling weaker I felt better after taking them. Indeed their activity was so mild it was easy to forget I had taken them at all; they seemedto go right to the liver, and in a very brief time not only did all source of nausea disappear, but I began to crave food and I digested it reasonably well. Then I began to put on weight until within three months I was brought to a condition of good health. I urge Dr. Hamilton's Pills for all who are in poor health."

MARRIED AND DIDN'T KNOW IT

New Indian Agent Got Into Predicament Through Ignorance of a Native Custom.

On the old Rosebud Indian reservation, in South Dakota, they still laugh over the peculiar predicament into which a new Indian agent once got himself.

The agent, an unqualified "tenderfoot," was inspecting an Indian school. Noticing that as soon as he entered the room every girl present brought her hair forward over her face, he asked the teacher to tell them to throw it back so that he might see their faces. But this they refused to do, until, after much urging, one girl did finally uncover her face.

After school was over, the agent wondered at the strange actions of the girl who had uncovered her face. She followed him to his house, entered after him, and set about getting his dinner. As he spoke no Sioux, and she no English, he could get no explanation from her.

Finally, to his relief, the teacher rose up. Shaking with laughter, he asked the agent how he liked his new wife! Then the latter understood what he had done. In certain tribes of the Sioux Indians all a man needs do in order to get a wife is to induce a girl to uncover her face. The agent had proposed in the usual way—and been accepted.

In vain did the agent plead that he already had a wife in the east; there was only one way to get out of it. It cost him the equivalent of fourteen ponies to persuade the Indian girl's father to take her back again.

CURE BY SNAKE VENUM

Can Epilepsy be Cured by the Bite of a Venomous Snake?

On many occasions it has been noted that epilepsy has been cured fortuitously by the bite of a venomous snake. In France the cure has been known to occur after a bite by a viper, and in America after a rattlesnake's bite. Dr. Self, of Clairith, who has published an account of a case of the latter, states that it occurred with a man aged thirty-five subject to epilepsy for fifteen years, who, after being bitten by the rattlesnake, was fortunate enough to survive, and never had another fit of epilepsy.

Another American physician, Dr. Spangler, of Philadelphia, who for some time had used sterilized and diluted snake venom in the treatment of certain affections of the respiratory passages, was induced by the above fact to try the same means against epilepsy.

The injections are practised in the thick part of the muscles of the forearm alternately on each side. Their frequency should vary not only according to the character of the fit but also according to the duration of the local reactional symptoms.

Dr. Spangler has had occasion to experiment with this mode of treatment in sixty-two cases, of which thirty-six have been kept under observation for a length of time sufficient to allow the results obtained to be considered as permanent. Sometimes before the intervals between fits became longer it is noticed that milder attacks tend to replace the more violent forms.

BORN WITH TEETH

Little French Canadian Stole a March on Mother Nature

Nature has honored an infant son born to the wife of Mr. Albert Bisaillon, a citizen of Montreal, in a remarkable manner. This infant, instead of appearing in this vale of tears with all his teething troubles to worry his early existence, disposed of part of them before arriving, for he was born with two neat, pearly little "tooties."

These teeth are located in the front of the lower portion of his masticatory apparatus.

The proud father has been exhibiting the prodigy to admiring friends ever since the discovery was made and a great future is prophecied for the remarkable child.

ALL FOR THE SAKE OF BETSY

When Col. J. J. Astor Jeopardized His Yacht and Passengers for a Dog.

Some years ago Col. J. J. Astor and his yacht Nourmahal and his son, Vincent, were reported lost at sea. The New York correspondent of the Cincinnati Times-Star recalls. Every one got excited about it—especially in New York newspaper offices. It was a New York newspaper, you may remember, which ran this headline over the story of the wreck of the Titanic: "Col. John Jacob Astor Lost at Sea; Two Thousand Others Also Drowned."

The Astor part of the headline was in very large pink letters and the rest was comparatively modest type. When the Nourmahal was reported lost the papers began to talk about sending out searching expeditions. The government dispatched a cruiser in search for Astor. Now Richard Barry tells the story of that episode for the first time. "Astor was very fond of his pet dog," says Barry. "The pet dog hated the sea. The second day out on the cruise the dog began to mope. Astor told the captain of the yacht to point her nose for shore. 'I'll take Betsy off and give her a run,' said the master of millions.

"They landed that day on the Carolina shore and Betsy got her run. But one run wasn't enough for her each day, as they voyaged south. Betsy was taken on land to stretch her legs. Finally they were off the Honduras coast, and Betsy began to howl for a frolic. The captain protested that the coast line was insufficiently charted, and that the Nourmahal was in danger of being wrecked if she was obliged to run in too near.

"'No matter,' said Astor. 'Betsy isn't happy.'

"So they put in, and shelved the Nourmahal on a rock, and every one north of Panama became violently excited because it wasn't possible to hear from the Astors, and it cost the yacht owner a good many dollars to get her off. But he didn't care. He was fond of Betsy—and Betsy had her run."

LONG LIVED FAMILY

Six Out of Ten Attained Average Age of 85 Years

There died at Pendleton, Prescott county, Ontario, Mary McLean, widow of the late Maurice Shane, aged 88 years. At Lochaber in the county of Labelle, Quebec, a week later, Margaret McLean, widow of the late Malcolm McCallum, aged 90 years passed away.

Six out of ten of this family, now deceased, attained the average age of 85 years, and the youngest of the surviving four, who is Lieutenant-Colonel Archibald McLean, of Cummings Bridge, Ottawa, is in his seventy-third year.

Their father, the late Hugh McLean, Sr., of Pendleton, emigrated from the Isle of Mull, Scotland, with the first brigade of Lord Selkirk's settlers to Red River settlement in 1811, and reached Fort Garry in August, 1812.

Dr. Boyce's History of Red River Settlement shows that when the settlement was attacked and destroyed by the servants of the Northwest Company in 1815, their dwellings burned and crops destroyed, with Governor Miles taken prisoner, that John McLeod, with three men, James MacIntosh, Archibald Currie, servants of the Hudson's Bay Company, and Hugh McLean, a settler, after all the others had deserted and gone over to the enemy, fought and held Fort Douglass for three days and succeeded in beating off the enemy and saved the Hudson's Bay Company's store.

ALASKA'S BIG BEARS

In a Test of Strength They Would Outclass Jungle Beasts

Very few persons really know that largest flesh-eating animals in the world are found in North America. People genrally believe that the African lion is the king of beasts, but he is not nearly as large or as powerful an animal as the large brown bear of sub-arctic America. The bears are not as ferocious or combative as the lions, nor are they nearly as vicious as they are given credit for being, but the largest of them are much larger and more powerful than any of the lions. It is safe to say that the largest of the brown bears of the North would weigh three times as much as the largest specimen of lion, and is beyond all question greatly superior in strength. If brought together in combat, the bear would at first appear very clumsy. It would not be capable of the quick rush or the catlike spring of the lion. It would not attack, but would remain entirely on the defensive, meeting its adversary with blows of such rapidity and terific force as at once to illustrate its superiority not only in strength but in action. There is not an animal in the world that can act more quickly or effectively than the bear. The large brown bears of the Alaska peninsula, South of Bering Sea, are among the largest bears of the world, and there is no part of the world outside of North America in which such large flesh-eating animals are found. The bears are carnivorous, yet there are none of them that depend upon flesh for food, and with most of them flesh comprises but a very small percentage of their food.

WOMAN AS FARMER

Miss Hilman Manages a Big Farm in Saskatchewan

To jump from a life of ease in Chicago society circles to take the full cares and responsibilities that go with the conducting of a 1,600 acre ranch in the Canadian northwest, have the handling of big quantities of wheat, over 100 horses and almost as many prize hogs, and to carry on the business of the farm until it is reckoned one of the most successful in its district is no small order for a man, but when the task is undertaken by a young lady, and successfully undertaken at that, it becomes even more wonderful.

Yet Miss Ruth M. Hilman, formerly of Chicago, where her father was a prominent railroader, and where the family was prominent in society circles, has accomplished the above. It is hard to imagine that she is the "boss" of 14 farmhands, and rules her ranch of 1,600 acres near Keeler, Saskatchewan, just as well as any practical farmer who has been brought up to the business. Sunburned a little, redned, and showing not the least embarrassment, Miss Hilman does not think she has done anything out of the way.

"There was no one else to do it," she says simply. "When my father died leaving my mother and myself and a young brother, I was the only one who could take charge. We either had to work the farm or sell it, and we decided to work it, and we have been successful. That's all."

And Miss Hilman likes farming. "It seemed to come natural," she said. "I was always interested in these things, and conducting the farm on a business basis I have found that it can be made to pay, and it is paying. In fact it paid from the start."

World's Rubber Production.

About one-half the world's supply of rubber comes from the Brasilian sections of Ceara, Manaos and Para. Their product sets the price for the raw material in the consuming markets. The trees grow wild. No systematic preparation of the ground has ever been necessary, and the entire care of the rubber gatherers has been given to obtaining only the juice from the rubber tree and getting it to market.

Abalone Meat in Demand.

Dried and smoked abalone meat, most of which is cured in southern California fishing ports, is purchased by Oriental importers at fancy prices. Occasionally it sells for $300 a ton. In some instances divers are employed to procure the mollusks, and it is not uncommon for an experienced man to bring to the surface two tons of meat and shells in a day.

Offensive Breath Caused Usually by Catarrh

A Simple Remedy Discovered That Cures Without Drugs.

The American people suffer more from Catarrh than from any other disease. It undermines more constitutions and creates more sickness than all other diseases combined. It is, therefore, very dangerous.

You can't successfully treat catarrh by internal dosing—you must in some way send a purifying, healing agent through the breathing organs so that the germs can be reached. This you do every time you inhale Catarrhozone. Its rich essences and healing balsams are breathed all through the nose, throat and lungs and effectively destroy every trace of Catarrh. This is a proven fact.

I endorse Catarrhozone because I know of six bad cases of Catarrh, including my own, that it has cured. It is a sensible remedy because it is capable of going where the disease is. I believe it cures quicker than other remedy because it gets sooner to the source of the disease than anything else I know of. I had headaches, bad breath and much stomach trouble associated with my Catarrh, but they have disappeared since using Catarrhozone, which keeps me free from colds, headaches, catarrh and all winter ills." OTTO E. KRAMER, Belleville, Ont. FDFDFD FDFDF DFDFF ville, Ont.

Catarrhozone is needed in every home. Large size lasts 2 months price $1.00; small size 50c; trial size 25c. At all storekeepers and druggists or The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N. Y. and Kingston, Canada.

SPOKE TOO SOON

"You ought to have seen Mr. Marshall when he called upon Dolly the other night," remarked Johnny to his sister's young man, who was taking tea with the family. "I tell you he looked fine a-sitting there alongside of her with his arm——"

"Johnny!" gasped his sister, her face the color of a boiled lobster.

"Well, so he did," persisted Johnny. "He had his arm——"

"John!" screamed the mother frantically.

"Why," whined the boy. "I was——"

"John," said his father, sternly "leave the room!"

And Johnny left, crying as he went: "I was only going to say that he had his army clothes on."

ORIENTAL FANATICS

A Peculiar Man Who Was Venerated as a Saint

In many parts of the Orient a lunatic has always been reverenced as one who is much nearer God than any sane person. During the Crimean war a Mohammedan religionist from Bagdad joined the Turkish army as a ghazi, or warrior for religion. He was a man of rare mental gifts and immense learning. Yet bare-headed and gare-footed, with scanty clothing, his sword girded about his lean loins, this fanatic marched through snow and ice at the head of his division, or led the way into the thickest of the fights. Five times a day, when he said his prayers, he ungirt his sword. But save then, either by day or night, sleeping or waking, he never went unarmed. H was a scholar, thoroughly versed in Arabic and Persian literature. Even in his own house, though speaking to wife, children and friends, no other word but "Ali" ever passed his lips. If he wanted food or drink, if he begged or bought, his wants were expressed by "Ali." He would race up and down the streets of the city for a day, shrieking at the top of his voice, "Ali! Ali!" Everyone venerated this fanatic as a saint. The richest man in the city presented him with a magnificent horse, saddle and bridle. Vaulting into the saddle, as soon as he had received the gift, he galloped through the town shouting, "Ali! Ali!" Riding into the noisy bazaar, he cried "Ali" with such strength of voice as to be heard clearly above the frightful din of the shouting buyers and pounding mechanics.

FASHIONS IN TOMBSTONES

The Celtic Cross is Quite the Proper Thing in Tombstones

"There are fashions in tombstones, just the same as in hats and clothes," said a monument worker, "and even if they don't change quite as often we have to keep up with them. A few years ago broken columns were all the go, and we had our hands full executing such orders. Then came the St. Andrew's Cross. It's shaped like an X and most of our orders ran to that sort of cross.

"Now the Celtic cross is in vogue, and it is quite the proper thing to have put on your monument. They offer a considerable field for decoration and traceries, but I suppose they will have their run and something new will come in. An experienced tombstone maker can tell approximately when a monument was put up without looking at the date on it, if he has kept up with the fashions."

MAPES-JOHNSTON MINING CO., LTD.

Incorporated under Ontario Companies Act.

The Elk Lake fire didn't damage Mapes-Johnston camp—camp is seven miles from Elk Lake, but the opening of the ELK LAKE Branch of the Timiskaming and Northern Ontario Railroad gives the Mapes-Johnston Mining Company's property an outlet for shipping ore heretofore lacking.

DEVELOPMENTS

The Mapes-Johnston has two shafts in good ore—No. 1—90 feet deep, with native silver showing in a big eight-inch vein all the way down the shaft—vein big and strong at bottom of shaft—a true fissure vein.

SILVER—9,000 Oz. Ore——2,200 Oz. Ore—SILVER

Real SILVER and SILVER ORE on the Mapes-Johnston—Not on adjacent or adjoining property—BUT ON the MAPES-JOHNSTON. Not 30 or 50 feet to drift to it, but on the surface—in both shafts—in several veins.

Not 62-oz. ore, or 100-oz. ore, but 9000 oz. ore—assayed by real commercial assayers—not assayed with the eye or by interested friends—no guesswork—real assays.

Shaft No. 2 is 75 feet from Shaft No. 1, and 65 feet deep—shaft No. 2 is sunk on junction of two immense veins—5-foot drift at 65-foot level shows over 9000 oz. of silver to the ton in 9-inch pay streak—2200 oz. of silver to ton in wall rock each side of vein.

RICHEST SILVER ORE OF THE NORTH

comes from just such a vein junction as the Mapes-Johnston has where these big values were found.

Small Allotment of Treasury Shares

is offered for Public Subscription at 20 cents per share—par value $1.00 per share.

This is the first public offering, but no better offering at anything like the price could be made. The property was purchased, paid for and developed to present status by Mapes-Johnston Syndicate, and private subscriptions were made at higher price than present offering.

$100 BUYS 500 SHARES—$500 BUYS 2,500 SHARES—OTHER AMOUNTS IN PROPORTION.

MORE TREASURY SHARES—$37,000—AFTER ALMOST 2 1-2 YEARS' WORK

than when property was under option—Before property was paid for—Silver discovered—shafts sunk—20 veins trenched—property patented—9000-oz. Silver ore found and assayed—Mapes-Johnston Treasury had 300,000 shares.

Toronto, February 1st, 1913.

Note.—The MAPES-JOHNSTON property is paid for, patented and title thereto in the name of the Company. The funds for operating and developing up-to-date were furnished by the Mapes-Johnston Syndicate, and only 30,200 Treasury Shares were sold before Preston Limited, secured control of and an option on the balance to be sold. Before offering shares to the public, Preston, Limited, had 85,000 shares donated to the Treasury by Messrs. Mapes & Johnston to carry out the emergency expenses of putting the property on an active operating basis. NOW

OUR POPULATION

An Analysis of the Figures on the Census Returns

The rural population of Canada in 1911 was 3,924,394, and the urban population 3,289,444. In 1901 the rural population was 3,349,515, and the urban population 2,021,799. The increase of rural population in the ten years is therefore 574,878, and of the urban 1,258,546, which is 17.16 per cent. for the former and 62.25 per cent for the latter.

In Alberta the increase of rural population in the ten years was 89,327, and of urban 121,314. In British Columbia the increase of rural population was 100,318, and of urban 1.3.505, and in Manitoba the rural increase was 70,511, and the urban 129,892. New Brunswick lost 1,49. rural and gained 22,262 urban, while Nova Scotia lost 23,981 rural, and gained 56,745 urban.

Ontario's Figures

Ontario lost 52,184 rural and gained 292,511 urban. Prince Edward Island gained 16 urban, but lost 9,546 rural. Quebec shows gains of both rural and urban population, being 39,961 for the former and 313,162 for the latter. Saskatchewan also shows gains in both classes, being 287,338 for the former and 113,815 for the latter. In Yukon the rural loss was 13,430 and the urban loss 5,277. In the Northwest Territories, whose population is wholly rural, the loss was 2,933.

Another interesting feature is the tabulation of people by conjugal status. There were 1,331,564 married men and only 1,251,182 married women, probably accounted for by the fact that the surplus of husbands had left their wives at home in Europe until they were able to make good in Canada.

Two Million Bachelors

That there is ample opportunity for cupid to get busy is proven by the fact that there were 2,369,160 bachelos, and 1,941,854 spinsters in Canada when the census was taken. There were 89,121 widowers and 179,598 widows.

The growth of the divorce habit is shown by the fact that there were 839 divorced men in Canada in 1911, as against 337 in 1901, whilst the number of divorced women grew from 324 in 1901 to 691 in 1911.

The largest gain during the last forty years was made by Montreal, being 355,480; the second largest by Toronto, being 317,538; the third largest by Winnipeg, being 135,794. Vancouver's growth was 100,401 in less than thirty years.

Males totaled 3,821,106, and females 3,383,711.

The number of occupied dwellings in the sub-districts of the Dominion in 1911 was 1,413,913, and the number of families 1,488,353, compared with 1,028,892 dwellings and 1,070,744 families in 1901.

A USE FOR OLD PIANOS

Tribesmen Who Converted It Into a Bed

A Labrador tribe, it is said, made the barrels stolen from a wrecked whaler serve as chimney-tops; the West Indians utilized Timothy Dexter's warming pans for sugar ladles and the Shans find no worse use for English beer bottles than to stick them up as household gods to keep away evil spirits. But the drollest instance of converted usage occurred when that adventurous Frenchman, De Tonnant, while in Patagonia, gave an old chief a worn out grand piano which he had bought for eighty francs.

A few days after making this generous present, De Tonnant went one morning to pay an early visit to the Patagonian. He found him sleeping peacefully with his wife inside the piano, from which he had carefully removed sounding board, strings, etc., and which thus transformed constituted a not uncomfortable beds ead

EX-PREMIER'S NOSE BROKEN

It Was a Marble Reproduction, However, And Was Quickly Repaired

The statute of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, which was supposed to have gone down with the Titanic, while it was actually on La Bretagne, has been put in place at the Chateau Laurier at Ottawa. Monsieur Paul Chevre, the sculptor watched anxiously while the product of his art was moved by the workmen. How his fingers twitched to take it himself. How careful he would be with it—how much more gentle! Then one cannot tell how it happened. But that statute was dropped. It fell on its nose. The nose of Sir Wilfrid Laurier was broken.

The workmen stood back amazed, horror stricken. M. Chevre tore his hair. He shouted till his throat was hoarse. He stopped in his wrath. He looked at the men. "Allons," he said. That was all. And they went. He remained alone with his work. As the afternoon sped drearily on, he sat at work in his sleeves. He heeded nothing going on around him. He was an artist again. And the nose of the statue was broken. But he worked on till the twilight. Then he got up and looked at it. One more touch there and one here. The nose of Sir Wilfrid was not broken. So it appeared. But the statue, Monsieur Paul Chevre and Le Bon Dieu all knew the truth.

In after years the people who hear of this accident and ask the elevator man at the Chateau when the nose was broken will be told it is a frabrication.

MONEY BRINGS IMPORTANCE

Welsh Laborer Finds Himself Suddenly a Millionaire

Price Goodwin Beavan is the name of a farm laborer in Brecanshire, Wales, who is acclaimed as the heir to $200,000—one million dollars—left to him by his father, Richard Goodwin, who died in Texas. The farm laborer has employed a solicitor of Landrinded Wells to devote his time to securing the inheritance, and Price Goodwin Beavan has left the farm at Llwynfilly, exchanging his slouch hat, corduroys and gaiters for a new black suit and hard felt hat. Beavan is now being deluged with hundreds of begging letters for his money, besides which he is asked to contribute to scores of benevolent and church projects.

CHEAP DIVORCES

They Can be Had for a Very Small Fee or for Nothing

Cut-rate separations, marked down severances of matrimony, bargain sales of single bliss—what a wonderful lot of inducements might be offered to mismated couples if they could be induced to take their marital woes to Africa! For instance, the women of the Ingalwa tribe who are tired of their husbands do not have to worry for six months, a year or two years, held in onerous leash until a judge condescends to sign a decree. Instead they simply nag their husbands until they induce the irate gentleman to give them a good beating.

Once a drop of blood flows, it is all off. Back to mother goes the wife, taking with her a good share of marriage offerings and becomes a divorcee without any more ado. In Tunis, any man with $1.20 can get his freedom any time he wants it.

The Arabs and the Moors probably hold the divorce record. In Sudan there are Arab men who have been married 40 or 50 times within ten years. The female of the species cannot boast of such record. The best they are usually able to do is 20 matches in a decade. This is because the customs and conventionalities decree that a divorcee shall wait three whole months before becoming a blushing bride again, while her former husband can re-marry the day he is free if he so desires.

A Pauper's Holiday Trip

A Strabane workhouse inmate named O'Brien, recently transferred from Glasgow, appearing before the guardians to ask for a private subscription to enable him to return to that city, said he had a sore leg when he arrived, but it was better now. O'Brien added: "To tell you the truth, I just came over here for a holiday, and for the good of the old Irish air, that is all. I could go back to-night if only I could get my fare."

The clerk said that it had been ascertained that O'Brien came home from the South African war worth $2,000, and that he soon spent the money. The application was refused.

Struck a Witness at Assizes

At Monmouth, Wales, Samuel Wink worth, a barman, was sentenced to five years' penal servitude for an assault on a witness in the Assize Court. He struck Mary Price a blow on the face after she had given evidence. The man had been concerned in a conspiracy to escape from Usk Prison, where he was serving a term for forgery.

HUMAN ELECTRICITY

Explanation of the Ability of Some Persons to Locate Under-ground Streams by a Forked Stick

Are you a sort of storage jar for electricty. Most folks are apparently.

When you rub a rubber comb through your hair, you will hear faint cracklings and spittings as the teeth of the comb pass clear of the hiar. In the dark you can sometimes get a real elctrical spark like that produced by a laboratory machine.

There are other folks who are able to produce the same thing by rubbing the feet swiftly back and forth on a carpet and then touching their finger tips to another person. If the other person does not know of this possibility the effect is sometimes startling.

Some people have more of this power than others. They are apparently charged with electrical fluid most of the time. They are able to produce the same effect by rubbing their hands on silk, woolen or other fabrics. When they comb their hair in the dark they can get inch-long sparks of snapping brilliancy.

It is the same thing that enables a rubber comb to pick up and hold little scraps of paper after it has been pulled through the hair two or three times. There will be a faint whispered crackling as the teeth of the comb approach the scraps and a few of them will jump up and cling to the comb. They will continue to do so till the electricity has passed off and left the comb in its usual condition.

Some scientists claim that different people have different kinds of electrical energy stored up in them. Some are positives and some are negatives. It is also asserted that the greater number of people are postively charged and that it is hard to find the human variety of negative electricity.

Here is the test for negative electricity that also seems to explain the power of the "water witch." If you think you have negative electricity cut from a green tree a small limb that forks into two branches of about equal size.

Trim this limb down into a forked wand about two feet in length. Hold the ends of the fork in either hand with the butt of the limbs upward.

Then take a walk across the fields or through a wood. If you are a person of negative electricity the moisture in the green wood will act as a conductor for your particular brand of lightning, and as you pass over an underground stream the point of the forked wand will twist in your hands till the butt will be pulled straight down toward the earth. The point will also show the existence of the underground stream.

If this is true it explains the ability and the scarcity of the "rural water witch." There are one or two of these men or women in every neighborhood and they are always consulted when the farmer wants to sink a well. They sometimes charge a fee for all wells that are sunk at their direction. Others take pay only when water is found within a certain depth. Whether they are men or women, the title of "water witch" is given them.

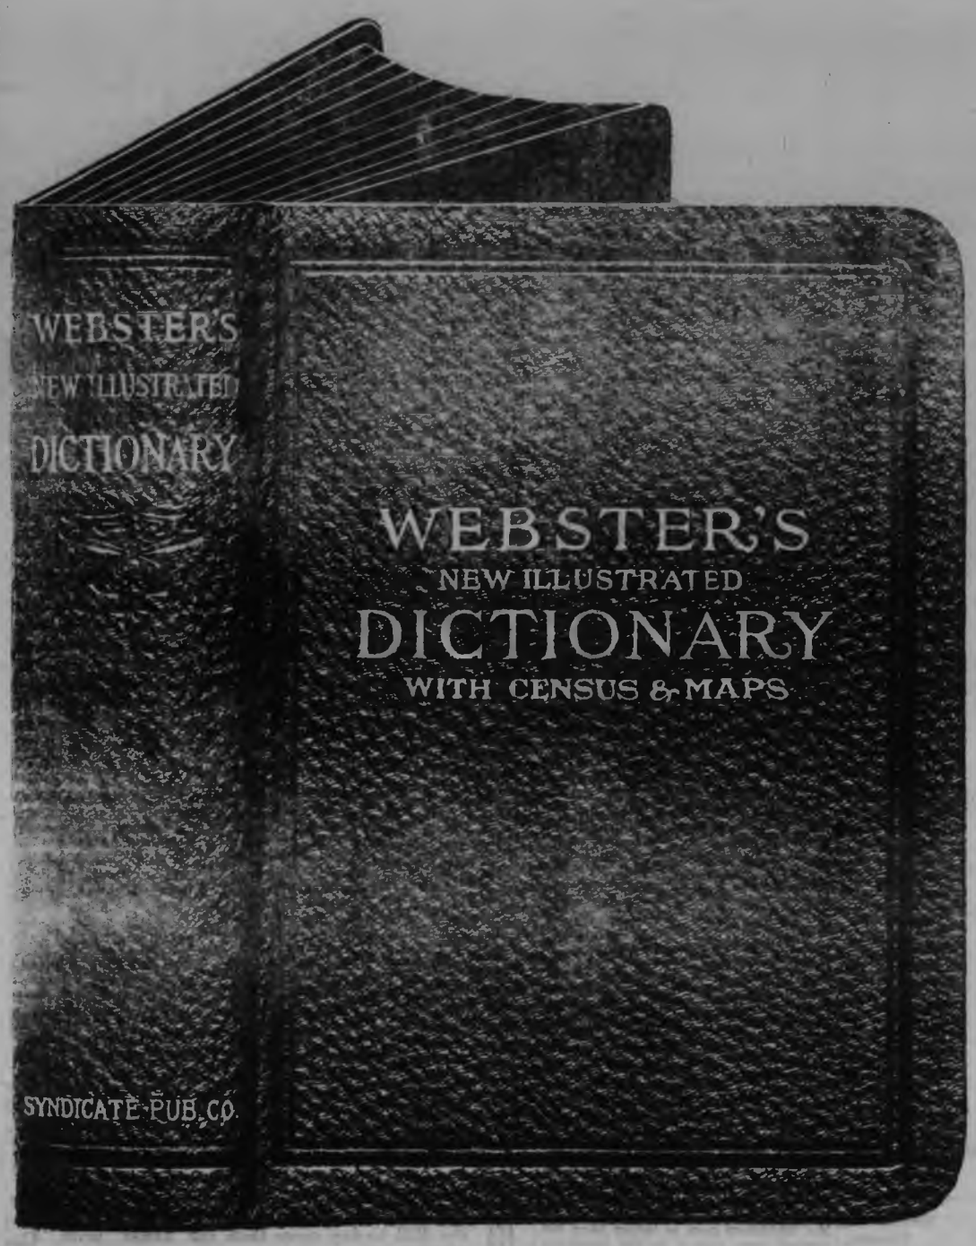
According to the theory the positively charged man or woman has no ability to make the green twig move when passing over the water or where the earth is dry. Their particular brand of electricity has no affinity for moist sticks.

MLLE. CATRINA GELTZER

The fame of Mme. Pavlova is rivalled by Russia's latest recruit from the Imperial Theatre of St. Petersburg, Mlle. Catrina Geltzer. Mlle. Geltzer appears in a ballet called "The Dance Dream," and brilliant performances have won her a place in British hearts close to that held by Mme. Pavlova, star of the ballet.

Amusing Londoners

It has been calculated by industrious statisticians that London, England, spends about $12,500 per waking hour on its amusements, or more than $45,000,000 a year, the principal items being theatres, $15,000,000; music-halls, $10,000,000; cinematographs, $15,000,000; skating, dancing, concerts, etc., $5,000,000. If betting can be regarded as an amusement, another $50,000,000 must be added, making some $95,000,000 a year.



Welcoming the New Laird

Lord Seafield, the new laird, of Grant, was welcomed home by a gathering of some 500 clansmen, who marched in procession from Grantown-on-Spey to Castle Grant. All the 500 clansmen, without exception, answered to the name of Grant. Pipers thrilled the clansmen with the music of the ancient clan gathering.

Heir to 145,000 Acres

The coming-of-age of Mr. Watkin Williams Wynn, heir of the ancient Wynnstay Estates, covering 145,000 acres in Wales, was commemorated on the Denbighshire and Montgomeryshire estates, when the tenantry presented the heir with a silver tea urn, while Sir Watkin Williams Wynn entertained 1,000 people at Llangedwyn Hall.

WASTE OF TIME TO BATHE

Scientists Declare Bacterial Growth is Increased by Washing

To take a bath only leaves one's skin in a dirtier condition than before, from the medical point of view. This is the melancholy opinion expressed by the leading microbiologists of the world, whose views are collected by Le Matin.

According to these experts, who have been making a number of tests, the ordinary bath only multiplies the growth of microbes, which always flourish on even the healthiest skin.

Dr. Tsidaka, the famous Japanese bacteriologist, for example, recently had three men bathe in clean water one after the other, the bathers each time being thoroughly scrubbed with fresh water. All afterward were found to have three or four times as many microbe colonies on their backs as previously.

Other scientists agree with the Japanese professor. One says that the idea of cleansing the skin from microbes by the application of soap and water is a pathetic delusion, as the bacterial growth is only stimulated and increased by these means.

Death of Naval Hero

Stoker Brown, a Navy man, who had an eventful career, died at Aberdeen. One incident in his life has been enshrined in standard history books as a type of the valor of the British Navy. Brown was one of the crew of the ill-starred transport-boat Mageria. When off the island of St. Paul, in the Southern Ocean, the Mageria sprung a leak. All hope of saving either crew or vessel was given up, when Brown crawled down into the hold of the vessel, found the leak, and successfully fixed an iron plate over it. The vessel had to be run ashore at this island, where she lay a derelict for three months. The crew had very little to eat, and were on the verge of starvation, when Brown went down to the disabled vessel, and by firing the boilers was the means of refloating the boat.

THE PECULIAR CUTTLEFISH

Little Creatures Kept in Tanks to be Milked of Their Ink

A curious thing is the cuttlefish with its long arms and bulging eyes. At several points on the British coasts there are located cuttlefish farms where the little creatures are kept in tanks to be "milked" of their ink. This ink, which is kept in a little bag or sack, is very valuable and each little cuttle will yield about $3.50 a year. The tank or pond is connected with the sea by a pipe and a thousand or more cuttles are kept in a single one. When it is considered an opportune time the sluices of the ponds are opened and the water is gently agitated. The cuttles then swim around the pond and as soon as one passes through the sluice is closed. The cuttle passes down a small channel into a basin or metal receptacle and as soon as it is securely there the water is drained off. This frightens the fish and at once it squirts its precious liquid into the basin. In this way, one at a time, the "milking" is completed.

The King and an Old Soldier

As the King was motoring through the village of Chilton on his way to Hungerford Station he noticed among the spectators a Crimean veteran of eighty named William Angell, and beckoned him to the car. The old man, who is blind, having lost his sight owing to the bursting of a shell fifty years ago, was led to the Royal car, and his Majesty, shaking hands with him, expressed the hope that he would be spared for many years.

Historic Castle for the Nation

At a meeting of the County Council of Inverness-shire the Seafield Trustees handed Urquhart Castle over to the National Trust for Places of Historic Interest. The old castle, which is in ruins, is situated about fifteen miles from Inverness, standing on a promontory on Loch Ness and at the entrance to the Glen of Urquhart. The building possesses historic associations dating back to the time of Edward I. and the War of Independence.

Baby Sea Elephant

London has a sea elephant which is an object of interest to zoologists throughout the world, because this is one of the few members of this branch of the elephant family in captivity. The sea elephant is not really a member of the elephant fraternity, being a seal and called after the big land pachyderm because of its tremendous size. The London acquisition is only a babe, but it appears to be in the best of health and will doubtless grow to the average size of its kind, some of which have been known to reach a total length of 20 feet, with proportionate girth. King George was donor of the animal to the Zoological Gardens, his Majesty having received it from the director of the South African Museum at Capetown. The sea elephant is an inhabitant of the seas of the southern hemisphere, and this particular specimen came from the Crozet Islands in the Antarctic.

Dolan After More Money.

Conductor Killed at Belleville.

A Belleville despatch, received yesterday, says, Robert A. Doyle, of Toronto, conductor on the eastbound G.T.R. freight train, was instantly killed here at an early hour this morning as the result of a rear-end collision between two freight trains in a snow storm.

City Hall Clerk Convalescent.

Miss M. Thompson, the city hall stenographer, who, a fortnight ago was injured by being run down near the C.P.R. station, by a reckless driver, has sufficiently recovered as to be able to resume her duties. The man who was responsible for the accident, it is understood, has left the city.

Coming Orange Meeting.

The Grand Lodge, L.O.L. of Eastern Ontario, meets here, in the Court House on Wednesday, March 19th. It is expected that about 400 delegates will be present. This will be the annual meeting at which some of the most prominent members of the Province will be present.

Wanted His Teeth Filed.

Archie McCall, of Port Hope, got drunk the other day after being released from jail, after a third similar charge. He was handed out a two months' sentence in Cobourg jail. As the constable who took him to Cobourg was putting on the handcuffs, Archie asked him, "Had you not better make a complete job, and have my teeth filed?"

Former Local Resident Gone.

Word has been received in the city of the death of a former local resident, Mrs. Alexander Stewart of Chicago, Ill. It is about 40 years since the deceased left Peterborough but she will be remembered by many of the older residents. Two sisters, Mrs. James Dixon and Mrs. James Best, 501 Water street, survive. The funeral will be held this afternoon in Fond-du-Lac, Wis.

Donnybrook Scene Near Lindsay.

Many residents of Bryson's Corners near Lindsay, are ornamented with black eyes, twisted noses and have sore ribs. It seems that a party returning from Lindsay, in a rig, drove into and upset the rig containing two men of the latter place. A Donnybrook fair scene was enacted, in which the Bryson's Corner youths ran hard against the fists of the Lindsay men.

Toronto Chink Laundries.

We are pleased to see that Toronto is beginning to realize that the Chink laundries should be put under closer inspection and control. With this object in view the Board of Control of the City Council has raised the annual license fee from $10 to $50 per annum. It is to be hoped that this will be taken only as a starter. These places which are infested in many cases with the lowest type of humanity, are often insanitary and unclean. Rigid inspection and enforcement of the regulations which apply to others, would put many of them out of business.

Rev. W. C. Riddiford Will Leave.

Rev. W. C. Riddiford, pastor of Park street Baptist church, who has accepted a call to Egerton Street Baptist church, London, will deliver his farewell sermons in Peterborough on Sunday, March 30th, and will leave immediately after for his new charge. The church to which Rev. Mr. Riddiford goes is larger than his present one, and it is the intention of the congregation to erect a new building next year. WILSON NOW U. S. PRESIDENT CEREMONIES UNDER CLOUDED SKY

For First Time in Twenty Years a Democrat Holds the Reins of Government

Taft and Wilson Were Loudly Cheered as They Drove From the White House to the Capitol

Washington, D.C., March 5.—Inauguration Day dawned cold and gray. A solid bank of heavy clouds completely shut off the sun and threatened to carry out the official prediction of "unsettled weather" in the afternoon or at night. With a temperature between 45 and 50 degrees, a light south wind fanned the city, but no such discomforts as attended the inauguration blizzard of four years ago were threatened, though every preparation had been made for them. It looked, however, as if a drizzle might begin almost any time.

Was Up at 8.

Just after 8 o'clock a pair of shoes which had reposed all night outside of Mr. Wilson's door at the Shoreham disappeared, and this indicated to members of his personal party that he had arisen for the day. It is his custom to leave his shoes outside at night to be polished. The incoming president prepared to breakfast in his room with Mrs. Wilson and their three daughters.

President Taft had worked in his study until nearly three o'clock this morning and had left no instructions about being awakened.

Three hours before the ceremonies at the Capitol were scheduled to begin the entire east front was crowded.

Bryan Early Caller.

Shortly after nine o'clock Wm. Jennings Bryan had a brief conference with Mr. Wilson, after which the President-Elect came out of his room to meet the newspaper correspondents He was wearing a frock coat and a rose colored tie. He said he had been informed by Congressional leaders that the business of the extra session would be ready by April 1st, but added that the date was subject to change.

At 9.45, Mr. Wilson and Mr. Marshall, the incoming President and Vice-President respectively, accompanied by the Congressional Committee, left their hotel and began the short drive to the White House. The Culver and Essex troops cantered along as their escorts.

Informal Reception.

President Taft, having in mind the incoming President's desire for simplicity, escorted him to the east room of the White House, instead of the Blue room, which is the formal reception place of dignitaries. Here Mr. Taft and Mr. Wilson chatted and Mr. Taft's smile was much in evidence.

Off to Capital.

At 10.17 o'clock the ride to the Capitol began. In the first carriage were President Taft and Mr. Wilson, Mr. Taft occupying the right hand seat. With them were Senators Crane and Bacon. In the second carriage Mr. Marshall sat at Senator Overman's right.

The party moved down Pennsylvania avenue with mounted escorts. The streets were packed, and the roars of cheers, President Taft and Mr. Wilson gave their acknowledgements.

EDUCATION BOARD HOLDS REGULAR MONTHLY SESSION

School Inspector Presents a Most Favorable Report of Our Local Seats of Learning

Last night the Board of Education met in regular session, with Dr. Morrison in the chair. The minutes of the last meeting were read and confirmed.

Mr. E. C. Jamieson, of the P.C.I., asked leave of absence for two weeks on school business in Toronto.—Granted.

Attendance at the local schools was read and proved satisfactory. A number of accounts were presented, and the reports of monies received was read.

The Finance Committee presented their report. The report was adopted.

The plumbing expenses of both the new East City and West Ward Schools was considered. Chairman Morrison explained the situation, and said, that while the Board is limited as to expense, the matter was worthy of serious consideration. The trouble was in connection with the plumbing of the water closets. The matter, on motion of Mr. Hill, was referred back to the Building Committee.

It was decided that the Board attend the closing exercises at the Collegiate Institute on Friday night.

Lieut.-Col. Miller thought that the boys in the school cadets ought to be dressed in uniform and supplied with rifles. "It would add to efficiency and help the boys towards discipline and general good work."

The matter of uniforms for the cadets was referred to the Supervision Committee.

The Inspector's report was next read and was most complimentary to the local teachers.

Col. Miller said that the report shows that the ratepayers are getting 100 cents on the dollar for every cent spent in schools.

The Chairman said he thought the ratepayers would not stand for a $10,000 expenditure for a gymnasium.

Col. Miller said that, now the Board was spending about $70,000 a year, owing to his increased work, the Secretary-Treasurer of the Board should have his salary increased by $100 a year.—Carried.

Committee on Appointments.

Mr. W. H. Hill, chairman of Committee on Appointments submitted the following:

Gentlemen,—Your Committee on Appointments beg to report and recommend that Miss L. C. Esplen of London, Ont., be appointed on the Public School staff to fill the vacancy caused by the resignation of Miss Clara Adams, duties to start after the Easter vacation and salary to be according to schedule for holders of second class professional certificates.

A motion was passed whereby a member of the Board will attend the meeting to be held in Toronto, of those interested in the care of the feeble-minded, as foretold in The Times.

The meeting then adjourned.

THE WEATHER.

To-day—Fair, with little higher temperature.

CITY COUNCILS ROUTINE BUSINESS

The City Fathers met in regular monthly session Monday night, with Mayor W. H. Bradburn presiding. There were also present Aldermen Buller, Duncan, Gillespie, Duffus, Green, Johnston, Langford, Anderson and McIntyre.

Two hundred copies of the auditors report were ordered to be printed.

Grant for Agricultural Society.

The Peterborough Industrial Exhibition Association asked for the customary grant, with an increase commensurate with the growing importance of the exhibition. Each year shows an increase both in attendance and exhibits. Mr. J. J. Turner, Sr. offered that new buildings and enlarged grandstand are needed. He hoped that the Council would see its way clear to increase the grant this year.

His Worship offered that the society's request will be given careful consideration and accorded as liberal a treatment as possible. He did not exactly know where the money is to come from, as the Council is facing—by force of uncontrollable circumstances an increased rate this year.

Horticultural Society's Grant.

Messrs. Harry Beal and Frank Wise asked that the Horticultural society's annual grant be increased about $600; otherwise the city parks cannot be kept up to their heretofore high standard of maintenance. Mr. Beal offered that unless the grant is increased, the city will have to make other provision for the care of its parks.

Mr. H. B. Cowan endorsed the previous speaker's remarks and added, that it is especially important this year that the parks be properly maintained, as a convention of Dom-

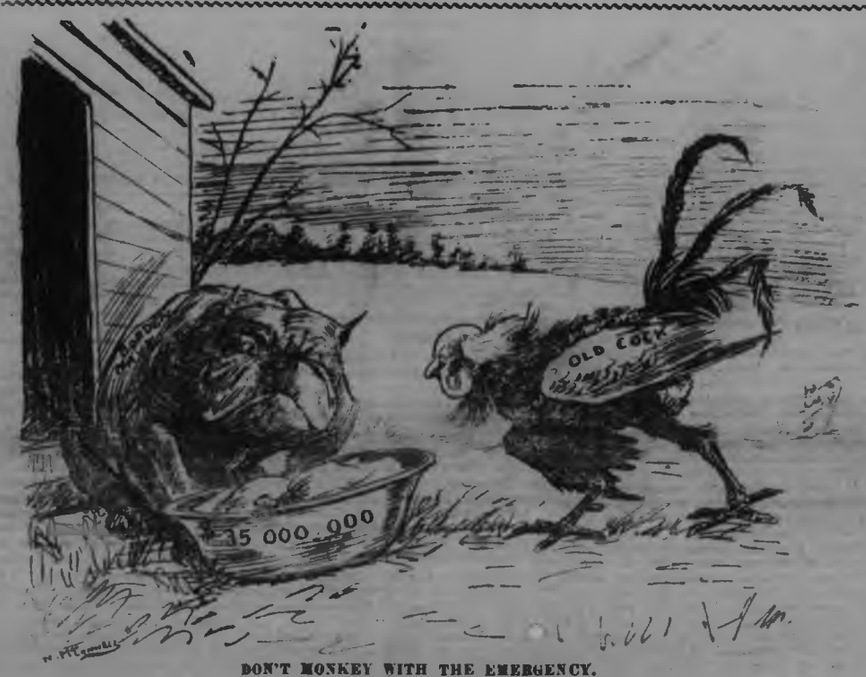
LAST NOTABLE DEADLOCK

It Developed During Attack On Sir Charles Tupper in 1896---House Sat For a Week



The last notable deadlock in the House of Commons occurred near the end of Sir Charles Tupper's Administration in 1896 over the Manitoba Remedial Act. The House opened at three o'clock Monday afternoon and sat without a break except for two hours of recess for dinner called by the rules, until Saturday night at 12. Sir Charles could go no further, and the effort to pass the bill was abandoned the following week.

GERMANY GIVES CHALLENGE TO THE BRITISH NATION

Huge Military Expenditures Are Aimed at France, England's Ally

London, March 5.—Earl Percy's article in the Daily Mail indicates the supreme uneasiness in England among the governing and military classes at the spectacle of Germany's open challenge to France.

She has flung down the gauntlet by deciding to spend $250,000,000 in addition to the already huge military budget.

Garvin says in The Pall Mall Gazette: "The primary threat is to France. To her Germany offers the alternative, 'Be my brother or I'll kill you.'

In either case France will be destroyed or forced unwillingly to Germany's side. Nothing remains to Britain but to face single-handed a conflict with a German bestriding the continent.

Need Army of 160,000 Men.

"The question for us is: Are we to turn back on all our traditions, or are we to deny to Germany that unconscionable mastery as fairly as in the past we denied it to France and Spain."

Earl Percy carries the argument further and contends that England must have conscription to enable her to support France, with at least 160,000 trained men. He says England once boasted she saved Europe. "In our hearts we know France is fighting our battles as well as her own. Every day makes it harder for a self-respecting Englishman to look a Frenchman in the face."

Electorate and Conscription.

This is the view of English militarists in the War Office and outside, but no English political party has yet dared to face the working class and electorate with a frank policy of conscription.

Mr. Churchill's view is understood to be that England can only save herself and save Europe as she did in Napoleonic days by an unflinching determination to maintain supremacy on the seas, and by all states of the Empire presenting a united front.

France then can count on England's naval help in the event of her attack and Russia's land help.

St. Petersburg messages to-day announce that owing to her vast territories Russia will be able to place in the field a first line of 4,800,000 men whilst her artillery is to be increased to 16,000 guns.

DIVORCE COURT SHOULD BE FOR POOR AS WELL AS RICH

The Poor Man or Woman Now Has as Much Chance of Buying a Motor Car as of Getting a Divorce

Montreal, March 5.—Addressing the Canadian Club here yesterday Dean Walton head of the legal department of McGill University, claimed that Canada should have a properly constituted divorce court.

He remarked: "We ought to have such a court, simply on the ground that as things are we have one law for the poor and one for the rich. So that it cannot be argued that according to our laws the marriage tie is indissoluble. But the poor woman—or the poor man—has as much chance of buying a motor car or of forming a merger."

The Dean also dealt with the unfairness of the laws relating to married women in Quebec, and pointed out that:

"A wife has no right or succession to her husband if he leaves relatives within the twelfth degree. The very law which says to the wife, 'Your union is so close and intimate that only death can sever it,' says to her if her husband dies, 'My dear lady, surely you are not so unreasonable as to claim any part of your husband's estate; he has left blood relations.'"

SECRETARY OF THE INTERIOR A CANADIAN IN NEW CABINET

Washington, March 5.—One Canadian becomes a Cabinet minister on the accession of President Wilson. He is Franklin Knight Lane, who was born in Prince Edward Island in 1864. He was educated in California, however, and practised law there. He was a candidate for Governor on the Democratic ticket in that State and received the vote of his party for Senator.

He has for years been a member of the Interstate Commerce Commission and represents the United States on the International Railway Commission.

The Cabinet List.

President Wilson's Cabinet is complete, and it remains only to formally send the nominations to the Senate, either to-day, if the ceremonies permit, or else to-morrow, as follows:

Secretary of State—William J. Bryan of Nebraska.

Secretary of Treasury—William G. McAdoo of New York.

Secretary of War—Lindley M. Garrison, of New Jersey.

Attorney-General—James McReynolds of Tennessee.

Postmaster General—Representative Albert Burleson of Texas.

Secretary of the Navy—Josephus Daniels of North Carolina.

Secretary of the Interior—Franklin K. Lane of California.

Secretary of Agriculture David F Houston of Missouri.

Secretary of Commerce—Representative William C. Redfield of New York.

Secretary of Labor—Representative Wm B. Wilson of Pennsylvania.

The last nomination for Secretary of Labor is subject to the signing of the bill creating that portfolio, which is now in President Taft's hands.

NUGENT'S SARSAPARILLA—PRICE FOR large bottle, 100 full doses, 25c. and well worth it, too. It's better to take no medicine at all than to depend upon cheap concoctions that are compounded to sell at low price and a big profit just because there is a large demand for certain remedies at certain seasons of the year. There are so-called Sarsaparillas offered to us to sell to our customers at 75c a bottle that would bring us a larger profit than Nugent's Sarsaparilla sold at 25c. Nugent's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, arouses the torpid liver, drives out all impurities, cleanses and tones up the system, and helps Nature throw off the dullness that comes from indoor life of winter. It arouses energy, brightens the eye, clears the brain, gives lightness to the movements. Nugent's Sarsaparilla is not the only thing you will find in this drug store. We make a specialty of Nugent's Remedies. Nugent Drug Co., 365 George St., directly opposite Cressman's store.

Virtue be its own reward, but that is no excuse for aman allowing himself to develop into a "good thing."

The news that Lord Strathcona is not seriously ill, as reported in the London Times, brings a sense of relief to the people of Canada. We are proud of our veteran statesman.

Whatever else they may have to say abut Harry Thaw's sanity, the fact still remains that he is a good money-getter for some of the bughouse experts who wouldn't know a fit from a three-bagger out of court.

WHERE THE BLAME LIES

Mr. Godfrey Langlois, M.L.A., for St. Louis, Que., is very frank in his criticism of his French-Canadian compatriots. In commeoting on the fact that Ontario has over 8,000 miles of railway while Quebec has less than 4,000, he declares that the difficulty lies in the apathy of the French-Canadian in matters of serious importance to the province, and their busy-body spirit in matters in which they have absolutely no concern. He declares that if Montreal were taken out of the province, Quebec, would certainly be the tail of the Confederation. If this be true, and Mr. Langlois ought to know, who is to blame? Most of us cannot help but think that the trouble lies in clerical domination. The Roman Catholic Church makes a sad mess of governing any people, says our excellent contemporary, the Christian Guardian.

PEEVISH MEN FIGHT WOMEN ENGLISH SUFFRAGETTES RIOT

London, March 5.—There were further evidence yesterday of the exasperation of a section of the public at the suffragette campaign of violence. For over two hours there were scenes of disorder outside the Pavilion Theatre, Piccadilly Circus, where militants hold weekly meetings. The tants hold weekly meetings. The theatre was in a stage of siege. The demonstration followed the decision of the organizers of the meeting to refuse entry to men as the result of last week's scenes at suffrage meetings. The men thereupon determined not to allow any women to enter the theatre. "No men, no women," was the cry, and they formed a solid phalanx and refused to make a gangway for the women. Piccadilly Circus presented an extraordinary spectacle.

The huge crowd held up traffic, surged across the road and created a deafening din. The police were powerless. Women screamed when they found themselves wedged in the corners of the entrances; suffragist posters were destroyed and hats and tempers were lost. Now and then shouts were raised: "Do we want votes for women?" A full-throated "No," was the unanimous answer. Medical and other students raised the cries: "Are we down-hearted?" and circling the theatre evidently sought a means of entry, but all entrances were guarded. Every face was scanned by the little committee. None but a few favored male supporters passed the barrier of police.

CITY COUNCIL'S ROUTINE BUSINESS

Butchers' License.

Mr. N. C. Cameron, secretary of the Retail Merchants' Association, Messrs. Kemp and Rowell, asked that the license fee for butchers be reduced from $10 to $1. This would only mean a loss to the city of $135, which Mr. Rowell said, could perhaps readily be made good in some other direction. This matter was referred to the Finance Committee.

Fair Wage Question.

Mr. Weir, representing the Trades and Labor Council, asked that a building inspector be appointed, and that "fair wages" prevail for corporation employees. The Trades and Labor Council did not find fault with the city's past treatment of its employees, but took the ground that when increases are being made to city officials, corporation employees should be similarly treated.

Ald. Buller replied that the Board of Works is paying "fair wages" to all its laborers. There are a few old men, it is true, for whom light employment is found at lower wages than paid men in their prime; this is done to provide work for elderly citizens who otherwise could not find employment.

His Worship assured Mr. Weir that the city is supposed to pay its laborers the wages prevailing in other quarters for laboring work. If the Trades and Labor Council can show that corporation laborers are not receiving fair wages, council will be too willing to adjust their grievances.

Mr. Weir was also assured that the appointment of a Building Inspector is now under consideration.

Downie Street Creek.

The vexed problem of re-diverting Downie street creek was referred to the Board of Works, who will deal with the matter definitely this time.

MADE HIS WAY IN THE NORTH

A Fine Story of a Real Character in Northern Ontario, With Its Old Country Connection

The younger son of a younger son of an English house so illustrious that some decades ago it furnished Canada with a Viceroy, came in advanced middle age to northern Ontario and with his own hands built himself a house, not much to look at, certainly, but enough to shield himself and his wife and children from the wind and the rain and the frost and the snow. It was Home. Years passed. But what a change! The little beeches he had planted yesterday to screen the shack from the public gaze now embowered a colonial mansion, with deep verandahs for the quick, hot summers and wide fireplaces for the long, cold winters. In the gully, where the turf was as close as on an Oxford lawn and as green as emerald, three or four of the herd of pedigree cattle he had bred drank at the creek, lazily flicking off the flies. He walked through a paddock where he was feeding cattle for the Toronto market, till he came to the tennis court, where his sons were flying to and fro after the ball. Fred, the elder, had just returned from his first term at 'Varsity, and to-morrow he was going to Moose Factory, where he was going to work during his vacation as shipping clerk to an elevator company. He remembered what he told him when he left for his first term.

"Now, my boy, after I've given you a start you've got to pay your own way; it's no disgrace to work in this country, and you can get real hard practical experience of the workaday world in the vacation to make real the theories you will learn in the class room. In Canada there's room for everybody, and you don't have to worry for the future."

Turning back, he looked over his farm, stretching clear to the railroad which ran north to James Bay and south to Toronto. It was green with crops. He must presently go down to the men who were picking strawberries for the Cobalt market, and if he saw any more bugs on the potatoes he must have them sprayed. And all this land was his own; his, the younger son's, who had no more chance of becoming a landed proprietor in England than of damming the St. Lawrence.

He could now look back with pleasure to the years of hope, of transitory disappointment and of final achievement since the time he and his wife and the children came to the old log shack on the bank of the creek. He lived again the despair of the first year, when a June frost froze all the crops, and his surprise and relief when he found that it was only the tops that were brown, the nights when the mosquitoes would not let them sleep, and the triumph of the first harvesting.

With that money he had bought his first calves, and erected the little old barn which he was still using as a place to keep his buggies and harness. The first year he had been president of the local agricultural society he had commenced the present house, a very modest frame building as at first designed, but which he had enlarged and added to as years went by. The year before last he had entertained a visitor from the old country, who had told him that the old estate had at last been broken up, and was in small holdings, and he had wondered when he had found himself comparing his own lot with that of the present head of the house, much to his own advantage. Next year, perhaps, he would take a trip to the old country and see what things were like for himself.

PARCEL POST

The Canadian Manufacturers Association is Pushing on the Reform

The Canadian Manufacturers Association through their transportation department are in the forefront of the battle for a parcel post system in Canada. Industrial Canada, the official organ of the Association, makes the following comment in its last issue

"Since January 1st, 1913, Canada is the only civilized country in the world without parcels post. On the above date, a system was put in operation by the United States. Many confuse our merchandise rate, by which we can post packages under five pounds weight at the rate of sixteen cents per pound, with parcels post. The real thing is much better than the merchandise rate.

The following comparison of postage rates on a parcel weighing eleven pounds show us how we stand:

From	Postage
London, Eng., to Toronto, Ont.	$ .73
Paris, France, to Toronto, Ont.	.87
Berlin, Germany, to Toronto, Ont.	.90
Hamilton, Ont., to Toronto, Ont.	1.76

This is not all. In order to send eleven pounds by post from Hamilton to Toronto it would be necessary to break the package up into three small packages, each weighing less than five pounds.

In the words of one of Canada's leading lawyers, this country is "the last lone sparrow on the chimney top."—Industrial Canada.

The largest cement plant in Canada is now being erected in Marlboro Alta., at a cost of $650,000. The plant will have an output of 1,500 barrels of cement daily.

Offensive Breath Caused Usually by Catarrh

A Simple Remedy Discovered That Cures Without Drugs.

The American people suffer more from Catarrh than from any other disease. It undermines more constitutions and creates more sickness than all other diseases combined. It is, therefore, very dangerous.

You can't successfully treat Catarrh by internal dosing — you must in some way send a purifying, healing agent through the breathing organs, so that the germs can be reached. This you do every time inhale Catarrhozone. It's rich essences and healing balsams are breathed all through the nose, throat and lungs, and effectively, destroy every trace of Catarrh. This is a proven fact.

I endorse Catarrhozone because I know of six bad cases of Catarrh, including my own, that it has cured. It is a sensible remedy because it is capable of going where the disease is. I believe it cures quicker than other remedy because it gets sooner to the source of the disease than anything else I know of. I had headaches, bad breath, and much stomach trouble associated with my Catarrh, but they have disappeared since using Catarrhozone, which keeps me free from colds, headaches, catarrh and all winter ills." OTTO E. KRAMER, Belleville, Ont.

Catarrhozone is needed in every home. Large size lasts 2 months, price $1.00; small size, 50c.; trial size 25c. At all storekeepers and druggists or The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

BRIGHT FUTURE FOR FRUIT

British Columbia is Developing on Fruit Growing Lines

Of all the branches of agriculture, that which seems to have the greatest future in British Columbia is fruit growing. The climate and soil of the Province are peculiarly favorable to tree growth. This was well known to pioneers of the coast, and as far back as Hudson's Bay Company days the best of apples were grown on both Vancouver Island and the mainland. But difficulties were great and trying in these early days and even in more recent years, extending even well into the nineties. Shipping facilities were poor, roads, non-existent, and markets none the best, while the cost of clearing and reclaiming the land was, in many instances, prohibitive. It is scarcely to be wondered at that so many of the pioneers simply waited. Waiting was worth while, from a financial, if not from an agricultural, point of view, for real estate values have advanced enormously with the increase in population. Subdivision of the old ranches has followed and the day of small things has vanished. The total plantings in 1911 were 35,000 acres. The increase in 1912 will be fifty per cent.

We Are Developing

A REAL BONANZA

Idaho-Bride Shares The One Best Buy To-day

If any of the readers of this notice are wanting to make a substantial mining investment, we believe they will have but very few chances to make one such as is now being offered by our Company.

With our own mill adapted to handling our ores, there will undoubtedly be a wide margin for profit, such as is seldom brought to the notice of the investor. Evidently

in store for us in these mines. WE ARE DEVELOPING VAST ORE RESERVES. BONANZA ORE 1,000 FEET ABOVE US, AND PICTURE ORE AT A DEPTH OF ABOUT 2,000 FEET BELOW THE SURFACE. THAT IS PROVING THE GROUND SOME, IS IT NOT? WHERE CAN YOU BEAT IT? EVERYBODY TALKING ABOUT OUR RECENT BIG STRIKES!

Now, Mr. Investor, WE WANT QUICK ACTION, and if you want goods that can be delivered to you, buy them now.

There is Nothing Shoddy About This Investment

We have the courage of our own convictions, and when we tell you that IDAHO-BRIDE SHARES is one of the best buys on the market to-day, we mean it. We are not offering to sell out treasury stock just for the sake of selling it. We have very good reasons for doing so. We can use your capital to very good advantage RIGHT NOW at both mine and mill; otherwise, this notice would never appear. It's quick results we are wanting, and if you want to share in our good fortune, you're welcome, and your co-operation will be appreciated.

WEEDS

Weeds, weeds, weeds to no end! This weed question is sertous, and getting more so. A short rotation of crops helps greatly in the battle, but even where this is adopted, one has his hands full for a time in dealing with a dirty farm. Thistles light with the spring grain. Ewitch-grass, blue grass, bindweed, perennial sow thistle and the like make extra work, even in the hoe crops. Docks rear their unsightly heads aloft in the meadows, yellow mustard hides the grain in thousands of fields, and even dandelions do serious mischief, overrunning pastures. These, with hundreds of others, claim urgent attention during the growing season, when the corn and roots, and presently the hay, ought to monopolize one's thought and labor. What can be done about it all? We hardly know. Help is so scarce the majority of farmers cannot hire a man by the day for such work, and, mainly, it must be done by men regularly employed on a monthly or yearly engagement.

DEMONSTRATION FARMING

To Show That Mixed Farming Can be Made Pay Handsomely

To encourage mixed farming in the prairie provinces and prove to the farmers generally that this class of agriculutral industry can b made to pay handsomely, and incidentally to start every farmer in Alberta, Saskatchewan and Manitoba along the line of mixed farming, the Canadian Pacific Irrigation Department has inaugurated a campaign of locating mixed farming demonstration farms in the three prairie provinces. These farms have already been located. Work has commenced on the breaking of the ground and building of houses, and in Calgary, Mr. James Hart, superintendent of improved farms for the C.P.I. anaounced that ten of the new demonstration farms would be located in Alberta, ten in Saskatchewan and five in Manitoba. The International Railway Company has applied to the Government for permission to dam the Fraser River near Yale, B.C., to develop power for the operation of tramways on the lower mainland. United States capital is behind the project.

WESTERN RELICS OF RARE INTEREST

Interesting Historical Objects Gathered at Selkirk—Links With the Long Past

Few places in Canada can show more relics of Canadian historical interest than Selkirk, Manitoba. These were displayed at a Winnipeg exhibition. The first to be seen at the end of the room was a gun, the property of Magnus Harper, which was used with the powder horn at Seven Oaks. A pair of snowshoes were of special interest and wonderful workmanship. They were brought from the mouth of the Mackenzie river over 30 years ago. The fine gutted work of the shoe is seldom seen in the present days. They are the only kind that can be used to much purpose in the far north. In the case at the side were a number of interesting historical articles. A bayonet which was used in the "Thin Red Line" at Inkerman by one of the Sutherland Highlanders is one of the first. Then came the axe which was the property of Senator John Sutherland, and is over 100 years old, yet still fit for use. A picture of Sir John Moore and the battle of Coruuna was an heirloom of one of the early settlers. Of interest also was the spinning wheel, the property of Mrs. Poison. Behind the simple machine was a row of blankets spun by the wheel and though over 100 years old they look as new and fresh as many of the pieces of work which one sees to-day. Besides the spinning wheel were the other instruments for the art, the card, the reel, the clipping shears, and a number of other domestic articles, compasses of somewhat rude construction, a pot hanger, a catfish gaff, an old bow tie for cattle, the yard stick, the dog whip and the stone sledge.

An Old Hammer

An interesting article was the old steel stone hammer which was used by Duncan Macrae, one of the first masons in the valley. He was the man who did most of the mason work on Lower Fort Garry, on St. Andrews church, the old St. John's cathedral and the old Kildonan church. The gauge of the Hon. William Fraser was also to be seen, and side by side an old pot hanger which bears the date 1770. A whip saw and the stillyards for weighing, a pair of old tongs of prehistoric style, an ox hauling pin, a sewing champ, and a pair of candle moulds, were also of special interest, as also were the grain sickle and flail, a number of tiny Indian brooms, and an old shoe last which had done many a good day's work. Side by side were a white man's cradle and an old Indian cradle for the papoose which had served its excellent purpose for 99 years and looks still good for the century.

Of more recent years but of no less interest was the mace of the first Manitoba legislature, which had been loaned by the provincial government and which was carried first over 40 years ago. A fine rabbit robe from the early days was seen at the end of the southern case in the museum.

In the centre of the room was one of the cannon which was brought out to the settlement by Lord Selkirk himself and which was picked out of the Red river some time ago. It is now located at Dauphin but was sent down specially on loan to the exhibition. Behind it was the first bell that was in use in Rupert's Land and its deep resonant tones were just such as were needed in those early days of scattered settlement. The bell bears the date 1826 and was in use for many a year at York Factory. Loaned by the Hudson's Bay Company were a couple of sleighs of unusual interest, the first, a gentleman's cariole, and the other a dog pack sled all packed up ready for the journey.

Next came a table made by one of the early settlers, John Francis. It was surmounted by an old Indian mat as strong and substantial as on the day when it was made. The western wall of the room had in the centre the portrait of Hon. Donald Gunn, justly termed the "Nestor of Manitoba," for his work on the history of the province. A number of old chairs were to be seen underneath, the most interesting being that which was the property of Hon. William Fraser.

On the northern side was the charter of the Hudson's Bay company which extended over four big pages of parchment. The document was loaned by the company officials. Beside it was a picture of the company officials from the year 1872 till 1881. Near it also a York boat, in miniature, the work being very cleverly executed, and in front were six pictures giving scenes from western life and lithographed by William Day.

The seal of the Red River Settlement was also on view side by side with the shoe buckles which Lord Selkirk wore in 1812, the year of the first settlement in Winnipeg. An Indian tom-tom, a rogan and a number of moccasins of fine manufacture made the first Indian exhibits. Most interesting in this section were the full leather dresses of an Indian woman and man with loon neck vest, all of which were many years old.

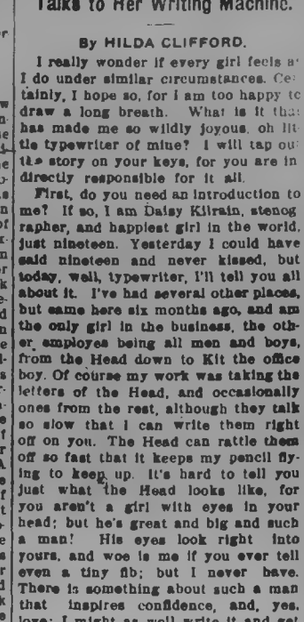
Six picture scenes from western life adorned the walls and were loaned by the provincial government, and gave some idea of the life of the earlier days, the times of the buffalo and Indian warfare.

Outside near the arts building was the other section of the museum, which included a log hut brought from St. Peter's reserve. There were several boats of varied construction, an Eskimo canoe, a birch lined canoe, and the old-time dug-out boat. There were also an old Red river cart, several plows of English and Scottish make, as well as the ruder Red river type.

Perhaps the most interesting historic relic was the sleigh in which Monkman drove Lieutenant-Governor Schultz, as the latter came to be, in 1869 from Parkdale to the mouth of the Red river, whence he escaped east from the plotting designs of Riel on his life.

FINEST WEDDING GIFT

Probably the most magnificent wedding present ever made was that of Cardinal Mazarin to Maria Theresa. It consisted of an entire dinner service of pure gold, two gorgeous state carriages, twelve of the finest horses procurable in Russia and Italy, and jewels that cost the donor a little more than six million dollars. The Cardinal gave each of his seven nieces a fortune on her marriage, and Saint Simon records the fact that in his will he left to one of his nephews-in-law nearly six millions dollars. The tapestries, books, paintings and furniture he left behind him are to-day the choicest treasures of many museums, and are fought for by the richest men in the world on the rare occasions when they come into the market.



NOT A SECRET NOW

Daisy Kilrain, Stenographer, Talks to Her Writing Machine.

By HILDA CLIFFORD.

I really wonder if every girl feels as I do under similar circumstances. Certainly, I hope so, for I am too happy to draw a long breath. What is it that has made me so wildly joyous, oh little typewriter of mine? I will tap out the story on your keys, for you are in directly responsible for it all.

First, do you need an introduction to me? If so, I am Daisy Kilrain, stenographer, and happiest girl in the world, just nineteen. Yesterday I could have said nineteen and never kissed, but today, well, typewriter, I'll tell you all about it. I've had several other places, but came here six months ago, and am the only girl in the business, the other employes being all men and boys, from the Head down to Kit the office boy. Of course my work was taking the letters of the Head, and occasionally ones from the rest, although they talk so slow that I can write them right off on you. The Head can rattle them off so fast that it keeps my pencil flying to keep up. It's hard to tell you just what the Head looks like, for you aren't a girl with eyes in your head; but he's great and big and such a man! His eyes look right into yours, and woe is me if you ever tell even a tiny fib; but I never have. There is something about such a man that inspires confidence, and, yes, love; I might as well write it and get it over. Some of the fellows in the outer office said that he was a woman hater, but I never believed that, for there are kind lines about his mouth, and when he smiles his whole face lights up, and you feel better and stronger for having known him. There is a lot of work here, but I like to work and keep busy, so I didn't mind, until the bookkeeper began putting off some of his work on me. He found out that I can add better than he, and then he kept on giving me more and more of his figuring to do, so that I had to stay overtime every night. At first I said nothing; then I thought I was entitled to dinner money, and spoke about it. He smiled, a rather unpleasant smile, and said:

"Is It Possible You Can Care for an Old Crusty Fellow Like Me?"

"Righto, Miss Daisy, you shall have your dinner, but I'll pay for it," and of course that ended dinner money for me, because I wouldn't have let him pay for anything for me, not if I starved.

Some one once told me that no girl ever married her employer unless she was fearfully in love or wanted a home very much indeed. Perhaps she is right, but I wonder why. Of course a man's stenographer does know him better than his home folks, in a way, but when he has only nice traits of character to show, why shouldn't she love him all the more? When a girl sees a man bear up under misfortune, keep his temper, show consideration under circumstances that would make a saint long to break all ten of the commandments, why, that tends to show how awfully nice he is, doesn't it? I think so. At last, yesterday morning, things came to a climax. The bookkeeper had piled things up on me the day before so that it was nine o'clock before I left the office, and I had no supper for dinner. I left the work on the desk ready for him, but when I came down in the morning I found Kit the office boy nearly frantic because he had spilled ink all over all that carefully tabulated stuff, and I knew I would have to do it all over. This upset me so (though I didn't say a word to Kit; poor little chap, he couldn't help it) that my hands were shaking when I went in for dictation, and everything looked blurred before my eyes.

The Head began, speaking in his usual rapid way, but it really seemed to me that he, too, was nervous. Suddenly I found that he was beyond me, and I said, my voice trembling:

"Excuse me, but you are talking too fast."

He stared at me, and no wonder, for it was the first time I had ever asked him to speak slower.

"What's the matter?" he asked kindly, and I broke down. Just think of it, I cried like a baby, and all the time he was patting my shoulder with the ruler which he had snatched up in his excitement, not knowing what to do with a sobbing girl. I kept on crying harder and harder, and he kept on patting my shoulder with renewed force, until at last I couldn't stand it any longer, and so I gasped out:

"Please don't hit me any more, you're fairly pounding me," and then he looked at the ruler and realized what he was doing. He gave a gasp himself, and said kind of breathlessly:

"Why, bless my soul, what have I been doing?" and gazed at me, as I could see through my fingers, for my hands were over my face.

"I didn't mean to do this way," I began to apologize.

"And I never meant to pound you," he explained, still holding the ruler and looking from it to me and back again. The funny side of it struck me and I began to laugh through my tears, and then to cry again, and then it all happened so suddenly.

He bent nearer, asking in that kind, nice way of his: "My poor little girl, what is it? Who has been imposing on you? Bless me, I can't bear to see a woman cry.

"My dear Miss Kilrain, I am going to ask you a very strange thing."

"Yes," I said encouragingly.

"I am wondering if you would feel hurt if I asked for your resignation," he blurted out.

"Why?" I asked simply.

He turned towards me, and caught my eyes. I did not try to hide my secret any more. There was no need. The dear reached forward, caught my hands in his own, asking eagerly:

"Tell me, little girl, if it is possible that you can care for an old crusty fellow like me?" Dear typewriter, he is only thirty-five, and to call himself old!

"It not only is possible, it IS," I said, rather mixed up as to words, but certainly not as to meaning; and then I ceased to belong to the unkissed, and this is my last day here. The poor dear thought it his duty to send me away because he feared his love for me might disturb me. Do you wonder, typewriter of mine, that I am the happiest girl in all the world?

PROUD OF HIS NEW CLOTHES

Rhodesian Native, Returning From Mines, Was Scandalized By Undad Relatives and Friends.

A town in Rhodesia is not generally a town, declares Mrs. M. L. Woods in "Pastels Under the Southern Cross." A few scattered shops, a broad road deep in red dust, down which a sudden miscellaneous herd of blacks occasionally pours, constitute a town. Of these natives, Mrs. Woods gives the following description.

They are collected from all parts of Rhodesia, from Portuguese territory, even from Nyasaland. Dressed in anything and everything, they come pell-mell, grinning and chattering, some like young colts bounding into the air as they go. These happy fellows are probably rejoicing because they are being sent to some mine where certain of their friends and relations are already working.

This is the native as he appears entering on his term of service at the mines. I once saw a group of black men who had completed their term of service and were on their way home. They were serious, dignified, conscious of clean and complete costumes, consisting of shirt and trousers and a hard straw hat. Each had his neat bundle and his gaily painted wooden box.

We were once appreciative witnesses of the home-coming of such a miner at a wayside station. A party of relatives and friends had come from the kraal to meet the returning one, all innocent in their nakedness and rags. The plutocrat surveyed them with a scandalized eye; coldly he waved their salutations and endearments, obviously too shocked and pained to appreciate them. Then he withdrew from the platform to the foot of a neighboring tree, and beckoned his bewildered friends to approach. In a few minutes, before the eyes of the passengers in the train, he had clothed his whole party with decency, and surely, in their eyes with splendor. Then, and only then, did he condescend to return their greetings; and, exceedingly joyful, all marched off together in the direction of their kraal.

The Hohenzollerns.

The house of Hohenzollern, of which is the present emperor of Germany, had its origin in Thassilo, who built the castle of Hohenzollern about the year 800. In 1417 Frederick of Nuremberg, his descendant was made Elector of Brandenburg. The Prince of Hohenzollern abdicated in favor of the King of Prussia in 1849. Charles, son of Charles Anthony, was elected Prince of Roumania in 1866. His brother, Leopold, was nominated for the throne of Spain in 1870, but withdrew on account of the excitement of the time, brought on by the Franco-Prussian difficulty.

Tolerably Well.

The last pig-tail has disappeared from the Chinese embassy in London. It belonged to the majordomo of the Chinese ambassador, and it is now on its way to China as a present to that functionary's wife. A story is going the rounds that at an official reception recently a member of the Chinese embassy was presented to a well known lady.

"We no talkee Chinee velly well," she said.

"Never mind, your ladyship," was the smooth reply, "I can converse tolerably well in English!"

DISARMING THE GODS

How Chinese, Japanese and Hindoo Boys Prepare for School Life

Among the eastern nations the beginning of school life is a critical time for the child. The priest or astrologer must be consulted to choose a lucky day. Every precaution must be taken to avert the jealousy of the gods, whose malice is especially directed against a fine boy.

The Chinese father who adores his son, will take the utmost pains to convince the powers of the air that the boy is of no account. The child may be given a despicable name, like flea or chutze, a pig; or, more insulting still, he may be given a girl's name. The boy may be started off to school wearing a girl's dress and one earring, and if the deception is complete this will be the most effectual of all, for even the gods do not care for girls in China.

The Japanese schoolboy wears hanging from his belt a little red bag containing a brass tag with his name and his parents' name and address upon it. He must have his paper umbrella and his fan, and in a gray bag upon his arm is a jar of rice for his luncheon. This quaint little fellow has probably made his offering at his own private shrine to Tenjinsen, the god of penmanship.

When the Hindoo boy has found an auspicious day to begin school he is taken to the god of learning, Saraswati. Here the little supplicant presents his offerings of rice and betel nuts and repeats the letters of the alphabet after the priest. Thus he is entered into the ways of knowledge in the very presence of the god.—E)

CRIPPLE'S NOBLE WORK

Miss Sophie Wright Persevered in Spite of Physical Handicap

Miss Sophie Wright, who died in New Orleans, was only 26 years old, and had been a cripple since babyhood, but she was able to leave in New Orleans a monument that will not soon be forgotten. Her back was broken by a fall when she was three years old, and the next six years she spent strapped to a chair. She had so far recovered at the end of this time that she was able to go to school, and at the age of 14 the idea of starting a school of her own occurred to her, for she knew from experience that there was widespread ignorance among girls and boys in New Orleans. Miss Wright found a banker who was willing to lend her $10,000 at 8 per cent., and with this capital she rented a building and with a staff of capable assistants started a night school. An outbreak of yellow fever soon made it necessary for her to close the school, but she converted it into a storehouse for medical supplies, and she and her assistants joined in the work of stamping out the fever. When the epidemic was over, the Wright School was threatened with bankruptcy, but a friendly banker came to her assistance, extinguished the original loan, and reduced the interest on the mortgage. So the work was resumed, and Miss Wright's school has attracted thousands of pupils since then. The gentle cripple seemed to exert a spell over the roughest of her scholars, and many of them were transformed from rowdies into gentlemen, and started fairly on the road to success by her interest in them.

ARCHDUKE AS STUDENT

Heir to the Throne of Austria Pursues Studies at Stonyhurst

The famous seminary at Stonyhurst, Lancashire, has the distinction of housing his Imperial highness Francis Charles, Archduke of Austria, and heir to the Austrian throne. He entered the college as a "philosopher."

Upon its rolls the institution has many sons of the Roman Catholic aristocracy of England and the Continent. One who has come in contact with the archduke states that he leads just the same life as the other youths, and that he is taking the same course as the other philosophers. The period of study covers two years.

Tall, clean-built, of fair complexion, and eighteen years of age, the archduke is fond of golf, shooting, and horsemanship, and he is often to be seen riding in the pretty country round Stonyhurst.

Two Plucky Feats

Two gallant acts in one day brought an appropriate acknowledgment at a Woolwich court, when the coroner presented William Youngman, an excavator, with the certificate and bronze medal of the Royal Humane Society.

A boy was drowning in the river and a man who went to his rescue also got into difficulties. Youngman jumped into the water with all his clothes on and rescued both.

An hour later Youngman was passing the same spot, and hearing that two boys had just gone under, he again plunged into the water. After diving repeatedly he had to relinquish his efforts.

On nine previous occasions he was instrumental in saving lives.

A Remarkable Fowl

A remarkable bird which acquired the name "Suffragette" was exhibited at the show at the Crystal Palace, London, of the International Poultry, Pigeon, and Rabbit Clubs. The bird, which is a Wyandotte hen, and has laid a large number of eggs, has developed spurs and a cock's comb. This curiosity of the poultry yard belongs to Mr. R. Watson, of Sutton.

SKELETONS OF SEA MONSTERS

Rare Specimens of Prehistoric Creatures For The Victoria Museum at Ottawa

Visitors [illegible] Museum at Ottawa [illegible] the plesiosaurus [illegible] skeletons of the [illegible] giant reptile [illegible] lion years ago [illegible] Mountains [illegible] from the fossil [illegible] titanotherium, another prehistoric monster bearing some resemblance [illegible] the rhinoceros of the present day [illegible] tury and [illegible] mosaurus, a huge [illegible] moth fish [illegible] era in the development of the world's crust.

Interesting specimens of these long extinct species have been purchased by the authorities of the Geological Survey from Mr. Charles H. Sternberg, a renowned fossil hunter of Kansas. The Mosasaur was found by his son, Mr. George F. Sternberg, and the titanotherium by himself. The former comes from the state of Kansas; the latter from Wyoming.

The skeleton of the Mosasaur, which is being put up on a long panel, is that of a reptile 20 and a half feet long with four powerful paddles, and a row of teeth in the roof of its mouth as well as on each side below. The types of this reptile are found in Kansas. The Mosasaur lived in the deep sea, and the fact that its skeleton was found in Kansas 2,000 feet above sea level is proof that the western continent reared itself from the ocean.

In appearance the titanotherium is more interesting. It is nearly 12 feet long and stands 6 1-2 feet high. It came before either the mastadon or the elephant, and bears more resemblance to the rhinoceros, having three long horns on the end of its nose, four toes on the front feet and three on each of the hind ones. It will stand in a glass case, and will present much the appearance that it did in actual life.

The third specimen, also found on the plains of the west, is that of Portheous Molossus, a fish fourteen feet in length, with a skull shaped like that of an English bull dog powerful fangs, and fins three feet in length.

Mr. Sternberg, through whose agency the specimens were found, has given his whole life to the collection of fossils, which he had sold to museums throughout the world.

The Old Way and the New

In a recent article showing how home manufacturers have become public utilities and how women are responsible for these just as they merly were responsible for their cooking and sweeping and their domestic servants. Martha Bensa Bruyere makes the following amusing but effective comparison:

When I was in college we had a song in which the hero asked his loved:

"Can you brew, can you bake
Good bread and cake?
Before my love I utter.
Can you sew a seam?
Can you churn the cream?
And bring in the golden butter
What use is refraction?
Chemical reaction, biologic protoplasm.
Psychologic microcosm?
Would you be my weal,
You must cook the meal—
You shake your head—
You I'll not wed—
An so farewell!"

If that song were re-written and brought up-to-date, the lover's questions would be much harder to answer and yet they might not be so disconcerting. They would run something like this:

"Are you up on the pure food laws affecting the manufacture of canned soup?
Can you assure me that you know the conditions governing the sanitary production of pastry?
Can you bring enough influence to bear on public opinion so that the family clothing will not have to be made in a sweatshop?
Do you know how to get honest government inspectors appointed to assure the purity of the milk and butter you promise to serve me?
What use is your knowing
Everything of sewing,
All of pickling and preserving,
All of washing and of serving?
Would you be my weal,
Do not cook the meal—
You shake your head—
You I'll not wed—
And so, Farewell!"

Big Expropriation Case

One of the largest expropriation cases ever heard of in western Ontario came to a conclusion when the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway agreed to pay the Union Iron Works of Galt the sum of $30,000. The company's right of way went through the heart of the iron works property and under the railway act, only a certain amount of land could be expropriated. On the amount to be paid for the strip in question the arbitrators could not agree, two of them deciding that $1,800 was a proper sum and others that $1,400 was sufficient. Finally the settlement with Mr. Edward Lapp, the owner of the works, the railway acquires the whole property, 176 feet by 123 feet, for $30,000.

"Joan, Church of England"

The City of London Guardians are offering $10 for a clue to the parentage of the girl child of eight who was found abandoned in a first-class carriage at Liverpool street Station.

There was a feeding-bottle, a brush and a piece of paper (on which was written "Joan, Church of England") by the side.

Aged Bishop's Protest

The Bishop of Bristol, who is in his eightieth year, was so much worried by coughing and the crying of infants in church during confirmation services that he informed the Archbishop of Canterbury that unless the nuisance is stopped he cannot continue to hold his see.

Veteran Peer's Fine Pull

Earl Brassey, Lord Warden of the Cinque Ports, during a week-end visit to Dover, rowed to the cruiser Minerva to visit the commander. Although seventy-six years old, Lord Brassey rowed the whole distance out to the cruiser and back, about two miles.

BRITAIN'S WAR SCHOOLS

Her Soldiers Trained by Mechanical Devices in Various Branches

Thanks to a number of ingenious inventions, the British soldier is now being trained under conditions that are as near to those of actual warfare as they are ever likely to be. By the use of moving pictures, the raw recruit can now experience the sensation of desperate situations, with complete safety to himself. He can learn the thrill of facing a squadron of charging cavalry, and train his nerve to frustrate the death-dealing bullets of sharpshooters skulking in the undergrowth.

Although it is so deadly effective a weapon at close quarters, the bayonet is not an easy fighting instrument to handle. It requires considerable practice to learn to make those quick short jabs characteristic of this sort of fighting; for the rifle is a clumsy weapon to handle for other purposes than shooting. To teach a recruit to handle it with speed and skill, mechanism is again introduced.

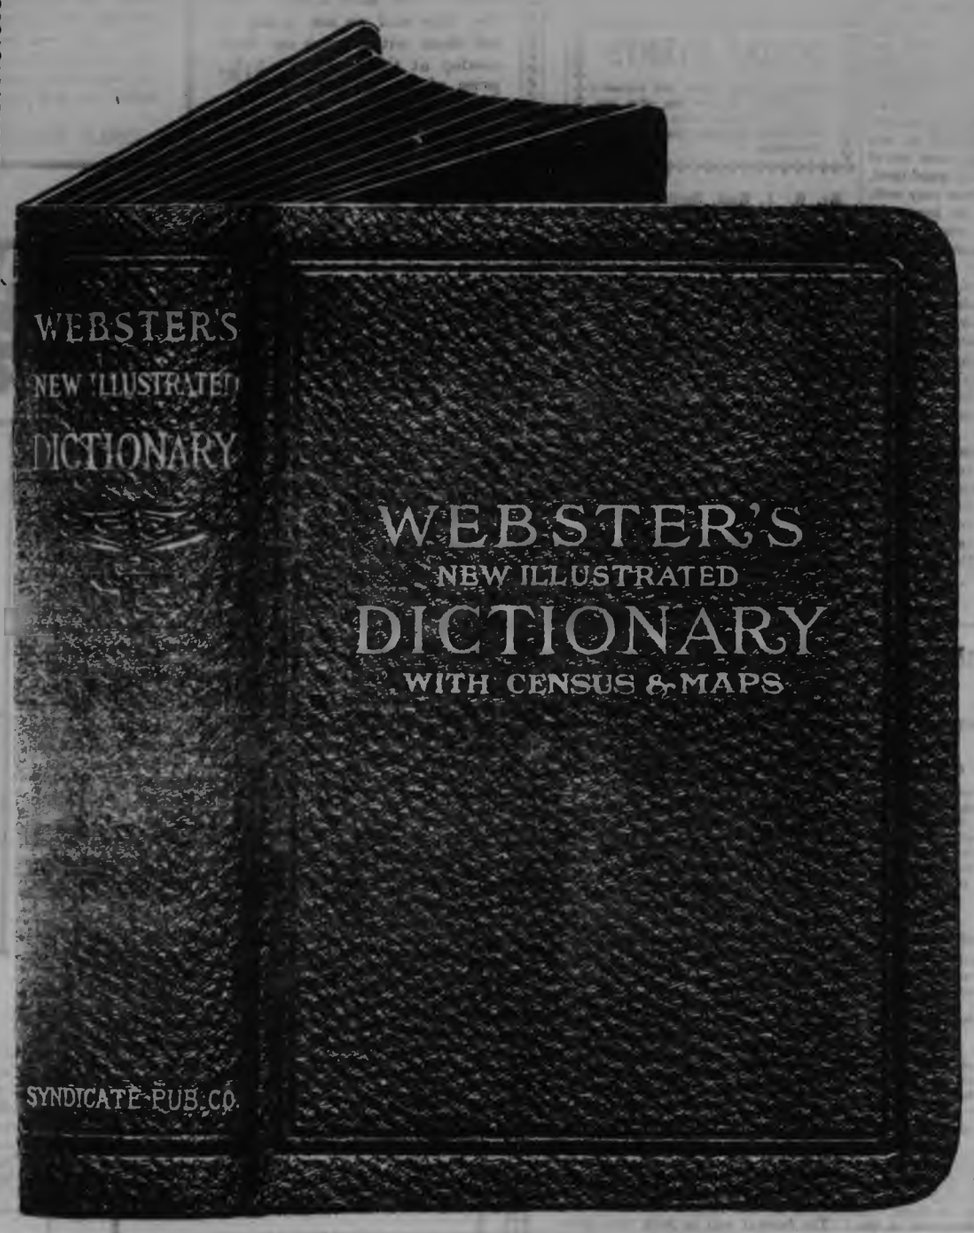
A square frame of wood about ten feet high is erected in the ground. Down the center of this structure runs a wire, on which are threaded a number of balls composed of thickly woven straw. The man with the bayonet stands in front of this apparatus, and the balls are drawn up to the top of the wire. A mechanical device then releases them at quick speed, and they travel down the guide wire in rapid succession. As they pass the waiting soldier he has to stab each one of them with a quick movement and with a subtle twist of the wrists—achieved by long practice—withdraw the weapon in time to stab the sphere following closely behind. The advantage of this machine is that not only does it teach quick and accurate bayonet work, but it develops the wrist muscles necessary to withdraw the weapon immediately it has completed its deadly design.

In several military riding schools it is possible to see erected a most interesting device, consisting of a dummy horseman pivoted on a wooden steed that runs on wheels, guided by a rail. Sometimes this dummy is mechanically propelled, but more often it runs on a sloping rail. The lay figure is started on its way along the rail, and a cavalryman gallops to meet it. As he dashes by he delivers a cut with his sword at the padded figure, and if his stroke is well directed, it topples the rider over. The dummy is counter-balanced by a weight beneath the horse, but if it is hit with accuracy and strength, this weight is overcome, and the sham rider falls backwards or forwards, wherever the blow directs it. If the blow is badly judged, then the figure only swings, and the attacking cavalryman is only credited with having wounded his strange opponent. The idea, of course, is to bring horseback fighting as near to reality as it is possible to do without danger to the attacked or the attacker.

The menace of the airship as a death dealing factor in modern warfare soon brought into existence a gun specially designed to cripple aerial craft. But how to practise with such a weapon for some time puzzled the authorities. But now a successful plan has been devised. A captive balloon of large cubic capacity is attached by a long wire cable to a powerful motor lorry. A number of artillerymen with guns are stationed some distance away. The balloon is sent aloft, and when it has attained a considerable height, the motor-lorry proceeds to drag it across the front of the firing party. As it sways and dips in the atmosphere aloft, the attackers endeavor to pour a hail of lead into the delicate fabric of the balloon. This is no simple task, for the constant change in the position of the mark is most disconcerting. So far, however, this apparatus has proved very successful in familiarizing gunners with this strange form of marksmanship. At Farnborough and the military grounds on Salisbury Plain, one can see the other aspect of aerial warfare being practised. A number of the most stable and solidly constructed army aeroplanes of the biplane type are fitted with lightly built machine guns for use under favorable weather conditions against dummy targets on the grounds.

ROADSIDE ADVERTISING

France Takes Steps to Abate the Sign Board Nuisance



The roadside advertising nuisance, which has afflicted most European countries, appears likely to become unknown in France. A bill has been brought before Parliament under which roadside posters will be taxed so heavily that even the most successful business firms will be unable to indulge in the luxury of spoiling the landscape. A hoarding having an area of about twenty square yards will be taxed to the extent of $6,840 per annum. The tax on even a small hoarding is heavy, and the rate increases as the hoarding grows in dimensions. So far as the towns are concerned, there will be no charge whatever; but, in view of the high taxes to be applied, it is difficult to believe that any business firm will continue to make use of the countryside for announcing its wares to the public.

Making the Doctor Hurry

A lodger's concern for the welfare of his landlord gave rise to an unusual charge of assault at Hamilton, Scotland. Thomas Devine, a miner, pleaded guilty to striking Dr. James Paterson. Having gone to fetch the doctor for his landlord, Devine expressed dissatisfaction with the pace at which the doctor was walking, and apparently [illegible] necessitating [illegible] struck the medical man a blow on the left eye [illegible]. He was fined $7.50.

A STRANGE PEOPLE ARE THE SERVIANS

When a Servian widow wants a new husband she hangs a doll in her window. The doll gives fair warning to any bachelor who may chance to pass by.

If a widow or a maiden is very anxious to marry, she also hangs a wreath of corn up on the outside of the house. If the wreath is stolen she will be married soon. If she is very, very anxious to wed she hangs the wreath down quite low so it can be more easily reached.

Servia is the one country where parents are not anxious to marry off their daughters, and want their sons to mate early. The reason is, all the women work in the fields along with the men. When a son marries he brings another helper home; if the daughter marries she goes to her father-in-law's fields to work.

Women in Servia work long and hard. The men regard them as inferior beings and treat them so. At the table women are served last, after the men have all the food they wish.

There are no rich folks in Servia, and outside the king's family, no titles. Domestic servants are unknown except in hotels, where Germans are employed, for the Serb regards it beneath him or her to be an "employe." That's why most of them farm, or raise pigs, which is the chief source of the small fortunes some of them have. The Serb is not very religious, and many go to church only when a festival is held.

Every grown man has the use of five acres of land, which cannot be taken from him. He may buy other land, but those five acres are loaned to him by the government for life, and the products of those acres cannot be taken for debt.

Belgrade, the capital, is the only city; and it is becoming western in style, while the citizens are slowly moving toward European customs.

The men wear loose trousers or knickerbockers of white frieze, and cardigan waistcoats with sleeves lavishly embroidered. Women wear sowave jackets with loose sleeves, linen skirts, and two highly colored aprons, one in front and the other behind. The aprons look something like small rugs.

The peasant married women dress their hair so it projects in two great ram's horns over their foreheads. The unmarried girl wears a colored handkerchief over her head. The more "fashionable" women wear little red fezzes.

Where the Bulgars are sullen and quiet, the Montenegrins quarrelsome and noisy, the Serbs are merry, light-hearted, contented with very little, and always wear smiles.

Poverty in Japan

After a tour through the poorer quarters of Tokio, Count Okuma, a former Prime Minister, and one of the leading statesmen of Japan, has come to the conclusion that it is absolutely impossible for the lower classes, having regard to the current rate of wages and the charges made for breadstuffs, to earn sufficient for their bare needs. He advocates that the duty on rice should be abolished, but the authorities refuse to listen.

MET FOUR COUGARS

Near Creston recently a pedestrian met four cougars on the trail. A local paper suggests that the Provincial Government increase the bounty on these animals so that it would be an incentive to hunters to get after these pests, who are fast depleting the deer and other game in the vicinity.

Rook Ruins a Room

Residents of a house in Harrow, before leaving their home for a visit asked a neighbor to go in and see if everything was all right during their absence. When he entered the drawingroom the first time to do this a black shape dashed through the air with a squawk and disappeared through the front door. A rook had got down the chimney, and in its frantic efforts to escape had smashed everything breakable.

Silver Seal in the Dee

A splendid specimen of a silver grey seal, resembling a Labrador dog seal, 8 feet long, was found in the Dee estuary by Mr. Milner, a fisherman. It was alive when caught, but died shortly afterwards, having apparently been shot by some person on the bank. In all probability it had travelled with the icebergs into the Atlantic, and been carried into the Dee estuary.

Your experience is probably somewhat similar to that described by Mr. J. T. Fleming in the following letter from his home in Lebanon: "I think I must have the most sluggish sort of a liver. In the morning my mouth was bitter, and that foul, soft feeling that tells you, "No breakfast needed here this morning.' A cup of coffee would sort of brace me up, but in two hours I was disposed to quit work, all energy having oozed out of me. Supper was my only good meal, but I guess I didn't digest very well, for I dreamt to beat the band. A friend of mine put me wise to Dr. Hamilton's Pills. I think they must have taken hold of my liver, perhaps my stomach, too, because at the very start they made things go right. Look at me now—not sleepy in the daytime, but hustling for the mighty dollar and getting fun out of life every minute. That's what Dr. Hamilton's Pills have done for me—they rebuilt and rejuvenated my entire system."

To keep free from headaches, to feel young and bright, to enjoy your meals, to sleep sound and look your best, nothing can help like Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c. per box, five for $1.00 at all druggists and storekeepers or postpaid from The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

CITY AND DISTRICT

DASHES HERE AND THERE BY TIMES' REPORTERS.

Hunter Street Gates.

The railway gates at the Hunter street G.T.R. crossing, which were ordered recently by the Dominion Railway Board, must be installed three months from the date of the order. This will mean that the gates will have to be placed in position by May 13th.

An Explanation.

In the report of Saturday's police court it was shown that Owen Baker was charged with being drunk. Baker stated that he got his liquor at the dinner given by the local Blacksmith's Association the previous night. The Times is requested to state that this was not true. Baker was an uninvited guest at the banquet and had no business there.

A Police Court Compromise.

At yesterday's police court, William Pearson sought to recover $1.95 from John McFarlane. Pearson said he had been engaged to cut ice for McFarlane for 25 cents an hour. He claimed that he was only paid at the rate of 20 cents. There was no dispute as to time. G. N. Gordon acted for McFarlane. Pearson agreed to accept a cheque for $4.30, first offered him.

Improvements to Douro Church.

St. Joseph's church, Douro, has undergone extensive improvements. This sacred edifice has been handsomely decorated. An artistic memorial window has been installed in memory of the Very Rev. Joseph Brown, formerly of that church. The new pulpit presented by Mr. Thomas O'Connor, of this city to the parish priest, Rev. Father McGuire, has also been placed in position.

Mr. O'Connell Gets Answer.

A Toronto despatch says that the application made by Mr. Justice Latchford by D. O'Connell, of Peterborough, to compel Mr. Justice Britton to make an order for the taxation of the company's cost in the arbitration proceedings over the amount of damages to be allowed W. G. Anderson and J. A. Ash, of Peterborough, for the expropriation of a lane, was refused by Justice Latchford, who said that though the application for an injunction was in substance an appeal, he should not sit in appeal from his brother judge. He went further and said, "he had jurisdiction, but he would not exercise it."

The Meter Was All Right.

Mr. H. J. Burgess, proprietor of the Benson House, Lindsay, gets his water supply on the meter system. Of late, he has appeared several times, before the town council to complain that his merrily clicking register was marking off a bigger amount of water than the hotel could possibly consume. A rigid test was made of all the hotel taps and pipes to discover why that register was working overtime. The meter was tested and found O.K. Then two stores adjoining the hotel had their cellars filled with water which kept gradually rising. It was after a long search had been made, discovered that most of the water, after taking a "taxi" run through the meter, was running through a sub-cellar pipe into the store cellars next door.

Deaths and Funerals

Mrs. Wilson Henderson.

Word was received last night, announcing the death of Mrs. Wilson Henderson, formerly of Peterborough. Mrs. Henderson passed away yesterday in Toronto. Further particulars in to-morrow's issue.

James Might.

An old and highly respected resident of this city for the past 30 years, passed away Monday night, in the person of Mr. James Might, at the residence of his son, Mr. F. J. Might, 603 Stewart street.

The late Mr. Might was one of Cavan's leading farmers. His wife predeceased him by some years.

Surviving are four sons, viz.: W. J., of Britannia; S. H., of Calgary; George P., of Winnipeg and F. J. Might, of this city.

The funeral will be held this afternoon to the Little Lake cemetery, and will be private.

Mr. Harry Clark.

Last night at 11 o'clock, Mr. Harry Clark, son of Mr. Frank Clark, the well known local jeweller, passed away at his home on Mark street. Owing to the late hour at which this sad intelligence reached us, we are unable now to give particulars as to the obituary. However, we extend most sincere sympathy to the bereaved parents and other members of the family. The deceased was siezed with an attack of la grippe, and despite the most efficient medical attendance, succumbed to the disease.

The Late Miss Haddon.

The death of a most estimable young lady occurred at the Ross Hospital, Lindsay, on Monday last, in the person of Miss Haddon, daughter of Mr. Haddon, postmaster at Bethany, aged 16 years. The deceased was taken to the Hospital about three or four weeks ago, apparently suffering from typhoid fever, but it appears after entering the institution two physicians were called in consultation diagnosed the disease as scarlet fever. Though operations were performed upon the patient's forehead to extract the pus which had formed, and thereby relieve her from blood poisoning which had set in, it was of no avail. Had Miss Haddon lived her physicians stated that she would lose the senses of hearing and sight. The Times extends the deepest sympathy to the friends in their bereavement.

BELL TELEPHONE CO., IN SUCCESSFUL YEAR

The Times is in receipt of the Bell Telephone Company's annual report for 1913. The report is neatly gotten up and typographically perfect. This is the thirty-third annual statement issued by this, one of Canada's greatest public utilities. From it we gather that during the year, 31,514 new subscribers have been added. The total number of telephones now in operation by the company amounts to 192,746. The company now owns and operates 456 exchanges. As an indication of the fast growing demand for prompt and efficient long distance service, it might be noted that 6,212 miles of wire were added to that branch of the company's activities. There are now 64,321 miles of long distance wires in daily use, and 2,784 miles of underground wire and submarine cables. The company now has arrangements for exchange of business with 474 local organizations, serving over 54,912 subscribers. During the past year $2,500,000 of new stock was issued and $1,750,000 in bonds were sold. $100,000 was added to the Employees Benefit Fund.

Great credit is due, for their progressive and far-sighted policy to Mr. C. F. Sise, president, Mr. C. F. Sise, Jr., general manager and Mr. W. H. Black, secretary.

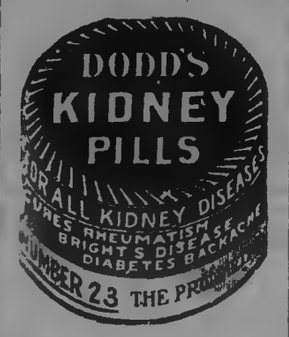
LOCAL MAN GIVES HIS EXPERIENCES WHILST MINING



Yesterday afternoon a Times representative had a chat with Mr. P. Peat, who was for some years connected with the Quaker Oats Co. Mr. Peat, who is a son-in-law of Mr. Bourchier, a former local civil engineer, has been for the past two years, as transit man, near Michipicoton, on the North Shore of Lake Superior under Mr. Bourchier. The party was engaged in surveying a route for better transportation for the Helen Mine. When the Times man asked conditions existing in that part of Canada, Mr. Peat replied somewhat as follows: "When we were on the Magpie River, the mosquitos and blackflies were a holy terror. The blackflies were the worst pest, however. They would bite triangular pieces out of our hides and the blood would flow later. At night the flies would crowd into our tents, despite smudges. One morning the cook when waking us up, saw the inside canvas black with the pests. As several spare tents accompanied us, the cook tore down the tent and burned it as an offering to the God of pests."

When asked, "were there any wolves out near you?" Mr. Peat replied, "Why the wolves were so common they would come around the camp and almost eat out of our hands. One day seven of us went six miles north of the Magpie River to a lake whose name I forget. We heard the 'wow-wow-wow of the wolves' nearing us. Presently a doe, almost spent made for the lake, the wolves following her reached the ice, lining the edges and started to make their attack. One big bitch wolf with long fangs and saliva dripping from her jaws, sprang at the doe's throat. The deer then sprang from the ice into the water and to safety."

In answer to the question of temperature, Mr. Peat replied, "Well we got it down to 60 below zero. The year I went there, a man started to walk to a nearby mine. Overcome by fatigue and cold, he climbed into a tool chest left along the trail. His body, doubled up, was found in the spring."

REV. A. D. LAHNIZER AT FREE METHODIST CHURCH

Last night the Free Methodist church, on Aylmer street, was well filled by an audience who listened attentively to the eloquent and impressive words of Rev. A. D. Lahnizer, of Pittsburg, Pa., General Conference Evangelist, who is conducting a series of special services, which end on Sunday next. This talented divine raised much enthusiasm by his remarks, and is well worth hearing. The meetings will be continued nightly.

HOUSE IN SESSION TWO DAYS THROUGH LIBERAL OBSTRUCTION

One Member Wastes the Country's Money Whilst Reading Seventy Year's Report. Obstruction Tactics all Through

OTTAWA, March 6.—The Liberals are still obstructing. At 2 o'clock this morning the House had been in continuous session for many hours, and there was no sign of a let-up on the part of the Liberal orators. They are still doing everything possible to prevent Canada placing three dreadnoughts on the fighting line of the Empire's fleet. How long this is likely to last it is hard to say, for both sides seem determined. The House is certain to sit all this week and the grim struggle may continue next week. The Government has no intention of giving in, and as one Cabinet Minister remarked: "We intend to find out whether the Government or the Opposition is running the country."

Pages from Hansard.

The Liberals have long since given up an idea of making irregular speeches. They read pages from Hansard and long articles and editorials from newspapers. Mr. Sinclair, of Guysboro read last night the list of tonnage of England starting somewhere about 1837. He was able by this process to keep up the fight some two extra hours.

Weird Night Scenes.

The scene during the long stretches of the night was a weird one. The Conservative relays came on at one o'clock. It was a sort of change of guard ceremony. The Conservatives are divided into relays of eight hours each, while the Liberals work on six hour shifts. When one Liberal orator is through another is ready to take his place and the ceaseless discussion continues. Members slept in their chairs and at their desks, some snored, while occasionally a page brought in refreshments for hungry members.

Will Estimates be Blocked.

Members are beginning to ask now how long this farce is going to continue. If the Liberals want to keep up the obstruction indefinitely there is nothing to prevent them. After March 31st the Government will have to have money as no estimates have been passed. However, while the Liberals can block indefinitely on estimates, it does not seem conceivable that they could hold up the pay of all civil servants and all public work in Canada. Up to the present year estimates have never been refused by an Opposition. During the reciprocity debate of 1911 the Conservative party granted a vote of one-sixth of the main estimates or in all five-twelfths. This vote was given without discussion and in order that business might not be delayed. The Conservatives do not intend to be bulldozed by a discredited Opposition who for party advantage are willing ta sacrifice the interests of the Empire and absolutely "no surrender" is the policy of the Conservatives.

THE MARRIAGE LAW AS NOW AMENDED

We are in receipt of a copy of the Ontario Government's act to amend the Marriage Act. We note that clause 17 will prohibit such a marriage as was "solemnized" in this city, a few months ago. Clause 17 reads as foHows:

If any minister, clergyman or other person solemnizes a marriage while either of the parties thereto is under the influence of liquor; or, if he has reason to believe that either of the said parties is an idiot or insane, he shall incur a penalty of five hundred dollars ($500.00) and shall also, in the discretion of the Court, be liable to imprisonment for any period not exceeding twelve months."

Similar penalties are placed in the Act to prevent Issuers of Marriage Licenses from issuing authority to people, as above described, to wed.

HOW FISH AND GAME ARE PROTECTED HERE

The annual report of the Ontario Game and Fisheries Department, says that the Game and Fishery laws are well observed in the County of Peterborough. It also notes that the tourist trade in this district is increasing. Capt. Carson, of the steamer "Naiad," is given credit for doing good work for the Department. Our local deer hunters will be pleased to learn that, under existing regulations, the deer are multiplying and that partridge are plentiful, as also are mink and muskrates. Those interested in fishing may note with interest that the regulations regarding mill refuse are being well observed. The fishery overseer at Apsley reports that beaver colonies have been seen in every lake in his district In his district, however, mink are almost extinct. Moose have been seen by working men. The Lakefield overseer strongly recommends that Stoney Lake be re-stocked with bass, as that lake is fast becoming a resort for more tourists. He also recommends that arrangements be made with the Dominion Government to have the water kept at uniform height during the spawning season. Trappers in his district have had a good season. Inspector Watt, of Peterborough reports that both fish and game have increased wonderfully.

EXPEDITION IS ALL CANADIAN

Artic Expedition to Set Out For North in May

Ottawa, March 5.—The Government has decided to finance the expedition of Vihjalmur Steffannsson, the Canadian explorer to the far north. Steffannsson is the discoverer of the tribe of blonde Eskimos on Coronation Bay on the Arctic Ocean and has been planning a new expedition which will explore the great unknown country to the north of the mainland of the continent. The expedition will now be under the aegis of the Union Jack. The country to be explored being Canadian territory.

Leaves in May.

Steffannsson is a Canadian, being born on the banks of Lake Winnipeg and naturally is delighted over the fact that his new expedition is to be under the auspices of the Canadian Government. The expedition will leave in May from Victoria, B.C., where it is already being outfitted and will be well-equipped with all the latest modern scientific appliances. It is expected that the crew and scientists who will accompany the boat will be all Canadians. The headquarters of the expedition will be at Herschell Island, and it is expected that Steffannsson will be absent for four years.

Canadian Expedition.

The Government has been in receipt of many congratulations for its enterprise in sending north this new expedition as a thorough Canadian organization and under the auspices of the Union Jack. It was the original intention of Steffannsson to make the trip under the direction of several American organizations. However, they have now released him from all obligations and the expedition will be Canadian in every respect.

SAMUEL STEELE IS AGAIN REMANDED

Yesterday morning, His Honor Judge Edmison, County Magistrate, held court at the court house. Samuel Steele of Chandos, who had been remanded from a previous trial, was charged with carnally assaulting Ruby Billington, of that township, a girl under 14 years of age. No evidence was taken and the case was enlarged until March 13th. It seems that a witness is wanted whom it is expected will give evidence as to the offense and say that he detected the accused "in flagrante delicto," as the lawyers say.

THE OTTAWA DEADLOCK

It would seem that the Liberal minority at Ottawa are bent on trying to get the confidence of the Country once more. Without commenting on the remote possibility of such a contingency, there is no gainsaying the fact that the Liberals at the capital are using an obstruction policy which wastes thousands of dollars daily. Hon. Mr. Borden's adherents are firm in the conviction that Canada should come to the aid of the Motherland in an acknowledged emergency, when threatened by Germany and other countries, and are equally sure that the policy as advocated by Sir Wilfrid, for political ends, of making war ships in Canada, is too protracted a measure for dealing with England's present position among the nations. The Liberals, anxious to have the ladling out of the Government funds, are deliberately obstructing our National Legislation for selfish ends, and simply talking against time.

THE EXAMINER AND THE BRIDGE

Like Tennyson's book, the Examiner continues making misstatements to bolster up its bungle of the Buckhorn Bridge affair. The Government owned and had paid for every foot of land involved in the application for cancellation of the County's liability. It was not a matter of policy — it was a matter of fact. What the Government will do in the face of Hon. George P. Graham's statement remains to be seen.

MADDIFORD GUILTY SENTENCE DEFERRED

Last night His Honor Judge Huycke held court when the young man Maddiford, a trap drummer at the Red Mill, charged with stealing a saxaphone worth $100 from the band hall, pleaded guilty to the offense. His honor deferred sentence until Friday, possibly to secure a record of the young man's past history.

LIBERALS SEND OUT CALL FOR GENERAL ELECTION

Ottawa, March 5.—The Liberals are evidently under the impression they are going to force an election for a call has been sent out from Liberal headquarters to the executives in all the ridings urging the immediate nomination of candidates for the House of Commons. There have already been nomination conventions in a large number of ridings, including several in Western Ontario, and if the Liberals throughout the country accept the assurance of their Ottawa leaders that there is going to be an election there will probably be a notable activity during the next few weeks.

Great amusement was caused in the Conservative rooms by the arrival from the county of Dundas, Mr. Andrew Border's riding, of sample posters sent there announcing a "Dominion election meeting" and calling upon the faithful to come out and hear two of the "most eminent Liberal leaders at Ottawa." Mr. F. B. Carvell and Mr. J. G. Turriff. There is absolutely no doubt that the whole present agitation for an election is due to the aspirations on Hon. Sydney Fisher and Hon. MacKenzie King more than any other cause. Mr. King is said even to have his seat picked out, North York this time, in view of the cold shoulder that North Waterfoo gave him in 1911.

WILL CONSULT IMPERIAL GOV'T

Before Ex-General Botha of South Africa Settles on Means of Aid for Naval Defence

Cape Town, March 6.—During the discussion of the motion calling for increased contribution to the Imperial navy in the House yesterday, General Botha stated that the Government was quite alive to the importance of the matter, but before embarking upon a definite policy as to whether this should take the form of a money contribution as in the case of Canada, or the building of a local fleet like Australia, he thought the Admiralty should be consulted.

Sir Thomas Smart accepted Premier Botha's assurances as the best possible at the moment, and as containing an explicit undertaking that a discussion, as soon as Parliament rose, would be entered into between the Premier and the Minister for Defence and the Imperial Government and the British Admiralty for the purpose of seeing what would be the best means in the interests of South Africa and the Empire of increasing the contribution to the British Fleet and that the result of the negotiations would be placed as fully before Parliament as was the case in regard to the discussion between the Canadian and Imperial Government.

ARRESTED IN BARRIE

Toronto, March 6.—Wanted in Toronto for passing bogus chequesf Arthur Rixon was arrested in Barrie this morning. Detective Young left this afternoon to bring him here to stand trial in the Police Court. The amount involved is about $50.

WASHINGTON VISITORS EAGER TO GET BACK TO THEIR HOMES

Beat Down Station Guards in Rush and Board Wrong Trains In Fight For Water

Washington, March 6.—The national capital, with a "next morning" headache, awoke yesterday to find streets littered with debris after the inauguration parade, workmen already engaged in tearing down stands and decoration and visitors filtering out like the sand in an hour glass. Thousands of weary celebrants already are homeward bound, for during the night train after train departed, filled to overflowing for the north, south, east and west.

Brushed Police Aside.

Riotous scenes attended the exodus in the early hours of the day. Tired, and impatient, travellers at the Union Station rushed the thin line of police brushed them aside and tore down the iron-barred gates that led to the train-shed and the long line of waiting railroad coaches. Subsequent efforts to dislodge them were futile. As a result many boarded wrong trains.

Scenes Are Tumultuous.

The scenes in the station were tumultuous. State troops and marching clubs made the big building resound with the blare of their bands. Women fainted in the crush. To make matters worse the supply of drinking water, although ample, could not be utilized freely because of the law against the use of the common drinking cup. Some genius used the butt of his musket to smash into fragments the glass front of a container of the individual paper cups and his lead was followed. All were wrecked.

It was estimated that upwards of 300,000 persons witnessed yesterday's ceremonies. By to-night the greater part of this vast crowd, it is expected will be on its homeward way.

WESTERN WOMEN MAY GET BALLOT

The Government Promised They Should Have It If They Really Wanted It.

Regina, Sask., March 6.—If the Scott Government lives up to its promises there is a strong probability that legislation allowing women the suffrage in Provincial affairs will be introduced at the next session of the Legislature.

"If the women of Saskatchewan want the suffrage they can have it. It would be premature to give it to them now because they have not asked for it," was, in effect, the Government announcement on the question when it was brought up in the last session.

Petition after petitionj bearing thousands of signatures are pouring in upon the Ministers with every mail If it is a mere question of asking, the women of Saskatchewan are doing it.

The Government is silent on the matter of the petitions, but they are coming in just the same.

GERMAN WARSHIP RAMMED DESTROYER, 64 DROWNED

Commander of Destroyer Tried to Dodge Between Battleships and Was Caught--Boat Was Cut in Two--Seventeen Saved

HELIGOLAND, Germany, March 6.—(Special).— Sixty-four of the crew of the German torpedo boat "S 178" were drowned together with their commanding officer, Lieutenant Koch, and the first officer, after the little vessel had been rammed by the cruiser Yorck off this island in the North Sea last evening.

The surgeon and engineer, and fifteen men of the crew were saved

The torpedo boat sank immediately

Torpedo boat destroyer "S 178" was one of the most modern destroyers in the German fleet. She displaced 636 tons and carried a complement of eighty-four officers and men.

"S 178" was returning during the night from manoeuvres in which she had participated with the German battleship fleet, the cruiser squadron, and sixty-four other torpedo boat destroyers.

The destroyers attempted to pass through the intervals in the column of warships while they were steaming ahead at full speed. The commander of the "S 178" calculated the distance incorrectly, and his boat was cut in halves by the cruiser Yorck and sank instantly.

The Yorck signalled the accident to the other vessels in the fleet, which slowed down and cruised around in tht vicinity, flashing their searchlights in all directions. Small boats were lowered from all the vessels, and succeeded in picking up two of the officers and fifteen of the crew of the sunken destroyer.

ENGLAND IS NOT EXCITED OVER THE ALLEGED CRISIS

People Refuse to Get Excited While Watching Germany and Austria

London, March 6. — England refuses to get excited over Germany's momentous decision, sped up to the very limit of pressure of competition for land power, sea power and air power.

A strange feature is that no effective protest comes from the German socialists, though the new offensive fund is $250,000,000, while the increase in military aerial estimates is $55,000,000 annually.

English radical socialists exercise no such restraint.

The Star says:

"The madness of Europe beggars all comment. France and Germany and Russia and Austria are all rushing like aderene swine down the precipice of armaments into the sea of war.

"Some Unionist journals seem to find in the outbreak of European militaryism fresh reasons for the compulsory military service here that England may more effectively help France and Russia.

"Ministerialist Westminster Gazette, however, says John Bull will keep a cool head and adds: Our security is still based on sea power. If we remember this we will best play our part, both as a nation and a member of the family of nations."

A Growing English Conviction.

Mr. Spender, editor of the Gazette is a strong believer that England's duty is to conserve her Empire, all European politics being considered from that essential Empire viewpoint, and this is growing English conviction, as opposed to the old European balance of power ideas.

The Ministry is most unlikely to attempt any heroic response to Germany's land armaments, but the situation increases Mr. Churchill's determination to carry out the full naval programme of the Admiralty, despite the hesitation of many materialists, who know the swollen estimates mean sluggish social reform.

CLOSURE MAY BE USED TO STOP LIBERAL OBSTRUCTION

Ottawa, March 6. If the ridiculous obstruction of the Liberals to prevent Canada giving any effective aid to the naval defences of the Empire is persisted in beyond the end of this week there is very good reason to believe that the Government will take some steps to put an end to the blockade and to all similar filibustering proceedings.

Your correspondent understands that having in view the threats of the opposition to hold up all business the Government has given careful consideration of the situation, and in all probability the naval bill will be put aside temporarily, the Speaker will rule the clause and amendments to it out of order (as they would be unrelated topics, while recognizing the reasonable rights of the Opposition, will [illegible] the whole constitutional question of Parliaments [illegible] new rule takes the form of allowing the Government, after any subject has been debated at reasonable length, to put the previous question. NUGENT'S SARSAPARILLA—PRICE FOR large bottle, 100 full doses, 35c. and well worth it, too. It's better to take no medicine at all than to depend upon cheap concoctions that are compounded to sell at low price and a big profit just because there is a large demand for certain remedies at certain seasons of the year. There are so-called Sarsaparillas offered to us to sell to our customers at 75c a bottle that would bring us a larger profit than Nugent's Sarsaparilla sold at 35c. Nugent's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, arouses the torpid liver, drives out all impurities, cleanses and tones up the system, and helps Nature throw off the dullness that comes from indoor life of winter. It arouses energy, brightens the eye, clears the brain, gives lightness to the movements. Nugent's Sarsaprilla is not the only thing you will find in this drug store. me make a specialty of Nugent's Remedies. Nugent Drug Co., 386 George St., directly opposite Cressman's store.

Twenty-five Dollars Does It

This Helps You Buy a Beautiful High, Dry, Level Lot in the Fast Selling Subdivision

RUSKIN PLACE

Right in the Heart of Ottawa's Manufacturing Area

At the Junction, Ottawa South

It is selling rapidly to good people of the class who will build homes and improve the property. There are a number of fine houses in course of erection, and many others to follow immediately. The lots are grassy lots without rock. They are level and easy to build upon, and there is abundance of clear, cold, pure water. The view takes in the whole City of Ottawa. Streets are 66 feet wide, and are being well laid out with trees and boulevards, and fine gravelled sidewalks just like every Metropolitan City.

Early connection with the City by no less than three electric railways is expected. The Morrisburg and Ottawa Railway have decided to start building on May 1st, 1913. The C. N. Railway have announced their early start upon their gas electric service, which will run right through RUSKIN PLACE. The Kingston and Rideau Lakes Electric Railway have surveyed right through the property and expect to commence work in the near immediate future.

When any one of these lines commence operations look out for an immense increase in price of RUSKIN PLACE Lots.

Lots at Ruskin Place Now Sell for $275, $300 and $375,

VICTORY FOR DICTAGRAPH

The Senate Believed all It Recorded About Lorimer

The expulsion of Senator Lorimer from the American Senate for bribery is a victory for the dictagraph. It was in this Lorimer case that the dictagraph first attracted attention. It was operated in a room of the Walker Edward Hotel, Toronto, upon a young Canadian from Shore who was being examined by Burns detectives. His recorded evidence was sent to Washington and was a condemnation of Lorimer. The trustworthiness of the dictagraph as illustrated in this instance formed a subject for long debate, Lorimer's friends declaring that it was utterly unreliable, and going even to the expense of publishing a costly pamphlet to prove their point. The Senate, however, believed the dictagraph and all the other evidence against "the blonde boss," and so he takes his place with Senator Foraker and drops into oblivion.

EDITORIAL NOTES

No more "Bunny Hug," and "Gaby Glide" in Spokane; all under 18 are barred from public dances, which must begin at 8, and close at 11.45 p.m. The mayor of that city shows courage of conviction.

An exchange says, "An English church is still using a barrel organ that has been in constant service since the early part of the eighteenth century." That organ ought to be canned.

We find considerable satisfaction in the fact that after June 1 the price of gasoline will be increased to 25 cents a gallon, because we can't afford an automobile and won't have to pay it.

The New York man who has gone to Mexico to get moving pictures of the revolutions will probably be pained by the discovery that the revolutions move a good deal faster than his motion camera.

Mexico lost in 102 years six rulers by assassination, and in thirty-six years three Presidents of the United States were murdered. This is something Uncle Sam should think about before too strongly denouncing the Mexicans.

Let us stop laughing at the silly doings of the suffragettes long enough to remember that no woman has been so foolish as to take an oath not to shave again until the Liberals are again in power at Ottawa—something that it is said many men have done.

John Burns announces that he is going to take off his coat and join issue with the militant British suffragettes. This means, of course, that John will soon have a series of very disagreeable experiences, and that he has more courage than discretion.

That colony of Anglican Benedictine monks which has gone over to Rome in a body has done what it was inevitable that it would do the moment that the colony was started. The "Catholic" movement in the Anglican church is a drift towards Rome, and sooner or later those in the current will reach the goal if they live long enough.

Miss Rickenberg, of Laporte, has brought an action for $16,000 damages against Dr. Wilmeyer of Chicago, because the latter operated on her for appendicitis and failed to find the "vermiform appendix." Later on the lady paid another Chicago doctor to open her up. The last doctor, when the girl got out of the ether, showed her what he claimed to be her appendix. Old King Henry VIII. once said "You can't make a silk purse out of a sow's ear." Still, it looks like a small appendix found on second search, is worth a whole silk purse full of gold.

GERMAN MEMBER BACKS THE NAVY BILL.

One of the most interesting speeches delivered in the debate was that delivered by W. G. Weichel, member for North Waterloo, who defeated Hon. MacKenzie King. As a member of German descent and representing a constituency largely settled by people of German descent, his utterances commanded unusual attention. Canadian unanimity in the Borden proposals was shown by the speech of Mr. Weichel, for although he paid a strong tribute to the greatness and progress of the German Empire he made it very clear that he was enthusiastically behind any plan which made for the strengthening of the ties between Canada and the Motherland and gave his hearty support to the plan for a stronger navy. It was one of the most striking speeches of the debate and it is seldom a young member gets as close a hearing as did Mr. Weichel.

"We have the assurance," said Mr. Weichel, "that a permanent naval policy will be submitted to the people later on. In the meantime let us be true to our professions of loyalty. Let us do something to regain our self-respect. Our sister colonies have put us to shame by doing their share. Why should big and prosperous Canada lag behind? We are proud of our heritage. Proud of our history and proud of our Empire. Envious eyes are to-day watching our progress in developing our natural resources. Our future is with that of the Mother Country. She has watched over us, guarded ed over us, has guarded us and now when we are fast becoming a nation it will be to our best interests to stick closely to the Union Jack. She has confidence in us, and to prove it she sends freely of her money to develop our resources. We owe a great deal to England. Although of German origin and proud of my ancestry, I am prouder still that I am a Canadian and a British subject."

And again in closing Mr. Weichel amidst cheers said:

"A great deal have been heard and said about autonomy and rights and far too little about duties and responsibilities. In my opinion, the principle of local autonomy has once for all been accepted and no serious minded person questions it any longer. Canada is either a part of the Empire or it is not. We cannot any longer with self-respect stand idly by and allow Great Britain to shoulder the whole burden.

The supreme interest of the British Empire is the peace of the world. We would all hail with delight an announcement that the powers had decided to propose disarmament. But as long as nations will persist in arming to the teeth, just so long must the great British nation be in van, ready at all times to defend her rights and to maintain at all hazards the integrity and stability of the Empire.

Canada's destiny lies with that of the Empire. Our success and prosperity will be assured if we share with her for weal or woe. I hope to be spared to see this a great nation. Canada has a destiny and it is going to be a glorious one, linked together with all the other parts of the Empire in one indissoluable tie that will make for the peace and prosperity of the world."

THE MALCONSTBUCTION OF THE TRENT CANAL

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I am much interested in the series of articles which have appeared in your columns regarding the manner in which the construction of the Trent Canal is being carried out. This is a work which when complatted, every town and district along the route, was looking forward to boom the whole country, and now we are told that unless a radical change is made in the mode of construction that it is going to be a dismal failure. This is something that should be looked into at once. What is the matter with our Board of Trade that they do not take this up? Here is a matter that has more to do with the progress of this city than a dozen new manufactories. If they do not take up such important matters what do they exist for?

Progress.

HOT SHOT FOR THE REGISTER.

Editor Morning Times.

Dear Sir,—What is the matter with the Catholic Register anyway? Has it got angry because it finds that the Anglo-Saxon race in the 20th century will not allow the foot of the Catholic Church to be placed upon their necks? Does it not like the fact that through the alertness and watchfulness of Protestants their late attempt to over-ride the laws of this country has received a set back? What cause has it for calling men who stand between the sanctity of the home and marriage ties and priestly interference, "The Devil's Thirteen?" It girds at King Henry VIII.; surely he cannot hurt them now? No doubt it regrets that we are not still under the beneficient rule of Mary Queen of Scots, so that those thirteen herities who dared to sit on the platform in a public meeting in the Dominion of Canada—a free country—could have been tied to thirteen stakes and thirteen bonfires made for the delectation of the faithful. What are we coming to, Mr. Editor? Is it not true that while they have equal liberty with us to worship God in their own way (and no one has any wish to debar them from it) yet at the same time it is too late in the world's history for it to succeed in bringing free men into thraldom. The only effect the spleen displayed will have is to open the eyes of all Protestants to the fact that it is the same old spirit that animates the church. The only difference is opportunity.

GEO. LEADER,
One of the Thirteen.

POULTRY INDUSTRY

Great Room for Its Development in Canada

A. G. Gilbert, poultry manager at the Central Experimental Farm, in reviewing to the development of the poultry industry clearly shows that the demand for eggs in Canada has increased much more rapidly than the supply during recent years. In 1902 we exported to Great Britain eggs to the value of $1,782,342; nine years later, the exports had fallen to less than a value of $25,000, while the imports in 1911 reached a value approaching $590,000.

It is pointed out that farmers are not taking full advantage of the high prices offered for strictly new laid eggs at all seasons of the year. The good profits from these are being secured chiefly by specialists who are often at the disadvantage of having to pay retail prices for feed.

DON'TS FOR WIVES

If a wife or prospective bride wishes to have a happy married life, she may rest assured that her desires will be gratified if she bears in mind the following "don'ts."

Don't marry a man for a living, but for love. Don't over-dress, or the reverse. Common-sense is better than style. Never, when married, get the idea that the way to run a house is to run away from it, or that it is right to lecture your neighbors on how to bring up their children, while you are neglecting your own.

Don't nag. Nothing is so likely to send your husband out of the house as that.

POULTRY RULES

A great source of contagion is in the drinking troughs.

Remember, if roup should make its appearance in your poultry house.

In place of "tonics" drop a nail into the drinking trough and allow it to remain there. It will supply all the "tincture of iron" required.

If you feed whole corn place it in the oven and parch it occasionally and feed smoking hot. The fowls appreciate it in frosty weather.

A little linseed or oil meal given once a week in the soft feed will promote laying. This will not come under the heading of "dosing the fowls with medicine."

Do not throw your table scraps into the swill barrel, but give them to the chickens.

One of the most important points in the keeping of ducks is to give them clean, dry quarters at night. They are very prone to leg weakness in cold, damp quarters.

Feed your fowls just what they will eat up clean.

Fat hens or pullets are not good layers. The latter is just what you want when the eggs are 28 cents or more per dozen.

Fowls over three years old are not as a rule good breeders. The males are unable to properly fertilise the eggs for hatching while the stock is usually weak. Four years is generally a ripe old age for a fowl.

Each hen if properly kept will lay from 200 to 250 eggs a year.

Liver and intestines are an excellent food to make hens lay.

Keep an abundant supply of lime where the hens can easily get it if you desire your hens to lay well.

Always clean the nest well and put in fresh straw before the hens begin to sit.—H. J. K.

RAILWAYS IN B. C.

Hundred Millions to be Spent in Next Few Years

Sir Richard McBride estimates the amount to be spent in railway construction in British Columbia during the next four years at $100,000,000 and expresses the opinion that the expenditure will in all probability be over that amount. Mention of the figures brings one to a realisation of what is being done and what is contemplated by the different railway companies that are anxious to do business on the Pacific seaboard. Activity is not confined to any one road, but to all of the four which already have lines in British Columbia, namely, the Canadian Pacific Railway, the Great Northern, The Canadian Northern and the Grand Trunk Pacific, and also the Pacific Great Eastern, which is reckoned practically as the Grand Trunk Pacific. Work has been begun on the large pier of the Canadian Pacific Railway which will cost three-quarters of a million dollars, and excavation is proceeding on the site of the new depot. The Canadian Pacific Railway will spend more in British Columbia during the next few years than for many years past. The Great Northern will double track its lines between Vancouver and New Westminster.

SELF-RELIANCE

The farm is the greatest training school in the world for self-reliant men. The farmer and the farmer's sons simply have to do things themselves. There is nobody else around to do them. The farm boy early in life learns to do things, and if he can't accomplish the thing which has to be done one way he casts about for another until he finds out how to do it. This makes him resourceful. It develops in him the ability to find a way out of the difficulties about him. This training follows him all through life, and for this reason he is more apt to be able to take care of himself in almost any situation than the man who has never had to rely on himself. It is this sort of thing which develops manhood. Unfortunate is the boy who is surrounded by luxury conveniences and wealth, for he has little opportunity to learn to depend on himself.

COST COLUMBUS $7 200

Ledgers recently discovered at Palos, Spain, contain interesting facts concerning the outlay made by Christopher Columbus on his expedition to the New World. The armament of the little fleet cost 14,000 pesetas. The personal expenses of Columbus and his officers were about 2,000 pesetas, and six pesetas a month sufficed for each of the crew, so that 23,050 pesetas, or about $4,400, were spent for the eight months that the voyage lasted. The sum total whereby America was discovered was 36,000 pesetas, or about $7,200.

HORSE WAS SHOCKED

A farmer tied his horse to a telephone pole, about the base of which hoop iron bands had been placed as protectors and the end of a telephone wire had been tied. The latter crossed an electric wire and the horse putting its nose against the post where the iron bands and the telephone wire met became a conductor for the electricity, and lost two teeth, and was put in to dreamland. Two men who came to the rescue received lesser shocks, but managed to pull the animal away and save its life.

MAKES RHEUMATISM PROMPTLY DISAPPEAR

Chronic, Crippled-up Sufferers Find Relief After Few Doses of New Remedy Are Taken.

It is needless to suffer any longer with rheumatism, and be all crippled up, and bent out of shape with its heart-wrenching pains, when you can surely avoid it.

Rheumatism comes from weak, inactive kidneys, that fail to filter from the blood, the poisonous waste matter and uric acid; and it is useless to rub on liniments or take ordinary remedies to relieve the pain. This only prolongs the misery and can't possibly cure you.

The only way to cure rheumatism is to remove the cause. The new discovery, Croxone, does this because it neutralizes and dissolves all the poisonous substances and uric acid that lodge in the joints and muscles, to scratch and irritate and cause rheumatism, and cleans out and strengthens the stopped-up, inactive kidneys, so they can filter all the poison from the blood, and drive it on and out of the system.

Croxone is the most wonderful medicine ever made for curing chronic rheumatism, kidney troubles, and bladder disorders. You will find it different from all other remedies. There is nothing else on earth like it. It matters not how old you are, or how long you have suffered, it is practically impossible to take it into the human system without results. You will find relief from the first few doses, and you will be surprised how quickly all your misery and suffering will end.

An original package of Crozone costs but a trifle at any first-class drug store. All druggists are authorized to sell it on a positive money-back guarantee. Three doses a day for a few days is often all that is ever needed to cure the worst back ache or overcome urinary disorders.

HABITANT FARMER

Victor Sylvestre Is a Leader in His Community

In the parish of Clairvaux de Bagot, near the western boundary of the Eastern Townships, Quebec, dwells a habitant farmer whose career is particularly interesting for the reason that he appreciates the importance of the application of science to the practice of agriculture. Born and raised in Quebec, amid surroundings typically "habitant," which inspire progressiveness in very few youths, Victor Sylvestre, upon attaining his majority and assuming manly responsibilities resolved to break loose from many of the customs of his fathers and farm his land according to the most approved methods of which he could learn. He is now thirty-one years of age, and, though only a comparatively short time actively engaged in farming, he is hailed as among the first breeders of live stock in the St. Hyacinthe district, as well as the possessor of a well-conducted holding. Apart from his progressive nature, which is the subject of common discussion, not always complimentary, among his fellow-parishioners, Victor Sylvestre is an interesting character. At a young age he insisted upon an education, and his father, yielding to his demands, sent him to the Seminary of St. Hyacinthe and Ottawa University. He made good use of his time spent at these halls of learning, and, to-day he is able to parade the decorations of B.A. and B.Sc., conferred by Laval, after his name. With such a fund of learning it is a matter of universal amusement among his neighbors that Sylvestre persists in remaining upon the farm. "I love this life better," was the reason he advanced when I asked him why he had not taken to the city. Not only is Victor Sylvestre considered a leader in agricultural affairs in his parish, but he is also active in the social and political life of the community.

SHANTYMEN OF CANADA

A Splendid Virile Type That Has Not Changed in Seventy Years

Of all classes of laborers, the Eastern Canada shantyman—particularly the French-Canadian woodsman of Quebec Province—is the most strenuous, while at the same time the most genial of workers.

Skilful in all that pertains to logmaking and the use of the axe, which he has learned to handle from early childhood, he is ever at home in the forests and wilds. Like the Indian, were he unable to find his camp-ground before nightfall, he would assure that it was not he, but the camp, that is lost, for he is at home everywhere in the forest, while cold and hardship have no terrors for him, since he can usually make himself comfortable in spite of the worst conditions imaginable.

Tracing the history of the shantyman through romantic legends, the impression is gained that those of the early lumbering days were of the roughest and most formidable character—physical giants with whom the shantymen of the present day would be but miserably contrasted. From truer, though less romantic sources, it is found, however, that those old bushwhackers could not chop more logs in a given time than the present day lumbermen. In fact, the whole system of log-making in Eastern Canada is, with few exceptions, the same to-day as it was some sixty or seventy years ago.—British Columbia Magazine.

Real SILVER and SILVER ORE on the Mapes-Johnston—Not on adjacent or adjoining property—BUT ON the MAPES-JOHNSTON. Not 30 or 50 feet to drift to it, but on the surface—in both shafts—in several veins.

Not 62-oz. ore, or 100-oz. ore, but 9000 oz. ore—assayed by real commercial assayers—not assayed with the eye or by interested friends—no guesswork—real assays.

Shaft No. 2 is 75 feet from Shaft No. 1, and 65 feet deep—shaft No. 2 is sunk on junction of two immense veins—5-foot drift at 65-foot level shows over 9000 oz. of silver to the ton in 9-inch pay streak—2200 oz. of silver to ton in wall rock, each side of vein.

RICHEST SILVER ORE OF THE NORTH

comes from just such a vein junction as the Mapes-Johnston has where these big values were found.

Small Allotment of Treasury Shares

is offered for Public Subscription at 20 cents per share—par value $1.00 per share.

This is the first public offering, but no better offering at anything like the price could be made. The property was purchased, paid for and developed to present status by Mapes-Johnston Syndicate, and private subscriptions were made at higher price than present offering.

$100 BUYS 500 SHARES—$500 BUYS 2,500 SHARES—OTHER AMOUNTS IN PROPORTION.

MORE TREASURY SHARES—$37,800—AFTER ALMOST 3 1-2 YEARS' WORK

than when property was under option—Before property was paid for—Silver discovered—shafts sunk—20 veins tracked—property patented—9000-oz. Silver ore found and assayed—Mapes-Johnston Treasury had 300,000 shares.

Toronto, February 1st, 1913.

Note.—The MAPES-JOHNSTON property is paid for, patented and title thereto in the name of the Company. The funds for operating and developing up-to-date were furnished by the Mapes-Johnston Syndicate, and only 30,200 Treasury Shares were sold before Preston Limited, secured control of and an option on the balance to be sold. Before offering shares to the public, Preston, Limited, had 80,000 shares donated to the Treasury by Messrs. Mapes & Johnston to carry out the emergency expenses of putting the property on an active operating basis. NOW

OUR WORST FOE

Dr. Hewitt Says the Fly Must be Exterminated

Dr. C. Gordon Hewitt, Dominion Entomologist, in an interview at Ottawa regarding flies which he is fighting so vigorously, said:—

"The fly should be regarded as a winged carrier of disease and decay, without doubt the most dangerous pest on the farm. Wherever there is filth suppuration or purulent discharge flies are invariably attracted, and as they are cosmopolitan in their attentions and no distinguishers of persons, they are potential disseminators of such bacteria as these sustances may contain. It is not a question of eradication in the case of this insect such is impossible. Control and prevention, however, are within the bounds of possibility, and these will be regarded as essential when the facts are more generally realized."

"Do you believe all flies carry germs? Need a person regard every fly with distrust?" was asked.

"No house fly can be caught, indoors or out of doors, that is not carrying on its legs and body bacteria of all kinds, and the spores of moulds and other organisms that accompany decay," he replied. "No living fly is free from germs; the existence of such would be more than a miracle. Its legs and body, proboscis and wings are covered with small hairs and bristles, so that its legs may be compared to fine bristle brushes; it frequents every kind of filth imaginable, and besmirches itself with the microscopic bacteria and other decay-producing organisms, of which it cannot possibly rid itself, and flies about, a winged and wandering bundle of bacteria. All this might be expected as a result of reasoning alone, but such would not be proof, and the proof is astonishing in its vindication. Any house fly, whether caught in one's room or out in the open, and allowed to walk over a medium suitable for the growth of bacteria and moulds, will deposit the germs of those organisms in its tracks, which in a short time will yield colonies of bacteria and decay-producing fungi.

"It does not require any play of the imagination, therefore, to appreciate the ability of house flies, if they carry about such germs, to infect themselves with the bacilli of typhoid fever, tuberculosis, infantile diarrhœa, and other similarly infectious diseases. The only way to get rid of the fly is to kill it, but cleanliness is a good preventative. That is, all refuse, manure and other filth should be quickly cleared away or destroyed."

OLDEST PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

A Sketch of Historic Presbyterianism at Williamstown

Williamstown is the oldest Presbyterian congregation in Ontario, having been established in 1787 by the Rev. John Bethune, who had been Chaplain of a British regiment, the 84th, in the War of the Revolution. At the close of the war, this regiment was disbanded and many of the members settled in Glengarry, which was then unbroken forest.

Mr. Bethune remained in Montreal and got together the congregation of St. Gabriel Street Church, to whom he preached from March 12, 1786, to May 6, 1787, when he removed to Williamstown and started the organization of the Presbyterian church, there.

The site of Williamstown was a grant from the Crown to Sir John Johnson, and the village was so named in memory of Sir John's father, Sir William Johnson, who died in 1774, just before the breaking out of the War of the Revolution. The first church built at Williamstown, shortly after the colonists arrived there, was an unpretentious log building, constructed on the rear of the present cemetery. During the week it was used as a school.

About 1805 a stone church was put up a little to the east of the present structure, and between 1820 and 1830 the present church was built.

Those Who Attend the Cows Should "Keep Cool"

No branch of agriculture requires the operator to "keep cool" more than dairy farming. No hot-headed individual should be allowed to attend the cows. The attendants, to get the largest possible flow, must "keep cool"—that is, must never lose their heads, use loud talk, or be rough. The milk must be kept at a low temperature to be wholesome. Cream must be kept cool. To do this, ice or very cold water is necessary. Butter or cheese—in fact, all dairy products—must be kept away from the heat. "Keep cool" is always seasonable in dairy work. From the stable to the consumer everything in connection with the dairy business gives best results when it is kept scrupulously clean and at a low temperature.

New Treatment Now Advocated for Bronchitis

Is Having Wonderful Success, and is Making Most Remarkable Cures

For bronchitis a different form of treatment is now advocated. It consists of a scientifically devised vapor that penetrates to the uttermost recesses of the lungs and bronchial tubes. Every spot that is sore, every surface that is irritated is at once bathed with soothing balsams and healing essences that make chronic bronchitis an impossibility.

This treatment now so universally employed in bronchitis, throat troubles, colds, etc., is called CATARRHOZONE. It acts just as air of the pine woods acts, as a healing antiseptic remedy for all diseases of the breathing organs.

Just think of it—a remedy that can be carried with the very air you breathe to the seat of bronchial or catarrhal inflammation. A remedy powerful enough to kill germs life and yet so healing that disease flees before it. Catarrhozone is truly a wonderful remedy. In many lands it has lands it has won its way, and is affording grand results to sufferers from colds, catarrh, throat weakness, asthma and bronchitis. There is no sufferer from a grippy cold or any winter ill, that won't find a cure in Catarrhozone, which is employed by physicians, ministers, lawyers and public men throughout many foreign lands. Large size lasts two months and costs $1.00 and is guaranteed; small size 50c., sample size, 25c., all storekeepers and druggists, or The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

ARCHBISHOP McNEIL

Archbishop McNeil, the new Archbishop of Toronto, was born in Cape Breton on the 23rd of November, 1851. He was ordained priest on the 18th of April, 1879, and was consecrated Bishop on the 30th of October, 1896, at Antigonish, but for the Diocese of St. George's, Newfoundland. He was nominated Archbishop of Vancouver on the 14th of February, 1910. His education was received at the College of the Propaganda in Rome, where he took his doctorate. When he returned to Nova Scotia he was made professor and afterwards rector of the Novitiate of the College of Antigonish, where he did splendid work in education, until he was taken away to be made Bishop of Newfoundland. The Apostolic Prefecturate to which he was appointed in the Diocese of St. George's is one of the poorest and least organized of the eastern dioceses, and where he did wonderful work with the means at hand, so when the diocese was changed from Victoria to Vancouver, and a new Archbishop was looked for, the Holy See, looking about for a man outside of the holy orders of the Oblates, who had control of that country, selected Bishop McNeil. His appointment to the archiepiscopal see of Toronto was

WAS DUKE'S ORDERLY

Fifty-Two Years Spent as Soldier and Gate Keeper of Park

Gatekeeper John Burrows, one of the best-known of the Royal park-keepers, who is retiring after having served his country as soldier and park-keeper for fifty-two years, was practically the whole of his 106 days' foreign service the selected orderly of the Duke of Connaught, who was commanding the Brigade of Guards in Egypt.

Mr. Burrows is the possessor of the Egyptian medal, with a bar for Tel-el-Kebir, the Khedive's star for the same campaign, the medal for long service and good conduct, and the Coronation medal of King George. He had been a soldier for twenty-two years before he saw active service, having volunteered for the Egyptian campaign at the opening of the war in 1882.

"On arrival at Alexandria," he said in an interview, "I was appointed the Duke of Connaught's orderly, an appointment I held all through the campaign. When Sir Garnet Wolseley came out to Alexandria he found that Arabi Pasha had some troops near Ismailia, and we were re-embarked at Alexandria for that town, which was on the Suez Canal, and went up the desert after him.

"I was on the field with his Royal Highness during the battle of Tel-el-Kebir, but was never able to get into the fighting line. Next day we went to Cairo, and there the cavalry captured Arabi.

"We returned home in December, 1882. Without any loss of time I obtained my discharge and received the appointment of park-keeper at Regent's Park in 1888. After a time I was sent to Kensington Gardens, from there I went to Queen Anne's Gate, and finally they transferred me to Buckingham Gate, giving me the Prince of Wale's Gate lodge, at Hyde Park, for a residence." Mr. Burrows intends to spend the remainder of his life with his sister near Nottingham.

EVERY LITTLE MOVEMENT

In Some Kinds of Business It Has a Cost That's all Its Own

In a large publishing house in Chicago which mails annually millions of circulars, form letters and sample copies the saving of even a single motion in the process of folding, enclosing or addressing means an economy, says a writer in Business, that is well worth thinking about.

When this idea first occurred to an officer of the company he devoted several weeks to a careful and analytical study of the work of the mailing department. The girls who folded and sealed the letters had formerly been allowed to arrange their work to suit themselves. A very little observation of their methods showed that there was much room for improvement.

Experiments were made to determine, in just what order each movement should be made in folding the letter and enclosure, picking them up and inserting them in the envelope. Crude as the first attempt necessarily was, it immediately increased the output of a girl. Further study revealed ways not only of eliminating many motions but of shortening the distance traveled by the hands in the motions that remained.

Finally a plan was devised for arranging and handling the envelopes and their enclosures so that each hand on the completion of one motion, was in the proper position to begin immediately the next motion. The final motion—that of throwing the filled envelopes upon a pile—was entirely eliminated by placing a large basket upon the floor directly under the point where the enclosures were inserted in the envelope.

When the enclosures were once inside the girl simply let go of the envelope and it fell into the basket, gravity doing the work formerly done by the girl. After the girls had been taught the new methods of filling envelopes, their output was nearly four times as great as it had been when they were doing their work haphazard in any way that happened to occur to them.

FASTEST ARMORED SHIP

Vessel Steamed at a Rate of Over 34 Knots an Hour

The battle cruiser Princess Royal, the nineteenth Dreadnought of the British Fleet which was commissioned for service in the first cruiser Squadron of the Home Fleet, is 660 feet in length, 88 feet 6 inches in beam, and displaces 26,350 tons. Her turbines are of 70,000 horsepower and were designed for a speed of twenty-eight knots.

On trials, however, the vessel easily exceeded her contract speed and was able for a time to maintain a rate of 34.7 knots. She is thus easily the fastest armored ship in the world, beating the Lion by three knots; and there are comparatively few torpedo-craft which can show a better speed.

The Princess Royal can discharge at one broadside projectiles weighing 50,000 pounds.

COINS OF LONG AGO

Workmen Find 500 Silver Pennies Beneath Church Floor

On behalf of the Crown claim was laid to some 500 silver pennies of the reign of Henry III., found by workmen employed in removing Stoppingley Church, on the Duke of Bedford's Woburn estate.

The coins, which are dated between 1248 and 1272, were concealed five feet below the present chancel floor and one foot below the ancient floor. It is thought that they were a votive offering in recognition of a safe return from abroad and placed before a shrine of the Virgin Mary by Peter di Vitella, who was rector of the village from 1247 to 1273.

CANADA'S WHEAT CROPS

Only Four Countries of Northern Hemisphere Ahead of Dominion

Canada stands fifth on the list of great producing countries in the Northern Hemisphere. Leading the procession is the United States with 621,333,000 bushels; followed by the Russian Empire with 509,404,000; India, with 370,414,000; France with 320,142,000; and Canada, with 215,451,000 bushels. ARCHBISHOP McNEIL

Archbishop McNeil, the new Archbishop of Toronto, was born in Cape Breton on the 23rd of November, 1851. He was ordained priest on the 19th of April, 1879, and was consecrated Bishop on the 30th of October, 1896, at Antigonish, but for the Diocese of St. George's, Newfoundland. He was nominated Archbishop of Vancouver on the 14th of February, 1910. His education was received at the College of the Propaganda in Rome, where he took his doctorate. When he returned to Nova Scotia he was made professor and afterwards rector of the Novitiate of the College of Antigonish, where he did splendid work in education, until he was taken away to be made Bishop of Newfoundland. The Apostolic Prefecturate to which he was appointed in the Diocese of St. George's is one of the poorest and least organised of the eastern dioceses, and where he did wonderful work with the means at hand, so when the diocese was changed from Victoria to Vancouver, and a new Archbishop was looked for, the Holy See, looking about for a man outside of the holy orders of the Oblates, who had control of that country, selected Bishop McNeil. His appointment to the archiepiscopal see of Toronto was

Fifty-Two Years Spent as Soldier and Gate Keeper of Park

Gatekeeper John Burrows, one of the best-known of the Royal park-keepers, who is retiring after having served his country as soldier and park-keeper for fifty-two years, was practically the whole of his 106 days' foreign service the selected orderly of the Duke of Connaught, who was commanding the Brigade of Guards in Egypt.

Mr. Burrows is the possessor of the Egyptian medal, with a bar for Tel-el-Kebir, the Khedive's star for the same campaign, the medal for long service and good conduct, and the Coronation medal of King George. He had been a soldier for twenty-two years before he saw active service, having volunteered for the Egyptian campaign at the opening of the war in 1882.

"On arrival at Alexandria," he said in an interview, "I was appointed the Duke of Connaught's orderly, an appointment I held all through the campaign. When Sir Garnet Wolseley came out to Alexandria he found that Arabi Pasha had some troops near Ismailia, and we were re-embarked at Alexandria for that town, which was on the Suez Canal, and went up the desert after him.

"I was on the field with his Royal Highness during the battle of Tel-el-Kebir, but was never able to get into the fighting line. Next day we went to Cairo, and there the cavalry captured Arabi.

"We returned home in December, 1882. Without any loss of time I obtained my discharge and received the appointment of park-keeper at Regent's Park in 1883. After a time I was sent to Kensington Gardens, from there I went to Queen Anne's Gate, and finally they transferred me to Buckingham Gate, giving me the Prince of Wale's Gate lodge, at Hyde Park, for a residence." Mr. Burrows intends to spend the remainder of his life with his sister near Nottingham.

EVERY LITTLE MOVEMENT

In Some Kinds of Business It Has a Cost That's all Its Own

In a large publishing house in Chicago which mails annually millions of circulars, form letters and sample copies the saving of even a single motion in the process of folding, enclosing or addressing means an economy, says a writer in Business, that is well worth thinking about.

When this idea first occurred to an officer of the company he devoted several weeks to a careful and analytical study of the work of the mailing department. The girls who folded and sealed the letters had formerly been allowed to arrange their work to suit themselves. A very little observation of their methods showed that there was much room for improvement.

Experiments were made to determine, in just what order each movement should be made in folding the letter and enclosure, picking them up and inserting them in the envelope. Crude as the first attempt necessarily was, it immediately increased the output of a girl. Further study revealed ways not only of eliminating many motions but of shortening the distance traveled by the hands in the motions that remained.

Finally a plan was devised for arranging and handling the envelopes and their enclosures so that each hand on the completion of one motion was in the proper position to begin immediately the next motion. The final motion—that of throwing the filled envelopes upon a pile—was entirely eliminated by placing a large basket upon the floor directly under the point where the enclosures were inserted in the envelope.

When the enclosures were once inside the girl simply let go of the envelope and it fell into the basket, gravity doing the work formerly done by the girl. After the girls had been taught the new methods of filling envelopes, their output was nearly four times as great as it had been when they were doing their work haphazard in any way that happened to occur to them.

FASTEST ARMORED SHIP

Vessel Steamed at a Rate of Over 24 Knots an Hour

The battle cruiser Princess Royal, the nineteenth Dreadnought of the British Fleet which was commissioned for service in the first cruiser Squadron of the Home Fleet, is 660 feet in length, 88 feet 6 inches in beam, and displaces 26,350 tons. Her turbines are of 70,000 horsepower and were designed for a speed of twenty-eight knots.

On trials, however, the vessel easily exceeded her contract speed, and was able for a time to maintain a rate of 34.7 knots. She is thus easily the fastest armored ship in the world, beating the Lion by three knots; and there are comparatively few torpedo-craft which can show a better speed.

The Princess Royal can discharge at one broadside projectiles weighing 50,000 pounds.

COINS OF LONG AGO

Workmen Find 600 Silver Pennies de-South Church Floor

On behalf of the Crown claim was laid to some 600 silver pennies of the reign of Henry III., found by workmen employed in removing Stepping-ly Church, on the Duke of Bedford's Woburn estate.

The coins, which are dated between 1246 and 1272, were concealed five feet below the present chancel floor and one foot below the ancient floor. It is thought that they were a votive offering in recognition of a safe return from abroad and placed before a shrine of the Virgin Mary by Peter di Vitelis, who was rector of the village from 1247 to 1273.

BAGGED A HUGE LION

Member of British Parliament Had Close Call During African Hunt

Captain P. K. Glazebrook, M.P. for South Manchester, had a thrilling escape from a lion whilst shooting in the wilds of Somaliland.

The story centres round the lion's fight against the rifles of Captain Glazebrook and his companion, Lieut. George Wilbraham. The honors ultimately rested with the sportsmen, and, as the firer of the first shot, Lieut. Wilbraham was able to bring home the largest lion that has fallen to the gun of a modern sportsmen.

The lion made a night attack upon a donkey that had been used for baggage purposes by the travellers. Lieut. Wilbraham was in waiting in the zareba, and, seizing his heavy rifle, which was lying handy, he sent three shots into the beast. There was a terrible roar, followed by silence. Captain Glazebrook and his companion approached cautiously to where they believed the brute to be hiding. When five yards distant they halted, and the Somali attendants, from behind the sportsmen, tried the effect of throwing stones at the lion, but it was too cunning. It still made no move. Thereupon Captain Glazebrook, believing that it was dead, approached still nearer.

The lion saw his opportunity, and leaped. The sportsmen however, maintained an admirable nerve. Both emptied a rifle into the angry beast, with the result that it rolled dead six inches from the foot of the member for South Manchester. Lieut. Wilbraham's shot pierced the heart, whilst Captain Glazebrook's entered the mouth, and passed through the head, smashing the skull into five pieces. The total length of the lion before skinning was 10 feet 6 inches, or an inch longer than the previous record lion.

In accordance with the recognised rule amongst sportsmen, Lieut. Wilbraham became the possessor of the skin.

A SHINING EXAMPLE

"He must forever shed lustre on our young nation," says Hon. James Young, biographer, in giving his impression of the late Hon. Edward Blake. He adds:

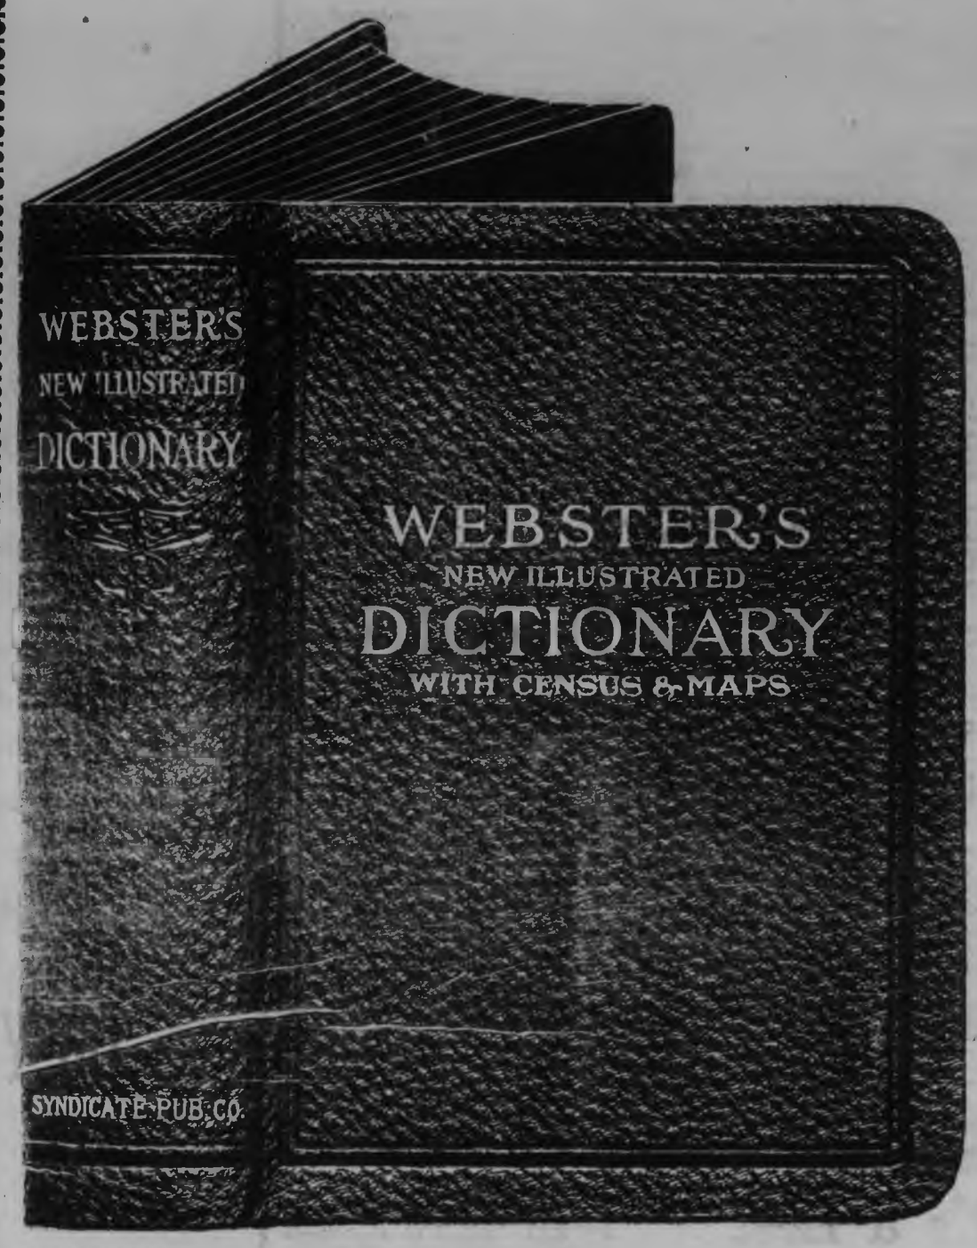
"I have known a considerable number of distinguished statesmen and other eminent and other men, and so far as my judgment goes Mr. Blake possessed at once the most powerful, most acute, and most cultivated intellect of any person I ever had the pleasure to meet. He was the soul of honor. He would never even overstate the argument against an opponent, but this rather strengthened his supremacy as the most powerful and effective parliamentary debater heard within the ornate walls of our Canadian House of Commons. He was popular both in he House and in the country, won many supporters wherever he addressed the people, was a constructive statesman of a very high order. That he did not accomplish all that he had intended in his heart to do for Canada, gives a touch of pathos to Mr. Blake's life and career. But he did enough to prove himself the greatest of all native Canadians and his remarkable gifts as a jurist, a statesman, and a patriot, coupled with all the graces of a Christian gentleman, must forever shed lustre on our young and furnish a shining example for the youth of Canada to admire and to follow."

SCIENCE IN BUNTING

An Essential Part of a Player's Knowledge, Says Larry Doyle

Larry Doyle has been interviewed on "how to bat." This is what the captain of the Giants had to say: "Willie Keeler said in one sentence all there is to batting. His advice was 'Hit them where they ain't.'

"One of the first things that a batter should learn is bunting—how to lay the ball down, as ball players say. The value of the bunt can't be over estimated. I think that some teams play a bunting game too much and Manager McGraw has always been opposed to the sacrifice game; but when a bunt is wanted it is wanted badly and while the Giants very seldom use it—only the fast men, as a rule—every man on the batting order is supposed to be able to lay down a bunt when it is called for.



"When you want to bunt you hold your bat in the natural manner, but instead of swinging you slip the upper hand a foot or so out along the bat and poke your stick in the path of the ball. The bat is not gripped as tightly as when you swing, and the result is that almost all of the force of the ball is absorbed. It rebounds only a few feet and rolls in whatever direction you have guided it.

"In real hitting the sober fact is that much of it is a guessig match between batter and pitcher. You don't have much time to change your mind after the ball leaves the pitcher's hand."

BIG GAME COUNTRY

Hunters' Paradise in the Grand Canyon District of British Columbia

Some seventy miles up the Fraser River from Fort George, B. C., the Grand Canyon is reached and from there a magnificent moose country extends as far as the Little Smoke River. From reliable reports received it is probable that there are more moose here to the square mile than there are in any other part of the continent, and every year their numbers seem to increase. Whether the horns attain the large size of the Cassiar moose has yet to be determined but some very fine heads have been seen. In this district caribou are also very plentiful on the higher plateaux and, at places, both grizzly and black bear are numerous. It is beginning to appear, in fact, that, with the exception of antelope and muskox, British Columbia has every species of big game that exists on the continent, even the rarest of them being found in fair quantities. In addition there the wild fowl and game birds of various species, some native and some acclimatised, that furnish sport, while the waters afford unequalled salmon fishing.

A CHEF'S RECORD

He Cooked Chops for Fifty Years for Hungry Londoners

Of very few men can it truthfully be said, "He has cooked a million chops." Yet "William" of Edwards in Fishmonger Alley, Fenchurch Street, London, who will presently celebrate the jubilee of his professional career, is believed to have cooked a million and a half. About ten thousand of these he has eaten himself. The calculation was made on the table cloth by a distinguished statician, who was so shocked by the figures that he dared not go on to estimate the tons of steaks, the mountains of kidneys and the miles of sausages. "I wonder, William," he said, "that you are not ashamed to look a flock of sheep in the face."

MONEY FOR A BRIDE

Emperor of Austria's Recognition of Military Aviator's Feats.

Liet. von Blashke, the military aviator, has been presented by the Austrian Emperor with $5,000 to enable him to marry the lady of his choice.

The Lieutenant, who made a world's record by ascending over 13,000 feet with a passenger in his aeroplane, was engaged to a Fraulein von Csakay for some time, but she did not possess the $13,500 dowry necessary under the regulations for an Austrian lieutenant's bride.

Recently, however, the lieutenant had made $7,500 himself towards this sum from prizes in flying competitions and, in recognition of his brilliant flights, the Emperor gave him the balance out of his privy purse.

Bright, Ruddy Cheeks For Pale Girls

NO LONGER ANY NEED TO BE PALE, WEAK OR ANAEMIC.

By Following the Advice of Miss McEwen You Can Quickly Become Strong Again.

The pallid girl always lacks appetite. What little she eats is badly digested.

At night she is restless, she dozes, but doesn't sleep soundly.

Vital force must be increased, new blood must be supplied and a general rebuilding take place before she will feel like she ought.

Dr. Hamilton has invaluable experience in these cases and found nothing so prompt in building up young women as his vegetable pills of Mandrake and Butternut.

Dr. Hamilton's Pills begin by cleansing the system and purifying the blood; they also improve digestion and render food ready for absorption. Additional nourishment is quickly supplied and the patient is fast strengthened and invigorated.

Full of spirit, ruddy and strong is the girl that assists her system by the use of Dr. Hamilton's Pills.

The following recent letter from from Miss Etta McEwen, of Haliburton, speaks for itself:

"In using Dr. Hamilton's Pills I find my system is wonderfully built up. It is certainly the most effective remedy I ever used. I have now a good appetite, sleep more soundly, and awaken in the morning feeling quite refreshed.

"Formerly I felt tired and depressed. I looked as if a severe illness were hanging over my head.

"Nothing could give quicker results than Dr. Hamilton's Pills and I strongly advise every young woman to use them."

All dealers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c. per box or five boxes for $1.00, by mail from The Catarrhazone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Ont.

Big Deal on Albertus Street.

A local real estate man has just completed a deal whereby he sold 2,000 feet of property on Albertus st, Albertus Street, it might be mentioned for the benefit of our readers who have only lived here for a matter of 40 or 50 years or for a shorter period, is just north of the Brinton Carpet Works. This looks like a demand for property were growing in the South End of the city.

Why Belleville Train Was Late.

Passengers coming to this city from Belleville can now learn why they were late. An East-bound freight train jumped the track. This, as the car leaving the rails was laden with coal, blocked both tracks. An auxiliary was hastened to the scene from Belleville. The early morning trains were all kept at the Belleville station for hours. No 3 going up about 4 hours late. The noon train from the west was delayed in arriving there.

Lindsay For Permanent Roadways.

Lindsay recently appointed a Committee of citizens to consider the matter of permanent roadways. The Committee has since met the Town Council, and through the Chairman, Mr. W. Flavelle, suggested that whatever course the Council intended to pursue should be taken up at once. The committee's feeling was that cement paving should be unqualifiedly supported, because of its cheapness. There was nothing to equal cement from the standpoint of economy.

Dog on Suspended Sentence.

Samuel Jayes, of 384 Aylmer-st., owns a dog. The dog seems to own a bad temper. Anyhow, James Tighe of 284 Rogers street, said in yesterday's police court that the canine jumped at him and tore three holes in his coat. Exclusive of bitten holes, arm holes, or pockets. After the dog had played mangle with his coat, Tighe went to the dog's owner and demanded that the animal be shot. It seems that Jayes must have got his "dope" mixed, for he is alleged to have retorted to Tighe: 'You go and shoot yourself.' The result was that Jayes pays $2 for damages to Tighe's raiment and the dog is off on suspended sentence.

Good Work for St. Joseph's.

The Ladies' Aid of St. Joseph's Hospital has concluded a most successful year. They have given much relief to the hospital sufferers, and still did well financially. The cash receipts for their first year's activities were as follows:

Membership fees	$138.00
Proceeds Fruit Shower	58.00
Other contributions	7.30
Total	$203.70

In addition to the cash proceeds of the Fruit Shower held last fall, over 500 jars of preserved fruits, vegetables and pickles were donated to the hospital.

Angus McIntosh Remembered.

The curlers banquet was a pronounced success. Mr. A. H. Webb was Chairman. The way those wielders of besom and stane waded into the "goods" was convincing proof that curling is a healthy exercise. Mr. R. Neill presented the winners of the Skips' Bonspiel, Skip Giroux' rink, on behalf of the skips, with opera glasses. Acknowledgement was made by Skip Giroux and members of his rink. The next presentation was made by Mr. H. Foote, on behalf of the vice-skips, to Skip L. G. Dobbin and his rink, the winners of the Vice-Skip Bonspiel. Each of the members of the rink received a handsome tiepin. Mr. Dobbin replied on behalf of his rink. One of the features of the evening was a presentation by the Vice-Skips to Mr. Angus McIntosh, the genial caretaker of the rink, with a handsome pipe and case.

MOTHER! WATCH THE CHILDREN'S BOWELS

If Cross, Irritable, feverish, tongue coated and sick, give delicious "Syrup of Figs."

No matter what ails your child, a gentle, thorough laxative physic should always be the first treatment given.

If your child isn't feeling well; resting nicely; eating regularly and acting naturally it is a sure sign that it's little stomach, liver and 30 feet of bowels are filled with foul, constipated waste matter and need a gentle, thorough cleansing at once.

When cross, irritable, feverish, stomach sour, breath bad or your little one has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, sore throat, full of cold, tongue boated; give a teaspoonful of Syrup of Figs and in a few hours all the clogged up waste, undigested food and sour bile will gently move on and out of its little bowels, without nausea, griping or weakness, and you will surely have a well, happy and smiling child again shortly.

With Syrup of Figs you are not drugging your children, being composed entirely of luscious figs, senna and aromatics it cannot be harmful, besides they dearly love its delicious fig taste.

Mothers should always keep Syrup of Figs handy. It is the only stomach, liver and bowel cleanser and regulator needed—a little given today will save a sick child to-morrow.

Full directions for children of all ages and for grown-ups plainly printed on the package.

Ask your druggists for the full name, "Syrup of Figs and Elixir of Senna", prepared by the California Fig Syrup Co. This is the delicious tasting, genuine old reliable. Refuse anything else offered.

Sergt. Islam Banqueted.

Sergt. Islam, physical instructor, was the guest of honor at Coleman's restaurant, where some 50 local teachers held a banquet. Inspector Mowat very ably acted as toast master. Three toasts were given. "The King," "Our Guest," proposed in a fitting manner by Mr. Walkey and responded to by Sergeant Islam. The Sergeant said he was not a speech maker but would sing instead. The last toast, "The Ladies" was proposed by Mr. Kerr, and on behalf of the ladies Mr Park replied. Musical numbers were given by Miss Armstrong and Mr. Park, and readings were added by Miss Leary and Miss Jean Jackson.

Lindsay Tax Collector is Smart.

It would seem that the enterprising little town of Lindsay has a tax collector with equal enterprise. This descendant of Caesar, it appears tried to get taxes from the John Carew Co., one of Lindsay's biggest industries, after the town had made an agreement with Carew, fixing his assessment at a lower figure. The tax collector received the following letter from Mr. G. H. Hopkins, K.C. on the matter: "The John Carew Lumber Co. Limited, informs us that you have threatened to distrain for certain taxes. They have paid all the taxes for which they are liable, and if you distrain an action will be brought against you personally, and we will see that you pay the costs personally, if you take proceedings without direct instructions."

Glen Alda Breezes

The weather this winter has been excellent for lumberman and they have taken advantage of it.

One peculiar thing here is, that it storms every Saturday and spoils the people's Sunday plans.

Glen Alda young people are all monopolized by the "Johnson Mystery show" which is being carried on in Coe Hill this week.

A serious accident happened on the corner of Tuffs street and Church Ave. Mr. Milton Post and Mr. Wm. Kelsh were fooling over a bran-sack when Mr. Post's hand slipped and hit Mr. Kelsh over the eye. He, thinking it was done on purpose, was going to law, but when he learned different, said nothing more about it. Mr. Kelsh was able to take in the show Friday evening.

Our teacher, Mr. Carl, likes the country and people fine here, and he spends a great deal of time at Mr. Aaron Post's, there being strong attractions there.

Our minister, Rev. A. C. Hie, gave one of the best sermons ever heard in this vicinity on the 16th of Feb. His text was "Doing business with the Devil." The topics he spoke on were the two evils that ruin many young folks, card playing and dancing. Some have resolved to cease it, since hearing the sermon.

Wedding bells have been ringing loudly. Some have the idea that our teacher or Mr. Ernest Landon will be the next to make them ring.

Chandos township council met in our schoolhouse last Saturday. It was pretty interesting for a time.

Mr. Andrew Post assisted Mr. John Hawley to the House of Refuge in Lakefield last week. Mr. Hawley is an aged man and unable to work.

Robert Hawley took a jolly load of twenty-six last Friday evening to the Johnston Mystery show in Coe Hill.

March is coming in like a lion. Will it go out like a lamb?

It is fashionable to have large keyholes in the doors, so as to detect burglars at night.

THE OTTAWA DEADLOCK STILL CONTINUES WITHOUT A BREAK

The Liberals Are Exulting Over The Fact That They Have Tied Up The Business of Parliament

The Whole Business Generally Regarded as a Disgrace to the Country. Any Old Thing Good Enough to Talk About So Long as it Wastes Time

Ottawa, March 7.—Over ramparts of newspapers, old Hansards, reference books, clippings and notes, the Liberal party continues without cease to thunder away at the Government. The fire is not one per cent. effective, but the noise is none the less on that account. It is hard to stir enthusiasm in such a fight. The enemy smiles placidly in the cannon's face, or expresses its terror in gentle sleep. The real sufferers are the poor little page boys, who are fast growing round shouldered from carrying ton after ton of reading material, as fast as it is dug up in the Parliamentary library by the sappers of the campaign. Yes, such is the inspiring spirit which actuates the Obstructionists, that those members, who from congenital defects, would be little help in the actual blattering, are only too glad to delve for ammunition amid a thousand tons which have lain long years covered with dust in the library. Remarkable patience has been shown by the Conservatives who act audience to this day and night buffoonery.

A Sample Speech.

A short summary of Thompson's turn at the wheel will show to what low level Parliamentary debate has been dragged by the obstructive tactics of the Opposition.

He droned away at the article which denounced Parliamentary anarchy and which was endorsed by Tory cries of "hear, hear." After a few moments David Henderson of Halton murmured gently, "Taken as read." Mr. Henderson is a kindly soul, though he gets a little peevish at times. But Mr. Thompson had his noble duty to perform, his allotted time to waste. He read on. He didn't notice where the article turned up again to the top of the page and saved himself just before he landed amid the billowiness of a whitewear sale. "Wait a minute till I find my place," he begged of the blushing House. He found it and twittered on.

A Generous Offer.

"Is that the whole article?" asked Dr. Edwards. "I didn't hear the part about the Liberal tactics being like a cat chasing its own tail."

"I'll read the whole paper if you like," was the retort, "would any member care for the advertisements?"

"You might give us the latest market reports," suggested a member with a practical turn of mind.

It Is to Laugh—and Blush.

Day after day this buffoonery is enough to humiliate every Canadian. It is fast turning Parliament into a laughing stock. No wonder the Government is figuring whether some means cannot be found to keep the debate within the time limit. As it is, the business of the country is paralyzed by prolixity. Civil servants may go unpaid, public works cease, the country be indefinitely cheated of Bank Act revision as long as a Liberal is left to spout or quote. Truly the Dominion is in the thrall of a Talkocracy.

Dismal Prospect.

Some half dozen Liberal members have announced their intention of talking till doomsday. The majority of the House is apparently absolutely helpless to proceed with legislation. It is folly to think that any further argument can be adduced on the subject at issue. It is folly to talk about freedom of speech. Any party that could not cram its ideas into a million words or so would be either omniscient or insufferably garrulous. The point as issue is that a minority under the present rules of debate can make representative government a jest and a by-word. The urgency for a revision of those rules is daily more glaring. A grown-up country cannot forever have its destiny moulded by sheer lung power. The time is at hand when the Parliament of Canada must be put upon a businesslike basis and rescued from its slavery to bores, time-wasters and gambling politicians.

SUFFRAGETTES ARE BIG FACTOR IN POLLING VOTES

Elections of London County Council Take on Added Interest—Women For Unionists

London, March 7.—The keenest interest was taken in the ninth triennial election of the members of the London County Council to-day, not only because of the sharply divided opinion on municipal issues at stake, but because of the threats of militant suffragettes to destroy the ballot papers.

Special precautions were taken by the police to prevent any interference with the ballot boxes by the women, many of whom are entitled to vote at municipal elections. The aperture through which the voting papers are dropped into the boxes were made narrower, while policemen were posted to keep a sharp lookout on every woman entering the polling booths.

Women Give Advice.

The pre-election campaign has been a very spiteful one, many of the members of the Cabinet having taken a prominent part on behalf of the progressive candidates. While the suffragists did not take a very active part in the fight, they advised all women voters to vote against the progressive, owing to their having the support of the Government which had refused to enfranchise women for Parliamentary elections.

Municipal Reformers in Power.

The progressive candidates responded to this attack from the women by telegraphing to thousands of electors at the last moment and exhorting them to vote the progressive ticket.

It was anticipated that the poll would be a very close one.

The municipal reformers as they now call themselves, or the Moderates, as they styled themselves when the Council was first formed, have been in power six years, ousting the Progressives from office in 1907 on the general charge of socialism.

Unionist and Liberal.

The municipal reformers are virtually Unionists and the Progressives are Liberals. Each party accuses the other of being wreckers. The municipal reformers claim to be economists, but the records show them to be just as extravagant as the Progressives.

The main question before the electors to-day is whether they prefer the municipal trams to be extended, in which case they will vote the Progressive ticket, or whether they consider the deficit on the tramway system should be diminished by reducing the present service and so helping the "Bus Trust," in which case they will vote the Municipal Reform ticket.

Mrs. Pankhurst in Paris.

London, March 7.—Mrs. Emmeline Pankhurst, the leader of the suffragettes, has broken down completely. She has cancelled all her engagements and has joined her daughter in Paris.

The announcement was made at a suffragette meeting at Hampstead tonight, where Mrs. Pankhurst was scheduled to speak. "General" Mrs. Flora Drummond took her place.

Mrs. Drummond no sooner began talking than a group of students let loose quantities of snuff, starting everybody to sneezing. A lively scrimmage ensued between the attendants and the disturbers. Chairs were broken, blows were exchanged and black eyes and bruises were plentiful.

GREEK TRANSPORT SUNK

Special to The Times.

Berlin, March 7.—A special despatch from Constantinople to the Frankfort Gazette says that the Grecian transport Themistecles, loaded with troops en route to Salonika, was sunk by the Turkish cruiser Hamidje to-day near Casandra and that all on board perished.

Another transport with Greek, and one with Servian troops were pursued, but managed to escape.

PETERBOROUGH GIRL ILLEGALLY DETAINED

A session of the County Magistrate's court was held at Lindsay on Wednesday morning, and was adjourned until yesterday. A well known Fenelon township man was charged with fraufulently detaining in his house out of the possession, and against the will of her father, a young lady under twenty-one years of age. The detention occurred on Monday, March 3rd.

It is understood that the case has a religious aspect. The young lady in question has become, it s alleged, a believer in the doctrines advocated by the well known Fenelon township man, at whose house, it is claimed, she spent Monday. The young lady's father is opposed to having his daughter stay at the man's house, and is therefore taking legal proceedings to endeavor to compel her to return home.

The girl comes from Peterborough and was a stenographer here.

Mr. Russell and daughter returned from Lindsay yesterday at nooo. the case having been dropped

GREEKS TAKE TURK FORTRESS AND 32,000 MEN SURRENDER

Fierce Bombardment Lasted Two Days and Nights, and 300,000 Shells Were Fired Into Janina

Athens, Greece, March 6.—The Turkish fortress of Janina, the key to the possession of the Province of Epirus, with its garrison of 32,000 men, surrendered to the Greek army to-day after a defence which forms one of the most brilliant episodes o the Balkan war.

The surrender was preceded by a fierce bombardment, lasting without cessation for two days and two nights. Every available gun, including a number of heavy howitzers lent by the Servian artillery, was brought to bear by the Greeks on the forts defending the beleaguered city.

No fewer than 300,000 shells were fired by the Greek guns during the first day's cannonade.

ENGLISH LANGUAGE CONGRESS.

One May be Held Under Auspices of Quebec Orangemen.

Montreal, March 7.—A giant congress, having for its purpose the furtherance and strengthening of the English language in Quebec, is one of the plans of the Orangemen in this Province.

The project was informally discussed at the opening session this afternoon of the 64th annual meeting of the Provincial Grand Lodge of the Orange Order in Quebec.

The idea underlying the movement is to give the same encouragement to the English language as the French congress last year did to French.

OTTAWA

Flow of Oratory Still Goes Merrily on at Ottawa

Special to The Times.

Ottawa, March 6.—When people differ in opinion they fly as soon as possible towards the court of highest jurisdiction. In this case it is the People. But the flying's bad.

Why is it that when people differ they can't sit down and settle amicably as prize-fighters do the terms of conflict. Or are constitutional and popular methods less refined than those of the P. R. When the chiefs decide in such matters it is only for the rest to do as they are told, and that's what the members do. Anybody who has sat up all night needs no description of its joys. In fact there are no joys. It's fright, that's all.

The poor little pages! Though they come in as the members do, in relays, they soon begin to look blanched and large rings encircle their dule, half-dead eyes. That they are game to a finish and work away just as hard as ever.

Occasionally a member will come out of the Chamber and enter his party's room with a wild gesture and a copious flow of bad language; after that he will join the others in abusing the suffragettes. Such is th consistency of human nature.

What are the prospects? That Borden will win. The measure must go through this month or stand over for supplies. A measure that "stands over" is like one that gets the six-months' hoist. It is a dead 'un. So no further delays are permittible. They are dangerous. That is why the representatives of the people are sitting up all night It is not because they like it.

IN TERROR OF GERMANY! CRINGING FEAR AT OTTAWA

Remarkable Statement by Liberal Member in Explaining Obstruction Tactics—Dreadnoughts Would Arouse Kaiser to Attack Canada

Ottawa, March 7.—One of the most remarkable utterances of any Liberal during the present obstructive debate was that of Mr. George W. Kite, the member from Richmond, N.S., early yesterday morning. Here are his words as taken from Hansard:

"The Prime Minister has stated within the last few days that Canada would own these Dreadnoughts. First, we were told that the Dreadnoughts were to be presented to Great Britain and we should have no further title to them. But the new policy pronounced in this House by the Prime Minister has given birth to a new menace to the peace and well-being of the people of Canada We know that if two nations are at war, a non-belligerent nation is free from attack by the warring powers unless a ship of the non-belligerent nation is carrying what is called contraband of war. If France and Germany were at war, the ships of Great Britain would be free from attack unless British ships were carrying ammunition to the base used by one of the nations at war. Then, what position are we in? Three Canadian warships will be in the firing line—the most effective that science can build or money can buy, as we have been told. These three warships bear the mark of Canada's ownership upon them. They will be in the firing line, dealing out havoc to the nation with which Great Britain is at war. Is not that a more aggravated cause of attack upon us than to have our ships carrying contraband of war? If Germany finds that Canada has gone out of her way to line up three Dreadnoughts against her, Germany will necessarily make reprisals, and Canada find herself attacked without any means of defending herself, because her ships will be in the North Sea."

PETERBOROUGH BALL CLUB HOLDS ANNUAL MEETING

Prospects Look Bright For a Successful Season During The Coming Summer

Last night the Peterborough Baseball Club held their annual meeting in the Bank of Montreal Chambers, with President Denham in the chair.

Three pitchers and two catchers have been signed up.

Dr. Wightman acted as secretary. The chairman introduced the proceedings by having the secretary read the minutes of the last meeting and same were confirmed. Mr. E. G. Patterson, of the C.G.E. Co., was present with a large number of local fans.

The financial statement was next read and proved satisfactory for a first year's team. A bank balance was left. The report was accepted, subject to approval by auditors. Messrs. Ackerman and Rose were appointed auditors.

Mr. Patterson was sure that the receipts of the coming season would be satisfactory.

President Denham said that last year the club was disappointed in its manager. The club lost in the first part of last season in consequence. Last season was marked by continuous rain. The best gate receipts were "right here in Peterborough," on May 5th, when the local grounds took in $550.00. The club had hard luck on their big games through adverse weather. The public of Peterborough has stuck by the home team. Peterborough has come to the conclusion that baseball is popular here and has come to stay.

Barthold, the local manager is after a good second baseman.

The election of directors was the next business.

Mr. Denham suggested that last year's directorate be re-elected, as they had worked hard on an uphill proposition. The old board was re-elected with the exception of Mr. Trebilcook in place of Mr. McIlroy, who has moved to Hamilton.

Chairman Denham asked for suggestions from the shareholders. He thought that the players should have two suits of uniforms to cost $12 each. He had written to Montreal for samples.

Mr. Patterson, on the subject of selling tickets in advance, thought the citizens of Peterborough had come up handsomely and should not be held up for tickets.

The chairman thought there is

SAFEGUARD THE SCHOOLS

The attention of City Clerk Armstrong and the members of the Council are called to the fact that the voters' list is not prepared so as to show the public and separate school supporters. This is done in Toronto by direct action of the Council. The Sentinel says that for many years the City Clerk has inserted a column in the voters' lists which indicates the class of schools to which the taxpayer contributes his rates. While there is no direct statutory authority compelling a municipal council to prepare the lists in this way, sub-section 5 of section 61 of the Public School Act provides that where the elections are held on the same day, and at the same time, as the municipal elections, no ballots shall be delivered to any person who is entered on the lists as a separate school supporter. This indicates surely that it was intended that separate school supporters should be so marked on the voters' lists. By sub-section E of section 60 of the same Act it is provided that the clerk shall supply for use at school trustee elections where the same are held by the school board, a list of all ratepayers who are assessed as separate school supporters. From this it may be argued that separate school supporters are not to be marked on the voters' lists. The practice in Toronto is for the clerk to mark separate school supporters appearing on the lists by red ink and the ballots at public school elections are not delivered to them.

There seems to be no other way of preventing separate school supporters voting for public school trustees if they are so inclined than by indicating them on the voters' lists. If, as a correspondent of The Sentinel points out, there is reason to believe that those who support the separate schools are also voting for public school trustees, it is the business of public school supporters to see that the city council gives instruction similar to that given to the City Clerk at Toronto, to the official who prepares the lists in their towns. It would be a remarkable state of affairs to permit a man to contribute his taxes to the support of separate schools and then have to share in electing the trustees of the public schools. The public system of education should be safeguarded at every point. In order to do that every municipal council in Ontario should see to it that only public school supporters are permitted to vote in public school elections.

RUSKIN PLACE

Right in the Heart of Ottawa's Manufacturing Area — At the Junction, Ottawa South

It is selling rapidly to good people of the class who will build homes and improve the property. There are a number of fine houses in course of erection, and many others to follow immediately. The lots are grassy lots without rock. They are level and easy to build upon, and there is abundance of clear, cold, pure water. The view takes in the whole City of Ottawa. Streets are 66 feet wide, and are being well laid out with trees and boulevards, and fine gravelled sidewalks just like every Metropolitan City.

Early connection with the City by no less than three electric railways is expected. The Morrisburg and Ottawa Railway have decided to start building on May 1st, 1913. The C. N. Railway have announced their early start upon their gas electric service, which will run right through RUSKIN PLACE. The Kingston and Rideau Lakes Electric Railway have surveyed right through the property and expect to commence work in the near immediate future.

When any one of these lines commence operations look out for an immense increase in price of RUSKIN PLACE Lots.

DEFENDER OF MAFEKING

Soldier Who Headed Successful Sortie in an Armored Train

Captain Ashley P. W. Williams one, one of the gallant defenders of Mafeking in the Boer War, died at his Dorsetshire home at the age of forty-five.

At the commencement of the siege of Mafeking General Baden-Powell determined not merely to protect the town, but to assume the offensive, and on Oct. 14, 1899, he sent out an armored train, under Captain Williams with about fifty men, two Maxims, and a Hotchkiss, to attack some Boers to the north.

The operation was successful, and Captain Williams on his return home for this and other services received the D.S.O. distinction. The borough of Dorchester also conferred upon him its freedom.

Whole Crew Malaria-Stricken

EDITORIAL NOTES

It may be said in confidence that the tariff grafters do not regard the extra session of Congress as a joke, even if it is called for April 1.

A Chicago man declares that life insurance is a form of gambling. No doubt about it, but the trouble is you have to die to beat the game.

Now that the Examiner has probably emptied itself of its cargo of wrath, Mr. Burnham will probably enjoy a brief siesta. Let us hope also that our contemporary may not take these attacks of hysteria too frequently for its own and the public good.

For the information of the Toronto women who threaten to leave the city if not given the vote, we will say that the West is the spot for them. There they will have, not only the opportunity to vote, but to pick up a long-desired husband.

Ottawa must have a new water supply which will cost millions, and of course Ottawa looks to the Dominion government to pay part of the cost. Why should we Peterborough folk, while we pay the whole cost of our civic services, help to pay the cost of Ottawa's too?

We note, in the Lindsay Warder, that a book of 3000 years B.C., is in possession of Mr. T. Sullivan, of King's Wharf. As such a book of that period was inscribed on marble tablets, it would take a full scow load to deliver it at Scugogville. We have not seen any such.

On Sunday last, as the Presbyterian church choir at Harriston, were raising their voices in harmony, two rats appeared from behind the organ. The ladies of the choir shoved the rodents away, although two of them jumped on the seats and raised their garments, as per usual, in such cases. The two timid ones were suffragettes.

Down at Ottawa the government supporters and the opposition have horns locked in a fight to a finish. The house has been in continuous session for days. The opposition is attempting to force the government to dissolve parliament and go to the country on the naval bill. There is no need or this course. The only real motive for it is that the Liberals yearn for a chance to get back into power.

COBOCONK LIBELLED

The Catholic Register, the organ of the Roman Catholic Church in Ontario, has the following:

Coboconk is to the front again. Some of the pious Methodist folk have placed a ban on checker-playing, not because it's Lent, but because it's "immoral," and the few old village reprobates involved are kicking like steers against a species of coercion such as even Rome never dreamt of. "Curious world this!"

The above was shewn to a Coboconk man, who says that there is not a word of truth in it.

THE DUTY OF DOCTOR FRIEDMANN.

Dr. Friedrich Friedmann, the German physician who claims to be the discoverer of an infallible remedy for tuberculosis, is now in America, and it is to be hoped that he has come to verify his claim, for it is a duty he owes to humanity. Millions of sufferers throughout the world have had their hopes raised, and are now waiting in an agony of suspense for a definite statement, hence to withhold the information would be cruel and inexcusable.

If the remedy is what Dr Friedmann asserts, a cure for the most destructive of human ills, his pecuniary reward will be as secure as his fame. The world is now calling for his secret, and it is to be hoped Dr. Friedmann will not longer withhold it. He has promised to place his knowledge at the disposal of humanity, and he should not delay a single hour. If he proves that his discovery will cure tuberculosis he will become one of the immortals and his name will be blessed in every civilized land.

Your Bad Taste in the Morning is Due to Catarrh

Destroy This Poisonous Disease Before Your Health is Seriously Injured.

Perhaps you haven't thought of calling those unpleasant symptoms that affected your nose and throat by any particular name—but it's Catarrh just the same.

When the attack is severe, your eyes are watery and look weak. Your breath is offensive, due to inflammation in the nose and throat.

At last science has discovered a real remedy, a new scientific marvel which acts like no other Catarrh remedy on earth. "Catarrhozone" operates on a new plan; it is a direct remedy, goes instantly to the source of the trouble. Its rich, fragrant essences and healing balsams are breathed in vapor from through a special inhaler and give instant relief.

Catarrhozone doesn't stop at the relief stage—it goes further—keeps on going till a cure is affected. Bad cases are cured, as you can judge from the following letter:—"Every morning for six months last winter I awoke with a bad taste, an awful breath and stuffed up feeling in my nostrils," writes Rob E. Rutland, of Regina. "It was simply an awful case of chronic Catarrh. Relief first came from Catarrhozone. I used that inhaler twenty times a day and took it to bed with me at night. I am cured, and by the use of Catarrhozone stay well. Now I am free from irritable throat trouble, coughs, colds, headache, or catarrh."

No medicine on earth is so certain to cure every form of Catarrh or throat trouble as "Catarrhozone." Get the large $1.00 size, lasts two months and is guaranteed; medium size, 50c.; sample size 25c. all storekeepers and druggists, or The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

PUBLIC OPINION.

The Times does not hold itself responsible for the opinions of its correspondents.

WHY NOT PETERBOROUGH?

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I happened to see an Ontario Government report in a paper recently concerning grants made to public institutions in Brantford, Belleville, Woodstock, Orillia, etc., for hospitals, asylums and similar places. Why cannot a rapidly growing city like Peterborough, which is so centrally located, get some such government building? I feel sure that our representative, Mr. Peck, would do all in his power to bring such an institution here, if he only got an opening.

Home Industry.

THE MALCONSTRUCTION OF THE TRENT CANAL

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—I quite agree with "Progress" in a late issue of The Times and with him I feel greatly disappointed with the prospect that our canal when completed is not going to be what we were led to believe it would be, namely, a cheap route for transportation. I did not believe that matters were so bad till I discussed the situation with two well known steamboat captains, and they both told me that as far as the unprotected channels which have been dredged out were concerned, that no tow of barges could ever pass through them. Now if this is a fact and surely such men that are constantly towing should know, what will be the use of the canal except for pleasure yachts?

Why don't our members of Parliament get the Minister of Railways and Canals to have this matter gone into by some independent party?

I am sure The Times is to be much commended for taking this matter up and trying to have the canal so constructed that when it is opened that it won't get a "black eye" by its usefulness being questioned.

SUFFRAGETTES NOW SWEAR TO "STAGGER HUMANITY"

Using the Words of the Late Oom Paul Kruger—To Kidnap M.P.'s and Drop Flashlight Into Parliament—Buildings in Peril

New York, March 6.—A cable to The Tribune from London says: The suffragettes are now promising to "stagger humanity" unless women get the vote. They are planning new schemes which, as one of them averred, will eclipse all previous efforts. "The pillar box raids, the Kew fire, the Walton House bombs," she said, "will pale before the operations that have been arranged. It was Kruger who declared he would "stagger humanity.' So will the suffragettes until the franchise is granted to women."

Soon after the opening of Parliament, raids are to be made on the House, and members of the Cabinet must be closely guarded or they will be kidnapped. It is stated that it is intended to drop what is styled a flashlight into the body of the House of Commons from the Strangers' Gallery. Women will be brought from every part of the United Kingdom to take part in the militant ventures.

In the last number of the official paper issued by the Militant League there appeared a picture of Nottingham Castle, destroyed by men seeking the vote.

"This," said one of the militants, "is symbolical of what may yet occur. We respect human life, but buildings, whatever their historic fame or tradition, are in imminent peril."

WEST BOUND TOURISTS MISSED THEIR TRAIN

At 11 o'clock Wednesday morning a mixed carload of horses and household goods was dispatched for the West by Mr. W. Montgomery, of this city. Mr. Montgomery was notified that some one had broken into the car previous to its departure. Detectives Newhall and Maher went to the scene. The train hands were gathered round the car but did not venture to enter it. The detectives entered and investigated. From behind some furniture they hauled out two local men who, dressed in new clothes and having new valises, were making for the boundless west. The two had crawled under the furniture in their good clothes and the car has recently been used for carrying cattle. The west bound travellers had been telling how they had purchased Pullman car tickets for Winnipeg. They were allowed to go, and spent some time considering how to explain away the delay.

He leaves to mourn his loss, besides a sorrowing widow, one daughter, Mrs. H. L. Lowe, of Passadena, Cal.; and two sons, Dr. J. J., of Bethany, and Hector H., of the Engineering Department of the Canadian Northern Railway.

A rather remarkable incident connected with his death, is that it occured on the thirty-eighth anniversary of his marriage.

WEDDING BELLS

Lytle—Scott.

On Tuesday morning, Mr. W. H. Lytle of this city, led a charming bride to the altar of the Central Presbyterian church, Hamilton. His bride was Mrs. J. M. Scott, of Mount Royal Avenue of Hamilton. The nuptial knot was tied by Rev. W. H. Sedgewick. Only the immediate relatives of the bridal families were present.

every prospect for a good team this coming season. He was glad to secure Vance. He had heard from Manager Barthold yesterday and Johnny had signed up six good men. There is a good battery at $100 a month each. The club will only carry 14 men. $371 was made from the 10 per cent. allowed to smaller towns. This will mean more next year.

The chairman said that Peterborough cannot, by the schedule, get May 24th, but thought we may still get it. The directors will meet on Monday.

The meeting then adjourned. The whole meeting was characterized by unanimous harmony and interest in the great game.

NEWFOUNDLAND TO TAKE PART

St. John's, Newfoundland, March 7.—With a view to participating in the naval defence of the British Empire, the Newfoundland Government has opened negotiations with the Imperial Cabinet.

An announcement to that effect was made to-day by the new Governor, Walter Davidson, C.M.G., in the speech from the Throne at the opening of the Colonial Legislature.

Governor Davidson also gave notice of the Government's intention to remove the duty from tea, sugar and salted meats. This, it was declared, would represent the abrogation of $400,000 in duties annually, the largest reduction in taxation at one time in the colony's history.

Our Serial Story

In a few days The Times will begin the publication of a new serial story, entitled, "The Sable Lorcha," by Horace Hazeltine. This journal has been fortunate in securing this most excellent story which is one of the most interesting, thrilling and instructive. The story will be continued from day to day until it is completed.

ORANGE ORDER IN QUEBEC.

Unexpectedly Good Reports Received in Regard to Membership.

Montreal, March 7.—At the 64th annual meeting of the Provincial Grand Lodge of Quebec of the Loyal Orange Association of British America, the reports with regard to the numbers of members throughout the Province were unexpectedly satisfactory.

A large number attended, those present coming from all over the Province, with the exception of the district in the immediate neighborhood of Quebec City.

Resolutions supporting Ulster Orangemen, and condemning the nemenee decree, were passed.

A WONDERFUL DISCOVERY

An eminent scientist, the other day, gave his opinion that the most wonderful discovery of recent years was the discovery of Zam-Buk. Just think! As soon as a single thin layer of Zam-Buk is applied to a wound or a sore, such injury is insured against blood poison! Not one species of microbe has been found that Zam-Buk does not kill!

Then again. As soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a sore, or a cut, or to skin disease, it stops the smarting. That is why children are such friends of Zam-Buk. They care nothing for the science of the thing. All they know is that Zam-Buk stops their pain. Mothers should never forget this.

Again. As soon as Zam-Buk is applied to a wound or to a diseased part, the cells beneath the skin's surface are so stimulated that new healthy tissue is quickly formed. This forming of fresh healthy tissue from below is Zam-Buk's secret of healing. The tissue thus formed is worked up to the surface and literally casts off the diseased tissue above it. This is why Zam-Buk cures are permanent.

Only the other day Mr. Marsh, of 101 Delorimier Ave., Montreal, called upon the Zam-Buk Company and told them that for over twenty-five years he had been a martyr to eczema. His hands were at one time so covered with sores that he had to sleep in gloves. Four years ago Zam-Buk was introduced to him, and in a few months it cured him. To-day—over three years after his cure of a disease he had for twenty-five years—he is still cured, and has had no trace of any return of the eczema!

Urging Mixed Farming

Mayor Nelson, Medicine Hat, in the course of an interview in Toronto said that the farmers of the west are just beginning to realise that wheat raising alone cannot compare with mixed farming when it comes to making money. Eggs and butter never go below 75c the dozen and pound in a large section of the west, and now threaten to reach the dollar mark. The cities of the west are now endeavoring to bring this point home to the western farmers, and an organized effort will be made to encourage mixed farming in preference to wheat only. The main argument that is being used in this regard is the fact that bigger money and in shorter time can be made in this way than would be possible from the same effort in wheat.

CANADA'S PULPWOOD

Discussed in a Recent Bulletin of the Forestry Branch

Ever since the Province of Quebec forbade the export of pulpwood cut from Crown lands, considerable interest has been taken in the question as to how the price of pulpwood would be affected. A leading paper trade periodical estimated that the price of pulpwood had advanced one dollar per cord. This is corroborated by the bulletin on pulpwood lately compiled by the Forestry Branch of the Department of the Interior. According to this bulletin, the average price of pulpwood in Quebec province during 1911 was higher by ninety-seven cents than during 1910. In Ontario the price actually fell twenty cents per cord, while in Nova Scotia and New Brunswick increases of twenty-nine and twenty-two cents respectively are announced. A question that is just beginning to come into notice in the Dominion is the utilization of sawmill waste as material for pulpmaking. A very small quantity of such waste is so utilized by three firms which own both sawmills and pulpmills.

THE TARIFF AGITATION

Calgary Standard Notes American Tariff is Much Higher Than Canadian

There are many who are hoping that, as our largest export trade is with the United States, as a near market, the new president will remove a few bricks from the top of their tariff wall, to admit our goods on easier terms than hitherto. Many are arguing that in such an event Canada should reciprocate by lowering her tariff on United States imposts. Advocates of such a policy are doubtless unaware that the tariff of the United States is much higher than that of Canada. The average ad valorem rate of duty imposed on all dutiable goods during the fiscal year 1911 by the United States against other countries was over 41 per cent., while that imposed by Canada against other countries was only 25 1-2 per cent. That is, the average United States rate against the world was 15.55 per cent. higher than the Canadian. Moreover, the average ad valorem rate of duty imposed on Canadian dutiable goods is only 25 per cent. By all means let the United States reduce their tariff until it reaches the level of the Canadian tariff. This will put the two countries on an even trading basis During the year ended the last of March of last year, we imported from the United States goods valued at $354,354,179, and exported to the United States goods valued at $130,534,998. With equal tariffs, the balance of the trade will be more in our favor.—Calgary Standard.

THE TALL CHIMNEY

Hamilton's Lesson to Canada in Factory Development

Hamilton exhibits probably the best fruits of moderate protection to be found in Canada. During 1912 alone that city received from the United States five big factories which will invest approximately two million dollars at once, and more in the near future. These five factories will manufacture steel cars of all kinds, steel and malleable castings, porcelain-ware, and air-brake and other railway equipment. The two thousand employes will require at least four hundred new houses in which to reside with their families, besides a number of new stores from whose counters merchants will sell them the daily necessaries of life. In addition to these five big firms from the United States, there are a great many smaller ones coming from the States to Hamilton, and also a large number of purely Canadian firms which will begin operations in that city duing the year.

BRITISH WAGES

More Importation of Manufactured Goods Would Lower Canada's Wages

The manufacturers of Canada have been severely censured for opposing any increase in the British preference. Industrial Canada has been attacked by a dozen newspapers for making this statement: "We want to see less British and foreign manufactures come in, and more made in Canada." Employees of industrial concerns, who feel disposed to vote for politicians who want to lower the duties against British goods should study the following Government statistics dealing with wages.

Of the eight million adult wage workers in England:

Four per cent. receive less than $3.65 a week.

Eight per cent. are paid from $3.65 to $4.87.

Twenty per cent. receive from $4.87 to $6.10.

Twenty-one per cent. get from $6.10 to $7.30.

Thirteen per cent. get from $9.75 to $10.96.

And only six per cent. get more than $10.96. per week.

The people who receive these wages make goods which are partially kept out of Canada by the duty. If the duty is lowered, more British goods will enter Canada. If Canadian manufacturers have to cut selling prices to meet the increased competition, part of their loss must fall on their employees. Do Canadian workmen want these wages?

A $15,000 warehouse will be erected in Regina, Sask., for the Garden City Feeder Co.

Woodland Dairy, Limited, Edmonton, Alta., has recently been incorporated with an authorised capital of $100,000.

It is stated that the Canadian Fairbanks, Morse Co., Chicago, Ill., will establish a warehouse in Edmonton, Alta.

The Regina Flour Mill Co., will erect an elevator and a flour mill with a capacity of 2,000 barrels per day, in Regina, Sask.

H. C. Struchen, of Minneapolis, Minn., will establish a $250,000 paper mill in Prince Albert, Sask.

STOP TRAINS BY WIRELESS

Signalman 20 Miles Away Can Apply Brakes, Says Inventor

Herr von Kramer, the inventor of the system of communicating by telephone from moving trains, says he has developed an invention in conjunction with Herr Kapp, who has evolved a sensitive detector, whereby it is possible to pick up the feeble currents received by a train and relay them up into stronger currents so as to operate electric bells and hooters and even apply brakes. He declares that a signalman from ten to twenty miles away will thereby be enabled to stop a train by merely pressing a button.

MIXED FARMING

Vice-President Bury is Much Interested in the Subject

Vice-president Bury, of the Canadian Pacific Railway, while in Calgary recurning from a trip to the Coast, said the company is very much interested in the question of mixed farming, and will do everything in its power to encourage the farmers to engage to a greater extent in this branch of agriculture. He believed that more mixed farming was essential to the welfare of the country and it is astonishing to find so much agricultural produce being imported. "On this trip," he said, "I was served with butter from New Zealand, mutton from Australia, fruit from the United States, marmalade from England, and potatoes from Virginia. At Vancouver I noticed a shipment of twenty-five carloads of condensed milk from Eastern Canada being loaded on a vessel for export. All these articles should be produced in Western Canada."

AGRICULTURE AT COAST

Development of the Farming Industry in British Columbia

Agriculture is more and more giving promise of becoming to British Columbia what it has already become to the Provinces of the prairies—not only the staple, but the leading industry. This Province produced in the year 1911 agricultural products valued at $31,641,938, an increase for the year of $7,242,838, or 50.3 per cent. This sum of nearly twenty-two millions was made up in large part as follows: Milk, $3,295,000; fruit and vegetables, $5,084,241; hay, $4,913,566; grain, $2,160,827; eggs, $255,112; honey, $35,173. These figures are official and are from a bulletin issued recently by the Department of Agriculture at Victoria. To their total one must add the year's share of the ten million dollars' worth of live stock held on the farms and ranches of the Province. This would bring the value of farm products for the twelve months within easy distance of the output of British Columbia's two greatest industries, mining and lumbering and would place it far in the lead of fishing, the next industry. The mines of the Province yielded in 1911 $23,211,816; the forests, $24,823,000, and the fish series, $11,000,000.

The Germans are leaders in a new industry, which is the means of making wood into yarn, cloth, twine, carpets, and imitation silk and canvas, all of which are proof against the action of both hot and cold water. "Silvatin" yarn is made near Berlin, from spruce wood. In Saxony, "xylolin" yarn is manufactured from paper and wood pulp. Sawdust and the waste wood from fashioning rectangular boards from tree trunks can now be scientifically converted into useful materials.

CANADIAN EGGS AT HIGHER PRICES

Heavy Imports Last Year From the United States Where Price Was Lower—How About Reciprocity?

During the campaign in which reciprocity between Canada and the United States was the dominant issue, the question arose as to how many eggs Canadians ship annually to the United States and the number Americans send to Canada. In the American Poultry World of January appears the following report on the subject from the chief of the markets division of the Canadian Department of Agriculture:

"Department of Agriculture, Canada.
"Office of "The Dairy and Cold Storage Commissioner.
"Ottawa, September 26th, 1912.
"Editor American Poultry World,
"Buffalo, N. Y.

"Your letter of the 27th inst. addressed to Mr. Ruddick has been transferred to me, and in reply I have much pleasure in giving you the information asked for. The quantity of eggs imported into Canada from the United States during the year ended March 31st, 1912, was 7,498,547 dozens, and the quantity exported from Canada to the United States during the same period was 17,402 dozens. Duty on eggs coming into Canada from the United States is three cents per dozen.

"Yours truly, W. A. Moore,
"Chief, Markets Division."

Big Home Market

The duty on eggs shipped from Canada into the United States is five cents per dozen. This duty applies alike to eggs for human consumption and for hatching purposes.

The difference between the Canadian duty of three cents per dozen and the United States duty of five cents is not sufficient to explain the great difference that exists between the total annual shipment made southward and those sent northward. Heretofore we have held the Canadian hen in high regard, but the great disparity betwees the trifling amount of her product that is sold to us each year, as compared with the millions of dozens of eggs that are shipped from the States into Canada, has placed her under suspicion. It begins to look as though she is "loafing on the job."

Probably it was the prices obtainable for market eggs in Canada that caused seven and a half million dozen to be shipped from the United States into the Dominion during the year ending March 31st, 1912. The prices over there had to be enough higher to cover the cost of transportation and extra handling, also to overcome the handicap of a three-cents-per-dozen tariff duty. Isn't it a bit surprising that this difference in prices should have existed?

The Canadians are quite strong for poultry, especially in the fertile province of Ontario. It may be that a large portion of these eggs went into the colder latitudes of the Dominion. But in that case, why should not the more southern sections, like Ontario, for example, have supplied the seven and a half million dozen, thereby keeping the purchase price at home? Not that we object in the slightest to having this Canadian money sent to American poultry keepers, but Canadian poultrymen have the right to look after their own best interests—and to "do it first."

New Zealand Butter Cheaper

Another set of figures came under our notice recently that causes us to suspect that the Canadian cow is fully as remiss as the Canadian hen. The New York Produce Review, of date September 24th, 1912, contained these figures.

"Reference is first made to statistics contained in a recent report of J. A. Ruddick, Canada's dairy commissioner, by which it appears that in the year ending March 31, 1912, Canada imported more than 2,000,000 pounds of butter, of which 2,139,844 lbs. was brought from New Zealand and 939,318 lbs. from the United States."

New Zealand is a long distance from Canada, but has a productive soil and highly favorable climate. Furthermore, the cost of transportation by water is low, comparatively speaking; yet it must be discouraging to the Canadian dairyman to have this New Zealand butter enter his market in competition, especially so when his comparative disadvantages of soil and climate are taken into consideration.

This article from an impartial and disinterested source accords conclusive evidence that the Canadian farmer would have lost heavily on butter and eggs had the reciprocity agreement carried. If nearly 100,000,000 eggs could come into Canada from the United States, pay the duty, and compete with Canadian eggs, how many would have come in had there been no duty and how much lower the price to the Canadian farmer would have been? The same pertinent question applies to butter.

ALL-ROUND PRODUCTION CANADA'S BEST COURSE

Not Advisable to Put all Our Eggs in One Basket—Wealth is Anything That Can be Sold

Mr. R. C. Reade writing in a recent issue of "Canadian Countryman" has some interesting comments on the development of Canada. Speaking of the present condition of the Dominion he says:

"Canada has come into line with the well-marked tendencies of world-wide economic progress, because her rulers have not hesitated to deride the economic shibboleth that all wealth must come from the soil and that a country with rich natural resources can never become presperous except by exporting natural products as raw material for manufacturing nations. It is Canada, not Oxford, which is the home of lost causes if to-day there are in this country intelligent persons who do not believe that manufacturing is productive of wealth. That there are such in the West seems undoubted from the tenor of some of the grain growers' addresses presented to the late premier during his tour in 1910. It was then declared that agriculture was the sole basis of national prosperity and that the farmer does more for the good of the human race than any other class in the whole world. This is the economic wisdom wherein another member of what may be called the Government Homestead School of Political Economy declares 'a rural population living close to nature must inevitably be superior to people living in centres of population.' A common hatred of tariffs makes strange and hybrid alliances between a purely agricultural school of political economy and the famous Manchester school which was wedded to manufacturing. What has denominated the country's idealism in the matter of trade has been shown in steadily adhering to the basic economic principle that wealth is anything that can be sold, whether wheat or steel rails. All Canadian products, tangible or intangible, whether carried in railway cars or entered in the ledgers of banks or loan companies, have geen welcomed as contributions to national prosperity. The national eggs have not all been put in one basket. Stability has been sought by developing all possible modes of production. That is the lesson which has been drawn from the progress of the great nations of the world to-day, England, Germany and United States, which both produce and manfacture an immense variety of natural products. The Roman Empire, a prominent French economic writer has declared, perished from bankruptcy brought about by the lack of industrial organization. There were, no doubt, other causes as well, but the structure tottered because unsteadily poised on only one pillar of productiveness, namely, agriculture. The proverbial stagnation of China was due to the same cause. Its awakening will take place, as in the case of Japan, through the introduction of industries. And agriculture and industry are merely terms which, taken in combination, indicate the utmost possible development of a nation's mind as well as a nation's material resources."

IN THE GARDEN

Keep the hedges clipped.

Thin the apples and plums if too heavily loaded.

Lawn clippings and green waste from the garden make good chicken feed.

Keep the cultivator and weeder going. They not only kill weeds, but conserve moisture.

Keep the sweet peas picked. It is better for the plants, and the house can be made more attractive by their use.

Keep the new strawberry bed clean cultivated until the runners are matted too much to permit the cultivator to go through.

If the strawberry plants are vigorous, and the bed not too weedy, it may pay to renovate it for another year. Mow the plants close to the ground, rake off the foliage and burn it. Plow a furrow, cutting out all but about one foot of the row, and then go through and take out the weeds and diseased plants in this row. Fill the furrow with thoroughly rotted manure and cultivate the soil back. Keep up a thorough cultivation of the soil all the season

A NEW RELIGION IN OLD LONDON

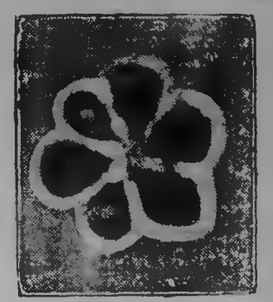
Man of Mystery Claiming to Be Reincarnation of Ancient Egyptian King

A new religion, or rather, a religion which includes several of the tenets of different creeds, New Thought, Theosophy and Buddhism is attracting many followers in London, prominent among whom are the Countess of Warwick and Mrs. Cora Urquhart Potter, the celebrated actress. The founder, or exponent, of this ethical principal is one Thurston, who claims to be the reincarnation of Sethi, the father of Rameses I., the first head of the greatest dynasty in the history of Egypt, the Nineteenth. Thurston claims to have devoted many years to the contemplation and study of Eastern mysteries, and is well fortified against the charge that he is a faker. However absurd his claim may be that he is the reincarnation of the founder of the Rameses dynasty, there can be no doubt that he knows more about Egyptian history and the salient facts of Oriental religion than any of his inquisitors. For several years he acted as the English tutor and coach of a number of Indian princes at Eton, and from them he may have gathered much lore. Also he travelled abroad, and it is said that he even made his way to Tibet, disguised.

Those who apply to Thurston to his early history are referred to the tombs and temples that bear the imperishable record of the career of Sethi. As to his more recent history he does not speak. It is obvious that he is a man of education and it must be admitted that his physical resemblance to Sethi the First is remarkable. This is not a matter of mere speculation, for the mummy of the ancient Egyptian has been preserved, and may be studied by the curious. As far as a mummy can be a picture of a living man, the mummy of Sethi is the picture of Thurston.

Thurston's ambition is to found a city on the Alexandrian coast which will be populated by those interested in his religion. To establish the city would require much money, and perhaps considerable diplomacy. Among Thurston's followers are those who could contribute both essentials. The city once founded is to become a sort of headquarters for the study of the occult. That is Thurston's object. One afternoon a week he meets the elect in a room in Regent street. He also welcomes the presence of hostile critics.

A Hero's War Medals



Field Marshal Sir George White, the brave defender of Ladysmith during the Boer war, who died while acting as Governor of Chelsea Hospital, left an estate of $370,000. All his war medals, decorations earned by his services in the army, and Orders that had not to be restored to the State, as well as his household and personal effects, were left upon trust, as heirlooms with his Irish estate of Whitehall, Ballymena.

FRENCH DOCTOR HAS CANCER CURE

Will Give Secret to the World When He Proves Its Worth Beyond Doubt

Can cancer be cured? This is a question which many physicians of the highest international repute will answer in the negative but Dr. Gaston Odin, a 38-year-old Parisian declares that not only is the disease curable, but that he has discovered the cure. To an interviewer he told a most interesting story of his work.

"Cancer fascinated me," he said, "and I studied the blood of cancer patients. To my astonishment I discovered that in the blood of cancer sufferers, some of the blood corpuscles were shaped like chestnuts instead of being perfectly round. It dawned on me that perhaps the cancer germ was hidden within the blood corpuscles, like the yolk of an egg is hidden within the shell. How could I break the shell of these tiny blood corpuscles? I tried many chemicals.

The cancer germ very many times enlarged

"One day after one of these tests I picked up a piece of glass, on which I had been experimenting, and behold the blood was swarming with microbes. That was the cancer germ released from the shell. I have proved that fact beyond doubt.

"Now, I have found the cure. I have made a serum that kills this germ. I must have thirty more cures and then I shall tell the entire secret to the world. Do not think that all of this has been done suddenly. I have worked on it for 18 years. It will not be long before physicians in any part of the world will be able to give my treatment."

Four men sat in the outer office of Dr. Odin's place. Two of them had their cancer-eaten faces bound in cloths. The other two were also cancer sufferers.

"The doctors told me I should die," one man said. "They had cut and cut at my neck without avail. I have traveled over Europe, seeking help. I have been coming to Dr. Odin for a week, and the swelling has gone down by one-half. My pain is gone."

Dr. Odin took the newspaper man into one of the largest hospitals in Paris, where the cowled monks who act as nurses have absolute faith in his ability to accomplish perfect cures of the terrible disease. A patient there—a man of huge frame—said he had been given five weeks to live by his doctors. A cancer was eating his throat away and he could scarcely breathe. After three weeks of Dr.

DR. GASTON ODIN

Odin's treatment he was able to speak a little and a week later he could eat and talk without difficulty. The swelling and the pain had vanished and he hoped to leave the hospital as soon as he regained his strength.

Dr. Odin's treatment consists of injections of serum, usually into the thigh, even when the disease is located in the throat. Operations, he says, are useless. By his method the cancer is dissolved and the fluid removed by lancing.

Improving Buckingham Palace

Buckingham Palace is to be renovated at a cost of $300,000, the Office of Works having determined to do something to improve the exterior of a building known as the ugliest Royal residence in Europe.

Sir Aston Webb, the official architect, who designed the Victoria Memorial in front of the Palace, the new Processional road, and the Admiralty Arch at the end of it, passed plans which contemplate the substitution of an imposing white frontage of Portland stone for the existing drab exterior.

LITERATURE IN RUSSIA

Books That are Popular Among the Russian Children

Literature of the Sherlock Holmes and Nat Pinkerton type retains its popularity among Russian children. In an interesting report on juvenile reading presented to the Library Congress now being held in St. Petersburg, the following criticisms, written by a Moscow schoolgirl, was quoted: "I adore Pinkerton. How brilliant is the picture of this prodigious man, who has consecrated his life to the extermination of criminals, these plagues of the human race." Similar tributes are paid to Sherlock Holmes by youthful readers. Hans Andersen is the most popular author among Moscow children under 12 years old. Grimm comes second. The favorite foreign writers are Mrs. Beecher Stowe, Defoe, Jules Verne, Mark Twain and Mayne Reide.

THE TWIN CITIES

An English Writer See Great Future for Port Arthur and Fort William

L. Scheff, F.R.C.I., has been writing in The Glasgow Herald a series of articles on Canada which he calls "A Mighty State in the Making." In one of these articles he says:

"Two towns which were included in my journey need special mention, for they obviously have a great future in front of them. I allude to the twin ports of Port Arthur and Fort William on Lake Superior. Some idea of the importance of these places may be gained from the fact that all the grain grown in the West has to be shipped to the East, whence a large proportion is exported to foreign markets. Port Arthur and Fort William offer the greatest convenience for covering a considerable part of the carriage by lake transportation, thereby saving the heavy freight charges of a long railway haul. Both towns are preparing themselves for their future with immense spirit and energy. Both are equipped with huge grain elevators. And, separated as they are by a couple of miles, the probability is that they will unite one day to form one great combined city. They have busy streets, fine asphalt broadways, and broad side-walks. In their admirable thoroughfares, prosperous homes and thriving manufactures they bear the stamp of Canada's extraordinary progress. Standing at the gateway between the East and the West, they promise to become the Liverpool of Canada.

CLUBS VERSUS CLAWS

Woodsmen Had Unequal Combat in Northern Alberta

While hunting near the mouth of the McLeod and Athabasca rivers, in northern Alberta, a short time ago, W. L. White and A. A. Gibbs, residents of Whitecourt, Alta., saved the lives of two woodsmen, who were attacked by a grizzly bear, which had been wounded previously by Mr. Gibbs. The men followed the bear and were fighting the animal with clubs when the hunters came along with their rifles. One shot by Mr. White tore through the animal's forepaw. The bear plunged into the water of the Athabasca, where Mr. Gibbs dispatched it with a head shot. The party also bagged a black bear.

Convinced by the experience with the grizzly that the woodsmen needed to be impressed with the seriousness of bear hunting, Messrs. Gibbs and White solemnly told them that it was a peculiar and distressing failing for bear to follow the trail of its dead or wounded companion, and that, at times, the animals had no compunction whatever in wreaking a terrible vengeance on their human slayers. The result of this piece of advice was to cause the two men to do sentry duty that night while the hunters slumbered peacefully.

ASH CAN ON WHEELS

Can be Rolled Out to Curb Without Fuss or Soiled Clothes

It was a flash of genius that inspired a Connecticut man to put wheels on an ash can. And when in addition to this he affixed a handle, which also acts as a brake, he put the chore man almost out of business. For the head of the house can now roll his own ash can out to the curb, if he is not too proud to do so, without any trouble at all and without soiling his clothes. The can is mounted on a pair of small wheels and the handle is hinged to the side. A bolt at the bottom engages the cross bar of the handle and locks the latter in a vertical position when it is not in use as a pusher. Thus the ends of the handle act as a brake and prevent the can from rolling away by itself or from upsetting, as it would otherwise do with only two centered wheels to rest upon.

PROMOTING CHILD EMIGRATION

The Rev. Mr. Whalley, secretary of the Child Emigration Society, in addressing a representative meeting at Stirling, Scotland, emphasized the two great needs of the present day—the need of the Dominions for trained agricultural populations to cultivate the vast tracts of unoccupied land, and the need for the removal of thousands of children in Great Britain from their sordid environment in order that they might live healthy and useful lives.

Mr. J. Parke Channing Speaks of Canada's Possibilities

To the Canadian Mining Institute, Prof. R. W. Brock, Director of the Geological Survey of Canada, said that the development of Northern Ontario was absolutely dependent on the success of the mining industry. Beyond a certain line north is a region not favorable for ordinary agricultural development, and it would be necessary to have a local market, and the local market would depend upon mining. So they all asked with confidence that the various Governments should contribute much more to the betterment of the industry they had at heart.

Mr. J. Parke Channing, who was described as the Copper King, said that Canada was a country with the greatest possibilities. Sudbury, Cobalt and Porcupine had been discovered, and he believed there were dozens and dozens of mineral districts which were undiscovered and which would be discovered in the future. The day of the rich small mine had gone by, to-day was the day of the low grade deposits, and the highly-skilled technical mining man was required to develop it.

"I Sleep Soundly, Feel Like New"

ALL WHO LACK VIGOR, THOSE WHO ARE DISPIRITED AND WORN OUT

SHOULD READ THIS CAREFULLY

Proof That Health and Renewed Vitality Quickly Return When Right Remedy is Used.

"I am only thirty years old, yet for almost two years I have felt more like seventy-five. I have found it difficult to sleep at night, and in the morning felt so depressed and heavy that effort was difficult. My hands were always clammy and perspiration on slight effort would break out all over me. It was not unnatural that I should begin to brood over the chance that I should be unfit to do my work, and this dread made my sleepless nights perfect misery. After repeated trials of medicines and mixtures, Dr. Hamilton's Pills gave me the first gleam of hope. From the very first I could see they were different in action from other pills. They didn't gripe and acted as naturally as if nature and not the pills were cleansing my clogged-up system. My spirits rose. I felt much better. The languish action of the system give way to normal activity. Dizziness and headaches ceased, appetite, good color and ambition to work returned, and have remained. I am like a new man, and I thank Dr. Hamilton's Pills for it all."

This was the experience of J. E. Parkhurst, a well known grocery dealer in Jefferson. Follow his advice, use Dr. Hamilton's Pills for your stomach, kidneys and liver, and you'll enjoy long life and robust good health. All druggists and storekeepers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills, 25c. per box, 5 boxes for $1.00, or postpaid from the Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y., and Kingston, Canada.

FRENCH-CANADIAN COLLAPSED AT NOON HOUR AFTER BREAKING RECORD IN PRESENT SERIES

Mr. Lafortune Spoke Four Hours Without Touching Navy Question -- Boasted He Would Make it Thirteen

Before Opening of Siege Forty-four Liberals Were Heard -- Charge Against Minister--Liberals Threaten Mr. Coderre--Is it a By-Play?

Ottawa, March 7.—At three o'clock this afternoon the obstruction of the country's business had continued 96 hours. There is no sign of a let-up and there is no doubt the blockade will continue until Saturday at midnight. Monday the Speaker will have to take the chair, and it is said that the Liberals will bring direct charges against Hon. Louis Coderre, Secretary of State, in connection with the Hochelaga bye-election. What the charges are the Liberals are not making public, but there is a disposition at Ottawa not to regard the charges very seriously. It is felt it is largely a by-play to get away from the navy.

Hansard Men Give Up.

Hansard staff has long given up under the day and night strain, and there has been no attempt during the past couple of days to report the speeches fully. However, a careful estimate has it that already two million words have been poured forth by the Liberal orators. The Liberal speakers are beginning to double up now. Mr. Pugsley has spoken during the blockade five times, Dr. Clark four times and Carvell, Sinclair and MacDonald three times each.

44 Liberals Had Spoken.

That there was discussion which should have satisfied any reasonable Opposition before the blockade ever started is shown by the fact that up to the opening of the siege 44 Liberals had spoken, 1,088 columns of Hansard. The Liberals charge a conspiracy of silence on the part of the Government, but 27 Conservatives had spoken 581 columns of Hansard.

$60,000 a Week.

If the obstruction continues much longer the Liberals will have wasted almost enough to build a Dreadnought as it is estimated that the daily cost to the country while Parliament is sitting is $10,000, which means that the Liberal troupe are costly artists. Their cost runs about $60,000 a week.

Champion Long Distance Man.

Mr. Lafortune, of Montcalm, who began at 6 a.m., is the champion long-distcne orator of the Opposition He has never been known to speak less than two hours. He has been suffering from a severe cold and the Liberal whips have had him in training all week. The morning he had sufficiently recovered to rush into the breach. He boasts that he will keep going at least six hours and his effort is giving the wearied Liberal orators an opportunity to catch their second wind. By the time he is through another relay will be ready to keep up the interminable grind. His speech is being greeted with roars of laughter by the French Conservative members who are in the House. He is making no attempt to confine himself to the navy question and is talking on every subject on earth.

Collapsed!

12.15.—He has now beaten all previous records. The strain is beginning to tell on him and he is showing signs of slowing up. His Liberal trainer has sent him a fresh glass of water and by reading several pages of quotations he has started afresh with new vigor. At 12.20 Mr. Lafortune at least had apparently reached the navy question. At 12.30, after speaking four hours and a half, Lafortune collapsed amidst wild applause.

Dr. Clark, of Red Deer, started in on his fifth speech since the blockade started.

ANOTHER OCEAN TRIP FOR SIR CHARLES TUPPER AT 92

Vancouver, B.C., March 7.—Sir Charles Tupper, now nearly 92 years of age, contemplates an early trip to England. He will sail from St. John on May 2nd by the Empress of Ireland. It is expected that he will spend at least the greater part of the summer in the Old Country.

Sir Charles, who crossed the ocean within a year on the sad mission caused by the death of Lady Tupper, will be 92 years of age on July 2nd next, being born in Amherst, N.S., in 1821. He had made his home in England at The Mount, Bexley Heath, in Kent, for some time prior to his wife's death.

SECOND OPERATION ON HON. DR. J. W. ROCHE

Rochester, Minn., March 7.—Dr. J W. Roche, Minister of the Interior in the Canadian Cabinet, goes to St. Mary's Hospital this afternoon, and on Saturday morning will submit to a serious operation.

Dr. Roche was in Rochester four years ago and submitted to the knife at that time. A recurrence of ill-health, however, has brought him to Rochester for a second consultation with the Drs. Mayo, which has resulted in the decision for an operation. Physically Dr. Roche is in excellent condition to stand the ordeal, and it is not feared that there will be any consequences. His daughter is here and will remain with him throughout.

OUR RICHEST MINERAL LANDS

Pacific Great Eastern, Guaranteed by Government to Open Way to Wealth

WHAT THE ROAD MEANS

The Mineral and Forest Wealth of British Columbia to be Developed and Exploited by that Modern Province, A Railway.

Rich in all mineral wealth which British Columbia alone can produce, possessing agricultural possibilities as great, perhaps greater, than any section of the interior, abounding in vast tracts of virgin timber, and situated strategetically at a point divined by nature as a future industrial and shipping, as well as producing centre, the districts of Pemberton and Lillooet stand on the eve of development by that instrument of modernity, and infallible forerunner of commercial prosperity, the rail way.

What the Railway Means

The railway means that the isolated districts formerly unproductive for the want of adequate transportation facilities will be thrown open. It means that the natural resources lying idle and benefitting no one at present will be developed, will create wealth and will aid in raising the financial status of British Columbia to a plane even higher than it is at present. The wheat of the Peace River country will be afforded an outlet, for the railway line is to finally tap the Fort George District and other points farther north. It means colonization also, for with railway communication comes settlers

Historic Town of Lillooet

Lillooet is situated on the Fraser River and is quite a historic spot, being closely identified with the tales of the early days of gold seekers. The Cariboo miners recognized the possibilities of the district, but the first efforts were not directed in the development, they went farther north. Newport lies at the head of Howe Sound, a distance of 120 miles from Lillooet. Destined to become an important mining and distributing centre, the town of Lillooet will expand and blossom out into cityhood with the coming of the railway, which is but a matter of months.

Occupying a large level plateau of over a thousand acres on the West Bank of the Fraser the present town nestles in the centre of a verdant vista of orchards. North of the city on the rich placer ground formerly discovered by the Cariboo miners, lie the upturned sluice boxes and implements discarded by the gold seekers back in the eighties. At the time of the gold strike, when one year after the discovery the ground yielded several millions of dollars in gold and nuggets, the town of Lillooet boasted of a population of something over 8,000 Lillooet has one of the old-

THUNDER ROARING USELESSLY AND SLEEP MARK THE LIBERAL OBSTRUCTION TACTICS

Hot Water Bottle, Night Cap and a Cushion For His Snooze--It Was a Catch as Catch Can Bout in House of Commons

Would-be Liberal Tragedy Prove to be An Expensive Comedy for this Great Dominion--Obstruction not Government the Policy

Ottawa, March 7.—Mr. H. B. Ames, Montreal, sleeping on the Government benches; Mr. L. J. Ethier, Two Mountains, thundering obstruction from the Liberal ranks; members reading. Mr. Ames sleeps peacefully, but aches are promised. Entering the House with the Conservative relief, he made directly for his seat, sat down, and then produced a hot water bottle, a black night cap, a cane and one cushion. Cushion and water bottle were placed on the desk, the cap covered the member's head, the head descended to the desk, the feet were stretched out at right angles, on another chair. He slept while the House laughed.

Uneasy Slumbers.

The French voice wailed on, never stopping even when Mr. Sevigny hurled newspapers at the offender. But Mr. Sevigny has departed, only five people burden the galleries, while Mr. Ames has stirred once, denoting uneasy slumbers. His position is beginning to tell. The speaker is now apparently using English, but the House is not affected.

Here (Hear) to Stay.

The Hon. Mr. Crothers now sleeps, head on his hands, hands on desk. The Government benches are showing interest in the proceedings. An unusually dramatic flourish from Mr. Ethier was met with a "Hear, hear" from a back bencher. "Hear, hear," retorted the speaker. "Yes, you are here, and you will stay here."

A Rude Tin Fife.

With Mr. Crothers awake, Mr. Ethier now ceased his harangue. He spoke altogether for three hours.

Hon. Charles Marcil, former Speaker of the House, continued the obstruction. He prefaced his remarks with the announcement that the House was on a fair way to establish a record for the longest committee meeting in history. He then announced that the German war scare was over, denied the existence of an emergency, and denounced the suggestion of giving the Mother Country $35,000,000 for benefits received. "If the money was for that purpose" he said, "it was not nearly enough. You might as well offer them 35c," he continued. He quoted at length from "The Round Table" to demonstrate the supremacy of England in the world's money market.

A contribution of $35,000,000 on our part is clearly useless, he argued We need the money. We need a merchant navy, the creation of shipyards. "Our Ministers went to England with a policy prepared in advance and contrary to the decision of Parliament in 1909," the speaker charged. "This Admiralty memorandum was prepared with a purpose."

The subdued strains of a tin fife in the hands of a Conservative, clashed with Mr. Marcil's utterance at that point. The interruption was of the liveliest order, lively strains being out of place. Later the strains were heard again, and silence was called.

SEVEN SEAMEN KILLED WHEN DYNAMITE SHIP EXPLODED

Baltimore, Md., March 7.—The British steamer Alum Chine, loaded with dynamite for use in the Panama Canal, was wrecked by an explosion followed by fire this morning in the Lower Harbor off Hawkins Point. According to the police four men were killed and twenty-five injured.

The rest of the people on the steamer saved themselves by jumping overboard, and were picked up by launches and tugs.

A barge lying alongside, containing 340 tons of dynamite, being transferred to the Alum Chine, was completely destroyed. It is believed the first explosion occurred on the barge.

Stenton, on behalf of the brethren, presented a handsome fur-lined overcoat to Mr. Nesbitt, the very appropriate address being read by Bro. Joseph Metheral. The recipient of this honor replied in a brief, but well worded address.

After the presentation was over, those present sat down at a horse-shoe shaped table and enjoyed a sumptuous banquet. The following toast list was proposed and suitably responded to:

Toasts.

The King, The High Court, Visiting Brethren, responded to by Bro. J. J. Hartley. Retiring Financial Secretary, responded to by Bro. H. Nesbitt. Sister Societies, responded to by Bro. W. S. Robinson.

COLLEGIATE CLUB DINE

Thirty members and guests of the Collegiate Club were present at the annual banquet held in Hooper's Palm Parlours on Thursday evening. Mr. H. F. Hill, President of the Club, fulfilled the duties of Chairman very acceptably, and Messrs. H. Ferguson R. H. Kenner, S. J. Stubbs, G. A. Ferguson of the P.C.I. staff and Dr. M. A. Morrison, the Rev. F. J. Sawers and His Honor Judge Huycke were guests of the club for the evening.

DEBATE ON THE ONTARIO BUDGET RAPIDLY APPROACHING THE END

Opposition Members Demand to Know Treasurer's Future Plans. Giving People Sense of False Security

Toronto, March 7.—The revival of the Budget debate yesterday in the Legislature was not brightened with any special features, the discussion languishing all afternoon and far into the evening, with few members evincing interest. It is expected that the debate will conclude this afternoon. It was acharacteristic attack which Mr. J. C. Elliott (West Middlesex) surnamed the deputy leader of the Opposition, made in dealing with the Budget. He wanted to make it clear that it was the Opposition side which most keenly appreciated the necessity of developing the north. Mr. Hanna came in for some passing remarks of a congratulatory nature on the prison farm work which he was instituting throughout the province. It was a good thing to give the unfortunate a second chance.

The Question of a Deficit.

Mr. Elliott then picked up the Budget proper and passed hastily over the items without any serious criticism, until he came to the fact that there was a deficit. "I do not say that a deficit can always be avoided, but if we cannot avoid it in prosperous years how can we do so in the lean ones?" he maintained.

The late Treasurer in 1905 had stated that receipts from mining lands should be treated as capital and not current receipts.

Succession duties warranted a moment's notice. Mr. Lucas's comment, he thought, was that millionaires were not dying off quickly enough to swell the accounts. But the whole fault of the budget was that it was a thing of the past, whereas the people wanted to know the plans and receipts for the present year.

DRUG CLERK CHARGED WITH MURDER.

Richmond, Va., March 8.—Thomas W. McCrary, a drug clerk, was arrested here, charged with murder in having caused the death yesterday of Robert Lee Masurien, a four-year-old child. McCrary compounded 14 grains of bichloride of mercury instead of calomel, which a physician insisted before the coroner's jury he had ordered when giving the prescription by telephone

GAUTHIER SAYS IMPERSONATION UNDER PAY OF HON. CODERRE

Laurier Has Papers. Letters Alleged to Involve Two Ministers of the Crown. Up Monday

Montreal, March 7. That over 300 telegraphers or impersonators voted at the Hochelaga bye-election, last November, which election was caused by the appointment of Hon. Mr. Coderre to the portfolio of Secretary of State, and that such impersonators were under the guidance and pay of a Minister of the Crown will be the substance of a declaration placed before the House of Commons by Mr. L. J. Gauthier, M.P. for St. Hyacinthe, when the order of the day is called on Monday next.

More than that it is hinted in the Liberal circles of Montreal who gather their information from Ottawa that the obstruction is due not to the desire of the Liberals of blocking Parliament, but to the wish of the Conservatives who are negotiating with their accusers and are still expecting to freeze them.

Sir Wilfrid Has the Papers.

As the accusation can be preferred only on a question of privilege which is brought before the House and only when the order of the day is called, it is impossible to hear any accusations until the session of last Monday is closed and it has not yet adjourned, and it seems understood, will not adjourn before Saturday night.

In the meantime strong efforts are being made to get hold of the papers which would incriminate two Ministers of the Crown. But the papers are now in the hanhs of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and when he makes his charges Mr. Gauthier will put his seat at the disposal of the House.

Charges Never Matured.

Mention of such charges was made two weeks ago, but the charges never matured owing to some flaw in the links of the chain connecting each piece. Since that it is understood that further material was supplied to the accusers by a personal letter written by a Minister of the Crown, requesting one of his friends to pour oil on the waves. It happened that the friend appealed was one of the main spealers. And that with that letter the charges cannot be contested. It is for this reason the Quebec delegates have started for twenty-four hours to organize for general elections.

MADDIFORD IS OUT ON SUSPENDED SENTENCE

The young man Maddiford, a drummer at the Red Mill Theatre, who, as noted before, pleaded guilty of stealing a saxaphone, worth $100 from the local band hall, appeared before Judge Huycke for sentence. His honor remarked, you are only a young man, and as far as I am aware you have never been in serious trouble before. The crime upon which you have been convicted is not a light one, but I am strongly impelled to give you another chance. I have therefore decided to let you off on suspended sentence. You have a wife and parents and it rests with you now to live a life that will reflect credit upon them and yourself. Your future is in your own hands.

THE WEATHER.

NUGENT'S SARSAPARILLA—PRICE FOR large bottle, 100 full doses, 35c. and well worth it, too. It's better to take no medicine at all than to depend upon cheap concoctions that are compounded to sell at low price and a big profit just because there is a large demand for certain remedies at certain seasons of the year. There are so called Sarsaparillas offered to us to sell to our customers at 75c a bottle that would bring us a larger profit than Nugent's Sarsaparilla sold at 35c. Nugent's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, arouses the torpid liver, drives out all impurities, cleanses and tones up the system, and helps Nature throw off the dullness that comes from indoor life of winter. It arouses energy, brightens the eye, clears the brain, gives lightness to the movements. Nugent's Sarsaparilla is not the only thing you will find in this drug store. We make a specialty of Nugent's Remedies. Nugent Drug Co., 396 George St., directly opposite Cressman's store.

RUSKIN PLACE

Right in the Heart of Ottawa's Manufacturing Area — At the Junction, Ottawa South

OWING to the fact that so many new industries are locating around Ruskin Place, an interesting calculation has been made of what an industry employing 1,000 hands means to a community. $90,000 would be spent in housing accommodation.

The population would increase by 5,000. The assessment would be augmented by $600,000. Salaries would amount to $559,800. The construction of buildings of all kinds would be $2,000,000. The annual expenditures for foodstuffs would be $63,000 for meat, $96,000 for potatoes, $5,000 for sugar, $18,250 for milk, $65,700 for butter, $27,600 for eggs. All told, the farmers of the district would gain $221,600. The amount spent for clothing would be $167,750. The expenses for taxes added to the cost of building construction will amount to $2,428,350.

The fine new $40,000 plant of the Bishoprick Wallboard Co., is now built at Ruskin Place. A second industry to employ 300 hands at its inception has already purchased the required land while a third guaranteeing to employ 1,000 hands is now negotiating for enough land to commence operations.

JUST THINK of the number of stores to be built there.

JUST THINK of the number of carpenters, bricklayers, stonemasons and other tradesmen altogether separate from the number of employees in the different factories that will be needed to build homes for those who work there.

JUST THINK of the thousand and one different jobs of any and every kind that will spring up at Ruskin Place during the next few years and buy your homesite now so as to be one of the main few who got in on the ground floor.

RUSKIN PLACE offers one of the finest and best opportunities for speculation ever presented to the residents of Peterborough.

Lots at Ruskin Place are Now Selling at

Bankers In Handling Bills Exposed to Great Danger

Mr. John Knight, editor of the Canadian Bankers' Magazine, has the following editorial on filthy lucre: "The reappearance of smallpox in Montreal, although not alarming, reminds one of the risk to which bank tellers are peculiarly exposed in the daily handling of paper money. Vaccination and scrupulous attention to cleanliness are the surest means of avoiding this loathsome scourge. Let those who deride the practice of periodical vaccination reflect upon the strides made both in the practice and study of medicine during the present century. Seven years ago, an American doctor in referring to the achievements of his profession in battling with disease, made this striking reference to the results following the introduction of vaccination. He said that a citizen of our times could be carried backwards and dropped down in the streets of London of a century ago, nothing that he could see would so greatly surprise him as the large number of faces marked with smallpox. There were then over five thousand deaths from that dreaded disease to each million people."

EDITORIAL NOTES

What we regard as the most pressing need of the times is a large and secure insane asylum for the British suffragettes.

Hon. J. R. Stratton thinks he sees a future for the Liberal party, which indicates that he is either a visionary or somebody has presented him with an usually powerful pair of binoculars.

An awful thought is suggested by threats of the suffragettes that they are about to "stagger humanity." Maybe they intend to strew bananas skins on the sidewalks.

The pathetic interest which consumptive patients everywhere are taving in the Friedman cure shows how sweet is life to those threatened with its loss. May the best hopes of these poor people be realized.

Amongst other things, Peterborough produces philosophers. For example, a local rising young politician in discussing the Nationalists of Quebec, remarked: "You can't build a new party on a bellyache." Here we have a great truth picturesquely presented.

Ex-President Taft now receives $5000 a year as Professor of International Law at Yale. This is one thousand more than Howard Jones receives as football coach, and shows the high estoem in which the President is held by his alma mater.

One telephone to every eight persons in Canada is what the latest returns show, and this is a fine showing for the prosperity and progressiveness of the land. May our beautiful land continue to prosper. This speaks well for the splendid service which the Bell Co. is giving the people of this country.

The failure of the late Hon. Francisco Madero, when the Hon. Felix Diaz was a prisoner in his hands, to shoot that estimable gentleman, in accordance with the established custom of the country, will be recorded in Mexican history as the monumental blunder of his public career.

THE INCOME TAX IN ENGLAND.

Those who are not aware of the extent to which an income tax can be made a success as a revenue producer will be interested in knowing that Great Britain raises about a third of a billion dollars a year from that source. The British Income Tax Law is much more far-reaching than any that Canada is likely to enact for many years. The rate assessed against the incomes of Britons varies with the size of the income, and also is different for incomes that are earned and those that are derived from other sources.

The British law exempts the first $800 of income, and those whose yearly revenue are below that sum are taxed. If a man's income is $2,000 for example, he is taxed on the $1,200 in excess of the $800. The tax in general is about 6 per cent, and it increases as the amount of income goes up. An extra levy of 2½ per cent is made, in addition to the regular rate, on all incomes in excess of $15,000 a year and arrangements are made whereby most of the money is received from its original sources, instead of being paid by the citizens.

Incomes from salaries are paid by the employer and deducted from the pay of the employe, and stockholders get their dividends, less the amount due the Government on the income tax

THE AGED POOR

Mrs. Rose Henderson, inspector for the Montreal Juvenile Delinquents Court, a few days ago appeared before a special committee of the House of Comanons at Ottawa and urged the adoption of an old age pension scheme says the Christian Guardian. She argued that "with wages as low as they are at present, and with the cost of living what it is in Canada, it is impossible for wage-earners to provide for old age," and in addition to this she urged the need of a pension for widowed mothers. She declared that the present system of dealing with distressed age was terrible. Men who have toiled hard all their lives, and raised children for the state, are in old age segregated in institutions and practically deprived of their civil rights. Some few do not mind it, but to many of the self-respecting poor, the thought of the poor-house is bitterer than death. We can never forget one old lady in Essex county, whose horror of the poor house was so great that she actually prayed she might die before it was completed and ready for occupation. And her prayer was answered; she never saw the poor house. The City of Detroit has discarded this old method of dealing with the poor in institutions and is now boarding its destitute aged people and children in private houses. The result so far appears to be more satisfactory to the needy ones and cheaper to the city. Canada is a wealthy country and we have very few poor, but the number is increasing, and seems destined to increase. Let us see to it that we do not add to the inevitable burden of poverty the horrible stigma of pauperism. The veterans of the industrial world are as worthy of pensions as the veterans of the battle-field.

PUBLIC OPINION.

The Times does nor hold itself responsible for the opinions of its correspondents.

A TIP FOR THE POLICE.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—There has been a lot of talk about the local picture houses having their lobbies crowded to the danger of human life and limb. Will you kindly tell me why the police are so active in connection with the moving picture houses, the "poor man's theatre," and are seemingly blind when they visit, as they do, the Brock St. rink, on a crowded hockey game night?

Fair Play.

OUR PICTURE HOUSES.

Sir,—I happened to be a spectator at the police court when the case against Mr. Pappas, former proprietor of the Royal Theatre, was tried and the defendant found not guilty of the charge preferred. The magistrate said that "the moving picture houses of Peterborough are too small." Now, Mr. Editor, without expressing any great sympathy with the moving picture theatres, as a patriotic Peterboroughonian, I would respectfully inform the magistrate that no town or city in Canada, of our population, has a theatre devoted exclusively to moving picture business, with as large a seating capacity as has the Royal Theatre.

Onlooker.

PETERBOROUGH HOME REUNION.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—This city seems to have lost all ambition to bring people, and, incidentally, their money, to Peterborough. About the only way travel is talked about in connection with Peterborough are the excursions that go from the city to distant places. Now why not start in right now and arrange for a three days, or a week long reunion in this city for sometime next summer. The "old boys" of Peterborough, now living elsewhere would, in most cases take advantage of cheap railway fares that could easily be arranged for and assemble here. With a good live committee working harmoniously, an attractive programme could be presented. I am convinced that such a reunion would result in thousands of dollars coming to Peterborough.

Old Boy.

OUR RICHEST MINERAL LANDS

est Anglican churches in the Province

It is probably the cleanest and prettiest little town in British Columbia. It has a good water supply, two banks (the Bank of British North America amd the Union Bank) several churches, school, and two hotels, a number of stores and offices, a newspaper, telegraphic communication and is now the distributing centre for a proved mining district of great wealth and an agricultural district of unlimited possibilities. The climate cannot be beat, the air is bracing and the days are bright and lots of sunshine.

Inexhaustible Forests.

On the Coast and in the immense valleys of the Squamish and Chekamus Rivers there are immense tracts of fine timber, millions of feet awaiting only the advent of the railway to bring it to deep water and float it to Vancouver Mills or send it for cutting to the plants that will surely be established in the neighborhood of Newport when the line is completed. The timber has been staked for many years bat the attempts which have been made to log it along the River have been so costly that it has been abandoned. Timber lands, when cleared, are the best agricultural lands in the world and the production from this District, when land is more settled, will be immense.

Dense forests of fir, cedar, pine and spruce stretch away over the rolling country for practically the entire distance between the two districts which the railway is so soon to connect the broad acres of Pemberton Meadows, famed already among agriculturists being the only portion of the vast area uncovered by the stately forest giants. On the terraced bench farther up the Fraser River, stretching to where the town of Lillooet stands as a centre, there are lands where in a few years farmers and fruit growers will be harvesting huge crops of produce for the market afforded by the Coast.

Large Areas of Fertile Land.

The Railway will open up large areas of land between Newport and Lillooet. Until the advent of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway, the richest lands tributary to Lillooet have been fenced off by a barrier of mountains. It is only about 150 miles from Vancouver to Lillooet but hitherto it has been a journey seldom taken except by those whose business has been of great importance and the transportation of freight has been very costly. On the completion of the Railway to Lillooet the run from Vancouver will be made in slightly over five hours, so one can judge what railway development will mean to this country.

The average annual rainfall is about twelve, the sunshine an average of 303 days out of the year. The climate is delicious and the existing temperature is better than any portion of the interior, as in summer the thermometer never climbs higher than 95 degrees, with delightfully cool nights. In winter a snowfall of from thirty-five to sixty inches is experienced and a brief cold spell in the month of January is registered.

The scenic beauty of this near north land is positively a revelation, the peaks and glaciers rivalling in beauty the travesties of nature in the Selkirks, or in the gigantic impressiveness of the Alps or the snow shaped peaks of Asia, and as a result an ideal spot is afforded for the travellers who have been led from continent to continent in search of something new, beautiful or wonderful.

A Paradise for Sportsmen

But the appetite of the tourist is not the only craving which this Eden of Versatile possibilities can supply. There is game for the hunter, and the quantity and variety of the wild animals and birds of an edible nature to be found in the district can be equalled in few others portions of British Columbia. There are elk, and deer, goat and bear, in abundance with numbers of mountain sheep, the most valued and rarest animal protected by our game laws. All kinds of birds, including wild geese and duck, grouse and pheasants are to be shot in season, while fur bearing animals, such as martin and mink, fox and ermine, are also to be found in abundance.

The fifty mile haul to Lytton has been a severe handicap to the fruit growers of Lillooet in the past, and as a consequence hundreds of tons of peaches, pears, plums and apples decayed in the orchards last season simply because facilities could not be provided to take the output to the Coast market. Cantaloupes and melons are grown and do well. There is also a heavy surplus of every harvest of root crops and tomatoes, beats, cucumbers, cabbages, cauliflowers and other vegetables are often wasted or fed to stock just because the home market is adequate to take care of the yearly increasing supply. This has led to stock raising and a great many of the farmers have produced good herds of cattle. The early success which has attended the efforts put forth in this direction insures the future of the districts as far as dairying is concerned. Present indications, however, seem to make clear that the land will become too valuable for stock raising alone, and the maintenance of dairying herds on the uplands is recommended by the recent report of the Minister of Agriculture, who further observes that the soil of both Lillooet, Pemberton and Newport districts, contains all the original ingredients of phosphorus and mineral, which are necessary for the highly productive land.

Natural water power furnished by the many streams and rivers in this farming country, renders possible the practice of irrigation, farming, and many of the present tenants of the land who have been holding it for years in far sighted anticipation of the railway, have doubled the producing qualities of the soil by harnessing many of the idle streams and developing electrical energy for pumping water into reservoirs, which, in turn, communites with a series of irrigation ditches.

Will Not Lack Market.

The production of the Pemberton and Lillooet Districts will not lack a market on the establishment of railway communication with the coast cities. A population of at least 150,000 people is centred on the lower mainland of British Columbia. This is a hungry market. It is also a market which grants the highest price because it can afford to pay well for what meets its requirements. It is also a very discriminating market and when the agricultural and horticultural tracts of the Pemberton and Lillooet Districts are laid before it, their very excellence may be counted upon to displace the produce which to-day is imported so liberally from the States of Washington, Oregon and California. The town of Lillooet will become a very important centre on the completion of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway besides being the headquarters of a rich agricultural and horticultural district surrounding it. The town is the natural basis of supplies for the Bridge River country, which, after a lull of some years, is now rapidly going to the front as a gold producer. Hundreds of men are now employed by the larger mining Companies operating in this district. Lillooet will be the centre of a very considerable cattle shipping trade drawing this very profitable business adjunct from the rich Fraser land tributary to it.

Construction on Pacific Great Eastern Railway Progressing Fast

There are over two thousand men at present engaged in construction work on the Pacific Great Eastern Railway running the grades north from the end of the Howe Sound line and also engaged in working south from Lillooet. The work has progressed well during the winter, according to the contractors, and within a very short time work will be rushed at many other points. By early spring construction along the whole line from Lillooet to Newport will be in full swing. At the same time, according to present arrangements, other gangs will be employed grading north from Lillooet and south from Fort George. It is a race of the railways, and with the Canadian Northern fast nearing completion, it is certain that construction will not be allowed to lag on the Pacific Great Eastern.

Lillooet a Health Resort.

Lillooet will also, within a few years, be one of the foremost health resorts in Canada. Its wonderful scenery, good fishing and hunting, splendid roads and delightful climate will attract tourists and health seekers by the thousand, and within a short time people from the East will be going to Lillooet instead of to California. Physicians and surgeons of Vancouver and Victoria have long known of the beneficial influence of the climate of Lillooet and for years have advised their patients to visit Lillooet.

Lillooet to be Important Interior Town.

Lillooet is now about to experience a second boom in its history. The first was caused by the discovery of gold in Cayuse Creek about one mile from the town in the early eighties, millions of dollars being produced in a very short time from its rich placer ground. The second boom, which is now coming, is being caused by the building of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway. This time the growth will be permanent, and the prosperous little town will increase in population rapidly and undoubtedly become one of the foremost interior towns of British Columbia.

ALLEGES THAT CONSPIRACY ON

Dr. Flint, Celebrated Alienist, Tells of Plot to Release Harry Thaw

Albany, March 8.—Dr. Austin Flint, one of the most widely known alienists in the United States, has written to Governor Sulzer charging that Joseph F. Scott, superintendent of prisons, has been the "chief active figure" in a widespread conspiracy to secure the release from Matteawan of Harry Thaw, slayer of Stanford White.

Dr. Fint says

"I am writing this letter after some hesitation, but the counsel of a valued friend whom you know and whose opinions you respect confirms me in the feeling that in communicating with you I am performing a public duty. I trust you will receive my letter in that spirit.

"I am familiar with every phase and detail of the notorious Thaw case."

Dr. Flint then sketches the legal proceedings to secure Thaw's freedom, following his committal to Matteawan.

"INSANE AND DANGEROUS"

"With this experience," continues Dr. Flint, "it must have become evident to his counsel that without some radical change in conditions there should be little hope of success under a new writ. The then superintendent of prisons, Mr. Collins, the entire medical staff of Matteawan and the entire State Commission in Lunacy were openly of the opinion that Thaw was insane and dangerous.

RECORD WAS CHANGED.

"The original copy," Miss Greene, stenographer at Matteawan, testified, "was brought back after it had been corrected in part by Dr. May and in part by Mr. Thaw and I then made eight copies of the corrected manuscript, all of which I gave to Dr. May."

The committee of inquiry may decide to take a look into the appointment as head of Matteawan of both Dr. May and Dr. Russell. Probably it will.

Colonel Scott has gone to his home in Elmira for the week-end, accompanied by his secretary, John G. McDowell, who expressed his opinion that Governor Sulzer could "go to h——." The finding of the committee of inquiry, that McDowell ought to be dismissed, was sent to the Governor early yesterday afternoon just before he went to New York.

Governor Sulzer directed that a copy of the report he served on Colonel Scott with a direction that McDowell be discharged. Colonel Scott received it just before he left for Elmira, taking Mr. McDowell with him.

I Will Stake This Medicine Against Your Time

A Few Days Will Be Sufficient to Prove That You Are Curable

A few minutes of your time for a few days and I will demonstrate to you, without expense to yourself, that I have a medicine that drives Uric Acid poison from the system and by so doing cures kidney trouble, bladder trouble and rheumatism. I don't ask you to take my word for it, but simply want you to let me send you some of this medicine so that you can use it personally.

I am trying to convince sufferers from these diseases what I have something far better than the usual run of remedies, treatments and such things, and the only way I can demonstrate that fact is to go to the expense of compounding the medicine and sending it out free of charge. This I am glad to do for any sufferer who will take the time to write me. Understand, I will not send you a so-called "sample, proof or test treatment," nor will I send you a package of medicine and say that you can use some of it and pay for the rest, but I will send you a supply free of charge and you will not be asked to pay for this gift nor will you be under any obligations.

All I want to know is that you have a disease for which my medicine is intended, as it is not a "cure-all," and I give herewith some of the leading symptoms of kidney, bladder and rheumatic troubles. If you notice one or more of these symptoms you need this medicine, and I will be glad to send you some of it if you will write me the numbers of the symptoms you have, give your age, and your name and address. My address is Dr. T. Frank Lynott, 849 Franklin Building, Toronto, Ont. You promise me nothing; you pay me nothing for it. All I ask, so there shall be no mistake, is that you send me the numbers of your symptoms or a description in your own words, and that you take the medicine according to the directions I send you. It is my way of getting publicity for my medicine so that it will become widely known.

You will agree when you have used it that it dissolves and drives out uric acid poison. It tones the kidneys so that they work in harmony with the bladder. It strengthens the bladder so that frequent desire to urinate and other urinary disorders are banished. It stops rheumatic aches and pains immediately. It dissolves uric acid crystals so that back and muscles no longer ache and crooked joints quickly straighten out. It reconstructs the blood and nerves so that you soon feel healthier and more vigorous, sleep better and eat better and have energy throughout the day. It does all this, and yet contains nothing injurious and is absolutely vouched for according to law.

Sufferers from these dreadful and dangerous diseases can surely afford to spend a few minutes each day for a few days to demonstrate to their own satisfaction if they are curable, especially when you consider no expense is involved, and I willingly give you my time and my medicine. All any fair minded afflicted person wants to know is if a certain thing will cure HIM or HER, and here is an opportunity to find out without cost, obligation or important loss of time. THESE FEW DAYS may be the turning point in your life.

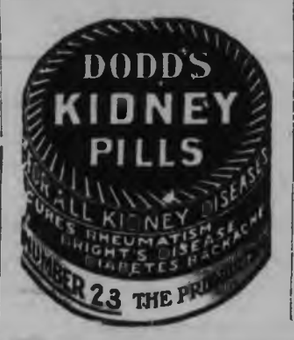
who will send medicine to anyone free of charge

All who are interested enough to write me for the free medicine will also receive a copy of my large illustrated medical book which describes these diseases thoroughly. It is the largest book of the kind ever written for free distribution, and a new edition is just being printed. I will also write you a letter of diagnosis and medical advice that should be of great help to you; but in order to do this I must know that you need my medicine. Write me the numbers of the symptoms that trouble you, and your age, and I will promptly carry out my promises. Show an inclination to be cured and you will be.

These Are the Symptoms:

1—Pain in the back.
2—Too frequent desire to urinate.
3—Burning or obstruction of urine.
4—Pain or soreness in the bladder.
5—Prostate troubles.
6—Gas or pain in the stomach.
7—General debility, weakness, dizziness.
8—Pain or soreness under right rib.
9—Swelling in any part of the body.
10—Constipation or liver trouble.
11—Palpitation or pain under the heart.
12—Pain in the hip joint.
13—Pain in the neck or head.
14—Pain or soreness in the kidneys.
15—Pain or swelling of the joints.
16—Pain or swelling of the muscles.
17—Pain and soreness in nerves.
18—Acute or chronic rheumatism.



SMOKING BANNED BY HIS HOLINESS

Rome, March 8.—Pius X has forbidden smoking in the Vatican, and the guards, chamberlains and attendants are disconsolate. Not even in the privacy of their own chambers are they allowed to puff their cigarettes or pipes.

The pope, in consequence of a severe colds, vere cold, has himself abandoned smoking, and, like Leo XIII., contents himself with snuff.

American tobacco factories formerly sent the pope annual presents of tobacco. He has now requested them to stop sending cigars and pipe tobacco but to send snuff instead.

SPOILS OF VICTORY

A Story of Intrigue and Love in the Frozen North.

By CLARICE ANTON WESTICOTT

"Will you remember me when I am gone, Leona? Tell me!" The tone was masterful.

"Perhaps."

The man gave a sharp exclamation and catching the girl by the wrist he said sternly:

"Don't speak that way. When you do it cuts like a knife," and his other hand fell half-unconsciously upon the hilt of the hunting knife in his belt.

"How dare you? You know, Jean Lemare, I have never told any man that I love him."

"Actions speak louder than words," the man returned coldly. "Those glorious eyes of yours say yes, when your lips form no. You have listened to my words of love and never turned away."

"They interested me as long as they were different," the girl returned, maddeningly.

"When you have something new to say, expect me to remember you; but until then I do not care to even listen," and the trapper was left alone with his rage and love. Until his departure on the following day the spoiled beauty kept out of his way, and once he had disappeared, she drew a deep sigh of relief.

Smiling a little to herself, and yet wondering if he would study something new to say to her when he emerged from the dangers of the unbroken path into the wilderness, she hummed a song he favored, and was so wrapped up in her own thoughts she did not hear the stealthy step of a man who stole upon her. Small wonder that she did not, for he was skilled in tracking down the wildest kind of game, and hiding his presence from the keen-scented wild things of the unexplored north. The first that she realized that she was not alone was when Leona felt a man's arms about her, and a man's mouth pressed to hers; and frightened almost to death she looked up into Jean's dark, flashing eyes.

"You told me to make love differently," he said, after he had kissed her breathless, "and so I have. I know no other man has ever held you in his arms or taken kisses from your lips. Now I have put my stamp on you. I know you well enough to know that the man who kisses you will be your husband, or you will go unwed to your grave. I've staked my life on your love for me. Kill me if you wish," and he handed her the heavy revolver that kept his knife company in his belt.

The girl's face quivered, her eyes filled with tears, then waving away the proffered weapon, once more she fled, but this time threw back no laughing challenge over her shoulder.

With a heavy sigh, and yet with the light of hopeful love in his face, Jean retraced his steps, and this time fairly began his long journey. For weeks afterwards, Leona felt her cheeks burn crimson at the very thought of Jean's kisses, and yet in her heart she was not angry, for she did love him, though her untamed girlish nature rebelled at restraint. As the days crept on, she took pleasure in the thought that she belonged to this mighty hunter, and she began to plan her future as his wife. Suddenly her happiness was crushed as the tender verdure beneath the branches of the felled forest tree. After a day that had seemed unusually long to her impatience, although one of the shortest of the year, she was sitting in the chimney corner idly listening to her father, when some of his words recalled her to attention.

"I didn't think that of Jean. He ought to be ashamed of such a thing."

"What?" Leona asked.

"Marrying an Indian girl," was the careless answer.

"He never did!" she said fiercely, her eyes blazing in the firelight.

The factor nodded his head. "Yes Long John says so. Father Acton married them at St. Pierre mission, of which she was a convert. I'm sorry, for I never have held to these mixed marriages," and then he caught his daughter as she fell forward.

For a week she lay ill, and when she finally crawled forth into the open air she loved so well she was like one smitten. All her proud, young courage was gone. She shunned the trappers who [illegible] to her father's store, and spent her time out in the woods where Jean had kissed her maiden lips and held her in his strong arms. into this retreat no one dared penetrate, not even Long John Hathers. He would not give up the secret hope in his heart, and tried to court her, although he said but little. His eyes glowed a red fire that nothing extinguished. Leona at first scarcely noticed him, then hated him for the love she saw he bore her, and prevented him from speaking of it until one day when the sun was beginning to feel warm, and she was once more in the woods. Believing herself entirely alone, she began to live over once more the love scene of the fall be-

SICK, SOUR STOMACH, INDIGESTION OR GAS

Take "Pape's Diapepsin" and in five minutes you'll wonder what became of misery in stomach.

Wonder what upset your stomach—which portion of the food did the damage—do you? Well, don't bother. If your stomach is in a revolt; if sour, gassy and upset, and what you just ate has fermented into stubborn lumps; head dizzy and aches; belch gases and acids, and eructate undigested food; breath foul, tongue coated—just take a little Pape's Diapepsin and in five minutes you wonder what became of the indigestion and distress.

Millions of men and women to-day know that it is needless to have a bad stomach. A little Diapepsin occasionally keeps this delicate organ regulated and they eat their favorite foods without fear.

If your stomach doesn't take care of your liberal limit without rebellion; if your food is a damage instead of a help, remember the quickest, surest, most harmless relief is Pape's Diapepsin which costs only fifty cents for a large case at drug stores. It's truly wonderful—it digests food and sets things straight, so gently and easily that it is really astonishing. Please for your sake, don't go on with a weak, disordered stomach; it's so unnecessary.

[illegible], when suddenly Long John stood before her, speaking madly of his love, and pleading madly with her to return it.

The girl fought like a young tiger She knew now that he had been a witness to her last scene with Jean and it drove her mad with rage. Finally, seeing the hateful, bearded face coming nearer and nearer, she cried aloud for help, and in providential answer to her cry it came, for suddenly Long John measured his length on the grass, and she saw Jean like one in a dream

"Come, Leona, sweetheart," Jean said tenderly, "give me the welcome back I deserve," and he held out his arms.

"How dare you?" she gasped. "What will your wife think when I tell her?

"What about the Indian girl?" she continued, for the man looked puzzled.

"Indian girl? Oh, you mean the one I found and took to the mission Why, dear, she is only eleven."

Leona gave a gasp of happiness, and Long John, crawling to his feet, once more saw Leona in Jean's arms, but this time she went of her own accord.

"Let him go," said Jean merrily, as he watched the tall figure of his late adversary disappearing in the distance. "He has lost, Leona, despite the lying reports he circulated, and the spoils of victory are mine, aren't they, dear?"

For answer the girl raised her face to his, and their lips met for the second time.

Yesterday afternoon, a local bank clerk, accompanying a young lady was walking in the outskirts of East City, to wit, near St. Luke's church. How Did That Fire Start?

As Mr. F. R. J. MacPherson, was wending his way homewards on Thursday night, he saw a man acting suspiciously at, or near, the Peterborough Fuel and Cartage Company's office. Mr. McPherson, on investigating, found the premises afire. He sent in a fire alarm, which was quickly responded to. The origin of the fire is unknown, but the mysterious stranger seems to be suspected.

The stranger had broken through an east side window, and getting into the building he had made himself a bed with a couple of buffalo robes and an old coat belonging to one of the company's employees. The building is a small frame affair, and the damage will be slight. The man escaped, but Chief Howard has reported the matter to Police Chief Thompson.

His new enterprise in Calgary for the manufacture of clay products such as tile, sewer pipe, brick, etc., will soon be ready for operations. The concern is known as the Tregillus Clay Products Company and according to a Calgary newspaper has a capital investment, in lands, buildings and machinery of $500,000; it will furnish employment for 200 skilled artisans just as soon as the necessary buildings can be completed and it is expected that the number of employes will ultimately be increased to 500. The machinery, which involves the expenditure of at least $100,000 is being installed and the big plant will be turning out its products very shortly. The plant will be located in the Bow Valley, about one half mile from the Bowness bridge, close to the river, and about four miles west of the Calgary post office

MAPES-JOHNSTON MINING CO., LTD.

Incorporated under Ontario Companies Act.

The Elk Lake fire didn't damage Mapes-Johnston camp—camp is seven miles from Elk Lake, but the opening of the ELK LAKE Branch of the Timiskaming and Northern Ontario Railroad gives the Mapes-Johnston Mining Company's property an outlet for shipping ore heretofore lacking.

DEVELOPMENTS

The Mapes-Johnston has two shafts in good ore—No. 1—90 feet deep, with native silver showing in a big eight-inch vein all the way down the shaft—vein big and strong at bottom of shaft—a true fissure vein.

SILVER—9,000 Oz. Ore——2,200 Oz. Ore—SILVER

Real SILVER and SILVER ORE on the Mapes-Johnston—Not on adjacent or adjoining property—BUT ON the MAPES-JOHNSTON. Not 30 or 50 feet to drift to it, but on the surface—in both shafts—in several veins. Not 62-oz. ore, or 100-oz. ore, but 9000 oz. ore—assayed by real commercial assayers—not assayed with the eye or by interested friends—no guesswork—real assays.

Shaft No. 2 is 75 feet from Shaft No. 1, and 65 feet deep—shaft No. 2 is sunk on junction of two immense veins—5-foot drift at 65-foot level shows over 9000 oz. of silver to the ton in 9-inch pay streak—2200 oz. of silver to ton in wall rock, each side of vein.

RICHEST SILVER ORE OF THE NORTH

comes from just such a vein junction as the Mapes-Johnston has where these big values were found.

Small Allotment of Treasury Shares

is offered for Public Subscription at 20 cents per share—par value $1.00 per share.

This is the first public offering, but no better offering at anything like the price could be made. The property was purchased, paid for and developed to present status by Mapes-Johnston Syndicate, and private subscriptions were made at higher price than present offering.

$100 BUYS 500 SHARES—$500 BUYS 2,500 SHARES—OTHER AMOUNTS IN PROPORTION.

MORE TREASURY SHARES—$27,000—AFTER ALMOST 2 1-2 YEARS' WORK

than when property was under option—Before property was paid for—Silver discovered—shafts sunk—20 veins tunnelled—property patented—9000-oz. Silver ore found and assayed—Mapes-Johnston Treasury had 360,000 shares.

Toronto, February 1st, 1913.

Note.—The MAPES-JOHNSTON property is paid for, patented and title thereto is in the name of the Company. The funds for [illegible] and developing up-to-date were furnished by the Mapes-Johnston Syndicate, and only 30,000 Treasury Shares were sold before Preston Limited, secured control of and an option on the balance to be sold. Before offering shares to the public, Preston, Limited, had 83,000 shares donated to the Treasury by Messrs. We Are Developing

A REAL BONANZA

Idaho-Bride Shares The One Best Buy To-day

If any of the readers of this notice are wanting to make a substantial mining investment, we believe they will have but very few chances to make one such as is now being offered by our Company.

With our own mill adapted to handling our ores, there will undoubtedly be a wide margin for profit, such as is seldom brought to the notice of the investor. Evidently

We Have Millions

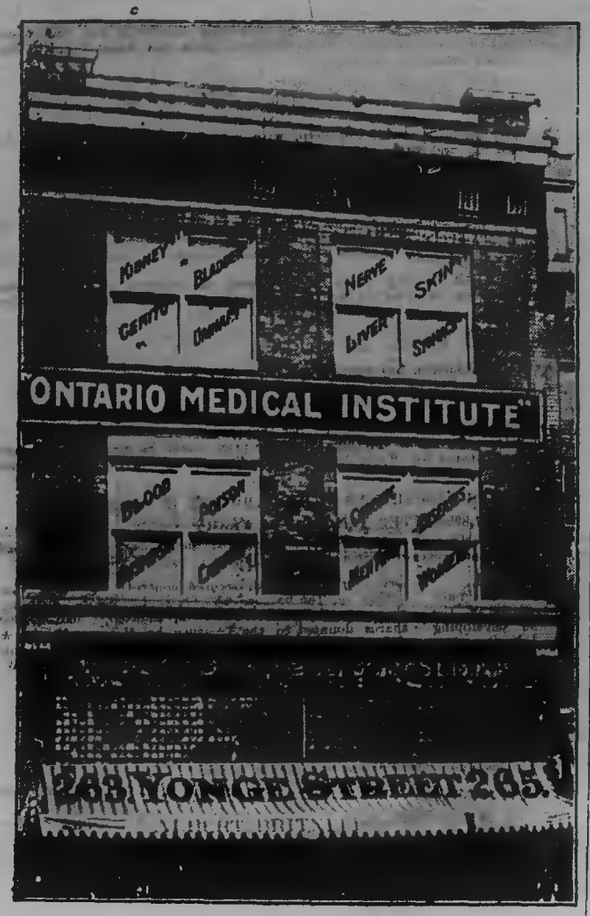
in store for us in these mines. WE ARE DEVELOPING VAST ORE RESERVES. BONANZA ORE 1,000 FEET ABOVE US, AND PICTURE ORE AT A DEPTH OF ABOUT 2,000 FEET BELOW THE SURFACE. THAT IS PROVING THE GROUND SOME, IS IT NOT? WHERE CAN YOU BEAT IT? EVERYBODY TALKING ABOUT OUR RECENT BIG STRIKES!

Now, Mr. Investor, WE WANT QUICK ACTION, and if you want goods that can be delivered to you, buy them now.

There is Nothing Shoddy About This Investment

We have the courage of our own convictions, and when we tell you that IDAHO-BRIDE SHARES is one of the best buys on the market to-day, we mean it. We are not offering to sell out treasury stock just for the sake of selling it. We have very good reasons for doing so. We can use your capital to very good advantage RIGHT NOW at both mine and mill; otherwise, this notice would never appear. It's quick results we are wanting, and if you want to share in our good fortune, you're welcome, and your co-operation will be appreciated.

WE SHALL NOT SOLICIT THE PUBLIC MUCH LONGER. THIS IS ABOUT THE LAST OFFER YOU WILL EVER GET FROM US. THIS STOCK IS CHEAP AT $5.00 PER SHARE; but we are offering it for much less. You can't go out on the market and buy it, as our stockholders are holding tight. There's where they are showing good, common sense. They are expecting big dividends and we don't think they will be disappointed. Our mines are too good for that. If you want in with us



Better Make Your Application at Once

A word to the wise is usually sufficient and what we are telling you is for your own good. If you don't get these shares, some other lucky individual will. NUF CED. So get them while the getting is good.

BALKAN ODDS AND ENDS

Macedonia fell into the hands of the Turks in the sixteenth century.

It has been said that courage and energy, with other kindred virtues may be seen in their highest perfection among the Montenegrins. When a girl is born the mother says: "I do not wish thee beauty, but courage. Heroism alone gains the love of men."

In Turkey elementary education is nominally obligatory for boys from six to eleven years of age, and for girls from six to ten years of age, education being free. All schools are under government control, but there is no interference with the religious education of the different communities.

For two years before the outbreak of the Turko-Balkan war the Ottoman navy was in the course of reorganization under British admirals and a British staff of navigating, torpedo boat and gunnery officers. The navy at the beginning of hostilities consisted of a dozen men-of-war eight destroyers and fourteen torpedo boats. The personnel consisted of six vice admirals, eleven rear-admirals, 208 captains, 289 commanders, 228 lieutenants, 187 ensigns and 30,000 sailors besides about 9,000 marines.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for Customs Building, Ottawa, Ont.," will be received until 4.00 P. M., on Monday, March 31, 1913, for the construction of a Customs Building on Mackenzie Avenue, Ottawa, Ont.

Plans, specification and form of contract can be seen and forms of tender obtained at this Department and at the offices of R. L. Deschamps Esq., 103 St. Francois Xavier Street, Montreal and of Thos. Hastings, Esq. Clerk of Works, Postal Station "F," Yonge street, Toronto, Ont.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed forms supplied, and signed with their actual signatures, stating their occupations and places of residence. In the case of firms, the actual signature, the nature of the occupation, and place of residence of each member of the firm must be given.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, payable to the order of the Honourable the Minister of Public Works, for the sum of seventy-five thousand dollars (75,000), which will be forfeited if the person tendering decline to enter into a contract when called upon to do so, or fail to complete the work contracted for. If the tender be not accepted the cheque will be returned.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

By order,
R. C. DESROCHERS,
Secretary.

BRITAIN LEADS IN NAVAL POWER

Line-up of the Six Great European Powers Shows Her Apparently Safe Position

There is much food for reflection and many interesting comparisons to be drawn from figures contained in a return issued by the British Admiralty regarding the naval resources of the six leading European Powers. In carefully prepared tables is set down the exact effective sea fighting strength of Great Britain, Germany, France, Italy, Russia and Austro-Hungary.

Exclusive of dreadnoughts battle cruisers, armored, protected or unprotected cruisers on the stocks, and without including 30 torpedo boat destroyers and four torpedo vessels in the yards of the builders England's mighty fleets, according to the report, totalled 557 ships of all classes, every one of which was ready for sea at once or at least within a few hours' notice.

There were 55 battleships and four battle cruisers of the indomitable class, "mystery ships," as they are termed, 34 comparatively fast armored cruisers, 18 protected cruisers of the first class, 38 protected cruisers of the second class, 16 protected cruisers of the third class, five unprotected cruisers, eight scout vessels, 26 torpedo vessels including special vessels such as depot ships, 179 torpedo boat destroyers, 109 torpedo boats and 65 submarines.

Ranged up alongside the British figures in the report were those of Germany which was shown to have 33 completed battleships, 2 battle cruisers, 9 armored cruisers, 26 second class cruisers, 11 of the third class, 6 unprotected cruisers, 109 torpedo boat destroyers, 89 torpedo boats and 13 submarines, the entire fleet of the Fatherland aggregating 289 vessels not including 59 building to the 78 vessels in the hands of British shipbuilders.

France's Big Navy

It will perhaps come as a surprise to the majority of people to learn that the war fleet of France is just over 50 per cent. better than that of Germany, the Republic being credited with 21 battleships, 21 armored cruisers, 5 protected cruisers, 4 second class armored cruisers, 6 third class cruisers, 2 torpedo vessels, 66 torpedo boat destroyers, 161 torpedo boats, nearly as many as Great Britain's and Germany's combined, and 58 submarines.

MILLIONS OF BOOKS

Dr. Fortescue, Keeper of Them Retiring From British Museum

Dr. G. K. Fortescue, the Keeper of Printed Books at the British museum, whose retirement is announced after forty-two years' service, related some of his impressions of nearly half a century's experience in one of the most famous institutions in the world.

"I came here in June 1871," he said. "It was just four years after the retirement of Sir Antony Panizzi, who was really the founder of the library in the condition in which we have it now. When he entered upon the office of Keeper of Printed Books in 1837, he found about 250,000 books in the library.

"During my time I have seen an increase to the library of 2,000,000 books. When I came it had only one rival, the Bibliotheque Nationale of Paris, but now we have between 2,500,000 and 4,000,000 books, while they have 2,500,000. The Royal library at St. Petersburg has 1,900,000; Berlin, 1,400,000; Munich, 1,300,000; and Vienna, 1,000,000. The library of Congress at Washington has 1,700,000. These are the largest libraries in the world, so that although we are the youngest of the great libraries of Europe, we are also the largest."

Cost of Living in Jerusalem

The inhabitants of Jerusalem are beginning to feel severely the general increase in the cost of living, says a consular report. The scale of wages and salaries is low, and, as elsewhere it adjusts itself very slowly to the advance in the prices of the necessaries of life. For foreigners who desire to live comfortably in the way they would at home, Jerusalem is certainly not much cheaper than the average city of the same size in the Western world. It is estimated that the general increase in the cost of living in Jerusalem in the past ten years has been at least 50 per cent.

Deserted Township

An unusual memorial was unveiled in the desolate district on the borders of Caithness and Sutherland to the former residents of Badbea, on the Duke of Portland's Langwell estate. Badbea was at one time a township of some dozen houses, with a population of 100 people, but lately the last of these left the district, which is now totally uninhabited. The memorial is a substantial cairn of masonry, built up from the stones of the former crofters' houses. It was presented by Mr. David Sutherland, Warrappa, New Zealand, the son of a former resident.

CHAPTER I.

The Vanishing Portrait.

Evelyn Grayson, meeting me on the old Boston Post Road, between Greenwich and Stamford, gave me a message from her uncle. That is the logical beginning of this story; though to make everything quite clear from the start it may be better to hark back a few months, to the day on which Evelyn Grayson and I first met.

Then, as now, we were each driving our own car; she, a great sixty horsepower machine, all glistening pale yellow, and I, a compact six-cylinder racer, of dull dusty gray. But we were not on any such broad, roomy thoroughfare as the Boston Post Road. On the contrary we were short-cutting through a narrow, rough lane, beset by stone walls and interrupted at intervals by a series of sharp and treacherous angles.

I know I shall never forget the momentary impression I received. Out of the golden sunlight, it seemed to me, there had emerged suddenly a tableau of Queen Titania on a topas throne—the fairest Queen Titania imagiation ever conjured—and I, in my mad, panting speed was about to crash into the gauzy fabric of that dream creation and rend it with brutal, torturing onrush of relentless, hard-driven nickel steel. I take no credit to myself for what I did. Volition was absent. My hands acted on an impulse above and beyond all tardy mental guidance. For just a flashing instant the gray nose of my car rose before me, as in strenuous assault it mounted half way to the coping of the roadside wall. I felt my seat dart away from beneath me, was conscious of my body in swift, unsupported aerial flight, and then—but it is idle to attempt to set down the conglomerate sensations of that small fraction of a second. When I regained consciousness, Queen Titania was kneeling in the dust of the lane beside me—a very distressed and anxious Queen Titania, with wide, startled eyes, and quiveringly sympathetic lips—and about us were a half dozen or more of the vicinal country folk.

Between that meeting in mid-May and this meeting on the old Boston Post Road in mid-September, there had been others, of course; for Queen Titania, whose every-day name, as I have said, was Evelyn Grayson, was the niece and ward of my nearest neighbor, Mr. Robert Cameron, a gentleman recently come to reside on what for a century and more had been known as the old Townsbury Estate, extending for quite a mile along the Connecticut shore of Long Island Sound in the neighborhood of Greenwich.

The intervening four months had witnessed the gradual growth of as near an approach to intimacy between Cameron and myself as was possible considering the manner of man that Cameron was. By which statement I mean to imply naught to my neighbor's discredit. He was in all respects admirable—a gentleman of education and culture, widely traveled, of exalted ideals and noble principles to which he gave rigid adherence. But—I was about to qualify this by describing him as reserved and taciturn. I fear, though, to give a wrong impression. He was scarcely that. There were moments, however, when he was unresponsive, and he was never demonstrative. He had more poise than any man I know. He allowed you to see just so much of him, and no more. At times he was almost stubbornly reticent. And yet, in spite of these qualities, which appeared to be cultivated rather than inherent, he gave repeated evidence of a nature at once so simple and kindly and sympathetic as to command both confidence and affection.

To the progress of my intimacy with Evelyn there had been no such temperamental impediment. She was fearlessly outspoken, with a frankness born of unspoiled innocence; barely six weeks having elapsed between her graduation from the tiny French convent of Sainte Barbe near Paris and our perilous encounter in that contracted, treacherous, yet blessed little Connecticut lane. And she possessed, moreover, a multiplicity of additional charms, both of person and disposition—charms too numerous indeed to enumerate, and far too sacred to discuss. From which it may rightly be inferred that we understood each other, Evelyn and I, and that we were already considerably beyond the state or condition of mere formal acquaintanceship.

It was no Queen Titania who now came gliding to a stand beside me on the broad, level, well-oiled highway, under a double row of arching elms. It was no gossamer fairy, but Hebe, the Goddess of Youth, with creamy skin and red lips and a lilting melody of voice:

"What ho, Sir Philip! We are well met!"

And then she told me that her Uncle Robert had telephoned for me, leaving a message with my man, bidding me come to him at my earliest leisure, "Why not come for dinner?" she added; and her eyes gave accent to her words.

"But you?" I queried; for her car was headed in the opposite direction.

I am going alone to Norton. I have a hamper in the tonneau for that poor O'Malley family. I shall be back in time. We dine at half-past seven, you know. You'll come?"

"Of course I'll come," I answered her. I think she must have heard more in my voice than the simple words, for her lids drooped, for just a breath, and the color flamed sudden below her lowered lashes.

But, after all, I saw very little of her that evening. It is true that she sat on my right at table, piquantly, youthfully beautiful in the softly tinted light which filtered through the pink and silver filigree candle-shades, but the atmosphere of the dinner was tinged by a vague, unreasoning constraint as from some ominously brooding yet undefinable influence which overhung the three of us. And when the coffee and liqueurs were served, employing some slender pretext for her going, she bade us good-night, and left us, not to return.

In justice to Cameron, I must add that he appeared least affected by—and certainly in no wise responsible for—the pervading infestivity. He had been, indeed, rather less demure than was often his wont, chatting with almost gayety concerning Evelyn's new role of Lady Bountiful and of her Noroton beneficiaries. As for the subject upon which he desired to consult me, it had not been so much as mentioned; so in looking back, it seems impossible that matters of which neither Evelyn nor I was at the time informed could have exerted an effect, save through Cameron's undetected, subconscious inducement.

Even after his niece had withdrawn, Cameron continued for a time to discuss with me topics of general and public, rather than personal, import. He spoke, I remember, of a series of articles on "The Commercial Resources of the United States," the publication of which had just begun in The Week, of which I am owner and editor; and though I fancied at first that it might be in this connection he wished to consult me, I very soon discerned that he was merely using a statement contained therein as a text for certain views of his own on the conservation and development of the country's timber supply.

I go thus into what may seem uninteresting detail, partly that I may give a hint as to the character of Cameron's mind, but more especially to indicate how lightly he would have had me think he regarded that for which he sought me.

Meanwhile my curiosity grew keener. It was natural, I suppose, that I should fancy Evelyn involved in some way. In fact I then attributed the depression during dinner to her knowledge of what her uncle and guardian purposed to say to me. Likewise I found in this conception the reason for her sudden and unusual desertion. Hitherto when I had dined here Evelyn had remained with us while we smoked our cigarettes, leading us at length to the music room, where for a glad half-hour the rich melody of her youthful sweet contralto voice mingled in pleasing harmony with her own piano accompaniment.

And while I vainly made effort to imagine wherein I might have laid myself open to the disapproval of this most punctilious of guardians—for I expected nothing less than a studiously polite reference to some shortcoming of which I had been unwittingly guilty—I momentarily lost track of my host's discourse. Emerging from my abstraction it was with a measure of relief that I heard him saying:

"I think you told me once, Clyde, that you rather prided yourself on your ability to get a line on one's character from his handwriting. That's why I telephoned for you this afternoon. I have received an anonymous letter."

There was an all too apparent assumption of nonchalance in his manner of expression to deceive even the least observant, of which I am not one. The effect was to augment the seriousness of the revelation. I saw at once that he was more disquieted than he would have me know.

He was leaning forward, a little constrainedly, his left hand gripping the arm of his chair, the fingers of his right hand toying with the stem of his gold-rimmed Bohemian liqueur glass.

"An anonymous letter!" I repeated, with a deprecatory smile. "Anonymous letters should be burned and forgotten. Surely you're not bothering about the writer?"

I wish I could put before you an exact reproduction of Cameron's face as I then saw it; those rugged outlines, the heritage of Scottish ancestry, softened and refined by a brilliant intellectuality; the sturdy chin and square jaw; the heavy underlip meeting the upper in scarcely perceptible curve; the broad, homely nose; the small, but alert, gray eyes, shining through the round lenses of his spectacles; the high, broad, sloping, white brow and the receding border of dark brown, slightly grizzled hair. That, superficially, was the face. But I saw more than that. In the visage of one naturally brave I saw a battle waged behind a mask—a battle between courage and fear; and I saw fear win.

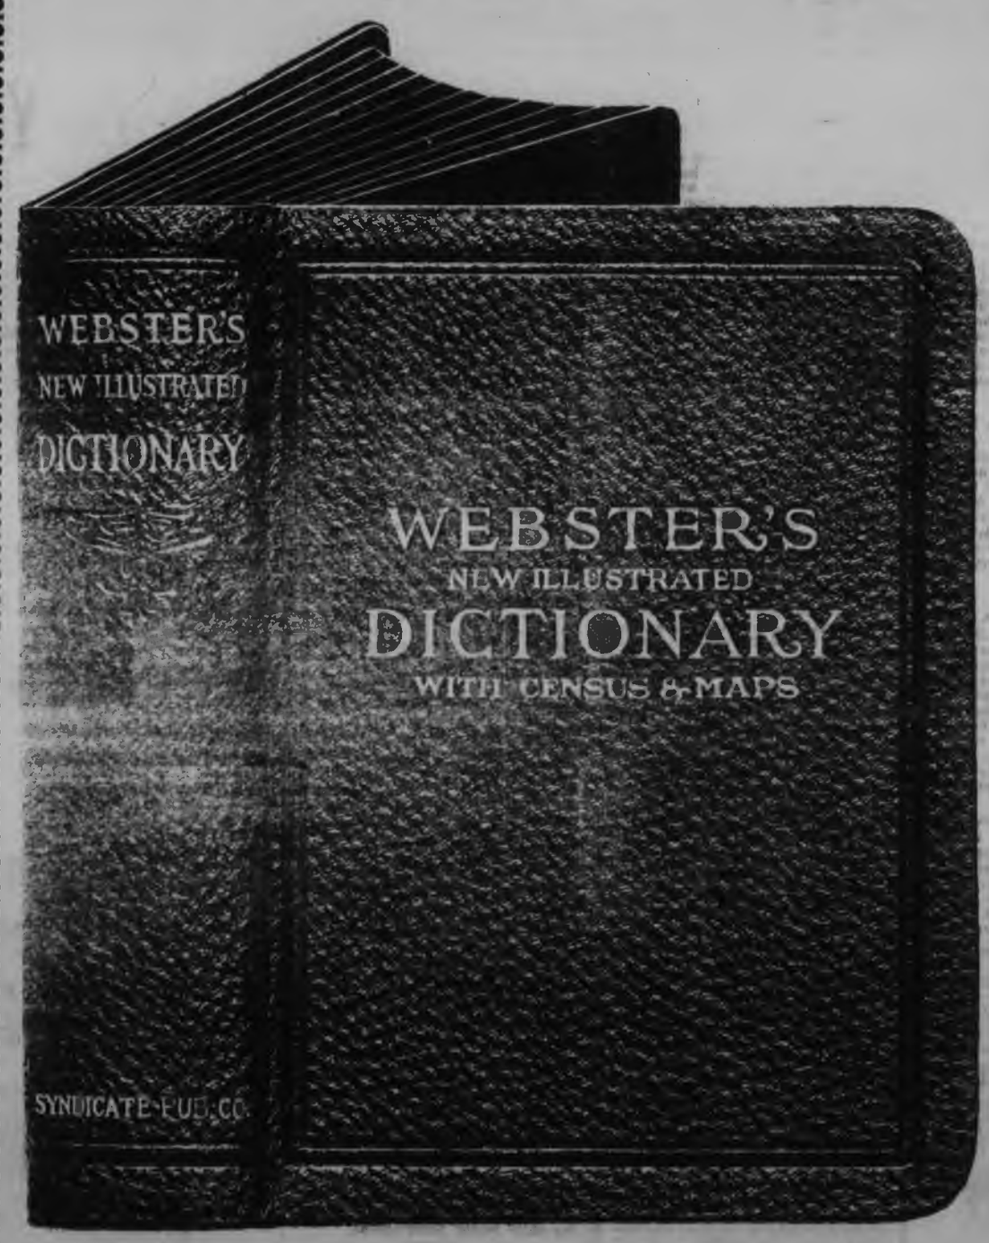
Then the mask became opaque once more, and Cameron, giving me smile for smile, was replying.

"There are anonymous letters and anonymous letters. Ordinarily your method is the one I should pursue. Indeed I may say that when, about a month or so ago, I received a communication of that character, I did almost precisely what you now advise. Certainly I followed one-half of your prescription—I forgot the letter; though, for lack of fire in the dog days, I did not burn it, but thrust it into a drawer with an accumulation of advertising circulars."

My apprehension lest Evelyn and I were personally affected had been by now quite dissipated. It was perfectly apparent to me that Cameron alone was involved; yet my anxiety was none the less eager. Already my sympathy and co-operation were enlisted. I could only hope that he had mentally exaggerated the gravity of the situation, yet my judgment of him was that his inclination would be to err in the opposite direction.

"And now something has happened to recall it to your memory?"

"Something I received very shortly after its receipt," he replied. "Something very puzzling. But in spite of that, I was inclined to treat the matter as a bit of clever chicanery, devised for the purpose, probably, of extortion. As such, I again put it from my thoughts; but today I received a second letter, and I admit I am interested. The affair has features which make it, indeed, uncommonly perplexing."



I fear my imagination was sluggish. Although, in spite of his dissemblance, I saw that he was strangely moved by these happenings, I could fancy no very terrifying concomitants of the rather commonplace facts he had narrated. For anonymous letters I had ever held scant respect. An ambushed enemy, I argued, is admittedly a coward. And so I was in danger of growing impatient.

"When the second letter came," he continued, bringing his left hand forward to join his right on the dazzling white ground of the table's damask, "I searched among the circulars for the first, and found it. I want you to see them both. The writing is very curious—I have never seen anything just like it—and the signature, if I may call it that, is still more singular. On the first letter, I took it for a blot. But on the second letter occurs the same black blur or smudge of identical outline."

That Terrible Fatigue Can Be Overcome

A Simple Home Remedy Now Cures Lack of Energy, Loss of Ambition, and a Feeling of "Don't Care."

Successful in Nearly Every Case.

That miserable nervousness and half-sick tired-all-the-time condition is due nine cases in ten to a clogged-up system. You grow irritable and despondent, you lack ambition, energy seems all gone. Surest road to health is by the frequent use of Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they will make you feel like new all over in a short time.

Writing from his home in Barcelona, Mr. Frederick G. Mayer states: "I think no one ever suffered as severely as I did for nearly six months. So many serious symptoms were developing as a consequence of this evil condition of my system that I realized I must find a remedy. The strong pills of various kinds I tried seemed after their first effects were over to make me far worse and I did not know which way to turn for relief. I saw Dr. Hamilton's Pills advertised, and the first box used satisfied me. I found a true remedy. Instead of griping with undue activity, Dr. Hamilton's Pills acted as naturally as if physic had not been taken. I never had to increase the dose, and, indeed, within a month I reduced it, and when the system finally acted of its own accord as a result of Dr. Hamilton's Pills, I took a dose twice a week only, just to make sure the old condition would not come back."

No other remedy cures constipation and billiousness so easily or safely as Dr. Hamilton's Pills; they are an ideal family remedy for all diseases of the stomach liver and bowles. Sold in 25c. boxes, five for $1.00, all druggists and storekeepers or The Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N. Y., and Kingston, Canada.

Aid For Alex Ferguson.

The patient is in Nicholls Hospital and was reported to be resting comfortably. The report from the Hospital stated that he would recover unless complications set in.

Did He Get Hit With Bottle?

Joseph O'Toole was charged in yesterday's police court with assaulting John Hughes. Hughes had his head swathed in yards of linen. The case was adjourned till Monday until the defence subpoenas witnesses. It is alleged that O'Toole struck the complainant on the head with a bottle. Mr. V. J. McElderry acts for O'Toole.

A Local Mine.

Havelock Standard: Mr. P. Kirkegaard, managing director of the Cordova Mine in Peterborough County, estimates that the output of the Cordova Mine this year will be $125,000. Already more than $300,000 worth of gold has been taken out of the mine, which is now on a paying basis. The thirty-stamp mill, with cyanide process, has a daily capacity of about one hundred tons.

A Lindsay Case Dismissed.

The case of detaining, against his will, a girl under 16 years of age brought by a father against a man named Perrin of Lindsay, has been dismissed by Magistrate Moore, of Lindsay. It seems that the girl's visit to the Perrin residence was due to domestic infelicity in her own home. She could not get along with her mother. The girl will return home.

Division Court Cases.

Yesterday morning his honor Judge Huycke held Division Court. There were twelve actions to recover small amounts. The largest was an action Smith vs. Rosborough, in which Caroline Smith asked $60 damages for personal injuries, and damages to a cutter and harness in an accident on the Lakefield road. The case was let stand over until the next sitting of the Division Court.

A Belleville Mix-up.

A Picton youth was arrested in Belleville a few days ago charged with theft. The young man had a revolver on his person. He tried, but failed to sell the gun and then sold his overcoat in Springer's store. Whilst the deal was going through, he picked up a number of spoons and transferred them to his pocket. He was caught before leaving the shop. The prisoner was handed out a $5 fine and the revolver was confiscated.

Local Man After Insurance.

Mr. Bert Howden, of this city, went to Toronto on May 10th and insured a grey gelding, to be shipped from the Queen city to Dunsford, Ont. He paid $3 for $185 worth of insurance. The horse died in the car on the night of shipment. The insurance company claims that the animal died of "strangles," and that the horse was carelessly shipped. "Carfright" is alleged as the cause of death. Judge Denton is hearing the case.

Free Methodist Church.

Rev. A. D. Zahniser, General Conference evangelist, of Pittsburgh, Pa., who is conducting evangelistic services in the Free Methodist Church, Aylmer street, between Charlotte and King streets, will remain over the Sabbath. He will preach Saturday night at 8 o'clock, and on Sunday at 11 a.m., 3 and 7 p.m. The sermons he has preached have been of a very soul-stirring character, and we believe that all who have heard them have been greatly benefited. The public is cordially invited to attend.

A MESSAGE FOR THOSE WHO SUFFER

MRS. E. J. TALBOT TELLS THEM TO FIND A CURE IN DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS.

She Had Rheumatism, Lumbago and Neuralgia, and Found that Remedy She Has Looking for in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

Hamilton, Ont., Mar. 7.—(Special).—"I know there are a lot of people who suffer and do not know what will cure them. Dodd's Kidney Pills will."

These are the words of Mrs. E. J. Talbot who resides at 293 Wellington street north of this city. And Mrs. Talbot speaks out of her own experience.

"Last July I was very sick," Mrs. Talbot continues. "My heart bothered me, my limbs were heavy, and I had a dragging sensation across the loins. Rheumatism, lumbago and neuralgia added to my sufferings, and the doctor I called in did not help me much.

"I finally decided to try Dodd's Kidney Pills. I have used seven boxes and I am so much stronger and better that I feel I must recommend them to others."

Mrs. Talbot's complication of troubles all came from sick kidneys. That's why Dodd's Kidney Pills cured them. For Dodd's Kidney Pills are no cure-all. They simply cure kidney disease of any kind. They never fail to do that.

Special Picture for Grand.

Mr. A. B. Noble, representing the Dominion Feature Film Co. of 61 Richmond street East, Toronto, was in the city yesterday, a guest at the Oriental. Mr. Noble's visit here resulted as he told The Times, in arranging with Messrs. J. J. Turner & Sons for production of the celebrated film, entitled "The Miracle," at the Grand Opera House on March 28. This is one of the strongest pictures ever shown on a screen and Messrs. Turner have arranged for a special feature on that night. Mr. Noble does not know anything about the picture game? Oh, no!

TO IMPROVE EXPRESSION AS WELL AS COMPLEXION

(From Beauty's Mirror.)

No face is really beautiful that lacks expression. Do you realize that continual use of powders and creams tends to spoil pliancy of skin and elasticity of expression? Why not quit cosmetics and use something better, which won't clog the pores or make the skin either dry or pasty? Ordinary mercolized wax acts quite differently from any cosmetics. It wonderfully improves any complexion giving it life and expression. By gradually, harmlessly peeling off the thin veil of outer surface skin, it brings to view a pure, soft, spotless complexion, delicately beautiful and youthful. Every druggist has this wax; it is seldom more than one ounce is needed. It is spread on nightly like cold cream and washed off mornings. In a week or two the transformation is complete.

Wrinkles do not of course enhance the expression. Neither do the nasty things many use eradicate them. A treatment free from all objection is made by dissolving 1 oz. powdered saxolite in ½-pt. witch hazel; use as a wash lotion. This soon removes even the most obstinate wrinkles

MUSIC AND DRAMA.

"Officer 666."

At the Grand Opera House Thursday night only, March 13th, Messrs. Cohan and Harris will offer their great laughing success, "Officer 666," a melodramatic farce from the pen of Augustin MacHugh, a name that has heretofore not appeared on the roll call of American authors. Nevertheless, he has turned out an article that will command the attention of the amusement world for some time to come.

As a rule playwrights are obsessed with the idea that horseplay is essential in farce construction, and a lot of it filters into play building under the caution of "speed and action." In the case of "Officer 666" however, Mr. MacHugh is said to have gone out of the beaten path, and by so doing to have evolved a play that radiates flashes of wit, woven through a story that is at all times plausible, insistently laugh compelling and full of surprises.

Briefly told, the play deals with a New York bachelor who has just completed four years' tour of the world. Like all rich young men he has a fad, and this particular young man's fad is his collection of old paintings. The protracted absence of the millionaire has not escaped the attention of an internationally famous picture thief who has planned to appropriate his paintings. To do this he masquerades as the real millionaire, occupies his residence, and becomes a great favorite in society on the strength of it. On the evening of the unexpected return of the real owner, he has arranged to elope with a beautiful young girl, and when the play opens is discovered cutting the canvasses from their frames.

This is the situation when the curtain goes up on Act 1 of "Officer 666." How the rich young man borrows the uniform of "Officer 666"; how the real policeman consents to act as butler; how he deals with the burglar while allowing him to use his name and home; and how he finally traps the thief and wins the girls, is told in three acts of laughter and many farcical situations.

It Breathing Is Difficult, It Nostrils are Plugged You Have Catarrh

At Last a Remedy that already has Permanently Cured Thousands.

Perhaps you haven't heard of the new remedy—it's so pleasant to use—fills the nose, throat and lungs with a healing balsamic vapor like the air of the pine woods. It's really a wonderful remedy—utilizes that marvelous antiseptic only found in the Blue Gum tree of Australia.

The name of this grand specific is Catarrhozone, and you can't find its equal on earth for coughs, colds, catarrh or throat trouble. You see it's not longer necessary to drug the stomach—that spoils digestions—just simply inhale the balsamic essences of Catarrhozone, which are so rich in healing that they drive out every trace of Catarrh in no time.

"I look upon Catarrhozone as the most valuable medical discovery of recent years," writes R. V. Potter, of Prince Albert. "As a long sufferer from nasal and throat catarrh I was obliged to take considerable medicine and, although it helped me, my digestion was always disturbed and the catarrh didn't go away. With Catarrhozone it was different. It cleaned my nose and throat of all phlegm and discharged a stuffy feeling in my nose and frontal headaches. To-day I am entirely free from Catarrh, and I use my Catarrhozone Inhaler a little every day in order to prevent the disease from returning."

With Catarrhozone experimenting ends. A permanent curative action begins. Lasting relief from Catarrh results. The large size costs $1.00, last two months and is guaranteed. WHITNEY'S COUNSEL TO GUIDE BORDEN IN HANDLING BLOCK

Provincial Premier in Ottawa Consulting With Federal Leader Over Crisis—Opposition Determined to Force Election and the Result of Deadlock Uncertain

OTTAWA, March 9.—Are we face toe face with a breakdown of Parliamentary government in Canada?

Midnight on Saturday found a Government, fresh from the people, with a majority of 45, utterly unable to carry on the business of the country. The Government supporters not unnaturally chafe under this condition of affairs. Although it is a condition without precedent, there has scarcely been a session for years which has not been mainly occupied with endless talk and dilatory talk by the opposition with respect to some government legislation, and the net result has usually been that the most important business of the country has been sidetracked.

The result of the present deadlock, for example, will be to prevent any revision of the Bank Act, and to leave on the sidings unfinished business — the parcels post, the equalization and reduction of railway rates and other progressive measures, which were to occupy, and should have occupied, the attention of parliament at this session.

Saturday saw the arrival of Sir James Whitney, who drove at once to the prime minister's residence from the station. Beyond doubt Mr. Borden will be greatly influenced by the counsel of Sir James, who has never allowed any opposition to tie up or even seriously embarrass his Government. He will also be assured by Ontario's Premier of the feeling in Ontario, upon which province, after all, the Government must depend for success in the event of a general election.

What is to be the result of it all?

THREE MINISTERS OF CROWN ARE SAID TO BE INVOLVED

Montreal, March 9.—The Herald on Saturday says:

"That three ministers of Hon. R. L. Borden's Cabinet will have to face direct charges in connection with the Hochelaga bye-election, was the declaration to-day of Mr. Tancrede Marsil, one of the opposition leaders in the fight which resulted in the bye-election of Hon. Louis Coderre last November.

"It has been rumored for some time past that the leaders of the opposition at Ottawa had in their hands affidavits concerning a startling political scandal. The semi-official note which was communicated to parliamentary reports on Thursday announcing that the opposition was about to make some definite charges of electoral corruption against one of the ministers of the crown has, it was said to-day, brought the matter to a climax.

"According to Mr. Marsil's statement to-day a well-oiled machine had considerable t do with Hon. Mr. Coderre's victory in Hochelaga, and he described the alleged organisation as follows:

"The plans were skilfully laid. An able man, who, I was told, had picked up experience in Saskatchewan and a confederate hailing from the mountainous Laurentide regions, put their heads together and managed and financed the game.

"A regular army of telegraph operators—those who never touch a key, but will touch any kind of money were brought into play.

"Ten squads, each ten men strong, and each under command of a lieutenant, worked all day long. Absent men, sick men, dead men, all voted 'early and often.'

"Everything went smoothly all day but trouble came with the reckoning hour. Whether the 'lieutenants' received no reward or whether if a reward was given, they had annexed it, is not clearly proven, but 'the real 'workers' were not satisfied, and soon after they raised a big kick."

BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

The Bell Telephone Company of Canada, with head quarters in Montreal, have issued their thirty-third annual report, which will be found in this issue. This report demonstrates clearly that the company is not only carried to a successful financial end, but that the company enjoys the well merited approval of the Canadian people. We have seen, right here in Peterborough, that the Bell Telephone Co. by its successful management and the splendid way it caters to public requirements, is recognized as the only institution of its kind, capable of supplying public demands. We have seen here a little fly-by-night company try to wear away the patronage granted to the Bell Co. That ambitious little disturber of public efficient conditions, after a few months in operation, like the Arab, folded its tent and quietly stole away. Again, we see little 7 x 9 companies give a free telephone service for years in hopeless hope to butt into the business. Whilst the free service may exhibit a spirit of philanthropy on the part of those putting up their money, it is not business, and can only have one result. We understand that Canada, particularly Eastern Canada, in regard to population, has more telephones in use than any other country in the world.

During 1912, 6,216 miles of wire were added to the Bell Company's long distance lines, thus showing that business men are rapidly realizing the absolute necessity for personal connection with their customers, friends or clients. The company now owns and operates 64,321 miles of long distance wire. They have now over 460 exchanges, with nearly 195,000 telephones in operation. During 1912, $100,000 was added to the Employees Benefit fund.

To the progressive, though conservative, administration of Messrs. C. F. Sise, senior and junior, is due the thanks of the thousands of people who daily enjoy the benefits of this great Canadian utility.

ROMAN CATHOLICS ARE ON THE ALERT

And Protestants are Likewise Getting Busy Regarding Public and Separate School Assessments and Taxes.

An accountant, on behalf of the Separate School supporters, has been examing the assessment rolls of the city in order to see that no property is assessed to Protestants that should appear in the Separate School list. This is quite proper and wholly within the rights of the Separate School supporters. The Protestant Benevolent Association also propose to take the matter up and have written the Public School Board requesting the Board to provide for an examination of the rolls on behalf of the supporters of Public Schools.

A couple or three weeks ago, The Times interviewed Mr. Henry, the City Assessor, regarding this matter, and was assured that there is no cause of complaint by either side. Evidently our Roman Catholic friends did not take Mr. Henry's word for they put a man on to examine the books. It might not be amiss for Protestants to do likewise.

In Toronto, it is said, an examination of the books of the Assessment Department disclosed the fact that thousands of dollars of Protestant property has been improperly assessed for Separate School purposes.

JEFFRIES WANTS SOME EASY COIN

Retired Ex-Heavyweight Champions Thinks He Can Whip Them All

Los Angeles, Cal., March 9.—That Jim Jeffries will again attempt to "come back" was the positive statement made last night by "Cherokee" Tom Jones, manager of Ad Wolgast.

"Jeff quit drinking over six weeks ago," said Jones, "and has been talking with many of his close friends about the advisability of his re-entering the ring.

"Jim considers the white heavies of to-day more or less of a joke and is confident that he can beat any of them with a full week's training. I have offered my services as manager to Jeffries and he is seriously considering the proposition. Jack Jeffries is urging the big fellow to get back in the game and grab some of the money in sight. I hope to handle Jim for a July Fourth match."

ALL ENGLAND IN STATE OF UNEASINESS

Reawakening of France Is Giving Satisfaction But Causing Anxious Times

London, March 9.—"There can be no doubt that there is at the present moment a good deal of uneasiness among the thinking men in England in regard to the European situation." Thus declares the Spectator, in a remarkable article which appeared yesterday. The writer continues as follows:

"The reawakening of France and the evidence of her power and alertness have given immense satisfaction in this country, but that satisfaction is tempered in many cases by anxious thought There is a feeling here that France may find the temptation of 'now or never' too great for her, and may feel that her national interests demand that a European struggle shall be fought this year.

"To resist this feeling, any attempt to carry out a now or never policy, would forfeit the support probably of Russia, and certainly of Great Britain, and if Great Britain were not withF rance, French communication with Tunis, Algiers and Morocco might be severed by a German-Austro-Italian fleet, and the French flank turned by a German invasion of the French territory.

"Germany as a power," it is added "is in reality directed as much against France as against Great Britain, and for these reasons France is not in the least likely to provoke a war this year, as she is not going to knock her head against a brick wall nor is Germany likely to deliberately provoke a conflict."

RICHARD OLNEY FOR GREAT BRITAIN

Ex-Secretary of State Offered Post Of British Ambassador.

Washington, March 9.—President Wilson has offered to Richard Olney, of Boston, Secretary of State in President Cleveland's cabinet, the post of ambassador to Great Britain.

Some doubt was expressed today whether Mr. Olney would accept the post, because he is 78 years of age, and has had an exceptionally active life.

THE WEATHER.

Milder, with light snow or rain.

PRESBYTERIANS WANT WILSONS

Keen Rivalry Existing Among The Churches For Support of the Heads of Nation

Washington, March 9.—Keen rivalry has sprung up among the Presbyterian churches of Washington over the effort to enroll the membership of President and Mrs. Wilson during their four years' stay in Washington. So keen has the competition been that the president has declined up to this time to make any announcements of his affiliation. The same holds true in the case of Vice-President and Mrs Marshall, who also are Presbyterians.

The several congregations engaged in the attempt to enroll the heads of the oation are the New York Avenue Church, the Church of the Covenant and the first Presbyterian Church. The first named, because of its accessibility to the White House, is believed to have a better chance of winning in the race than have the others. Furthermore, a number of presidents have worshipped in the edifice, and for this reason it is popularly knows as "The Church of the Presidents."

It was known to-day the president's family will attend services in the New York avenue edifice to-morrow, altho no instructions had been given to the White House employes concerning arrangements.

WINNIPEGER IN PARIS ROBBED

Young Canadian Real Estate Agent Loses All While Being Shown the Sights

Paris, March 9.—A curious story was told recently to the Paris police by a young Canadian, Mr. James Huntly of Winnipeg.

Mr. Huntly is a real estate agent by profession. After a short stay in London, he arrived, he said, at the Gare St. Lazare, in aris, on his way to Nice. He intended to remain only one day here. He says that he put his baggage in the cloak-room at the station, got a check for it and went for a stroll.

Opposite Cook's, on the Place de l'Opera, he was accosted by a guide, who offered to show him Paris. He agreed, and got into a taxi-cab with the man. After showing him several points of interest the guipde proposed to show him the Apache quarter, and drove him to the house of a slum. He does not know where it was.

The guide took him into a room on the first floor, furnished with a few chairs, a table and a cupboard, and offered Mr. Huntly a drink, which he accepted.

As soon as he had emptied his glass he fell asleep and knows nothing of what happened to him until he awoke up late in the afternoon on a chair in the Madeleine Church. His pocketbook had disappeared. There were, he said, 20 $10 bills in it, several papers and the check for his trunk. The trunk has been taken away from the cloak-room, presumably by the thief.

The charity organization of the British embassy sent Mr. Huntly back to London.

ASSURES BORDEN PEOPLE MUST RULE

Arthur VanKoughnet Wires Prime Minister to End the Blockade Even by Drastic Measures.

Toronto, March 9.—Arthur Van Koughnet, president Centre and South Toronto Conservative Association, on Saturday sent the following telegram to Right Hon. R. L. Borden.

"The concensus of opinion here of business and financial men is that the people must rule While expressing the strongest condemnation of the opposition tactics they would urge the government to end the blockade, even with the most drastic measures."

Mr. Van Koughnet has called a meeting of the association for Monday night to protest against the blockade. A. L. Pratt, M.L.A.; Dr. Charles Sheard and Thos. Hook will be the speakers.

BRYCE SAYS PRESIDENT IS OUR FRIEND

British Ambassador to United States Brings to Ottawa Expression of Wilson's Good Will

Ottawa, March 9.—"Canada's relations with the United States never stood on a better footing than they do now," said British Ambassador Bryce, addressing the Canadian Club here on Saturday afternoon.

He added: "I called on the new president of the United States on Thursday, and also on the new Secretary of State, and both expressed in terms that could not be firmer their desire to be on terms of cordial and hearty friendship with Canada."

Premier Borden also spoke and said it would be strange if Canada and the United States could not sellte any international differences in a manner so reasonable and moderate that it would be an object lesson to the world.

The United States Hon. Mr. Bryce said, had the power to recognize strenuous qualities in other nations and had recognized these qualities in the development of Canada. There was no sense of jealousy in the admiration of the United States of Canada. In the six years of his embassy at Washington he had signed 11 or 12 treaties, nine of which related to Canada. In fact, three quarters of the business handled by the British ambassador at Washington related to this country.

ENGLAND AND UNITED STATES TO INVESTIGATE

Baltimore, Md., March 9.—Investigations are under way to-day to ascertain the cause and fix the blame for the disastrous explosion of more than 300 tons of dynamite in the hold of the British tramp steamer Alumchine, lying at anchor in the lower harbor, which brought death to more than 40 persons and serious injury to three score more and caused propery loss of more than $250,000. One investigation already has been completed by the city authorities but no definite conclusions reached because the accident occurred outside the city limits.

DR. FRIEDMANN NO FAKER AND PATIENTS BENEFITTED

Director of People's Hospital, New York, Speaks in Support of German Physician

NEW YORK, March 9.—Dr. Max Landesman, director of the People's hospital, on Saturday came to the support of Dr. Freidmann in a statement that followed an evening passed with the doctor.

The doctor, who heads the Hospital, said: "I spent all of last evening with Dr. Freidmann and my idea in going to see him was to ascertain whether or not he was a faker. I am convinced that no matter whether his serum has merits or not, he personally is not a faker.

"The three patients treated by Dr. Freidmann Thursday are in good condition to-day. The patient named Spiegel came to the Hospital to show that he was all right. He limped a little bit, and complained of a slight swelling on the thigh, where the injection had been made. The second patient called Dr. Landesman on the telephone to say that he was doing well, but was staying indoors on account of the cold. Miss Berger, the one woman patient, sent word that all was well with her. It developed to-day that she came from Providence, and that the fact that she was afflicted with tuberculosis of the knee was vouched for by the diagnosis of Dr. John B. Murphy, of Chicago.

Patient Recovering

Pittsburg, Pa., March 9.—In a cable despatch to The Press to-day Attorney David S. McCann, of this city, who went to Berlin at the instance of the Press to take the Freidmann treatment, says: "I am travelling steadily along on the road to health and feel confident of an ultimate complete recovery. Dr. Schleich, now caring for Dr. Freidmann's patients in Berlin, gave me my second injection of the turtle serum yesterday. His treatment duplicates that of Dr. Freidmann in every detail."

MADERO TRIED TO RAISE ANTI-AMERICAN FEELING

Mexico City, March 9.—During the closing days of the Madero administration it is asserted that the late President Francisco I. Madero made strenuous efforts to incite anti-American sentiment throughout the Republic and in order to prove this Provincial President Huerta's government is considering the advisability of making public the official telegrams and letters despatched by the late president.

The Government, it is said, may also publish the orders given by Francisco Madero to General Huerta, then commander of the federal forces. These letters show, it is declared, that Madero instructed General Huerta to use dynamite for the destruction of the public and private buildings between the national palace and the arsenal, when the latter place was occupied by the rebels under Felix Diaz.

Among the other alleged orders given by Madero during the final moments of his rule is one inwhich it is said he directed the officers of the Mexican gunboats lying in the Port of Vera Cruz to fire upon the American marines at the very moment when an attempt should be made to land forces from the United States war vessels, paying no regard to the expressed purpose of the American navale ommanders, merely to protect foreigners. The execution of such an order would have meant the suicide of the Mexican naval forces as a single shell from the battleship Georgia then lying only 300 yards distant would have been sufficient to destroy each of the Mexican gunboats.

The report is current that a few days before his capture, Francisco Madero in desperation telegraphed to the state governors and Jefes Politicos throughout the republic stating that the United States marines had landed at Vera Cruz and that this foreign invasion demanded the loyalty of all Mexican citizens.

CHICAGO MAN AND WIFE FOUND GUILTY OF MURDER

Chicago, March 9.—Chas. Cramer and his wife, Beatrice Ryall Cramer, were found guilty of the murder yesterday of Miss Sophia Singer of Baltimore. The jury was out 17 hours. Cramer was sentenced to life imprisonment and his wife to a term of 14 years in the penitentiary.

Miss Singer is a wealthy young woman, and was beaten to death in a south side apartment house, where she and Cramers lived. A weapon formed by a door knob and a handkerchief apparently was used by her slayer, and was afterwards identified as belonging to Cramer.

Cramer, also known as Conway, a circus clown and high diver, and his wife, left the city the night of the murder and was caught two days later at Lima, Ohio, the former home of the man. They confessed, but later repudiated their confession.

JURY DISAGREE IN THE DARROW CASE

Los Angeles, March 9.—After deliberating since 8:30 o'clock yesterday morning the jury that tried Clarence S. Darrow on a charge of jury bribery reported at 2 o'clock to-day that it could not decide whether the former chief counsel for the McNamara brothers was guilty or innocent and were therefore discharged.

The instructions asked by the jury concerned points relative to the credibility of the testimony given by an accomplice, who, in the present case, according to the contention of the prosecution, was Franklin, formerly Darrow's confidential agent, and a convicted bribe giver.

ADMIRAL LAURIER: "I don't see any emergency."

GERMAN EMPEROR TO PAY SHARE OF TAXES

Berlin, March 8.—It will cost Emperor William $8,000,000 if the government bill to increase the German army becomes law.

He and his subordinate sovereigns and princes are now exempt from taxation but the new measure makes them all bear their share of the financial burden. It is reckoned that they will assessed almost one-fifth of the $250,000,000 the bill calls for.

King William of Wurtemburg will have to pay $2,000,000. King Frederick Augustus of Saxony must contribute about as much. Prince Adolphus of Schaumburg-Lippe, the wealthiest of the reigning princes, owns vast estates in various parts of Europe that are said to be greater in extent than the principality he rules over. (130 square miles.) Nobody had yet been able to calculate what he will have to give up, because the value of his possessions has not been estimated. Emperor William's particular friend, Prince Max Egon Zu Fuestenberg and the Prince of Thurn and Texis will be among the biggest taxpayers under the proposed levy, each contributing in the neighborhood of $2,000,000.

NUGENT'S SARSAPARILLA—PRICE FOR large bottle, 100 full doses, 35c. and well worth it, too. It's better to take no medicine at all than to depend upon cheap concoctions that are compounded to sell at low price and a big profit just because there is a large demand for certain remedies at certain seasons of the year. There are so-called Sarsaparillas offered to us to sell to our customers at 75c a bottle that would bring us a larger profit than Nugent's Sarsaparilla sold at 35c. Nugent's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, arouses the torpid liver, drives out all impurities, cleanses and tones up the system, and helps Nature throw off the dullness that comes from indoor life of winter. It arouses energy, brightens the eye, clears the brain, gives lightness to the movements. Nugent's Sarsaparilla is not the only thing you will find in this drug store. We make a specialty of Nugent's Remedies. Nugent Drug Co., 286 George St., directly opposite Crossman's store.

RUSKIN PLACE

Right in the Heart of Ottawa's Manufacturing Area

At the Junction, Ottawa South

OWING to the fact that so many new industries are locating around Ruskin Place, an interesting calculation has been made of what an industry employing 1,000 hands means to a community. $90,000 would be spent in housing accommodation.

The population would increase by 5,000. The assessment would be augmented by $600,000. Salaries would amount to $560,000. The construction of buildings of all kinds would be $2,000,000. The annual expenditures for foodstuffs would be $68,000 for meat, $36,000 for potatoes, $5,000 for sugar, $18,250 for milk, $65,700 for butter, $27,000 for eggs. All told, the farmers of the district would gain $221,600. The amount spent for clothing would be $167,750. The expenses for taxes added to the cost of building construction will amount to $2,426,250.

The fine new $40,000 plant of the Bishopric Wallboard Co., is now built at Ruskin Place. A sound industry to employ 300 hands at its inception has already purchased the required land while a third guaranteeing to employ 1,000 hands is now negotiating for enough land to commence operations.

JUST THINK of the number of stores to be built there.

JUST THINK of the number of carpenters, bricklayers, stonemasons and other tradesmen altogether separate from the number of employees in the different factories that will be needed to build homes for those who work there.

JUST THINK of the thousand and one different jobs of any and every kind that will spring up at Ruskin Place during the next few years and buy your homesite now so as to be one of the main few who got in on the ground floor.

RUSKIN PLACE offers one of the finest and best opportunities for speculation ever presented to the residents of Peterborough.

Lots at Ruskin Place are Now Selling at

$275, $300, and $375. 1/4 down, Balance 3, 6, 9 and 12 months

BISHOP'S WARNING

"Time of No Ordinary Trial Before the Church"

Speculation is rife as to what the Bishop of Manchester was alluding to when preaching at Blackburn, he said: "I have to say with much confidence, and wishing to leave a deep impression on your minds, that in almost every knowledge from various quarters that a time of no ordinary trial is before the Church of Christ as a whole.

"I am not speaking of disestablishment or disendowment, but a far deeper question. Doctrines, and not doctrines only, but accepted rules of conduct, will before long be seriously called in question, and your clergy will need all the grace and power with which God endows them if they are to lead you in the crisis which threatens us."

His lordship's sermon was a plea for the help of business men in the business affairs of the church.

EDITORIAL NOTES

For the next few years the Mexicans will learn something about the high cost of revolutions.

Andrew Broder, M.P., says money is tight and he wants to know why. Some people have been trying to find that out ever since money was invented.

Does not Hon. Mr. Rowell's "Abolish the 'bar'" plank really mean "Abolish those wicked Tories"? Is not Mr. Rowell using a catch word for political ends?

To judge from the big expenditure on airships from the German army and navy, it looks as though Kaiser William has an ambition to rival "the prince of the power of the air."

An exchange says that the ability of woman to walk long distances does not establish her qualifications as a voter. However, it is a good deal more healthful exercise than blowing up buildings.

Miss Zelie Passavant Emerson, the Chicago suffragette leader, is taking a prominent part in the militant campaign in London. Miss Emerson, who is wealthy, is known as the working girl's friend, and she is not afraid of manual labor. In order to obtain a better understanding of the working girl's problems, Miss Emerson got a job as housemaid recently and faithfully shouldered all the burdens that went with the position.

THE HUMAN SIDE.

A few nights ago a baby in Los Angeles was suddenly attacked with croup at midnight. Hurrying out of the door to get the doctor, the mother was met by a burglar, who, with revolver in hand, ordered her to be quiet on pain of death. She explained the situation, the burglar asked to be allowed to help her, went to the baby's cradle and applied some simple remedies, staying rubbing the child's throat and chest with olive oil until the spasm was over, and departed with the mother's blessing. He explained that he had some children of his own. It is a pretty story, and illustrates the fact that nearly every man has a human side, and if you can get at him on that side you will find it somewhat soft and human

POLES HAVE RIGHT TO HOPE.

The Polish celebration in memory of the rising for liberty fifty years ago in Poland, suggests that there is nothing hopeless in the situation of Poland even to-day.

Having in mind the partition of 1772, the later ones, and having in mind the successive struggles of that people to gain their own independence with the failure attending those efforts, one is still entitled to believe that Poland has a future and may some day recover her nationality.

Hungary made an immense struggle for her independence and though her revolution was stamped out in blood in 1849 she made such a battle for her rights that she has forced Austria into recognition of her independent place in the empire. The dual monarchy represents the victory of the Hungarians.

Italy was for hundreds of years only a geographical expression, as Metternich said, but Italy to-day is one of the powerful and united kingdoms. Greece lay under the heel of the conqueror literally for thousands of years, yet Greece is an independent kingdom, and, small as she is, commands the respect and, to a just extent, the admiration of the modern world. She fought her way to independence and compelled recognition of her rights.

The Balkan States have united to drive Turkey out of Europe recently, but before that time Bulgaria had won her independence and so had Servia, and so had Roumania. With such examples before his eyes of persistence in the effort to have a position on the map carried on through centuries to final success, he is not a sound reader of history who argues that the Poles need be discouraged because their country is divided between the three great empires of Russia, Germany and Austria.

The day may come when it may be as important to have such a State recreated between the great powers as to have the independent existence or Bulgaria or Roumania in their respective positions.

With such examples in mind the Poles the world over are amply justified in keeping up their language, developing their literature, teaching their children to love their original country and contributing or, preparing to contribute when the day come, that sees Poland again in the enjoyment of her ancient privileges and resuming her old place of power and influence in the heart of Europe.

PROTECT THE YOUNG.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—Last Saturday night I had occasion to be out until after eleven o'clock. Passing up George street, I saw numerous children, mainly young girls, unaccompanied by parents or other adults, walking up and down that street at a few minutes past 10 o'clock. After eleven o'clock at the corner of Brock and Aylmer streets, I saw two young girls, walking back and forth, alone, as though evidently waiting for some one. They could not have been over 16 or 17 years of age, and, by their excited actions, were evidently not waiting for parents of either. Whilst no advocate of the "blue laws," and possibly open to the name of "old fogey," I think the regulations of our city are altogether too lax in the matter of protecting young girls from themselves.

STRENGTH.

Without Overloading the Stomach.

The business man, especially, needs food in the morning that will not overload the stomach, but give mental vigor for the day.

Much depends on the start a man gets each day, as to how he may expect to accomplish the work on hand.

He can't be alert, with a heavy, fried-meat-and-potatoes breakfast requiring a lot of vital energy in digesting it.

A Western business man tried to find some food combination that would not overload the stomach in the morning, but what would produce energy.

He writes:

"For years I was unable to find a breakfast food that had nutrition enough to sustain a business man without overloading his stomach, causing indigestion and kindred ailments.

"Being a very busy and also a very nervous man, I decided to give up breakfast altogether. But luckily I was induced to try Grape-Nuts.

"Since that morning I have been a new man; can work without tiring my head is clear and my nerves strong and quiet.

"I find four teaspoonfuls of Grape-Nuts with one of sugar and a small quantity of cold milk, is delicious as the cereal part of the morning meal, and invigorates me for the day's business." Name given by Canadian Postum Co., Windsor, Ont. Read the little book, "The Road to Wellville," in pkgs.

"There's a Reason."

Ever read the above letter? A new one appears from time to time. They are genuine, true and full of human interest.

WAGES OF WOMEN AND GIRLS SUBJECT OF "SLAVERY" PROBE

Chicago, March 10.—A committee of the State Senate, investigating "white slavery," began an inquiry the latter part of last week for the purpose of obtaining testimony concerning the wages paid to women and girls who work in stores and shops. In order to learn the scale of wages paid by big employers and the relation between wages and living expenses, the committee have subpoenaed heads of all the mercantile department stores and mail order houses in Chicago, who are expected to testify during the hearing which may last several days.

The committee also has planned to inquire into conditions in Chicago vice districts and has subpoenaed 19 witnesses who are supposed to be familiar with affairs in the "Underworld."

Lieut.-Governor O'Hara, who is chairman of the committee, has sent letters to the Governors and Legislatures of more than forty States, asking their co-operation in the present investigation.

ROBBED SOLOMON'S TEMPLE

Sheikhs Who Are Accused Have Been Sent For Trial

The Sheikhs of the Mosque of Omar and other officials, including an Armenian, who are accused of aiding and abetting a party of explorers in the alleged removal of priceless relics of Solomon's Temple from the hill on which the mosque stands, have been sent, under an armed escort, to Beyrout to undergo trial by a special court. The arrests are in connection with excavation work by an English syndicate, at the head of which was Captain Parker, brother of the Earl of Morley, to find the treasures of King Solomon, which were supposed to have been indicated by a cryptogram in the Talmud. Rumors that sacrilege had been committed led to a riot and the excavations were abandoned. Captain Parker's work was carried on with the approval of the Turkish Government. The Englishmen emphatically deny that anything has been taken away.

MAPES-JOHNSTON MINING CO., LTD.

Incorporated under Ontario Companies Act.

The Elk Lake fire didn't damage Mapes-Johnston camp—camp is seven miles from Elk Lake, but the opening of the ELK LAKE Branch of the Timiskaming and Northern Ontario Railroad gives the Mapes-Johnston Mining Company's property an outlet for shipping ore heretofore lacking.

DEVELOPMENTS

The Mapes-Johnston has two shafts in good ore—No. 1—90 feet deep, with native silver showing in a big eight-inch vein all the way down the shaft—vein big and strong at bottom of shaft—a true fissure vein.

SILVER—9,000 Oz. Ore——2,200 Oz. Ore—SILVER

Real SILVER and SILVER ORE on the Mapes-Johnston—Not on adjacent or adjoining property—BUT ON the MAPES-JOHNSTON. Not 30 or 50 feet to drift to it, but on the surface—in both shafts—in several veins.

Not 62-oz. ore, or 100-oz. ore, but 9000 oz. ore—assayed by real commercial assayers—not assayed with the eye or by interested friends—no guesswork—real assays.

Shaft No. 2 is 75 feet from Shaft No. 1, and 65 feet deep—shaft No. 2 is sunk on junction of two immense veins—5-foot drift at 65-foot level shows over 9000 oz. of silver to the ton in 9-inch pay streak—2200 oz. of silver to ton in wall rock, each side of vein.

RICHEST SILVER ORE OF THE NORTH

comes from just such a vein junction as the Mapes-Johnston has where these big values were found.

Small Allotment of Treasury Shares

is offered for Public Subscription at 20 cents per share—par value $1.00 per share.

This is the first public offering, but no better offering at anything like the price could be made. The property was purchased, paid for and developed to present status by Mapes-Johnston Syndicate, and private subscriptions were made at higher price than present offering.

$100 BUYS 500 SHARES—$500 BUYS 2,500 SHARES—OTHER AMOUNTS IN PROPORTION.

MORE TREASURY SHARES—327,800—AFTER ALMOST 3 1-2 YEARS' WORK

than when property was under option—Before property was paid for—Silver discovered—shafts sunk—20 veins tunnelled—property patented—9008-oz. Silver ore found and assayed—Mapes-Johnston Treasury had 360,000 shares.

Toronto, February 1st, 1913.

Note.—The MAPES-JOHNSTON property is paid for, patented and title thereto in the name of the Company. The funds for operating and developing up-to-date were furnished by the Mapes-Johnston Syndicate, and only 30,200 Treasury Shares were sold before Preston Limited, secured control of and an option on the balance to be sold. Before offering shares to the public, Preston, Limited, had 69,800 shares donated to the Treasury by Messrs. THE OLDEST NEWSPAPER

Suppressed After Fifteen Centuries of Publication in China

The "King-Bao," a Chinese journal recently "suppressed forever" by President Yuan-Shi-Kai, is without doubt the oldest newspaper in the world. In Chinese history and literature it has played an enviable and supreme part. For 1,500 years this publication has informed China of the important events in the known world, and exercised a profound influence upon the growth of the Chinese community.

At a time in which Europe was plunged in darkness, without the faintest glimmering of the future developments of book-and-newspaper-printing, a Chinese discovered that type could be made out of an alloy of lead and silver, and accordingly founded about the year 400 A.D. the King-Bao, which appeared without interruption until a short time ago. Originally the paper was printed upon ten yellow silk pages which were bound together like a book and sent to the highest dignitaries in the kingdom. In time this news-sheet became famous throughout China. Probably the most fascinating and significant of all the incidents in the history of the paper was the action and fate of a twelfth century editor, who wrote an article demanding that the Government should turn its back on tradition and ceremony and should "send clever men to Europe, to learn there, to see and to hear." For this advice the editor was beheaded; and his head, with ears torn off and the tongue plucked out, was exhibited as a warning to modernists in every town of North China.

Old Coins in a Tree

While some boys were playing among the bushes of Swan's Well Walk, Hay, Breconshire, Wales, fully three dozen old copper coins fell to the ground from the trunk of a tree. They were coins of the reign of George III.

That very original man, John Randolph, is said to have invented a method of getting his eggs cooked exactly to his taste that worked perfectly. As in the case in many com-

At the conclusion of the thirty-third year of the Company's existence, your Directors deem the time opportune for a statement of the Company's operations during that period.

The Company was chartered in 1880, and the work of that year was practically confined to organization and consolidation of several small corporations through purchase for cash or stock in this Company. Getting There At Last!

and our offer to the readers of the Peterborough Times is nearly over

There's a Reason

See advertisement of the Idaho-Bride in Wednesday's and Saturday's issue

In 1880 no known means existed for carrying the wires underground. Subscribers' Stations were connected by a single overhead iron wire costing about four cents per pound. To-day, 1913, Subscribers' Stations are connected by a double wire of copper, costing about nineteen and one-half cents per pound, carried in most cases underground in conduits, and costing on an average $19.51 per circuit for conduit and wire.

The Central Office apparatus in 1880 consisted principally of small 50 wire Switchboards costing about $3.00 per subscriber. The present Central Office Switchboards of the "Central Energy" type cost from $20.00 to $35.00 per subscriber.

Since the Company commenced business Operators' and Linemen's wages have advanced 75%.

Owing to the rapid changes in the Art a great expense is caused, and must be provided for, because of obsolescence. As an example—in Montreal and Toronto we have been obliged to change the Central Office apparatus five times, not because it was worn out, but because of improvements which made the changes not only expedient but imperative.

The plant of the Company has been kept "up-to-date." In the evidence given before the Railway Commission in the matter of the Montreal Rates, one of the Experts testifying on behalf of the City—answering a question as to the condition of the Montreal plant, stated: "Excellent condition. It is kept right up to spirit level. Magnificent."

The inevitable changes caused by removals, &c., &c., increase greatly the cost of plant. For example, in 1912 19,385 Stations were removed, and 50,899 new Stations added, so that the net increase in Stations was but 31,514.

The Plant additions in 1912, as shown in the Annual Statement, amounted to $4,346,950. It is quite certain that the Company must provide for similar or greater expenditure on this account in the future and capital must be provided therefor inasmuch as experience has taught us, that at existing rates, provision cannot be made for this expenditure from current revenue.

The average Annual Revenue received from each subscriber's station in 1885 was $31.76, and in 1912 $29.91, thus showing an appreciable reduction in the cost of telephone service to the subscriber.

The Reserves carried in the Annual Statement comprise amounts absolutely essential to the solvency and success of the Company. For example: The Depreciation Reserve represents an amount set aside from earnings in order that a fund may be provided, from which worn out plant may be replaced. This fund now represents 15% of our Plant Account, and it is agreed by Conservative experts, who have given much time and consideration to this question, that not less than 6% should be set aside for this account annually.

Employees Benefit Fund represents an amount set aside from time to time from Net Revenue, for the purpose of providing funds for Pensions, and gratuities to worthy Employees who, through length of faithful service or other reasons, are entitled to such consideration.

In the earlier years of the Company's operations it was found impossible to procure satisfactory apparatus and wire and cables in Canada, and the Company had to choose between importing such plant at a great cost, or giving an unsatisfactory service, or undertaking the risks involved in inaugurating a novel manufacture in Canada of the plant required. After careful consideration it was decided to take the risks involved in promoting the manufacture in this Country. Accordingly The Imperial Wire & Cable Company and The Northern Electric & Manufacturing Company were organized and this Company took stock therein.

At the outset this Company took the entire output of these Companies, but as time went on and as other telephone undertakings became more numerous, the business of these Companies increased and the proportion of their output taken by this Company became less and less, till in 1912 this Company took about 30% of the output, the remaining 70% being taken by the Canadian public generally.

These two Companies have no monopoly in the manufacture and sale of telephone apparatus and wire and cables in Canada. There is strong competition in these businesses, both by Canadian manufacturers and by importations from the United States and elsewhere, and prices are controlled by this competition. The prices charged to and paid by this Company are the market prices which are charged to and paid by our competitors and others. We mention this, for it has been said that because this Company holds stock in these Manufacturing Companies it pays them higher prices for what it buys from them than it would have to pay elsewhere, and that it is in this way making the cost of telephone plant appear to be higher than it really is. It has also been stated that the establishment of these Companies was merely a roundabout way by which this Company might secure excessive profits from its telephone users.

We can give all these statements an unqualified denial. The facts are as herein stated. The Company pays no more than the Public; but on the contrary it purchases on the lowest market terms, and upon no principle of fairness or equity can it be contended that telephone users are entitled to the benefit of any part of the profits made by these Manufacturing Companies upon any part of their output, particularly upon the 70% thereof which this Company does not take.

The Company has from time to time found it expedient to sell its properties in different Provinces, notably Manitoba, Alberta, Saskatchewan, New Brunswick, Nova Scotia and Prince Edward Island. In most instances the Company has taken payment, part in cash, and balance in fully paid stock in the local Companies. The cash so received has been reinvested in the Plant of the Company without any addition to the capital. In the North West Provinces the Local Governments proposed to inaugurate local, provincially owned and operated systems, and we sold our plant at those points on mutually satisfactory terms.

It is only proper to state in this connection that our relations with those Provinces to which we sold our Plant, remain as they always have been—most satisfactory.

In no case had we any desire to sell, but the Provinces wished to purchase and we had no wish to compete with Government owned and operated systems.

Included in the Company's Assets are the stocks of the Manufacturing Companies referred to—premiums on stock (which were paid by the Shareholders and not by the Public)—and the proceeds of the sales abovementioned for the property in which some of such proceeds have been invested); but none of these bear any relation to the Company's telephone business, and do not affect the cost of the service or the revenue from it, and without these Assets the Company would have had to borrow money or increase its capital in order to carry on the business.

These operations have resulted in a wide variation between the capital stock, the investment in our operating business, and our total investment. It must be understood therefore, that the earnings on the capital stock bear no relation to the amount of our operating investment.

These Assets and their revenues belong to the Shareholders. They might have been distributed among them. The Company's reason for not making such distribution has been to strengthen its financial position and thus enable it more easily to procure the large sums which have been required from time to time for Capital Expenditure and which have been essential to an efficient public service.

Had the entire surplus revenue of each year been paid in Dividends instead of being used in extending the business, either additional Capital would have had to be raised or extensions would have had to be omitted. Had the Company been unable to procure the additional Capital, the only way to provide for extensions would have been to reduce Dividends and use profits for Capital Expenditure; in which case new Capital could not have been secured except on ruinous terms, and the ultimate result of such a course would have been either an increase of rates to the Public, or failure to serve it efficiently.

In 1906 the operation of the Company was placed under the supervision of the Railway Commission, which has considered several matters brought before it for adjudication, and has, in its conclusions, acted in an impartial and judicial manner.

Our relations with the Public continue to be very satisfactory, and the general feeling now seems to be that the telephone service to be perfect must be universal, intercommunicating, interdependent, under one control, and that no isolated section can be considered independently of any other, or of the whole system, and that rates must be so adjusted as to make it possible for everyone to be connected who will add to the value of the system to others.

In accordance with this principle the Company has made contracts for intercommunication and exchange of business with 474 local organizations and individuals, owning and operating rural lines, which have in some cases been built by the owners and are operated at a very low cost without a reasonable prospect of any return in Dividends or proper provision for depreciation, etc., etc. Our relations with these Companies are satisfactory.

The stock of this Company has never been "watered" nor distributed as a bonus to any person or Corporation.

The Dividends paid since the organization of the Company are equal to 7.5% on the average paid up Capital Stock, but only 5.8% on the average amount invested in the plant, etc., connected with the public service.

C. F. SISE, President.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

THE "ENTRE NUS"

How Invitation by Cross-Eyed Man Mixed Things Up.

By ADELE MENDEL.

"Don't say another word about the dance, I beg of you," said Beatrice. "I simply can't bear to hear any more about it."

"Since when are such subjects too frivolous for your ears?" queried Drusilla, raising her eyebrows and looking up from her fancy work. "Especially when in all your fluery and glory you most likely will lead the grand march with Charles."

"Nothing of the kind," answered Beatrice in a I-don't-care-what-happens tone.

"Didn't you have a new gown for the occasion?"

"Yes, and I'll wear it if only to show some people that I can't be stunned by their audacity."

"But if you're not going with Charles, who is?"

"Hallie Weston."

"Incredible! Why, only last week Charles remarked—in his nonchalant way, 'What do you girls see in Hallie? She reminds me of the brook that went on forever, with her incessant talking.'"

"Drusilla, when a young man talks to you about a dance and asks your opinion on all details, and then at the eleventh hour asks another girl, do you think he can ever justify his conduct?" asked Beatrice.

"No, and I simply can't understand it," admitted Drusilla.

"Are you sure?"

"Positive. Hallie and I met Charles on the street. He came towards us in his usual cordial way, and stopped to say to Hallie, 'I'm going to take you to the "Entre Nus" affair, Hallie must have had some talking as she didn't appear surprised, and only said, 'I thank you; what time will you call for me?'

"For a moment I felt the keen insult that he should invite her in my presence, and then I said, 'I'm going with Jesse Tompkins.' You know Jesse is always pestering me to go with him, so I knew I could rely upon his taking me. We left Charles at the corner.

"I Simply Can't Understand It," Said Drusilla.

and though I was the one to be offended, he doesn't even bow to me when we pass each other by."

"Jesse is much shorter than you; don't you feel like a giantess when you're with him?"

"Well," said Beatrice, "it came to me like a flash that I wouldn't give either one of them the satisfaction that I couldn't go, and anyway a little man with loads of money is better than no man at all."

"That's philosophical enough, my dear, but don't get a bad case of glooms over it. If Charles is so fickle and changeable in his affections, it's better to know it now than later."

After Drusilla left, the words, "it's better to know it now," kept ringing in Beatrice's ears. She hated to face the truth that any man could so lightly throw her friendship aside after all his professions of sincerity.

"I'll not have any one's sympathy," she determined. "At the dance I'll be the gayest of all."

"Why, Beatrice," exclaimed her friend a few days later, "how much better you look than the last time I saw you; you are fairly radiant. It must be your hat. It's so becoming."

A faint color rose to Beatrice's cheek. "Don't blame it all on my hat," she said; "give me credit for a portion of my good looks."

"I just saw Hallie and she failed completely to appreciate Charley's charms," continued Drusilla; "and she never was so bored in all her existence, that she was the only girl whose partner did not send her a corsage bouquet, and he never even was concerned whether her program was filled or not. In fact she said there was no pleasure to go with a young man who was constantly noticing another girl. Why do you think he asked her and then was so rude?"

Hallie smiled.

"Promise you'll never tell."

"I'll never tell a soul."

"He was an unwilling victim. Toward the end of the evening Charlie came up to me saying, 'Hope you enjoyed yourself.'"

"Oh, immensely," I replied.

"Doesn't your back ache from dancing with that midget?" he asked in a maddeningly sympathetic way.

"Not a bit," I answered. "Jesse is a splendid dancer."

"Then you prefer that dwarf's attentions to mine?" he exclaimed in a jealous rage.

"Just as much as you prefer Hallie to me," I replied.

"But I don't and never will," he protested, looking at me tenderly. "I asked you for tonight, not her."

"You asked me? How can you deliberately say that when I heard you invite her?"

"Didn't I look at you, when I said 'I'm going to take you to the dance?'"

"Then I laughed and laughed until I could not laugh any more."

"What was so ludicrous about that?" interrupted Drusilla.

"Oh, at that moment I never thought about it. He's cross-eyed, and when he looked at Hallie, in his own heart and soul he was in reality staring at me. That's where all the trouble came up."

"Oh, how disconcerted Hallie would be if she knew."

"She never will. The best part of our quarrel was the reconciliation."

"It's always been my pet aspiration to see you two married," said Drusilla.

"Well, your wish will soon come true."

"Beatrice," asked Drusilla, "won't it be dreadful after you are married if Charles should say loving things to you and look at another woman?"

"I won't mind that ever again," declared Beatrice vehemently. "Because Charles says all other women look alike to him except me. So there!"

RECIPROCAL DEMURRAGE

Manufacturers and Grain Growers Working With Same End in View

The agitation for reciprocal demurrage is being taken up by all classes of shippers. Started some years ago by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association it was subsequently advocated strongly in the west through the columns of the press and through the Grain Growers' Association. In order to have the fullest possible information regarding delays in transit through the fault of railways, the transportation department of the Canadian Manufacturers Association has sent circulars to all its members requesting a detailed record of their experiences during the past few months. These will be used as a basis of argument which will shortly be made before the Railway Commission. The resolution dealing with the subject was as follows:

"Resolved, That the Canadian Manufacturers' Association join in the application now before the Board of Railway Commissioners for a system of uniform penalties to be automatically applied against railways for their failure to receive, carry and deliver freight within a reasonable time as required under Section 284 of the Railway Act; such system to require the railways under penalty to place cars for loading within forty-eight hours after ordered; to lift cars within twenty-four hours after notification of loading, and to place cars for delivery at destination within forty-eight hours after arrival; the penalties to be similar to those which the railways are authorized to charge shippers and consignees for delay in loading and unloading cars."

Inasmuch as Eastern shippers did not offer any great opposition to the request of the railways two months ago to increase the demurrage charges on cars delayed it is felt that the claim for by shippers' tolls from the railways for delays caused by them will be reasonably entertained when the case comes up for hearing.

TRIBUTE TO THE LATE KING

East End Jews Have Erected a Fountain in Memory of Edward VII.

In memory of King Edward the Jewish community in the East End of London have erected a fountain in the Whitechapel road. The fountain is surmounted by a bronze figure of Peace, and on either side are figures of Liberty and Justice. Facing the London Hospital is a plaque bearing a portrait of the late King, and the inscription on the opposite side reads: "In grateful and loyal memory of Edward VII., Rex et Imperator. Erected from subscriptions raised by Jewish inhabitants of East London." The fountain cost over $40,000.

The Hon. Charles Rothschild in unveiling the fountain, said that many of the Jews of East London were aliens, and the reason they came to the more hospitable land of England was to try a change of fortune. One could not but feel that they received in England a toleration and a kindness far in excess of that for which they hoped. Under these circumstances it was not surprising that the Jews of London should wish to show some small token of their appreciation of the ruler under whom their lot had been so much improved.

SEALED TENDERS addressed to the undersigned, and endorsed "Tender for Customs Building, Ottawa, Ont.," will be received until 4.00 P. M., on Monday, March 31, 1913, for the construction of a Customs Building on Mackenzie Avenue, Ottawa, Ont.

Plans, specification and form of contract can be seen and forms of tender obtained at this Department and at the offices of R. L. Deschamps Esq., 103 St. Francois Xavier Street, Montreal and of Thos. Hastings, Esq., Clerk of Works, Postal Station "F," Yonge street, Toronto, Ont.

Persons tendering are notified that tenders will not be considered unless made on the printed forms supplied, and signed with their actual signatures, stating their occupations and places of residence. In the case of firms, the actual signature, the nature of the occupation, and place of residence of each member of the firm must be given.

Each tender must be accompanied by an accepted cheque on a chartered bank, payable to the order of the Honourable the Minister of Public Works, for the sum of seventy-five thousand dollars (75,000), which will be forfeited if the person tendering declines to enter into a contract when called upon to do so, or fail to complete the work contracted for. If the tender be not accepted the cheque will be returned.

The Department does not bind itself to accept the lowest or any tender.

MEN OF NERVE

Most Structural Steel Workers Are of Irish Blood

It is a curious fact that most of the structural steel workers engaged on various huge structures in Canadian cities are of Irish blood. In fact, the Irish and Swedes, or "square heads," as they are called, have almost a monopoly of this dangerous trade. The Irish will take more chances than the men of any other nationality, but the Swedes are not far behind, and how they divide the honors was illustrated recently. Two steel columns for the top storeys of a skyscraper had just been set in place at the corners, and stood starkly up fifty feet above the nearest cross girder. Each column was about eight inches square. When the news spread that a photographer was about to take a picture of them, two workmen "shinned" up the columns and stood on the top. The man at one corner was an Irishman, the other was a Swede. Sometimes these structural ironworkers lose their nerve. Why it happens, or how, they do not know; but sometimes a sudden panic will overwhelm a man. Then, if he knows his business, he will shout for help, for he cannot help himself. Now and then a man gets a mad desire to hurl himself from the roof, and if he is not restrained he will go as surely as though a great magnet were drawing him down to the earth. Oddly enough, one terrible fright rarely causes a man to give up the business. He gets back his nerve in a few days and becomes as daring as ever. It is said that an ironworker who goes to a new job when a building is already high in the air has not the nerve of a man who has been on the building from the ground up. Accidents are more likely to occur while the first few storeys are under construction than later on, for the men take more chances, forgetting that a 40-foot fall is about as deadly as one twice as long.

NAKED IN SNOW

Canadian Doctor Saw Strange Method of Curing Tuberculosis in Europe

"Ninety-six out of every 100 school children are infected with tuberculosis between the ages of five and eighteen," says Dr. A. G. Richer of Montreal, who spent seven months in Europe investigating the cure of tuberculosis for the Dominion Government.

"This was proved by M. Calmette, director of the Lisle Pasteur Institute, at the International Tuberculosis Congress in Rome," continued Dr. Richer. "This infection constitutes a sort of protection to them as does vaccination in the case of smallpox, but it sometimes wears itself out as they progress to the adult stage, because of starvation, unsanitary conditions, or hard work."

During Dr. Richer's stay in Switzerland, he saw little children playing naked in the snow in order that the sunlight might beat directly upon their bodies for the cure of tuberculosis. With only their feet and their heads covered, they play about in the snow as happily as other children warmly wrapped. This method undoubtedly cures, taking a year in the process.

Dr. Richer urges that the Provincial and the Federal Governments and the other forces fighting tuberculosis to join in a new kind of campaign Canada, he thinks, will be able to accomplish more than some of the older countries have done and at less expense. "I believe I am not exaggerating when I say that we have a perfectly systematized plan by which the entire problem can be dealt with at little or no expense."

Both the English and German schools now lay much less emphasis, or none at all, upon the plan of overfeeding. The danger of human beings contracting tuberculosis from cattle is, also, now considered negligible.

BANANAS AS FOOD

Only Good When Ripe And That Is When They Look Over-ripe

Bananas are brought to our northern markets green, and are ripened by artificial heat. This process can be hastened or delayed within certain limits according to the momentary demands of the retail trade. The color of the peel gives evidence of the degree of ripeness. The green banana contains, in the part exclusive of the skin, about 1.5 per cent. of protein and 20 to 25 per cent. of carbo-hydrate almost entirely starch. Broadly speaking, then, the ripe banana is about one-fifth sugar; the green one-fifth starch. Most of the remainder of the edible pulp is water. Intermediate degrees of ripeness present starch and sugar in reciprocal proportions varying between the limits set above.

Inasmuch as bananas are commonly eaten uncooked, it is obvious that more or less raw starch will be ingested if the fruit is not ripe, that is, if the skin has not begun to shrivel and darken. Raw starch may be singularly irritating to the alimentary tract of man, and is at best poorly utilized, whether it be ingested in the form of uncooked potatoes, chestnuts, bananas or other native starchy foods. No one would advise the use of uncooked potatoes; yet many people eschew a thoroughly ripe banana in the belief that this wholesome fruit is "rotten" when the skin becomes darkened, whereas they eagerly eat the yellow-green starch-bearing fruit at a stage of incomplete ripeness.

"Green" bananas like "green" apples are unwholesome so long as the starch has not been adequately converted in to sugars in the ripening processes. But the delicious and innocuous ripe banana should be not be made to suffer in its dietic reputation because of the ignorance of the consumer.

Experience shows that the thoroughly ripe banana (or the less ripe fruit after cooking) is undeserving of the unfavorable reputation which it has won in certain quarters. It forms a useful addition to the dietary, is richer in nutrients and far more delicious than some of its more expensive competitors.

Blind Worker's Fortune

Although he never earned more than a workingman's wage, the late Thomas Schofield, manager of Preston workshops for the blind, left an estate of $30,000. Blind from birth, he once walked from Farnworth to London in search of work, and besides being of frugal habits he was extremely fortunate in his speculations. He bequeathed $5,000 to the Preston Industrial Institution for the Blind and Homes for Blind Children for North and East Lancashire.

The SABLE LORCHA

By HORACE HAZELTINE

COPYRIGHT, 1912, A. C. McCLURG & CO.

Of course I thought of the Black Hand. It was the natural corollary, seeing that the newspapers had been giving us a surfeit of Black Hand threats and Black Hand outrages. But, somehow, I did not dare to voice it. To have suggested anything so ordinary to Cameron in his present mood would have been to offer him offense.

And when, at the next moment, he drew from an inner pocket of his evening coat two thin, wax-like sheets of paper and passed them to me, I was glad that I had kept silence. For the letters were no rough, rude scrawls of an illiterate Mafia or Camorra. In phraseology as well as in penmanship they were impressively unique.

"If you don't mind," Cameron was saying, "you might read them aloud."

He rose and switched on a group of electric wall lights at my back, and I marked for the hundredth time his physique—his towering height, his powerful shoulders, his leanness of hip and sturdy straightness of limb. He did not look the forty years to which he confessed.

One of the long French windows which gave upon the terrace stood ajar, and before resuming his seat Cameron paused to close it, dropping over it the looped curtains of silver gray velvet that matched the walls.

In the succeeding moment the room was ghostly silent; and then, breaking against the stillness, was the sound of my voice, reading:

"That which you have wrought shall in turn be wrought upon you. Take warning therefore of what shall happen on the seventh day hence. As sun follows sun, so follows all that is decreed. The ways of our God are many. On the righteous he showers blessings; on the evil he pours misery."

That was the first letter. The second began with the same sentence:

"That which you have wrought shall in turn be wrought upon you."

But there, though the similarity of tenor continued, the verbal identity ceased. It went on:

"Once more, as earnest of what is decreed, there will be shown unto you a symbol of our power. Precaution cannot avail. Fine words and a smiling countenance make not virtue."

And beneath each letter was the strange silhouette which Cameron had mentioned.

It is difficult for me to convey the most meager idea of the emotional influence which these two brief communications exerted. They seemed to breathe a grim spirit of implacable Nemesis far in excess of anything to be found in the euphemism of the written words.

When I had finished the reading of them aloud, Cameron, leaning far back in his chair, sat silently thoughtful, his eyes narrowed behind his glasses, but fixed apparently upon the lights behind me. And so, reluctant to interrupt his reverie, I started to read them through again slowly, this time to myself, fixing each sentence indelibly in mind as I proceeded. But before I had quite come to the end, my companion was speaking.

"Well?" he said. And the light cheeriness of his tone was not only in marked contrast with his grave absorption of a moment before, but in jarring discord with my own present mood. "Well? What do you make of them?"

My annoyance found voice in my response.

"Cameron," I begged, "for God's sake be serious. This doesn't seem to me exactly a matter to be merry over. I don't want to alarm you, but somehow I feel that these—" and I shook the crackling, wax-like sheets, "that these cannot be utterly ignored."

"But they are anonymous," he retorted, not unjustly. "Anonymous letters should be burned and forgotten."

"There are anonymous letters and anonymous letters," I gave him back, in turn. "These are of an unusually convincing character. Besides, they —" And then I paused. I wished to tell him of that elusive encompassment of sinister portent which had so impressed me; of that malign foreboding beyond anything warranted by the words; but I stumbled in the effort at expression. "Besides," I started again, and ended lamely, "I don't like the look and the feel of them."

And now he was as serious as I could wish.

"Ah!" he cried, leaning forward again and reaching for the letters. "You have experienced it, too! And you can't explain it, any more than I? It is something that gripes you when you read, like an icy hand, hard as steel, in a glove of velvet. It's always between the lines, reaching out, and nothing you can do will stay it. I thought at first I imagined it, but the oftener I have read, the more I have felt its clutch. The letters of themselves are nothing. What do you suppose I care for veiled threats of that sort? I'm big enough to take care of myself, Clyde. I've met peril in about every possible guise, in every part of the world, and I've never really known fear. But this—this is different. And the worst of it is, I don't know why. I can't for the life of me make out what it is I'm afraid of."

He had gone very pale, and his strong, capable hands, which toyed with the two letters, quivered and twitched in excess of nervous tension.

Then, with a finger pointing to the ink-stain at the bottom of one of the sheets, he asked:

"What does that look like to you?"

I took the letter from him, and scrutinizing the rude figure with concentrated attention for a moment, ventured the suggestion that it somewhat resembled a boat.

"A one-masted vessel, square-rigged," he added, in elucidation.

"Exactly."

"Now turn it upside down."

I did so.

"Now what do you see?"

"The head of a man wearing a helmet." The resemblance was very marked.

"A straw helmet, apparently," he amplified, "such as is worn in the Orient. And yet the profile is not that of an Oriental. Now, look at your vessel again." And once more I reversed the sheet of paper.

"Can it be a Chinese junk?" I asked.

"It might be a sailing proa or banca," he returned, "such as they use in the South Pacific. But whatever it is, I can't understand what it has to do with me or I with it."

I was still studying the black daub, when he said:

"But you haven't told me about the handwriting. What can you read of the character of the writer?"

"Nothing," I answered, promptly. "It is curious penmanship, as you say—heavy and regular and upright, with some strangely formed letters; especially the f's and the p's; but it tells me nothing."

"But I thought—" he began.

"That I boasted? So I did. When one writes as one habitually writes it is very easy. These letters, however, are not in the writer's ordinary hand. The writing is as artificial as though you, for example, had printed a note in Roman characters. Were they addressed in the same hand?"

"Precisely."

"What was the post-mark?"

"They bore no post-mark. That is another strange circumstance. Yet they were with my mail. How they came there I have been unable to ascertain. The people at the post office naturally deny that they delivered anything unstamped, as these were; and Barrie, the lad who fetches the letters, has no recollection of these. Nor has Checkabeedy, who sorts the mail here at the house. But each of them lay beside my plate at breakfast—the first on the fourteenth of August; the second, this morning, the fourteenth of September."

"And they were not delivered by messenger?"

"So far as I can learn, no."

"It is very odd," I commented, with feeble banality.

I took the letters from his hands once more, and held them in turn between my vision and the candle-light, hoping, perchance, to discover a water-mark in the paper. But I was not rewarded.

"You examined the envelopes carefully, I presume?" was my query as I returned the sheets to the table.

"More than carefully," he answered. "But you shall see them, if you like. I found no trace of any identifying mark."

Thus far he had made no further mention of the "puzzling happening" which followed the receipt of the first letter, and in the interest provoked by the letters themselves I had foreborne to question him; but now as the words "seventh day hence" fell again under my eye, standing out, as it were, from the rest of the script which lay upturned on the table before me, I was conscious of a stimulated concern, and so made inquiry.

"I wish you would tell me, first, whether anything really did occur on the seventh day."

"I was coming to that," he replied; but it seemed to me that prompt though his response was, there was a shade of reluctance in his manner; for he relapsed into silence for what must have been the better part of a minute, and with eyes lowered sat seemingly lost in thought.

Then he rose, abruptly, and saying: "Suppose we go into my study, Clyde," led the way from the dining room, across the great, imposing, grained and fretted hall to that comparatively small mahogany and green symphony wherein he was wont to spend most of his indoor hours. It was always a rather gloomy room at night, with its high dark ceiling, its heavy and voluminous olive tapestry hangings, wholly out of keeping, it seemed to me, with the season—and its shaded lights confined to the vicinity of the massive polished, and gilt-ornamented writing table of the period of the First Empire. And it impressed me now, in conjunction with Cameron's promised revelation, as more than ever grim and awesome.

I remember helping myself to a cigar from the humidor which stood on the antique cabinet in the corner near the door. I was in the act of lighting it when Cameron spoke.

"I want you to sit in this chair," he said, indicating one of sumptuous upholstery which stood beside the writing table, facing the low, long bookcases lining the opposite wall.

I did as he bade me, while he remained standing.

"Do you, by any chance," he asked, "remember a portrait which hung above the book-shelves?"

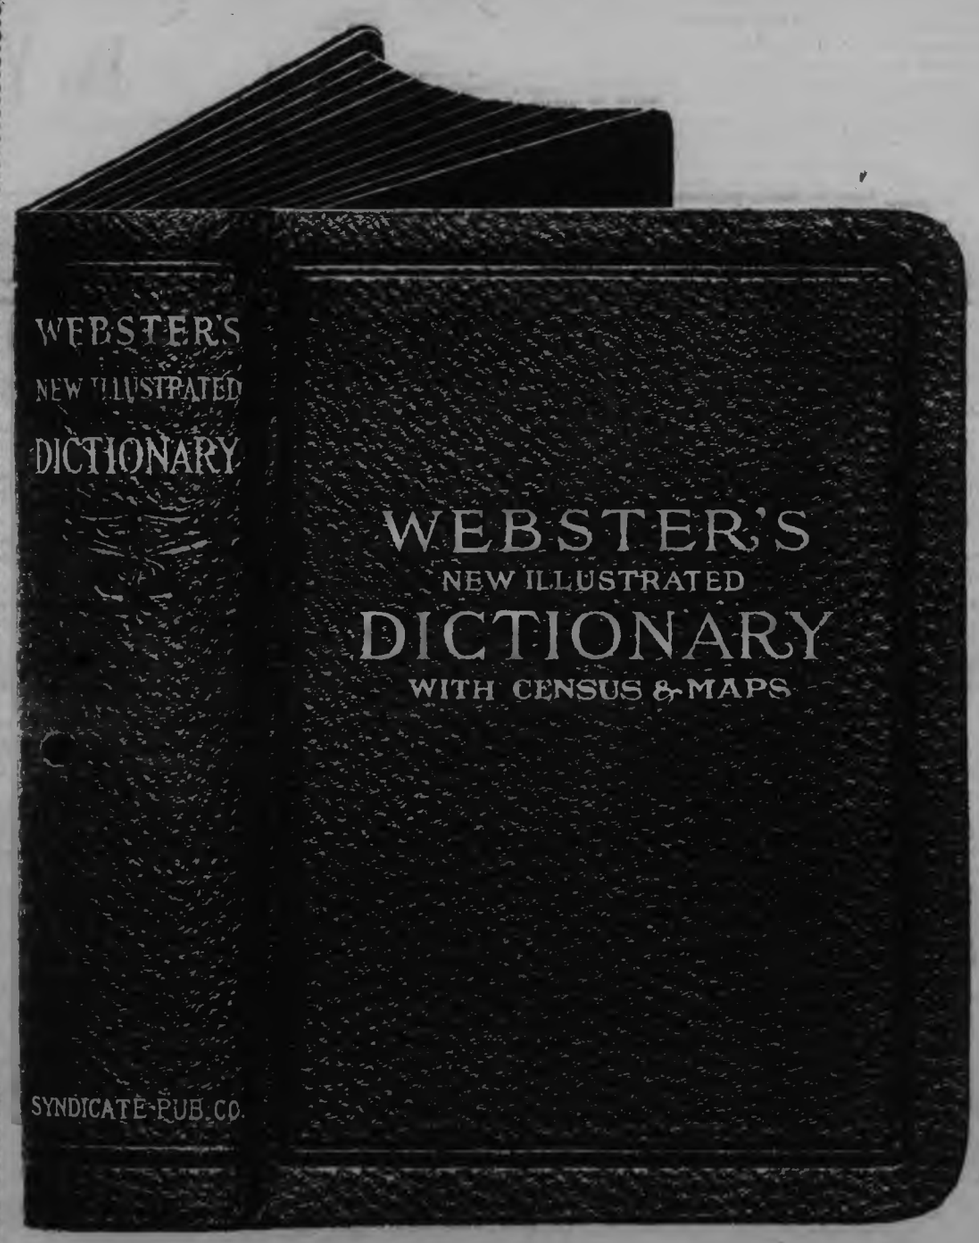
I remembered it very well. It was a painting of himself, done some years back. But now my gaze sought it in vain.

"Certainly," I answered. "It hung there," pointing.

"Quite right. Now I want you to observe the shelf-top. You see how crowded it is."

It was indeed crowded. Bronze busts and statuettes; yachting and golf trophies in silver; framed photographs; a score of odds and ends, souvenirs gathered the world over. There was scarcely an inch of space unoccupied. I had frequently observed this plethora of ornament and resented it. It gave to that part of the room the semblance of a curiosity shop. When I had nodded my assent, he went on:

"On the afternoon of Friday, August twenty-first, seven days after the receipt of that first letter, I was sitting where you are sitting now. I was reading, and deeply interested. I had put the letter, as I told you, entirely out of my mind. I had forgotten it, absolutely. That seventh-day business I had regarded—if I regarded it at all—as idle vaporing. That this was the afternoon of the seventh day did not occur to me until afterwards. I recall that I paused in reading to ponder a paragraph that was not quite clear to me, and that while in contemplation I fixed my eyes upon that portrait. I remember that, because it struck me, then, that the flesh tints of the face had grown muddy and that the thing would be better for a cleaning. I recall, too, that at that moment, the little clock, yonder, struck three. I resumed my reading; but presently, another statement demanding cogitation, I lowered my book, and once more my eyes rested on the portrait. But not on the muddy flesh tints, because—" he paused and leaned forward, towards me, speaking with impressive emphasis. "Because," he repeated, "there were no flesh tints there. Because there was no head nor face there!"



I sat up suddenly, open-mouthed, speechless. Only my wide eyes made question.

"Cut from the canvas," he went on, in lowered voice, "clean and sharp from crown to collar. And the hands of the clock pointed to twelve minutes past three."

Do Your Looks Quite Satisfy You?

IF YOUR COLOR IS BAD, IF YOU SUFFER FROM PIMPLES, HERE IS GOOD ADVICE.

Fine Results in Two Weeks

Miss Nettie E. Callaghan, a well-known young lady in Middleton, writes as follows: "I was affected for two years with a rash and ugly looking pimples that spread over my face My color was poor, and my blood evidently completely out of order. Certainly it was a most despairing sort of a case, because various treatments did but little to help me. A friend of mine in Toronto, Ont., advised me to get Dr. Hamilton's Pills, so I sent at once for five boxes. In two weeks I felt like new—looks improved, spirits rose, and I felt I was getting well. I have used this remedy for a long time, and now wouldn't be without it."

If you are in ailing health, have blood disorders, stomach trouble, or headaches, Dr. Hamilton's Pills will help you quickly. All druggists and storekeepers sell Dr. Hamilton's Pills at Hamilton and Butterut. 25c. per box, five for $1.00. Sent postpaid by the Catarrhozone Co., Buffalo, N.Y.,

LOCAL MAN TALKS REGARDING JAMAICA

On Saturday, a Times representative in conversation with Mr. F. Peat, formerly of the Quaker Oats Company's employ, who has just returned from a survey on the Magpie River, learned a few things about the banana industry in the Island of Jamaica. It might be noted that Mr. Peat came here from that Island.

Mr. Peat explained that, contrary to existing opinion here, the red-colored banana is inferior to the white and also the red skinned fruit. The banana tree grows at a height of about six feet. It has a bulbous root and only bears one bunch of "fingers," a year. By the term "fingers" he referred to the way in which bananas grow, from the parents stalk, like fingers from a human hand. The tree bears but one bunch of fruit a year and is then cut down and replaced by the suckers or shoots surrounding it. The white banana is used whilst green and boiled like potatoes are here

NORTHERN TERMINUS OF TRENT CANAL

Lindsay Post: The wiping out of the Ragged Rapids, and of Orillia's power plant at that point is understood to be not the only radical move contemplated in connection with the construction of the northern outlet of the Trent Valley Canal. Instead of following the Severn River to its mouth at Port Severn, the engineers are understood to have reported in favor of cutting achannel across the short portage from Go Home Bay (a projection of Gloucester Pool) into Honey Harbour. This would shorten the distance to Midland; would give a good harbour at the mouth of the canal; would avoid the rocky channel entering Port Severn; and would enable vessels to run under the shelter of Beausoleil Island till they were within two or three miles of Midland or Port Mc-Nicoll. In every respect it is believed to be a better arrangement. The cut from Go Home Bay into Honey Harbour is only a few hundred yards across, and the route is now quite often used by canoeists.

CORPSES USED AS TARGETS

St. Louis, Mo., March 10.—Dr. H. G. W. Reinhart, coroner's physician at Chicago, testified by deposition in the Circuit Court here that corpses in the county morgue at Chicago are used as shooting targets to obtain evidence for expert witnesses. The deposition was introduced by an insurance company.

Dr. Reinhart gave this testimony in the trial of a suit against an accident insurance company, which was brought by the widow of Ira G. Rawn, late president of the Monon Railroad. The accident company refused to pay the policy on his life, claiming that Rawn had committed suicide. Dr. Reinhart testified that a post-mortem examination of Rawns body convinced him that the shot which ended his life was fired at "contact range."

This conclusion, said he, was based on experiments conducted by himself and others on bodies in the county morgue.

Rawn carried insurance in ten accident companies, for a total of $120,000. Six companies compromised on a basis of fifty per cent., and Mrs. Rawn received $50,000 from them. Four of the companies would not settle, and against one in which Rawn was insured for $14,000, the present suit was brought.

VOL. XL, NO. 59. PETERBOROUGH, ONTARIO, TUESDAY, MARCH 11, 1913. PRICE, TWO CENTS

INTEREST AT OTTAWA CENTRES ON THE THREATENED CHARGES

Committee of Inquiry Will Take Charge and Debate Will Proceed---Changes in Rules

Ottawa, March 11.—Both sides are lookin forward this week to spectacular developments in the grim Parliamentary fight which is in progress. The interest in the fight is growing hourly, and when the House assembles this afternoon there will be crowded galleries and a full House. It is understood that the Liberals intend to bring charges against Hon. Louis Coderre in connection with the Hochelga bye-election. Outside of vague rumors, nothing definite is known here of the charges. The matter is in the hands of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Mr. Louis Gauthier, members for Hochelaga, who will likely make the charges on his responsibility as a member.

Referred to Special Committee.

These will probably be referred to the Committee on Elections and Privileges at once. In the absence of any definite information, there is a feeling that the charges are not of a very serious nature and are more of a by-play to attract attention from the naval question. However, if they do prove of a serious character after investigation Mr. Coderre will be asked to resign for Premier Borden will not condone any such offense as alleged.

Liberals Hope for Delay.

Some of the Liberals were hoping that the laying of these charges would result in deterring the House reaching the naval question for several days. However, it is not likely to take more than the afternoon, as they will be sent to the Committee for enquiry. As soon as Government orders are reached, the House will start in Committee again on the navy question, when the Liberal obstruction will be resumed. However, the Opposition will not be allowed to roam over the whole realm of science and literature in an effort to keep up a ridiculous blockade of the country's business. The Speaker will force them to observe the present rules of debate and discuss the clause under consideration. If this fails, then some form of closure will be introduced. This will mean another fight, but it is not probable that it can be kept up for more than a week or two at the outside.

Working on New Rules.

A Committee has been working on the proposed reform of the rules and we are in a position to say that the changes are such as will preserve all freedom of speech and yet prevent a repetition of such a complete upsetting of Parliamentary machinery as has been seen this week, whereby a minority can by sheer physical endurance prevent Government business from continuing.

MONTREAL READY TO RECEIVE FRIEDMANN

Montreal Que., Mar 11.—Col. Burland, the head of the Royal Edward Institute, where F. F. Friedmann, the distinguished Germaa doctor, will demonstrate his cure for tuberlosis to-day, has so far received no further word from New York as to when Dr. Friedmann will arrive. His coming to Montreal will not receive any formal welcome on the part of th city.

Any number of cases are ready to undergo his clinic. He will make his selection from some hundred people who have either written or personally applied for treatment.

Doctors in any number have also signified their desire to be at the test, but on account of the limited accommodation at the institute, only fifty men will be allowed to attend. The test will be private, inasmuch as only medical men will be included.

Dr. Friedmann leaves for Ottawa in the evening, where he will attend the tuberculosis convention.

GRIT CHARGES MORE DEFINITE

Marsil Claims That He Heard Minister Promise Men Brides

Montreal, March 10. The Herald (Liberal) yesterday said: "Dates, names and other particulars of paper to be presented to the House of Commons to-day charging Cabinet Ministers with participating in frauds in the Hochelega election, were given out this morning by Mr. Tancrede Marsil to whom the fraud allegation were made.

Mr. Marsil claims that he was present at an interview between Hon. Louis Coderre, Secretary of State, and three of the alleged "telegraphers" in the election contest, and that the Minister wrote letters promising the alleged "telegraphers" positions in the Government service and also telekhoned directions to his brother, Mr. Oscar Coderre, to pay the men $400.

All the documents in the case are at present in the hands of Mr. L. L. Gauthier, M. P. for St Hayacinthe, who is to make the charges in the House this afternoon. Photographs of the letters sent by the Minister most deeply involved, originals of the affidavites made by the alleged "telegraphers" and letters from Government officials hinting at appointments under the administration are also in the hands of the Liberal authorities at Ottawa. STOPPED CURLING TO MARRY COUPLE Bobcaygeon, Independent. Mr. Delbert Junkin who was two years at the Star Cheese Factory, South Verulum, is engaged for the Cheese Factory during the season. Mr. Junkin was in Lindsay on Wednesday and together with Miss Elizabeth Freeman, daughter of Handel Freeman of Bobcaygeon, they visited the Rev. Mr. Shorey, who is an expert curler. Mr Shorey is almost as expert as a brother minister who is a great curler. He was at the rink in a game when he was informed by phone that he was wanted at home. Getting some one to take his place in the game, he hurried home. He was back to the curling in about fifteen minutes, having done up a life job for a couple in right good style and sent them off rejoicing.

SHIPS OF WAR, CONFERENCES, PROMOTE EMPIRE SOLIDARITY

His Majesty in Opening Parliament Refers to Premier Borden's Visit---To Maintain Safety

London, March 11. The forecast of legislation to be introduced was restricted to narrow limits. Apart from the introduction again of the Home Rule and the Welsh Disestablishment Bills, the only important measures will be additional facilitation of land purchase in Ireland, the guarantee of a Sudan loan for the development of cotton growing there, a bill to prevent plural voting at elections and a measure for the development of a national system of education.

London, March 11.—King George yesterday opened the third session of the present Parliament after a prorogation of only two days, the briefest recess on record.

The stately ceremonial was performed in the House of Peers where His Majesty with Queen Mary took their places on the throne in the presence of a great gathering of richly robed and jeweled peers and peeresses and a goodly leavening of members of the House of Commons, most of whom were in court dress or uniform.

The opening was preceded by the familiar procession from Buckingham Palace to Westminster Hall, the centre of the brilliant picture being occupied by the great gilded glass coach drawn by the famous Hanoverian cream-colored horses whose sole duty it is to participate in these pageants.

EX-MINISTERS HOLD CAUCUS ON PROPOSED NAVAL BILL

Section of Liberal Party Heartily Sick of Opposing Canada's Gift to Naval Forces of Empire Which Puts Them in Serious Position

Ottawa, March 11.—The excited state of the Liberal ranks over the situation which they have created at Ottawa, is shown by the fact that a Liberal caucus has been held, a most unusual proceeding.

In addition to the leaders in the House, there were present at the gathering the three ex-Ministers, who it is well known are responsible for the present obstruction of the Borden naval proposals: Sir Frederick Borden, Hon. Mackenzie King, and Hon. Sydney Fisher.

A certain section of the party are heartily sick of the tactics which are being pursued and wanted to drop the naval fight. They realized by opposing Canada's placing the dreadnoughts in the front battle line of the Empire they were putting the party in a serious position.

However, the ex-Ministers are apparently in control of the party. They are fighting a desperate game, they want to take the gamblers chance of an election and are determined to force it now, if possible.

Is Sir Wilfrid Too Feeble?

They realize that Sir Wilfrid Laurier is 71 and a man of that age in the natural course of events can not last much longer. It is doubtful whether he would be able to lead the party if the election came at the regular time.

They know that without him as leader, they would lose their solid Quebec hold and their chances of success would be reduced to the vanishing point.

SUFFRAGETTES CARRYING ON THEIR CAMPAIGN OF ARSON

London, March 11. Militant suffragettes yesterday started another campaign of arson. Early this morning they set fire to the Saunderton station on the Great Western Railway and burned it to the ground, together with all its contents. Saunderton is about 31 miles from London in Buckinghamshire.

Two placards were found in the vicinity on which were painted the words: "Burning to get the vote," and "Votes for Women." The fire brigades from the neighboring towns responded to the alarm, but it was found impossible to save anything.

Another station Croxley Green, about three miles to the north of London on the London and North-Western Railroad, also was burned down this morning, but the cause of the fire has not been ascertained.

Both Saunderton and Croxley Green were new stations.

"The Dollies That Grew Up."

By Madge Darling.

Remember when we used to watch the Pollard "kiddies" during the presentation of some comic opera a few years ago, and liken them to the dollies of our childhood days? Remember little Eva Pollard, the most doll-babyish of them all? Well, she was eight years old then, and as cute and cunning as anything that ever lived and breathed. Our own "kiddies"—the girl kiddies at least—all wanted her for their own little live dollie and we grown up father and mother kiddies each and every one was just crazy to catch up Eva and squeeze her to our hearts and kiss her many, many times, just in the exuberance of our love for her tiny personality and in recognition of her dainty charms as a diminutive stage star. Well, the queer part of it—and this old world of ours is full of queer things is that although real dollies never grow even a tiny bit, this particularly dear little Dollie DID grow up just a little. She is sixteen now and her stage career is even at this early age well rounded out and surprisingly secure. She is still with the Pollards and we grown up kiddies and the kiddies who are littler than us are to have another opportunity of seeing and hearing her and loving her just as we did when she was such a tiny wee star of old. She is even more of a star now than then and just as sweet. The little boy kiddies who have turned up their masculine noses at her at eight will now have their turn to fall in love with her at sweet sixteen. And watch them "everybody's doin' it" falling in love with her, I mean. She will be along this way before long with the Pollard Juvenile Opera Company, which is composed entirely of "Dollies that Grew Up."

On account of the good impression this company left, we have been requested to bring them back and we have succeeded in booking them for return engagement, Saturday, March 15th, for matinee and night, in "Sergeant Brue and The Toy Maker.

PETERBOROUGH GIRLS WIN HOCKEY GAME

Lindsay Post: The girls' hockey team from Peterborough defeated the local girls' team by 2-0 at the Lindsay-st. rink this afternoon in a very closely contested game. Both goals were made in the second half. The Peterborough line-up was as follows:

Goal, Elsie Mowatt; point, Margaret Eastwood; cover, Alice Logan; cover, Marion Penne; centre, Mabel Patterson; r. wing, Ola Cavanah; l. wing, Phyllis Deane.

CONSERVATIVES NOT YIELDING TO A DEFEATED MINORITY

Conservatives in Great Fighting Form and Will Never Give in---No Reason For Vote

Ottawa, March 11.—The Conservatives are in great fighting spirit. They are enthusiastic and determined to carry the naval bill through. There is no intention of backing down and no intention of allowing a defeated minority to force an election. The Government feels that it was elected by an overwhelming majority of the people to govern this country. If they should yield to the Liberals it would be an admittance that they were not able to govern. They claim that there is no reason in the world why there should be another election.

All Opposed Laurier Plan.

Premier Borden made his position clear during the last campaign. It was well known that he was opposed to the Laurier plan as was the whole of Canada. He said that he would consult the Admiralty and carry out whatever suggestions they should make with a view to giving effective immediate aid in strengthening the naval forces of the Empire.

They would try to do something worth while to redeem the good name of Canada which has always talked loyally and done nothing. He said that later he would draft the permanent policy and before it became law, it would be submitted to the people. To allow an opposition by sheer physical endurance to force an election whenever it pleases means a breakdown of all parliamentary machinery.

No Intention of Quitting.

The Government has no intention in the world of surrendering, so a great parliamentary fight can be expected.

BELL TELEPHONE COMPANY

The Bell Telephone Company of Canada, with head quarters in Montreal, have issued their thirty-third annual report, which will be found in this issue. This report demonstrates clearly that the company is not only carried to a successful financial end, but that the company enjoys the well merited approval of the Canadian people. We have seen, right here in Peterborough, that the Bell Telephone Co. by its successful management and the splendid way it caters to public requirements, is recognized as the only institution of its kind, capable of supplying public demands. We have seen here a little fly-by-night company try to wear away the patronage granted to the Bell Co. That ambitious little disturber of public efficient conditions, after a few months in operation, like the Arab, folded its tent and quietly stole away. Again, we see little 7 x 9 companies give a free telephone service for years in hopeless hope to butt into the business. Whilst the free service may exhibit a spirit of philanthropy on the part of those putting up their money, it is not business, and can only have one result. We understand that Canada, particularly Eastern Canada, in regard to population, has more telephones in use than any other country in the world.

During 1912, 6,216 miles of wire were added to the Bell Company's long distance lines, thus showing that business men are rapidly realizing the absolute necessity for personal connection with their customers, friends or clients. The company now owns and operates 64,321 miles of long distance wire. They have now over 460 exchanges, with nearly 195,000 telephones in operation. During 1912, $100,000 was added to the Employees Benefit fund.

To the progressive, though conservative, administration of Messrs. C. F. Sise, senior and junior, is due the thanks of the thousands of people who daily enjoy the benefits of this great Canadian utility.

UNEXPLODED DYNAMITE SUNKEN SHIP IS MENACE

Baltimore, March 11. Supervised by United States Army engineer officers, the work of removing the wreckage of the dynamite steamship Mumchine, which blew up in the lower harbor last Friday with heavy loss of life, was commenced yesterday. The hull of the wrecked vessel lies about twelve feet below the surface.

More menacing than the wrecked ship is the unexploded dynamite, several hundred cases of which are believed to have gone down with the freight cars on the attendant barge. Whether the cars were shattered is problematical, but the engineers are inclined to believe that the greater part of the six hundred cases of the explosive on the barge lies in the bottom of the harbor.

The work of removing the wreckage may take a week, according to the army engineer in charge of operations.

DYNAMITE WRECKS MANY LIVES IN A SCOTTISH TOWN

Explosion Causes Immense Damage and Loss of Many Lives---Three Shocks Felt

Glasgow, Scotland, March 11.—A terrific dynamite explosion killed many inhabitants of the town of Irvine in Ayrshire, and injured hundreds of others yesterday, as well as virtually wrecking the town itself.

The explosion occurred at Nobel's explosive works at Ardar, a little over 20 miles from Glasgow.

The town of Irvine was shaken to its foundations. Many houses, churches, schools and public institutions were irretrievably damaged. Ceilings fell everywhere, partitions collapsed and scarcely a window was left intact.

People Thrown to Ground.

People walking on the streets were thrown to the ground, and all the inhabitants rushed from their homes in consternation.

The harbor and many works adjacent to the scene of the explosion were masses of wreckage.

There were three distinct explosions followed by an immense column of smoke, which rose high in the air and could be seen miles away.

Six bodies had been recovered at four o'clock this afternoon, while seven people seriously injured and a large number of others with slighter hurts had been taken to hospitals.

2,000 MEN ARE NEEDED

Toronto, March 11.—It is estimated that two thousand men will be engaged in special road building throughout Northern Ontario during the coming summer. Mr. J. F. Whitson, Government Commissioner, says this number will be required according to the plans he has mapped out. Last year there were only 700 men working. Mr. Whitson is likely to find it hard to secure men. He figures he will get the majority of his men from the Fort William and Port Arthur districts.

The police of the town of Portici, four miles south of Naples, have arrested 71 Camorrists belonging to a criminal association.

It's better to take no medicine at all than to depend upon cheap concoctions that are compounded to sell at low price and a big profit just because there is a large demand for certain remedies at certain seasons of the year. There are no called Sarsaparillas offered to us to sell to our customers at 75c a bottle that would bring us a larger profit than Nugent's Sarsaparilla sold at 35c. Nugent's Sarsaparilla purifies the blood, arouses the torpid liver, drives out all impurities, cleanses and tones up the system, and helps Nature throw off the dullness that comes from indoor life of winter. It arouses energy, brightens the eye, clears the brain, gives lightness to the movements. Nugent's Sarsaparilla is not the only thing you will find in this drug store. We make a specialty of Nugent's Remedies. Nugent Drug Co., 366 George St., directly opposite Cressman's store.

LONG RACE MEETS

Detrimental to Real Sport, Says President of Montreal Club

Sir Montagu Allan, president of the Montreal Jockey Club, while visiting Vancouver came out with a vigorous interview condemning the length of the race meeting there. He said:

"This province is apparently undermining the work we are trying to do in the east, that is improve the standard and tone of horse racing. Two weeks at a time is long enough for any meet. Out here I notice that the Minoru meeting is running 60 days. That means that it soon degenerates into a mere gambling concern. Both the horses and legitimate public interest are played out long before half the Minoru races are over. I do not know what the authorities out here are thinking of to permit a 60 days' meet. It simply means that a gambling crowd come in here from the United States and take away all the money they can secure. The race horses become played out and the better class of patrons refrain from going after two or three weeks. If a meeting lasts longer than two weeks it simply degenerates into a betting proposition and the 'wise ones' carry off the public's money.

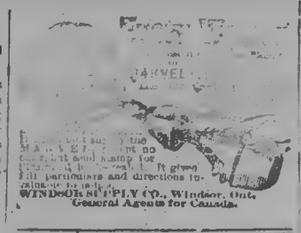
EDITORIAL NOTES

Talk is sometimes cheap but not all that current of Liberal talk against time at Ottawa. It is costing the country an enormous sum.

Instead of the customary cheers and "hear, hears," the Liberal speakers at Ottawa are now greeted with a chorus of groans as they talk.

A league to fight the suffragets has been organized in England. The Amazonian sisterhood have been giving bumps for some years; now that they are about to get theirs, there won't be so much fun in the agitation.

And now little Newfoundland is moving to do something for the naval defence of the empire. What a humiliation it would be if little Newfoundland were to do something substantial while this great Dominion, by reason of the warring political factions, were to postpone action indefinitely!



The animadversions of the Australian Minister of Defence, upon Canada's naval inaction, are not based upon accurate knowledge of the facts. It is true that until Canada was stirred out of her lethargy by a change of government she had been laggard. But Canada never agreed to do anything she afterwards declined to implement.

New York Sun:—"A retiring President's voice is never listened to. All the same Mr. Taft's renewed suggestion yesterday of an annual budget is wise and salutary. Some day the United States, weary of harum scarum spending and spendthriftism, will follow, will have to follow, the example and practice of all other civilized nations."

Whilst Sir Wilfrid may not be in his second childhood, he certainly acts like a spoiled child from whom has been taken its sugar plum.

SIR WILFRID POLITICIAN OR STATESMAN.

Pre Sir Wilfrid Laurier who at the time of the Queen's Jubilee charmed his hearers by the eloquence with which he proclaimed his own and Canada's devotion to the Empire is the same Sir Wilfrid who did nothing effective to help Great Britain when he had the opportunity to do so; and the same Sir Wilfrid who is now seeking by methods of obstruction to prevent Canada giving effective aid to the Motherland. It is idle for him to say what he would do if he believed the help were really needed. The country must judge him by what he has done and by what he is doing. Sir Wilfrid has many charming qualities but at time his words are bigger than his deeds. His words burn with devotion and his actions freeze with doubt. The rank and file of both Liberals and Conservatives in Canada are attached to the British Empire and are unanimous of rendering effective aid to Britain in order that she may maintain that mastery of the sea which she has held so long and which means so much not only in a material but in a higher sense to the humblest British subject. Why then this darkening of counsel? Why do we find Sir Wilfrid endeavoring to obstruct the free will of Canada? Why do we find him trying to prevent the will of Parliament from prevailing? And that too by pitiful tricks and subterfuges unworthy of a pettifogging lawyer, those of a leader of a Parliamentary party and one who lays claim to the name of statesman. Can the explanation be that Sir Wilfrid is a nature which craves office as the lizard craves the sun? Can it be that he feels that unless he can find an excuse to force an election in the near future, that he can never have even the chance of office again? Can it be that he feels that however faint the chance, there is still always a chance and that he has nothing to lose everything to gain? Can it be that regardless of the welfare of the country he is making the issue, which should be above all party considerations, a catspaw for the ends, not of the Liberal party, but of the Liberal machine? Can it be that the personal and party considerations of the politician are too strong for the patriotism of the statesman.

Possibly if left to himself Sir Wilfrid would choose the larger part. But he has those about him, men who were ministers and who now have no place in Parliament, and others who have their own private ambitions to serve. Those who also feel that they personally have nothing to lose and everything to gain and who like the ruined gambler, long for just one more throw of the dice. It may be that these men whisper to Sir Wilfrid the thing which his nature craves to hear. It may be that by flattering his hopes as a politician, they blind his eyes as a statesman. However that may be, we fear that the indications show that we are to have the uninspiring spectacle of a man who led a Liberal Government in Canada, seeking by obstructive methods, to prevent the will of the people as expressed by their representations in Parliament from prevailing. If our reading of the indications is correct, Sir Wilfrid must not blame the country if it places the obvious construction on such tactics and if it writes him down the mere ward politician instead of the Parliamentary leader. In truth, Sir Wilfrid has everything to lose if at this juncture he places personal and party advantage before the welfare of Canada and the British Empire and it will be a loss which once made can never be retrieved. If he loses the splendid opportunity which he now has of placing Canadian politics upon a higher plane; it is an opportunity which in all human probability will never return to him. And the pity of it all is that while he will have shamed himself before the world it is a shame which must to some extent be reflected upon his country. We trust that in the end Sir Wilfrid will be led to disdain the meaner course.

THE CHURCH AND FRENCH-CANADIANS.

Editor Morning Times.

Sir,—The following extract is from the leading editorial of this week in The Sentinel. It shows that the attitude of the Church towards the French is bringing about the trouble foretold some little time ago.

"What has the Roman Catholic Church done for the French Canadians? This is a question which the more aggressive French-Canadians of Quebec are asking. And it is one which will be put with greater insistence as the years pass."

THE LATE EMPEROR FRANCIS JOSEPH AND THE IMPERIAL RESIDENCES

The late Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria and King of Hungary, and his nephew, Francis Ferdinand, who succeeds to the throne, are shown herewith, as are also the new Emperor's wife and two of their children. The Hofburg, the Imperial Palace at Vienna, is a magnificent and costly residence. It has been the home of Austrian Princes since the thirteenth century. The Royal Palace at Budapest was erected in 1748-1771, and here the Emperor and King divides his time with the official residence at Vienna. Schonbrunn Palace is the summer residence of Austria's ruler and is situated about one hundred and fifty miles from Vienna, in a beautiful and picturesque country.

ANOTHER PROOF FROM THE WEST

THAT DODD'S KIDNEY PILLS ARE A NATURAL REMEDY.

For Cases of Exhaustion and Nerve Weakness—How S. Jeremy Found Relief When He Cured His Kidneys.

Sniatyn, Alta., Mar. 10.—(Special.)—That the natural remedy for exhaustion and nerve weakness is one that will give good circulation and pure blood carrying nutrition to all parts of the body, is again proved in the case of S. Jeremy, a well known resident of this place.

"For over two years I suffered from attacks of exhaustion and nerve weakness," Mrs. Jeremy states "I tried many nerve foods and tonics but must admit that Dodd's Kidney Pills have benefitted me more than anything else I ever used.

"I am more than grateful for what Dodd's Kidney Pills have done for me."

Nerve weakness and exhaustion are caused by impure food. Impure blood is caused by diseased kidneys failing to strain the waste matter of the body out of the blood. The natural remedy is to cure the kidneys. Dodd's Kidney Pills have yet to find a case of kidney disease they cannot cure.

CONSERVING FISH SUPPLY

Canada Interested in Investigation of Fishing by Steam Trawlers

The Governments of Canada, Newfoundland and the United States will conduct an investigation into the effects of [illegible] trawling on the [illegible] coast [illegible]. This [illegible] method of [illegible] has ruined many important fisheries off the British and European [illegible], but there seems to be little [illegible] prevent [illegible] against [illegible] freedom of the [illegible] each nation's large [illegible] the speed of a steam [illegible] ten knots an hour, [illegible] a [illegible] mile purse net sinks [illegible] bottom by two wire cables, one from [illegible] side. A [illegible] of towards [illegible] fastened on each [illegible] the water [illegible] an angle and spread the net. The strain [illegible] tells when the purse of the net is full, and it is then hoisted aboard. The scouring of the ocean's bed spilled out on the deck is an indescribable mess. All kinds and all sizes of fish, spawn, weeds and the varied forms of aquatic life are heaped and matted together.

Such a method must be highly destructive. Defenders say the spawn and fry escape, but that is only at the outset of each haul. When there is a mass of fish in the purse everything in the way is scooped in, held, and killed by the accumulating pressure of the increasing haul. There are generally large quantities of dead and crushed fish in an immature state shoveled overboard with the worthless fish of every haul. The lines of baited hooks which the hand trawlers set on the bottom are frequently destroyed by the steam trawlers. There is naturally a strong objection by the men who see the good fishing grounds being depleted and ruined and their lines occasionally destroyed.

ADVERTISE IN THE TIMES

PRESBYTERIANS WANT WILSON

Keen Rivalry Existing Among Churches For Support of Heads of Nation.

Washington, March 10.—Keen rivalry has sprung up among the Presbyterian churches of Washington over the effort to enroll the membership of President and Mrs. Wilson during their four years' stay in Washington. So keen has the competition been that the President has declined up to this time to make any announcement of his affiliation. The same holds true in the case of Vice-President and Mrs. Marshall, who also are Presbyterians.

The several congregations engaged in the attempt to enroll the heads of the nation are the New York avenue church, the Church of the Covenant and the First Presbyterian church. The first-named because of its accessibility to the White House, is believed to have a better chance of winning in the race than the others. Furthermore, a number of presidents have worshipped in the edifice, and for this reason it is popularly known as "The Church of the Presidents."
